

Place of Miss Edith Perry and Lieut. Merrill. The marriage will take place in Michigan.

The week's wedding opened with that of Miss Irene Squires and Royal Gordon Williams on Tuesday, the ceremony being performed at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Squires, Bishop O. F. Whitney performing the ceremony. The rooms were beautifully decorated, the parlor in pink and white with asparagus fern as a background, and pink satin ribbons aiding in the pretty effect. The diningroom was in red, with red asters, ribbons and shades, while the hall was brilliant in yellow and green, sunflowers and asparagus fern being used and blending with the rich hues of the Navajo blankets with which the walls were draped. Miss Leone Wisconsin was maid of honor and Mr. James Davis acted as best man. Before the ceremony Miss Ruth Wilson sang "O Promise Me," and as the bride party entered, played the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin, with Mendelssohn's wedding march following at the close of the ceremony. The bride wore a charming gown of white silk muller with tulle and carried roses. Miss Wisconsin was daintily gowned in green crepe de chine. The bride party were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Squires, Mr. and Mrs. Williams, parents of the groom, and Mrs. Carter. Mrs. S. C. Smith presided in the diningroom, assisted by Miss Hattie Whitney and the Misses Gertrude and Louise. About 100 guests were present. Mr. and Mrs. Williams will be at home after Oct. 1, at 832 Second street.

WEDDING BELLS

The week has had an interesting array of bridal events, these leading also in social circles, the season of other functions having hardly as yet begun. Next week will witness another series of weddings of well known young people, including those of Miss Dickson and Mr. Schuler, Miss Winnie Welby and Mr. Earl and a large number of others.

The wedding of Miss Dickson and Mr. Schuler will take place next Wednesday night at St. Mark's cathedral and a large reception will be held later at the Knutsford, about 400 invitations having been issued. Miss Wakening of New Brunswick will be maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Aileen Maclean, Miss Evelyn Mason and Miss Helen Gillespie. Rudolph R. Schuler will be best man, and Messrs. Willard Thompson, Walter C. Shoup and Hamilton Coffin, ushers.

The wedding of Miss Welby and Mr. Earl will take place next Thursday.

Miss Bessie Birkinshaw and Gordon H. Place will be married next Wednesday.

Wednesday will witness the nuptials of Miss Grace Surline and Mr. E. H. Drummond.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Snell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Snell and Bismarck Snyder will take place next Thursday.

Miss Gileon and Mr. Randolph will be married on Tuesday of the coming week.

The marriage of Miss Nellie Walker, daughter of Mrs. S. S. Walker, and Dr. M. R. Stewart will take place on Oct. 21.

Oct. 21 is the date set for the marriage of Miss Edith Perry and Lieut. Merrill.

SMART PEDESTRIAN SUIT.

Here is a good suit to withstand wind and weather, a stylish, smart, useful costume. It is in dark and light grey Scotch muller wool; the fine grey skirt clears the ground, the deep plaits being left free from the knees down. The smart, long basque coat is semi-fitting, and is lined throughout with grey silk. The collar and belt are of dark grey velvet. The simple, new hat is of black velvet folds, with a plaque of white beaver felt, embroidered in black chenille.

Vocal solos by Miss Hattie Taylor and piano selections by Miss Jennie Sands. The bride couple were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. D. W. James and Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Whitney, and assisting in the diningroom were Betty Payer, Mabel James, Lena Moore, Katharine Rogers, Gertrude Mayle, Ethel Rogers, Kate James and Lyle James. Louis Horne and Emily and Helen Whitney, while punch was served by Miss Hattie Whitney and Miss Florence Horne. The young couple received a host of beautiful presents, including silver, cut glass and handsome furniture. Both have many kind wishes for their future happiness. They will be at home after Oct. 1, at 152 Fourth street.

A pretty wedding took place on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Larson, 188 B street, when the marriage of their daughter Anna C. to Mr. Harry Bridge took place. Bishop O. F. Whitney officiating. The evening was spent with instrumental music and singing, after which dainty refreshments were served. The bride received many beautiful presents. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. R. Bridge, Mr. and Mrs. R. Shingleton, Mr. and Mrs. F. Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. R. Simpson, Miss R. McEwan, Mr. Eck, Miss Y. Browning, Mr. F. Bridge, Miss H. Larson, Miss Elyer, Mr. and Mrs. G. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. W. Harmon, Miss Williams, Mr. R. Bridge, Mr. and Mrs. E. Bridge, Mr. Bert Hamerton, Miss T. Larson, Mr. A. Bridge, Mr. O. Larson, Mr. R. Bridge, Mrs. J. Lambert, Miss E. Lambert, Mr. G. Dyer, Mr. Williams and Mrs. C. Runquist.

Another interesting nuptial event of the week was the wedding of May Grace Grow and Capt. William Webb, which took place on Thursday night at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Grow. The ceremony was performed by Apostle Reed Smoot at 8 o'clock in the presence of the near relatives and friends. Miss Chloe Smoot acted as maid of honor and Mr. Will Knous best man. American flags decorated the parlor in which the service was performed, and the other rooms were bright with sunflowers, asters, palms and vines. The bride's gown was a charming creation of white chiffon over tulle, and a bouquet of brides' roses completed the costume. Assisting in receiving were Mrs. Seymour B. Robbins, Mrs. C. F. Solomon and Miss Mary Jonathan. Capt. and Mrs. Webb will be at home to their friends at 239 West First North street after Oct. 1.

Yesterday Miss Luella Ferrin and Mr. John Ferrin were united in marriage, the ceremony being performed in the Temple, and a wedding dinner being given at the home of Mrs. William Strickman, the bride's sister, at 4 o'clock. They left on the 9 o'clock train for New York, where they will spend the winter engaged in their respective studies of music and medicine, and their friends who wish them happiness.

One of the week's weddings was that of Miss Blanche Lathouse of this city and Clarence C. Boden of Ogden, the affair taking place at the home of the Rev. J. H. Bickel. The rooms were prettily decorated, and the bride was attended by Miss Lizzie Green, while Mr. L. H. of the city acted as best man. The newly married couple left after the wedding for Ogden, where they will make their home.

SOCIAL CHAT

Mrs. Will Ellerbe and Miss Edith Ellerbe entertained at a delightful afternoon affair on Thursday, in honor of Miss Winnie Welby, the affair being in the nature of a china shower for the prospective bride. The rooms were prettily decorated, and a supper was served, at which a chief feature was an old-fashioned wedding cake, in which were concealed ring, thimble and pennies for future luck. CLUB CHAT.

The Ladies' Army and Navy club of London claims to be the largest social organization of women in the world. Among its distinguished members are Princess Christian, who is practically at the head of its management; Princess Edward of Saxe-Weimar, and Viscountess Wolseley, wife of the former commander-in-chief of the army. While there is nothing very philanthropic about the club, it does contribute a considerable sum to charity in its own way.

Out of each annual subscription of 155 the sum of one shilling is set aside as an annual donation to some charitable institution connected with one branch of the service.

The Household Aid society of Boston has set on foot an enterprise which has for its object a partial solution of the domestic service problem. A house will soon be opened for the purpose of supplying trained household specialists, who will go out by the hour, doing whatever is required, leaving when the work is done, exactly as a plumber, or a carpenter, or a caterer would do. The prices asked will range from 8 cents an hour, according to the work done. A plain houseworker, cleaner or assistant will be charged for all the way from 8 to 25 cents an hour; a cook, from 25 to 75 cents; a household manager, 85 cents to $1. Seamstresses, dressmakers, milliners, shoppers, nurses, even upholsterers and designers, will be furnished.

Twenty young women are already in the house, most of them, it is said, being high school graduates, although this is not required. The candidate must be at least 17 years old, and have the equivalent of a grammar school education. Two weeks' board and lodging will be given each girl without expense to herself. After this probation time they will be placed on the membership list and charged a moderate amount for board. The aids, as they are called, will receive a good training for their work, and will be urged to attend educational courses at the different institutions, in order to fit themselves for the higher positions, such as teachers, housekeepers, shoppers, etc.

The enterprise is under the direction of the Domestic Science committee of the Women's Educational association. Mrs. Frances Sheldon Bolton, president of the Connecticut State Assembly of Mothers, is given a very large share of credit for the passage of the Juvenile Court bill in her own state. Mrs. Bolton not only secured four of the best judges in Connecticut for herself in eloquent and convincing language. She was followed by three of the judges and a number of prominent men. The bill passed both houses without opposition.

The many clubwomen who have labored for the suppression of the obnoxious billiard and disfiguring advertisements will rejoice at the decision of the Boston park commissioners, who have recently adopted rules which will drive all such signs from the parks and parkways of the city.

The Toronto (Canada) Daughters of the Empire have brought considerable notoriety to themselves by a published protest against the proposed admission of a statue of George Washington to St. Paul's Cathedral, London. The Montreal Star tells the Daughters that "it is well for people of this spirit that they are daughters of an empire, because they never would become 'mothers' of one. Empire builders look to the future and never to the past." It adds that "George Washington's countrymen of this generation are the greatest and best friends the empire now possesses outside of its own ring fence. The daughters of the empire will do us a splendid service if they will keep alive the traditions of our glorious past, but they should not spoil it by binding our feet for the contests of the future with the prejudices and futile hates of other days."

Mrs. Marlan M. Finney, a prominent club woman of Little Rock, Ark., makes a suggestion which may recommend itself. "Why," she writes, "cannot women of clubs do for members going to another town what men's clubs and will enjoy this fine collection of books before sending it on its mission through the state.

The L. B. L. of Conville, whose strength numerically varies from 8 to 10 active members, but whose energy and ambition are ideal and without variation, contributed case No. 28. A year's faithful work under the enthusiastic direction of the president, Mrs. Alma Eldridge, has resulted in a fine library of 85 volumes. They are well proportioned among the subjects, with a complete set of Dickens's works, "piece de resistance." This little band of zealous women has indeed accomplished great things. The library was placed at Sunnyside, where it will doubtless be best appreciated. Library No. 30 is the gift of the Post's Round Table of Salt Lake City. This is another of the small clubs in the federation, and the compilation of this most excellent case of 101 volumes is an expression of most generous individual work. One member contributed a complete set of Hawthorne's works. They have an excellent proportion of biographies, history and poetry from one of the most desirable of the miscellaneous cases. It has commenced its beneficent mission in Tooele City. The committee appreciates this able co-operation in the part of these clubs, and esteem it a great privilege to be the almoner for the distribution of this wealth of entertainment and information.

The meetings of the Utah Federation of Women's clubs will be held in the native hall of the City and County building.

One of the interesting things planned for the Federation is a visit to the domestic science department of the university, when a practical exhibit of the methods will be made.

The Daughters of Utah Pioneers will hold their first meeting of the season next Thursday, Sept. 24, at the home of Mrs. I. M. Sears at Waterloo.

The Orpheus club held its first meeting of the year on Tuesday and important plans were discussed for the coming season. There will be at least two concerts given this winter with the aid of the best musicians in the country can be procured in the event. New officers were installed, the list comprising Fred Bennett, president; Mr. Halm, vice president; J. W. Currier, secretary; Mr. Munger, treasurer, and Mr. Zulich and Dr. Ebaugh, directors.

THE LARGER OUTSIDE CITIES

Provo, Sept. 18.—The marriage of Mr. H. W. Startup and Miss Martha A. Harris was solemnized in the Salt Lake Temple on Wednesday. Both are very popular and well known. Mr. Startup is a member of the Startup Candy company, and his bride is one of the most popular of Provo belles. A reception was given in their honor on Thursday evening, which was a most splendid affair and greatly enjoyed by the many guests.

An apron day and fruit festival was given on Friday by the ladies of the Fifth ward. It was a great success.

The first ward Relief society gave a delightful social in the amusement hall on Friday.

Miss Annie S. Peck has an international reputation as a mountain climber, being one of the only three women who ever climbed the Matterhorn. The summit of Sorata had never been reached before by man or woman. Miss Peck's ambition now is to mount Mt. Everest, in the Himalayas, 5,600 feet higher yet than Sorata.

lodges do—give letters recommending them to fellowship in some club? Many a heart might be gladdened if it felt sure of a welcome among club women, although they were strangers.

The free traveling library committee of the state federation has very great pleasure in acknowledging the donation of three complete libraries since the close of the club year in the spring.

Case No. 25 is given by the Home Culture club of Springfield. For a year past, this club of energetic women has worked to accomplish this library. Typewritten outlines of the year's work were used instead of the usual dainty yearbook, patriotic teas and other entertainments were given for the benefit of the library fund. The result is an ample reward for all their efforts. The library of 100 is unique and complete. It consists of books of travel in different countries, with their corresponding histories, biographies, geographies, also some well selected fiction. The good people of Springfield
