

of some of the Third precinct workers and to offset such a scheme they are today urging the voters to get out tomorrow and to get out early. Their votes may be cast in favor of the member from that precinct who has back of him an unblemished record as an efficient member of the board. There is every reason why just as heavy a vote should be polled at this school election as at any general election, and the Third ward committee is busy arranging to get out the entire vote tomorrow.

DARK HORSE RUMOR.

A rumor current today in the Third is to the effect that while the name of John D. Hagman has been offered to the voters of the precinct by the "Americans" that really they have agreed upon a "dark horse" to be balloted on in the precinct and with his name will attempt to stem the tide of the Movie campaign.

The dormant condition of Third precinct voters was shown by a member of the precinct non-partisan committee points out, in the fact that while there are 5,200 voters in the precinct, only 35 were present at the primary when Mr. Moyle was nominated. If this same ratio of interest is maintained on election day the victory of the "Americans" is assured as against the election of Mr. Moyle, is the fear of the committee.

In the Fourth Mathoniah Thomas is the candidate on the non-partisan ticket, and his election is freely predicted by all who have been watching the trend of events. Mr. Thomas has been an able and aggressive member of the board, and his experience and ability make him a desirable man to continue in charge of the affairs of the schools of the city.

There is no opposition to Joseph Oberndorfer, candidate in the Fifth ward. He is at present a member of the board, and was nominated by the mass convention in that ward to succeed himself as a member of the board, and was endorsed by the "American" convention.

A point for voters to remember is that all who were registered in the recent city election are eligible to vote at the school election on Dec. 2.

OLD TIMER A VISITOR.

Col. W. T. Eubank Recalls Happenings of the Sixties.

A unique and most interesting character visited the police station this morning in the person of "Colonel" W. T. Eubank, of Denver, a real estate man if that city. Col. Eubank, who will be 76 years of age on the first day of January, is an old timer and knew scores of the pioneers. He came here in the 50's and left in '66. While in Utah in the early days when the brave band of pioneers were combating the elements, making the waste places blossom, fighting Indians, carrying out the plans inspired by the great western leader, Brigham Young, and laying the foundations for a great state and city.

Mr. Eubank took part in the struggle and development and personally knew and worked with practically all of the early settlers. He had a son, a son-in-law, and a grandchild, all of whom are now in the city. Mr. Eubank is a little over medium height, slender, straight as an arrow, and while his hair and beard are of silver hue he carries himself erect and proudly. He is a man of the Wilson and will leave in a few days for Nevada and upon his return will spend some time in this city looking up old acquaintances. Mr. Eubank said that he was a colonel in the Confederate army and I am proud of his badge, which is a badge of the Sons of the Revolution. Did I know Brigham Young? Well, I should say I did. I had a contract with him and we both made money. I was a freighter in those days, with Howard Livingston, I knew all the Youngs, the Jennings and old man Goble; well it was from him that I rented the building in which the first Gentile butchery was conducted. I saw some exciting incidents here in those days. I used to stop at the Salt Lake house and it was there that I saw a man named J. Luce shot his horse out of the big corral and butcher a man named Brown. They took Luce to the old county court house yard and shot him. I also heard the shot that killed Dr. Robinson and knew in the latter well. I well remember when he was called out of his house and murdered. Another man I knew well was appointed postmaster here by Cleveland. Mr. Eubank was called at the station to have a talk with Chief of Police Tom D. Pitt. He knew the latter's relatives in the early days and wanted to talk over old times.

"I'll tell you," remarked the old gentleman as he entered Chief Pitt's office, "how I know I will be 76 years of age on the first day of January. I was born on the first day of the year, the first hour of the day and I have been last in everything since."

WARD ENTERTAINMENTS

Tenth Ward—The members of the Tenth ward are making extensive preparations for a fair to be held under the auspices of the Mutuals, shopkeepers, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings of next week. Every young woman in the ward is busy making a big doll, the idea of each maker being to outshine the efforts of every other girl. Each girl has also an ambition to sell her doll at a higher price than the doll of any other; so the probability is that high water quotations will be in the ward in the latter part of next week. In addition to this attraction, there will be special musical numbers, including an appearance of the Schubert quartet and vocal solos by Messrs. Bart and Montok of the Salt Lake chorus that took the Elstedford prize. The proceeds of the bazaar will be devoted to the new ward meeting-house building fund.

THE DES MOINES AT PORT AU PRINCE

Arrival of American Cruiser Strengthens Force for Protection of Foreigners.

CONFLICT SEEMS INEVITABLE.

Night Passed Without Any Serious Outbreak, But People Were Filled With Fear and Alarm.

Port au Prince, Hayti, Dec. 1.—American cruiser Des Moines sailed into port here this morning. Her presence here augments the force of foreign sailors and marines that have been landed for the protection of Port au Prince, and particularly the foreigners. In case the engagement between the rebels and the troops of the government, which apparently is bound to occur in a very short time, results in turning loose on the city disorganized and undisciplined soldiers.

The arrival of the Des Moines was preceded by that of the French cruiser Duguay Trouin and the American cruiser Tacoma. The British cruiser Scylla and the Italian cruiser Flaminio are expected shortly. With their advent the foreign element will feel much more secure.

The night passed without any serious outbreak, but the government expected an attack at any moment. For the people of the city this night was one of alarm and fear. Only occasional rifle shots were heard—evidently some snort firing at night prowlers—but each shot was taken to be the beginning of the expected fight. At night patrols of infantry and cavalry marched or rode through the streets and the people kept carefully within doors.

It is reported this morning that Gen. Simon, the leader of the revolutionary movement was at Petit Gave, about 30 miles west of Port au Prince, Monday morning. He has with him an army of 6,000 men, well armed with good rifles and well provisioned. He has also several pieces of mounted artillery and some machine guns. He is expected to reach Port au Prince Thursday or Friday at the latest, and it is reported that he undoubtedly will make an attempt to bombard the city if the government forces put up a fight.

The government gunboat Nord Alexis was at Petit Gave when General Simon entered that town. Her captain was for assisting the advance of the enemy, but the government commander on shore persuaded him that such a move would be futile and would accomplish no good. The French consular agent at Petit Gave, M. Chéris, acted as an intermediary in these negotiations.

It is felt here that the convocation of the chamber of deputies, if this step is carried out, may precipitate the threatened encounter or even make the situation more serious than it is. It is impossible to tell what the deputies will do, but they may decide to oppose to the president. There is a strong belief among the people of the city that President Alexis is on the side of the rebels, and naming Gen. Turin, Gilles as his successor. Gen. Gilles is a favorite of Gen. Alexis and represents his policies, which he probably would carry out.

COURT NOTES.

VANCE TO APPEAR FRIDAY.

Judge Maginnis, counsel for Thomas Vance, the wife murderer, has requested that Friday be named as the date of sentence of his client, rather than Thursday, the day first appointed. The change is asked for because Judge Maginnis will be in the city on Thursday that will prevent him from being in Salt Lake.

Vance will appear in court Friday, and announcement of the change of date will be given at the hearing. A motion for a stay of judgment will be made by his counsel, a new trial will be asked for later, and if the same is denied an appeal will most likely be taken.

Wotter beat Woten with a heavy cane. After the complaint was issued Weaver gave himself up and said he would be on hand when wanted and that he beat Woten because the latter assaulted his daughter.

BEFORE JUDGE DIEHL.

"I plead guilty. I don't care whether my hearing is waived or not. You can do just as you please." The defendant's plea was made in Judge C. B. Diehl's court this morning by George Norman, arrested a few days ago with Richard Voss on the charge of burglary in the second degree. The man broke into a house and stole about $100 worth of carpenter tools and they also stole a suit case containing a quantity of clothing. When arraigned this morning Voss pleaded not guilty and Norman admitted his guilt. Voss will be given a hearing on Dec. 3 but the case against Norman will go directly to the district court. The latter was surly and scowled viciously at Judge Diehl when the complaint was read, and he was asked to plead. "I'm guilty, all right," said he, "and you can do just as you please." Both were taken to the county jail in default of $500 bail each.

L. G. Keefe, charged with embezzling $540 worth of stock from Omar Harper, was arraigned this morning and by his counsel, Atty. Parley P. Christensen, entered a plea of not guilty. The case was continued without date.

Richard Smith, a youth, and C. E. Lott, a man of much color, were arraigned before Judge Armstrong in the district court this morning. The first named was charged with burglary in the third degree, it being alleged that he entered the home of a Mrs. Anderson at Garfield, Oct. 15, for the purpose of robbery. He waived time in which to plead and promptly asserted his innocence.

Lott is charged with having entered a caboose belonging to the Rio Grande Western Railway company, Nov. 22, and taking therefrom certain articles. He also entered a plea of not guilty. Neither prisoner was able to furnish bonds, and they were taken, handcuffed together, to the county jail.

COURT NOTES.

Plaintiff alleges that he was injured by the negligence of defendant company, whereby it became necessary to amputate one of his toes. He is suing for damages in the sum of $5,000.

The case of the Progress company against Salt Lake City et al is still being heard by Judge Morse. Claims not put in before the findings of fact by Judge Morse some time ago are now being considered, and the record is being made complete. The case involves the ownership of the water of Cottonwood creek.

A NOTABLE LUNCHEON.

Starts Movement to Send Utah Exhibit to Iowa.

There is a luncheon being held today, at the Commercial club of more than usual interest. It was called and is being held under the auspices of Manager Fisher Harris of the club, and the invited guests are President Thomas Judd and Secy. Taylor of the state board of horticulture, with such other members of the board as may be within reach. Prof. Northrup of the Agricultural college, and representatives of all of the great land and irrigation companies and interests who may be able to attend.

The importance of this move can hardly be overestimated. Prof. Northrup, in speaking to a "News" reporter this noon, on the subject said: "It is desired to take some active step to divert into Utah the thousands of immigrants that are constantly passing over our heads from the east into Idaho and the northwestern states. There is no reason why they should not stop here. We have the soil and the climate to please the settler, and we want the exhibits to Council Bluffs to show the horticulturists and agriculturists who gather there from all parts of the Union, what can be done in Utah and then by circulating literature to explain the natural resources of the state which ought to attract any settler."

Prof. Northrup deprecated the influence heretofore brought to bear to give such a wrongful impression of sociological conditions in Utah as to keep away many desirable settlers. He stated that special effort would be made to counteract this and show the eastern immigrant that Utah is really one of the most desirable places to reside in the country.

MANIPULATION OF BUTTER MARKET

Produce Men Are Very Largely Responsible for Present Extravagant Prices.

SUPPLIES UNUSUALLY LARGE

Further Advances Before Any Relief—Rumors of Corner in June Storage Butter.

Chicago, Dec. 1.—The Tribune in a news article today says: Manipulation of the large butter markets of the country by a coterie of Chicago, Elgin and eastern produce men is said to be responsible to a large extent for the present extravagant prices of butter. While supplies of butter are larger than usual the case for this season, values are materially higher than a year ago with prospects good for further advances before there is any relief.

Rumors of a corner in June storage butter, which is the best of the season's pack, have been circulated for some time and while vigorously denied by the principals, the rumors that the stock of choice storage butter is tightly held, with prices high and on the up-grade.

Leading commission firms in Chicago, Boston, New York and Elgin are credited with being the engineers of the so-called deal. Some estimates place the percentage of storage stocks of June butter held by the clique at 75 per cent, and the more conservative commission men say the amount is nearer 50 per cent.

About $10,000,000 is said to have been invested in the operation. Stocks of storage butter in the principal warehouses of the country are approximately 10,000,000 pounds larger than a year ago, and about that much larger than two years ago, so there is apparently little reason for extravagant high values.

Fresh creamery extra, as the best table butter is called, now costs 35 cents wholesale, which means 38 to 40 cents at the retail markets.

ARCHBOLD'S TESTIMONY IN STANDARD OIL HEARING

New York, Dec. 1.—The thread of John D. Archbold's narrative of the hearing of the Standard Oil company, which has related 12 successive days the early and competitive oil and the story of the trust period, carried the testimony today through the liquidation stage and brought it up to the holding period of the New Jersey company. Counsel for Mr. Archbold said that he hoped to be able to conclude the direct testimony of the vice president of the Standard today. Government's counsel probably will have several days in the cross-examination of Mr. Archbold, who presumably will be followed on the witness stand by William Rockefeller.

Mr. Archbold read a statement showing the number of marketing stations of the Standard constructed since 1890 as well as the total number of marketing stations. The witness said that when the Standard oil company of New Jersey was organized in 1882, it took over the refineries and real estate in New Jersey, owned by the Standard of Ohio. The property taken over was valued at $2,000,000, and there was $1,000,000 in cash furnished by the trust. The Standard of Ohio turned over to the Standard of New Jersey $2,500,000 in property and $2,500,000 in cash. From 1882 to 1892 Mr. Archbold said he was a trustee and from 1892 until the trust was liquidated in 1899 he was a liquidating trustee. Of the liquidating period Mr. Archbold said: "The principal holders of the trust certificates, constituting a majority of the shares, turned in their certificates and received their shares in the 20 subsidiary companies. A request was made for the Standard of Ohio to turn in their certificates but they did not, and there was no way which they could be compelled to do so. Some of the smaller holders accepted assignments of legal interest for their certificates. The small holders wanted their certificates, which had a market value. There was no market value for the stocks of the subsidiary companies at that time."

Some of the stocks of the subsidiaries had never been on the market, said Mr. Archbold.

A statement showing directors and officers of the 20 subsidiary companies of the Standard from 1892 to 1899 was placed on the record. Mr. Archbold said he was a party to the final liquidation of the trust in 1899 and to the increase of the capital stock of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey to $110,000,000. Mr. Archbold said the capitalization of the New Jersey company was fixed to take over the trust certificates and allow a little margin over. The capitalization was large enough to take over all the stock of the subsidiary companies held by owners, who had liquidated these trust certificates.

In explanation of the modus operandi of the liquidation, Mr. Archbold said he turned in his certificates in the trust and received assignments of legal title for which he secured stock in the 20 subsidiaries. These stocks in the 1892 to 1899 period he turned them into the Standard of New Jersey, receiving stock in the equivalent as his share holdings in the trust.

The Prairie Oil & Gas company, said Mr. Archbold, did not receive oil, but was engaged in the production and transportation of oil. Mr. Archbold declared that pipe lines were a necessary part of the Standard's business. Mr. Archbold's cross-examination was then begun by Mr. Kellogg, for the government. The witness was asked as to his official connections with the Standard Oil and various subsidiary companies.

DARING STREET CAR HOLDUP IN NEW YORK

New York, Dec. 1.—Four desperadoes, armed with revolvers, held up a crowded street car in lower Third avenue today, throttled and robbed the conductor, terrorized the passengers and escaped with a goodly collection of purses and other valuables.

A large number of men and women who had just left a dance hall crowded on the car at Third street. Every seat was occupied when the holdup occurred. While the conductor was inside collecting fares four men who had been scattered through the crowd, started towards the rear door. When they had completely blocked the exit they drew revolvers and covered the passengers. Two of them revolved the conductor, one pressing a revolver against his head while the other rifled his pockets. In the meantime the other two had been "going through" the passengers, gathering up valuables of all descriptions. Their pockets were stuffed with women's purses, watches and small sums of bills and coins. The men who were so frightened that they bolted from the car and dashed down a side street into the heart of the crowded streets.

RAYMOND, CANADA.

SPLENDID CROP RETURNS.

Raymond, Alberta, Canada, Nov. 20.—The season has been almost ideal for crops and now that threshing is finished and the best season nearly closed, farmers can begin to estimate their profits and learn how prodigal nature has been. The best crop this year is better than any ever before, some fields yielding as high as 17 tons per acre, which result, considering the undeveloped condition of the ground, is excellent. Utah beet raisers say that if the beet fields were given the same care as those of Utah the tonnage would be equally good, and this land can be bought at from $25 to $50 per acre. The estimated output of sugar this year will not be far from 6,000,000 pounds, which means that before the sugar season of 1909 comes on, raw beet sugar will have to be imported to the tune of some millions of pounds. The demand for Raymond sugar, Calgary, the largest town of the province of Alberta and lying 150 miles north of this place has been experimenting this year in beet raising and is sending to this factory 500 tons of excellent beets.

The Knight Sugar company a few days ago sent away a train load of as fine range beef, according to beef experts, as that ever got into the Winnipeg markets. These cattle were driven direct from the range to the cars. This company has branded over 3,000 head of cattle and means that the future beef supply from here will not be neglected.

Prof. Horace Cummings, superintendent of Church schools, has been looking over school sites for a week or two and while he does not say where the school will be located every town that is competing for it has a sure tip as to just where the site is.
