"ARRESTED" BY SALT LAKE SHERIFF.

A report comes here from a reliable source of a very unpleasant experience passed through by Mr. Isaac Boley and family of American Fork, in Salt Lake county about a week ago. Mr. Boley, Mrs. Boley and a child, and two grown daughters went to Salt Lake for the purpose of placing one of the daughters in the university. After making the necessary arrangements, Mr. Boley and the rest of the family started for home in a wagon. When they had reached a point somewhere near the Point of the Mountain they were overtaken by an elderly man, who represented himself as a deputy sheriff from Murray. He asked Mr. Boley if his name was Fred Adams, and was told that it was not but Mr. Boley knew a Fred Adams in American Fork. This Fred Adams, the "sheriff" said, was not the man he wanted; but after an examination of the team and wagon he decided he did want Mr. Boley and placed him under arrest, and to make sure he would not get away handcuffed him. The sheriff wanted to take Mr. Boley, and let the family drive on alone. This Mr. Boley objected to, and finally the company drove back along the road to Salt Lake and arrangements were made for the family to remain at a farm house, while Mr. Boley went on with the "sheriff" in a buggy. All this time Mr. Boley had asked permission to go to a telephone to identify himself for his own benefit and that of the "sheriff," but this had been denied. After Mr. Boley and the "sheriff" had proceeded some distance on the way to Salt Lake, another younger man, who was also a "deputy sheriff" met them and asked the first deputy if he had his man, and then told him that they wanted the whole outfit, and the three returned to where Mrs. Boley and the children had been left. There the younger "officer" adressed insuiting remarks to the ladies, while he and his companion were getting their captives in readiness to travel north, pre-sumably to Salt Lake. Mr. Boley's ire had been rising all this time, and finally he became so earnest in his demand that his captors take him to a telephone, where he could communi-cate with his friends and establish his ientity, that the "officers" did so. While Mr. Boley was getting in communication with American Fork the "officers" were consulting together, and before he had succeeded in calling up anyone the younger "officer" told him they had decided he might go, and to show good faith released Mr. Boley from his handcuffs and themselves left for the north. Mr. Boley and family finally reached home, and last week Mr. Boley, after consulting with Utah county officers, went to Salt Lake for the purpose of getting some informa-tion from Sheriff Emery of the identity and responsibility of the fellows who had made things so disagreeable for

It is supposed that if the men who arrested Mr. Boley were officers, there is scarcely any doubt that they were, they were intending to arrest Fred Adams who stole a team at Croydon some time ago. The only resem-blance in the description of Adams and his stolen outfit, and Mr. Boley and his team is that there was a roan nave in the stolen team and Mr. Boley had a roan horse in his team.

DRUGGED AND ROBBED IN SALT LAKE.

Parley Linford, a young man from Pan-guitch, came down to Provo from Salt Lake Sunsay, and horrowed sufficient money to buy a ticket to the terminus of the D. &. R. Instructors in Nephi's Advanced Schools-Large Attendance.

Special Correspondence...

Nephi, Juab Co., Sept. 21.-There is considerable talk of a new bank being established at this place, but little of the details respecting the same are obtainable. E. R. Booth, who, with other prominent business men of this place, is promoting the movement, upon being approached concerning the enterprise. stated that they did not have anything definite to give out save that such : movement was on foot and that they expected within the near future to have something more certain and definite to give for publication. The list of teachers for the Nephi public schools is as follows: High school, Fred W. Merrill, agriculture; Roy F. Homer, science and mathema-tics; Laiene Hendricks, domestic science: Mark Robinson, music; E. S. Miner, manual training; Louie T. Hom-er, sewing. Grades, Thomas W. Vick-ers, eighth; Maude Belliston, Alonzo Jane McPherson, fifth; Harry Bigley, slxth; Jane McPherson, fifth; Emma Ander-son and Bertha McPherson, fourth; Azua Peterson and Alice Greenwood, third: Clara Cole, second; Eliza Swenson, Mabel Warner and Pearl Ingram,

This corps of leachers is among the best that Nephi has had for years. Messrs, Robinson and Miner and Miss Hendricks are exceptionally good and add much strength to the work. The attendance is the largest yet experienced, the enrollment of the high school exceeds that of any other previous year. Four year courses are being given, spe-cial attention being given to agriculture and domestic science. A new buildng for manual training and chemical aboratory is being erected. The Nephi people are justly proud of their schools.
