SALT LAKE CITY, SEPT. 3, 1904.

WHO WILL RESPOND? A short time ago we gave some particulars of the work done on the Dr. Graves L. D. S. Hospital, the magnificent building on the northeast bench which is rapidly approaching completion.

It is desirable that it shall be ready for occupation by the October conference. If anyone desires to render aid toward so useful and excellent an institution, the sooner they act the better it will be.

Communications to John S. Wells at the Presiding Bishop's office in this city will receive immediate attention, and receipts for all sums, great or small, that are contributed will be forwarded at once.

of the future and prepare to make that profit which the object lesson at Brigham City proclaims in a forcible manner. Take care of all the fruit and let none go to waste; if you can't save and sell it, give it to those who have none!

RECREATION MAD.

The summer season is very nearly over, and outside resorts will be more or less abandoned. But as these close, theaters, ballrooms, and similar places, will be opened. There seems to be an eternal round of amusements. Seasons change; months come and go, but there is no end to amusements.

Some one has said that we live in a generation that has gone recreation mad. "Outdoor sports and indoor sports fill up our leisure moments, or in some cases, all our moments. Athletics, golf, tennis, games of all manners and lacking manners, rife, flourish and decay. The race-horse, the bicycle and the automobile pursue each other across the stage of action. We play at being intellectual, we play at being religious, we play at being 'tough' and all these are merged and included in being men and women of the world."

And the trouble is that there is no discrimination in the choice of amusements. An intellectual lecture on some elevating topic, is often barely noticed, while a monkey-show, properly advertised, will draw thousands.

People have gone recreation mad. They work hard at amusing themselves. They do not take recreation for the purpose of being able to accomplish more useful work. In fact, many do not seem to have any other work than providing "recreation" for themselves. It is all wrong. Neglect of homes, children running wild, broken up families, divorces and suicides tell a tale of the fruits of the recreation madness of which our age is suffering.

THE COMING OF THE LORD.

A correspondent of the Boston Transcript, writing from Lincoln, Neb., says that the so-called Seventh-day Adventists are planning a new propaganda, for the purpose of awakening the world to a realization of the fact that the advent of the Lord is at hand.

KUROPATKIN RETREATS.

The sum and substance of the dispatches from the seat of war is, that Gen. Kuropatkin has withdrawn the entire force to the north bank of the river. In Tokio this is interpreted as another complete victory for the Japanese, while at St. Petersburg it is thought that the position now occupied is stronger than the former position, and that the decisive contest is still to come.

This is an optimistic view of the situation. Probably the Tokio view is correct. There is ample evidence that the Russian resistance has been more stubborn than at any previous time, but the general result is that the Japanese become masters of one after another of the strong positions around Liao Yang.

The question now is, whether Kuropatkin will be able to retreat on Mukden. There are intimations that the railroad has been tampered with. If so, he may be in a most perilous condition. Kuropatkin seems to be repeating the tactics of Peter the Great, who was continually beaten and yet did not give up the fight. The result was that he wore out the enemy and finally annihilated him.

A NEW PAPER.

In a few days a newspaper is to be started called The Davis County Argus. It will be published at Farmington by D. P. Felt and Son, who will also have a job printing office there.

It is nonsense to say that men will drink and that men must drink, and that therefore a "model" saloon so called must be provided for their use. The question of a club for workmen is really a distinct question. Just as it is possible for rich men, did they but know it, to have a "Union League" or any other club without a bar, so it is possible for poor men to be taught that they can have their places of rendezvous where no odorous beer barrels glittering decanters tempt them to tread with headlong speed the downward path to hell.

On June 12 of last year a ruling was made at St. Petersburg which deprived the Armenian church of such autonomy as it possessed and placed it at the mercy of Russian bureaucrats. All landed property of churches, monasteries, schools, and colleges is to be administered by the Ministry of Agriculture, all town property and its income by the Ministry of the Interior.

There is no appeal from the Minister of the Interior to the law courts. The church is not abolished. Nominally it still exists; but the means of subsistence are sequestered and no provision made whereby priests, teachers, and pupils can live.

It was a bolt from the clear sky, and all the efforts to discover if any alleged acts unparliamentary or anti-Russian were the cause of it have remained without result. So far as one biased party is concerned it is merely part of a cold-blooded plot to stamp out the Armenian faith.

Richard Harding Davis is coming here. He finds the war in the Far East too tame for his nature.

Ohio normal university students object to any colored students being admitted to that institution. No southern school could display more bigotry.

The record for murders and assaults in the Chicago butchers' strike is only surpassed by that in the Cripple Creek strike and riots. The crimes committed are the natural results of the usual methods of strikers.

What a fine score Kuropatkin must have for that Spartan mother who said to her son as she handed him her shield, and he departed to fight the battles of his country, "Return with it or upon it!"

The speech in which ex-Senator David B. Hill is alleged to have called President Roosevelt a "fraud" was not delivered by him but was the poor invention of a disreputable reporter. All Americans who love their country and decency will rejoice at this. And that reporter who is a disgrace to his profession, should be expelled from it.

Dr. Wiley of the Department of Agriculture says that there is not a barrel of pure Scotch whisky in the country. But as the politicians would say, there is something equally good in the country.

It is always very distressing to see a man "forced" into a fight for a nomination by his friends and against his will. Surely a private citizen has some rights that the politicians are bound to respect.

A Chicago automobilist to avoid killing a street Arab who ran in front of his machine, suddenly turned it into a telegraph pole and smashed it and broke his arms. The case is unique and the man deserves to have his name written high on the roll of fame.

ON RELIGIOUS TOPICS.

When she loses the Christian protectorate in the east, France will break the last official tie with her medieval glories. Traditionalists will find some consolation in the fact that no successor is likely to carry on the works of her Catholic monarchs. Austria, it is reported, has declined to accept this distinction at the hands of Pius X., very sensibly, for she has no fleet or military establishment in Pagan lands to make the protectorate of any value. Spain, for the same reason, could not undertake this traditional duty.

In passing it should be said that the professor of the eastern protectorate to Austria was a notable movement of conciliation on the part of the papacy.

Baptist Commonwealth.

It is one thing that we Protestants can learn from the Catholics it is reverence for the church. To the Catholic the church is a sacred place, the house of God—the place where the believer meets his God. How different our Protestant feeling! Theoretically the church is the house of God, and we admit that it is the place where one should meet God. Practically, it is the meeting place of a religious organization—the place where the varied activities center—the place not so much of worship as of work. The auditorium itself, merely one of the various rooms of the building, is the place where one goes twice a week to hear a man. Whether we admit it or not, that is the way the church is very largely regarded.

Drink Kneipp Malt Coffee

The Health Drink Instead of Poisonous Arabian Coffee.

IT IS BETTER In Aroma—In Flavor—For Your Stomach—For Your Nerves—For Your Heart—For Your Blood.

KNEIPP MALT COFFEE is prepared as a food drink for sensible and thinking people, who do not consider life as a joke. It is not made especially for cranks and sick people. If you feel in health, you will enjoy it as a delicious, healthful, wholesome drink in the place of ordinary coffee and at a low price.

ABSOLUTELY PURE, NO ADULTERATION, not a mixture or a mystery—simply a scientific evolution from a God given grain to a delightful, delicious, health-giving food drink.

But if you are nervous, suffering with indigestion, headache, heart failure, sleeplessness, rheumatism and most ailments, humanity is here to try Kneipp Malt Coffee for a week or two.

STOP DRINKING THE ORDINARY COFFEE and the joy of life will return. TRY IT. The effort is so small, the benefit so great.

Another Good Way to make Kneipp Malt Coffee is to place 2 heaping tablespoonfuls of the Ground Coffee in a clean pot (best to have Coffee in a cheese cloth sack and pour one pint of boiling water on it. Then let stand for five to seven minutes (don't boil it) and use with pure cream and sugar to suit taste. Place cream in cup first and pour Coffee in slowly. It is best to remove grounds unless Coffee is used at once. Save the pictures of Father Kneipp on each package. They're good for Aluminum "Coffee Makers" and other useful premiums.

With over 40 "Health Foods" and about 20 so-called "Coffee substitutes" on the market, the reader can readily understand that the average grocer dislikes to add "another brand" to the list, and usually will not until a demand has been created for the product. The fact, therefore, that about half a hundred of Salt Lake's most reliable grocers have purchased KNEIPP MALT COFFEE before even an attempt to create a demand for it has been made, should prove to you that this product has at least exceptional merit. No merchant in this city can tell you truthfully and in a definite manner what nine-tenths of the coffee "substitutes" consist of. EVERY MERCHANT NAMED BELOW can tell you and show you what KNEIPP MALT COFFEE is and can immediately supply your orders and furnish you the handsome aluminum measure which is given with each "first order."
