

of commissions to the persons elected, but does not provide that they shall hold office or be entitled to their office upon qualifying under the Governor's commission; and in order to determine the time of taking possession of the office we must consider section 38 in connection with section 9 of article 4 of the Constitution, which fixes the first Monday in January next following the date of election as the commencement of the term of all officers elected at the general election. It is therefore my opinion that the judges of the Third judicial district, elected at the late general election, (having been elected to fill the unexpired terms of Judges Howat and Young resigned) at the general election, cannot legally take possession of the office and discharge the duties thereof until the first Monday in January, 1897.

Very respectfully yours,
A. C. BISHOP,
Attorney General.

ELECTION RESULTS.

The Republicans will in all probability have but two members of the Legislature, Kimball of Carbon, and Robison of Kane, the Populists three, and the Democrats fifty-eight, an aggregate number that will give the Democrats full and complete swing in their work.
