Among the new features of amuse-ment is the "Tours of the World" car, which will entertain pleasure seekers, both young and old. It is built like an observation car, and by the use of dever mechanical devices the passen-ger is almost convinced that the train is moving, jerking around curves, etc. The whistle blows, the bell rings, and the passenger gazes at beautiful scenes during the long "ride." Another feature will be the captive passenger balloon, which will take you 1,000 feet in the air. Ye olde mill, cenic railway, miniature railway, cir-cle swing, dance hall and the famous saucer track will all contribute their portion to entertainment. Tomorrow afternoon slack whe walking will be one of the features. THE STREET CARS.

THE STREET CARS.

Special efforts will be made by the Utah Light & Power company to have ample and prompt street car service for the crowds on the opening day. If the weather permits, as many open cars as possible will be used which will add to the pleasure of riding back and forth to the Saltair and Lagoon trains and to Wandamere and Salt Palace resorts. resorts.

He says that unless he hears something definite within a few days he will send the girl to the boys and girls home at Portland. Chief Sheets says he knows nothing about the child but will do all in his power to lo-cate her relatives.

TWO MEN ROBBED.

Hold-up Men Busy Again in Salt Lake Last Night.

There were two hold ups in Salt Lake last might. The first occurred at 11:10 on West and North Temple streets, the victim being Ernest Summers of 156 West Second North, Two unmasked men stopped Summers, backed him up against the Temple wall and relieved him. The other hold up was in front of 643 south State street. One man with a gun held up and robbed G. F. Foulds, securing $5, a watch and a check. Both cases were reported to the police and officers are trying to locate the thugs.

bille coat, a badge, a citib, and a helmet.
When asked whether such a policeman had authority to make an arrest he said that he had, although he had no autority to remove him for this kind of work, his appointment coming from the eity council.
According to the story told by Turner, he found his man near the Diamond saloon on west South Temple street, and was asked to take him home, doing so on the promise that he would be given $5 for this service.
This is a very different story from that told the "News" and again verified today by the men in question.
They declare they were awakened by the officer who had brought their friend home. He showed his star, announced that he was a polleeman—an officer of the law, and asked for $5 or if they didn't have that amount, any part of it they did have. They deny that he was asked to bring the alleged intoxicated man home, or that he found him near the Diamond saloon, repeating that he was overtaken on the corner of South Temple and Main street, and scoompanied home after the threat that he would be taken to the station, this being done with the clear intention of extorting money for the fallure to arrest.
The watchman and a Tribune reporter called at the offices where the men are employed today but succeeded only in having them reaffirm the story as given to the "News."

Boise, Ida., May 29 .- There have been suggestive developments today in connection with the arrest of Carl H. Duncan, the young man found disguised on the streets vesterday. The city authorities received an unsigned letter saying that he was a worthy young man, and that unless he was turned loose at once violence would be done to the mayor and chief o police. R. S. he was in fear of harm from him. Duncan, when questioned, said that he and Parks were deadly enemies, and that he had challenged Parks to a duel for things he had written and said about him. The police neither accept nor deny this story of enmity and are going to make a further in-vestigation of it. Duncan was subjected to a long ex-amination this morning by Prosecut-ing Atty, Koelsen and the police and according to them he said he was a graduate of the University of Michi-gan. He said that his mother lives at Ann Arbor, where he has a younger brother attending the university, and that another brother is an electrician in New York. Duncan gave his birthplace at Platts-

CUSTOM HOUSE RETURNS.

New York, May 29.—The custom house returns of the total exports from New York for the week ending May 25, seem to show that the de-terrent effect of the longshorements strike upon commerce as diminishing. The returns for the week ending May 11 which was computed before it. The returns for the week ending May 11, which was computed before the effect of the strike was felt, showed the value of the exports to be $12,-400,963. During the week ending May 18, when the strike was most severely felt, the value of the exports fell to $6,456,067. The returns for the week ending May 25 show that the value of the exports was $9.758,632-an increase of more than $3,000,000 over the previous week. The steamship companies are confi-dent from these figures that the strike is waning, and a statement issued on behalf of all of the lines predicts that by the end of this week little will be left of it, so far as its influence on traffic is concerned.

De Costa, colored, who was convicted of perjury in connection with the trial of Clifford Hooe, the neuro coachman for-imerly in the Employ of Augustus Hartje, was today sentenced to serve-two years in the western penitentiary. Hooe is now serving a sentence in the same penal institution, having been convicted of perjury and with the in-carceration of DeCosta this closes the second chapter of the sequel to the sensational Hartje divorce proceedings. The next will probably be the trial of the libellant, Augustus Hartje, and Juo. L. Welshon on the charge of conspiracy, and when these cases have been dis-posed of there will remain only the in-dictments ngainst Staabe and Ander-son, the two detectives who have been granted a new trial upon the charge of riding the trunk of Thomas Madine, the coachman co-respondent.
