

BRYAN ON ANTI-INJUNCTION PLANK

Declares One Adopted by Republicans at Chicago is a Transparent Fraud.

LABOR MAN IS NOT FOOLED.

Attacks Taft and Says That He is Known as the Father of Government by Injunction.

Lincoln, Neb., June 21.—Following up his expression of yesterday in criticism of the Republican platform in general, William J. Bryan, this evening gave out a statement in which he assails in particular the anti-injunction plank of the Chicago declaration, characterizing it as a "transparent fraud." The statement, which will appear under the heading "Republicans Devising Labor" in the next issue of Mr. Bryan's Commoner, follows:

BRYAN'S STATEMENT.

"The anti-injunction plank of the Republican platform is a transparent fraud. It is possible that the members of the committee were hoodwinked by some trust lawyer—that is the only charitable view that can be taken of it. Those who advocated the plank claimed to be doing it as a concession to the wage earners, and yet if one will read the plank he will see that it is a transparent fraud. It is a plank which will be upheld at all times by the authority and integrity of the courts, state and federal, and will ever insist that their powers to enforce their processes and to protect life, liberty and property shall be preserved inviolate. We believe, however, that the rules of procedure in federal courts, with respect to the issuance of a writ of injunction, should be more accurately defined by the statutes; that no injunction or temporary restraining order should be issued without notice, except where irreparable injury would result from delay, in which case a speedy hearing thereafter should be granted."

AN UNNECESSARY EULOGY.

"It will be seen that the plank bears with an unnecessary eulogy of the courts. Nobody is opposed to upholding at all times the authority and integrity of the court. Nobody is objecting to the enforcement of their processes or to the exercise of their powers to protect life, liberty and property. The plank assumes that somebody is attacking the courts and that the courts are in danger of losing support or of having their powers weakened. There is no attack upon the courts, and there is no thought anywhere of interfering with an legitimate function of the courts. The Republican convention puts up a man of straw and then proceeds to demolish it; it suspects an unholy assault upon the judiciary, and it is indignant. The plank gives expression in a boastful assertion of its innocence of participation in any such suspected assault. This part of the plank was intended to give assurance to the people who are opposed to the laboring man's plea. And now let us proceed to that part of the plank which was intended as a sop to the laboring man. It says:

SOP TO LABORING MAN.

"We believe, however, that the rules of procedure in the federal courts with respect to the issuance of a writ of injunction should be more accurately defined by the statute. (Just what that definition shall be is not stated.) That no injunction or temporary restraining order should be issued without notice, except where irreparable injury would result from delay, in which case a speedy hearing thereafter should be granted." Note the words "except where irreparable injury would result from delay," and compare this exception with the federal statute on the subject, and you will find that under the law as it now exists the court is not empowered to grant a temporary restraining order except where there appears to be danger of irreparable injury from delay. It will be seen that the man who wrote the injunction plank copied the statute almost word for word and made the exception as broad as the statute. If the convention had been frank in the statement of its position it would have quoted the present statute and said that it was in favor of enforcing the law just as it is. It would have said: "Whereas, at present a court or judge may grant a temporary restraining order if there appears to be danger of irreparable injury from delay, therefore be it resolved, that we are opposed to changing it."

VOTERS NOT FOOLED.

"The men who are responsible for the language of the injunction plank may have fooled the rest of the committee, and they may have fooled the convention, but they cannot fool the laboring

If you want your girl to learn to make good bread start her off right with man of the voters in general. The injunction plank has not even the value of a gold plated brick, for the plating is brass as well as the brick. "The plank as prepared in advance of the convention by Mr. Taft reads as follows:

TWO VERSIONS OF PLANK.

"We declare for such amendments of the statutes of procedure in the federal courts with respect to the use of the writ of injunction as will on the one hand prevent the summary issuance of such orders without proper consideration, and on the other will preserve undiminished the power of the courts to enforce their processes, to the end that justice may be done at all times to all parties."

"It will be noticed in this plank the declaration in favor of amendments comes first and the declaration in favor of preserving undiminished the power of the courts to enforce their processes comes afterward. In the plank which was adopted by the convention the declaration in favor of the courts comes first, and the discussion of a change in the law comes afterward. It will also be noticed that in the first draft of the platform the pledge is that the power of the courts to enforce their process shall be preserved."

"In the plank adopted this promise is enlarged and elaborated. In the original platform amendments are favored. In the platform adopted by the convention there is no suggestion of an amendment; they only ask for a more accurate definition of the rules of procedure. In the original plank the aim of the party was to protect without proper consideration, whereas in the plank adopted in the convention an exception is inserted that no injunction or temporary restraining order should be issued without notice, except where irreparable injury would result from delay, in which case a speedy hearing thereafter should be granted."

"If the demand of the laboring man is unreasonable, why did not the convention say so? Why did it resort to deception? The Republican party will find that an honest course would have been safer than the dishonest course pursued."

TAFT CRITICIZED.

"Secy. Taft is known as the father of government by injunction, and his speeches in Oklahoma last year gave conclusive proof of his adherence to the position taken by him on the bench. He is still in favor of the use of the writ of injunction in labor cases, and he is opposed to trial by jury."

"In a speech delivered in New York last winter he said, in response to questions, that the law ought to be so amended as to give a hearing before the injunction was granted, and even consented that the hearing for contempt should be before a different judge from the one who granted the injunction, but when he came to prepare a plank for the convention he did not go so far as he went in his speech."

"The plank that went before the convention as his plank was so weak that it amounted to nothing, but it was even then too strong for the convention, and the convention adopted a plank which not only denied the grant of injunction to the laboring man, but really emphasized the position taken by large corporate employers by hurling anathema at those who are suspected of a desire to modify the law relating to injunction."

"This is the treatment received by the wage earners from the national convention of the Republican party. If this be the position of the party before the election, what reason has the laboring man to hope that the party will do better after election?"

A VERY BASHFUL MAN.

For a Fourth Time Daniel Mathews Falls Bride at Altar.

Chicago, June 22.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Jerseyville, Ill., says: Daniel Mathews, aged 24, the "most bashful man in Illinois," avoided the altar for the fourth time last night. The Rev. J. H. Jones and 150 guests waited for an hour and a half at the church for him to appear and become the husband of Miss Mary Frazier, but Mathews was elsewhere. Later Daniel said he wanted to be married more than anything else on earth, that he really intended to face the altar, but that something—he doesn't know what—prevented him from getting there.

Mr. Frazier admitted she was willing to give the bashful one another chance. They will attempt to overcome his timidity today with a private ceremony. The first time Mr. Mathews promised to go before the minister was two years ago, when he was to marry Mrs. Mary Miller at Rosedale, Jersey county. He failed her.

A week later he again was led to the altar in Rosedale to marry the same lady, he ran away and took the first train out of Rosedale for Jerseyville.

The next time Daniel went to the post for the race of matrimony was on Sunday, June 7, when he was to have been married to Miss Frazier. He bolted before the barrier was sprung, and stayed away until his bashfulness died out.

Then he again took up his wooing, and all went well until her anger was appeased. Miss Frazier consented to try it again yesterday.

FUNERAL OF PRINCE DAVID KAWANANAKOA

Honolulu, June 21.—The funeral today of Prince David Kawanakoa, who died recently in San Francisco, and whose body was brought hither on the steamship Manchuria, was one of the most imposing royal funerals ever held in Hawaii. The ceremony was in accordance with ancient Hawaiian usages in the case of chiefs. The first regiment of the national guard of Hawaii, a detachment of the Twentieth Infantry from Fort Shafter, and marines and sailors from the battleships Maine, Alabama and St. Louis, now in the harbor, took part in the funeral procession besides hundreds of Hawaiians, men and women, of native Hawaiian societies. The catafalque was surrounded by more "Kuhli" than attend at the funeral of King Kalakaua. Today's services, held at the capital, where the body lay in state in the old throne room, and at the mausoleum, were conducted by the bishop of Zeiguna, the Roman Catholic bishop of the islands, and were attended by territorial, federal and military officials and the consular corps.

NEW METHODS IN SURGERY

Rockefeller Institute Will Install What is Known as the Vacuum Operating Room.

NO DANGER FROM MICROBES.

Head of Patient in Free Atmosphere While Body is in a Cabinet With the Surgeons.

New York, June 22.—The Rockefeller institute will install next year a vacuum operating room such as has been exhibited here by Prof. G. Sauerbrück, of Marburg, Germany. This new operating room provides for operations in atmosphere free from microbes and enables the operating surgeon to have the pressure of air upon the exposed parts of the subject much less than in an ordinary room.

Prof. Sauerbrück used a dog to illustrate the usefulness of the cabinet. The dog's head was stuck through a hole in the side of the cabinet so that he could breathe into the outside room, and his body remained in the cabinet on a table.

Two surgeons went inside the cabinet after which it was hermetically sealed, except for an arrangement provided to let in as much air as the surgeons needed for themselves. This came through a water, cask which purified it in its passage.

The lungs of the dog were laid bare inside the cabinet and a tubercularis serum could be applied directly for experimental purposes. It is asserted that the use of the vacuum operating room will make it much safer for the subject on the table since the exposed parts would be much less exposed to germs in the air.

Moreover, it is claimed that the vacuum cabinet makes it safer to remove part of a lung infected with tubercularis germs. Besides the lungs can be kept exposed to the surgeon's eye a longer time while the subject goes on breathing just as easy as if the whole operation was inside an ordinary operating room.

The cabinet for the operating cabinet to be installed in the Rockefeller institute will be much larger than the cabinet brought over and exhibited by Prof. Sauerbrück.

CAMPAIGN MANAGER.

Frank H. Hitchcock Declines to Accept the Position.

Cincinnati, June 20.—Secy. Taft's visit to his home city so far as concerned the selection of a Republican national chairman was a fruitless mission.

Frank H. Hitchcock who managed the preliminary campaign of the vice-presidential election at Cleveland, had the chairmanship, but at the last moment he declined to permit the use of his name because of the condition of his health. He was, however, received by Secy. Taft from Mr. Hitchcock today requesting that he be not considered in connection with the chairmanship. He said that his physical condition was such as to render it substantially impossible for him to undertake the onerous duties of campaign manager at the present time.

FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT.

Machine Going at Lightning Speed Runs into One Standing Still.

New York, June 21.—While endeavoring to pass another automobile with which it was racing at high speed today, a big touring car carrying five persons ran into a third automobile, which had drawn up alongside of the road, a mile east of Hempstead, Long Island, to avoid the racers, and killed one man, J. K. Arosenmina, of New Rochelle, N. Y., and injured the occupants of both cars.

Mr. Arosenmina and his family were out for an afternoon spin and observing a large number of persons approaching in a hot race, he directed that his machine be run to the side of the road. As the two flying cars swept down the track, the driver of the race car endeavored to take the lead. With a crash this car collided with the standing automobile, and the occupants of both cars were pitched into the roadway.

Mr. Arosenmina died shortly after being taken to Nassau hospital, where two of the injured were taken. Their injuries are believed to be not fatal.

THE ARCADIA EXPLOSION.

Investigation Tends to Prove That It Was Caused by a Bomb.

Philadelphia, June 21.—Investigation into the cause of the explosion which boarded the Hamburg-American line steamer Arcadia, in which three persons were killed and a number injured on Saturday, strongly tend to substantiate the theory that the bursting of a bomb caused the disaster.

Members of the crew held the coroner's deputy who is investigating the case, the subject of the investigation is a line has been facing a strike among dock employees at Hamburg, and the chief of the Hamburg police has put in the cargo of the Arcadia before she left that port, with the idea of bringing its destruction while in mid-ocean.

PRESIDENT AT CHURCH.

Oyster Bay, L. I., June 21.—Clad in a suit of white duck, wearing tan shoes and a Panama hat, and looking extremely well and happy on the second day of his vacation, President Roosevelt drove today with Mrs. Roosevelt to the village from Sagamore Hill and attended the morning service at Christ church, of Henry Homer Washburn, the rector, made no mention of the president or national affairs. Less than 150 persons were at the service. The president sang heartily with the congregation.

When the president and Mrs. Roosevelt drove away from the church a large crowd gathered. Mr. Roosevelt bowed and raised his hat. He carefully watched newspaper photographers, and as they snapped their cameras he raised his hand and hat and covered his face.

During the day the president received no visitors and he passed the afternoon, which was extremely hot, at Sagamore Hill.

DUAL KILLING IN A DUEL ON A RANCH

Sturgis, S. D., June 21.—E. H. Baldwin and Edward Graham, both of Sank creek, shot each other on a ranch north of Spring creek this morning. Baldwin was killed and Graham is not expected to live. Graham, who was shot twice, went to a farmer's house and gave himself up.

Graham alleges that Baldwin fired the first shot. The men had been on bad terms, and met in the road as Baldwin was coming to town and Graham was going home. Graham was accompanied by Baldwin's divorced wife, who was a witness to the tragedy.

PRESIDENT'S ATTITUDE ON JAPANESE EXCLUSION

San Jose, Cal., June 21.—In reference to a published statement to the effect that at a recent meeting of the Asiatic Exclusion League Congressman E. A. Hayes in an address to the meeting had delivered a message from President Roosevelt that he was still trying for Japanese exclusion by diplomacy and had quoted the president as saying:

"I am sending to Japan the sharpest correspondence any nation ever received. If I cannot get what I want by diplomacy I will by exclusion legislation." Congressman Hayes said tonight, "Newspaper accounts have evidently inaccurately reported my statement. Three or four days before the last session of Congress closed, I saw the president and said to him that my people had been expecting exclusion legislation, which had been prevented for the time being by the efforts to make diplomacy effective in the matter, and asked him what I should say to them upon my return to California. He said that I could tell them that the president has been doing the best he could in the matter and thinks that he now has it in good shape. I want, said the president, to give Japan every opportunity to carry out its pledges. If it cannot succeed through diplomacy in protecting the people of the Pacific coast, I will unite with them in helping to secure the enactment of an exclusion law."

OLD MAN BRAINS HIS WIFE WITH A HATCHET

Cleveland, O., June 21.—John Kelley, 75 years old, a retired contractor and real estate dealer, fatally wounded his wife, Margaret, 73 years of age, the police assert, early today in their home. Kelley then tried to commit suicide by hitting out his brains with a hatchet, the weapon used upon his wife. Mrs. Kelley is at a hospital with a fractured skull. Kelley, although severely hurt, will recover.

Within a few days the couple would have celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. They prepared to go to church this morning, and the quarrel came when Kelley accused his wife, it is alleged, of having stolen his savings account without his knowledge. Kelley, the police state, seized the hatchet and beat his helpless wife with it. A daughter returning from church found her father battering himself and went for assistance. Both the aged people were unconscious when the neighbors arrived, and they were taken to a hospital.

That Five Cents

There are thousands of people who want Mapl-Flake and don't get it, because it costs 15 cents. They cling to the 10-cent foods.

They are wronging themselves.

They are going without the food that they like best—without the maple flavor. And they are losing far more than they think that they save. Let us explain.

First, let us figure rightly.

Let us include the cream. Add the cream cost to the food cost and see how trifling the difference between one and the other.

Then think of this: We spend 96 hours in preparing Mapl-Flake, while flakes can be prepared in from 18 to 20 hours.

Do you suppose we would spend those extra 76 hours without a vital reason?

Would we be likely to add more to the cost than we know that we add to the food value?

Six hours are spent in steam-cooking.

Then the wheat is cured. Then each separate berry is flaked so thin that the full heat of the oven can reach every atom. Then we toast, for 30 minutes, at 400 degrees.

We derive our delicious flavor by cooking the wheat in pure maple syrup.

The purpose of our long process is to make all the starch soluble. For starch is the main part of wheat. The granules of starch must be separated, so the digestive juices can get to them.

A food cooked half so well digests about half so well. The balance is wasted—and worse. It ferments and breeds germs. It is poor economy to pay for food that cannot supply you with nourishment.

Mapl-Flake is the one food that's all food.

The only food served in individual packages in hotels, clubs, cafes, and on dining cars.
