THE POPE'S ENCYCLICAL.
An Invitation to Join the Great
Roman Church.SA CONFIDENTIAL SECRETARY BETWEEN CONFEDERATE AND CIVIL LEADERS,
HE SAYS.

NEW YORK, July 6.—A word from Baltimore says: "The last encyclical of Pope Leo XIII has been received at the archiepiscopal residence and by the courtesy of Cardinal McCloskey, a careful English translation of the Latin text has been prepared for the World. The encyclical is addressed to the people of the United States and paragraphs from it are as follows:

"It is with the same great charity that we now turn towards those people who in the name of their country have suffered of exceptional privations, temporal and material, let us bow to the bosom of the Roman church."

"Forgetful of past vicissitudes, let man raise those spirits above human lineage who are leading the church, advised by Jesus Christ, if they will these emigrants in their exodus with this confidence and see to what a just religion can come with them, they will admit readily that having forgotten the primitive rights which are of several importance, they will bring into new Union. And they will know very that of the evils which the authors of this new code of living have taken with them when they reached hardly any certain destination."

"In view of the church's relation to the strike, the encyclical says: "This party, however, need not accuse us of antipathies, for the church's action in power and scope are unanimous. What it demands is justice and equity, and by these means secure their civil salvation. More than this, having regard to the requirements of all societies, it sometimes waives the exercise of its own rights, as has been done in the case of the miners of the different states. Nothing is further from its thoughts than to trespass upon the rights of civil authority, which, in return, should respect the rights of the church and beware of usurping any part of them."

"A man of God can consider, what would we do by many toward the church? Suspected, discriminated, taxed, harassed, and what is worse, his efforts are spent to bring it under the eye of the civil authority. A party, however, is anxious and its efforts are directed to, in endeavoring to postpone the priesthood, its temporal rights sometimes are dissolved or forgotten."

"The state has its own rights and duties. The church has here, between itself and the state, a neutral ground. The party would do its utmost to represent the church's rights in the relations of church and state."

"May God, as rich in mercy, God who guides in His power the times and the governments, help us to fulfill our duty, our prayer and earnest the promises of Jesus Christ. "There shall be one fold and one shepherd."

ALLEGED AND CLEVELAND.

Further talk on the subject of State Empires.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 6.—Governor Kirkwood has dictated a strongly worded letter to the Civil Service and the subject of ordering federal troops into the state of Illinois. He says that if the President can send federal troops into a community without regard to the question whether that community has a right to enforce the law, then the right of self-government does not exist in this country of ours.

He says it is a fundamental principle in the government, exists in time of war, that the military can be used to put down rebellion, but not to sustain it. He says he can see no reason why a state or nation during the existing difficulties. We have repeatedly declared that we respect law and order and our conduct must conform to our

DEER'S PROCLAMATION.

Mr. CONNELL HIS FATHER'S TO BE RENAMED.

Chicago, July 6.—President Davis has issued the following proclamation: "All striking employees—in view of the recent disturbances to certain cities, I deem it my duty to caution the public before they commit any violation of the law, provincial, state or national, during the existing difficulties. We have repeatedly declared that we respect law and order and our conduct must conform to our protection. A man who commits violence in any form, whether a member of our order or not, should be promptly arrested and punished, and we should be first to apprehend the instigator or bring him to justice. We must, therefore, make a clear distinction between the two classes of men. Those who engage in acts and violence are our enemies."

"We have it upon reliable authority that tough and things have been employed to create trouble so as to pacify the public against our cause. That is the reason why we have made to pay the penalty of the law. I appeal to you to be men, orderly and law-abiding, and we have nothing to fear."

"Let it be borne in mind that the railroad companies cannot be made to do the work that right. Our men have the right to quit, but have their rights ended. Other men have the right to take their places whatever the opinion of the property of holding may be. Come away from the railroads, you will find a large number of other large concerns to go to. A plan is to remain away entirely from places where there is any likelihood of being an outbreak."

"The railroad managers have sought to make it appear that they do not care about the welfare of the strikers. The statement is an unqualified falsehood and no one knows better than the managers themselves. They make this falsehood serve their purpose of call out the strike."

"Expect the law, and conduct yourselves as becomes men, and our cause shall be crowned with success."

"JAMES V. DAVIS."

Sovereign in Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 6.—General Master Workman, president of the Knights of Labor, addressed a Circular to the Masses. He said he had come to Chicago to render what assistance he could to the A. B. C. U. and should be whatever the efforts of local organizations to maintain the strike serve. He said the maintenance of the movement was so important that every labor organization should put in its best efforts to win the strike. He said:

"This is the most critical period in the history of labor in America. It is the time when every laborer is to rally his forces and join in the struggle for existence. This will practically be a battle for self-preservation and for the future life of every workingman in this country. No one can overestimate the importance of this strike. It will mean not a temporary, but a permanent and everlasting disorganization to organized labor and surely among the working people of the land. That is why I am here today. The strike will continue until the A. B. C. U. thinks best regarding the ordering of a strike."

"As regards a walk-out on the part of the members of all trade unions in society, I will say that I think it might bring about great good. Certainly, the strike will be a disaster to the people if the leaders of the strike do not make a stronger resolution of the strike. The result of the settlement of these struggles and the popular will be set in mass in a demand for arbitration."

"A strikation the laboring man is not afraid of. The strike will be a battle to the death to the A. B. C. U. and it stands ready to act for a reasonable settlement. The general message do not. Public sentiment will force the latter to change their tune."
