

SUTHERLAND IS NAMED BY CAUCUS.

Says There is Nothing Back of His Election But the Will of the People.

WAS THE UNANIMOUS CHOICE.

Caucus Held in House of Representatives and Business Was Dispatched With Celerity.

For United States senator to succeed ex-Republican United States Senator Thomas Kearns, traitor to Utah, Geo. Sutherland last night received the unanimous vote of the Republican members of the Sixth Utah State Legislature. On the first ballot Senator A. B. Lewis cast his vote for W. S. McCornick. He then arose and explained that he had done this to redeem a pledge, and asked that the vote be changed to Sutherland. The nominating speech was made by Speaker of the House Thomas Hull, and the vote stood 57 for Sutherland—representing the total vote of the Republican members of the Legislature. If in the formal session the six Democratic members should cast their votes for Sutherland the election would be unanimous, for the first time in the history of Utah.

THE CAUCUS IN DETAIL.

The caucus was called to order at 7:30 o'clock in the house assembly room, by Senator Wesley K. Watson, in the absence of State Chairman William Spry. Representative George Austin was made chairman, Senator Walton, secretary, and Senator Hollingsworth, assistant secretary.

In commencing the business of the caucus a letter was read from Senator McKay of Weber, in which he requested that as he could not be present, his vote be cast by his colleague, Senator Hollingsworth, of his county. The proxy was promptly recognized. With this single exception every Republican member of the Legislature was in his seat, although four of them—Representatives Carroll of Kane, Dalley of Summit, and Kuchler and Pancoke of Weber, had not signed the call for caucus.

To carry on the rules committee were appointed: "Senator Larsen of Sanpete, Lawrence of Salt Lake, Representatives Simons of Utah, McGee of Salt Lake, and Merrill of Cache. Their respective duties were explained, and upon adoption unanimously, agreed upon a majority vote as binding, necessary to a choice.

NOMINATED BY SPEAKER HULL.

Speaker Hull was on his feet almost simultaneously with the call for nominations. In presenting the name of George Sutherland he said:

"Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the caucus—I am about to place before you the name of a nominee for the office of United States senator. I do not propose to occupy much of your time, because you all know the gentleman as well as myself. He is the man who has stood the brunt of probably the hardest political fight since statehood. All manner of abuse, vituperation and falsehood have been hurled against him, all kinds of threats, inducements and influences have been employed to draw him from the field. Against his character nothing can be said. He is a bright, clean, able, upright man. He will do honor to our state and to that great body to which he shall be elected. I have great pleasure in naming Hon. George Sutherland."

SECONDING SPEECHES.

The nomination was received with applause, and was followed by a clamorous recognition among the great number of legislators who wanted the privilege of making seconding speeches. Representative Stone of Utah county got first chance, and spoke eloquently of the nominee. Senator Roberts of Cache followed him with an enthusiastic endorsement, in which he stated that the representatives from Cache had needed no instructions to locate their choice. Senator Larsen of Sanpete said he had voted for Sutherland two years before and had never had reason to

THE COUGH IS EVERYWHERE

The Important Thing Is—When You Cure It, Cure Your Lungs, Too.

Dr. Acker's English Remedy is guaranteed by every druggist. It is not merely a cough cure, but a lung cure, too.

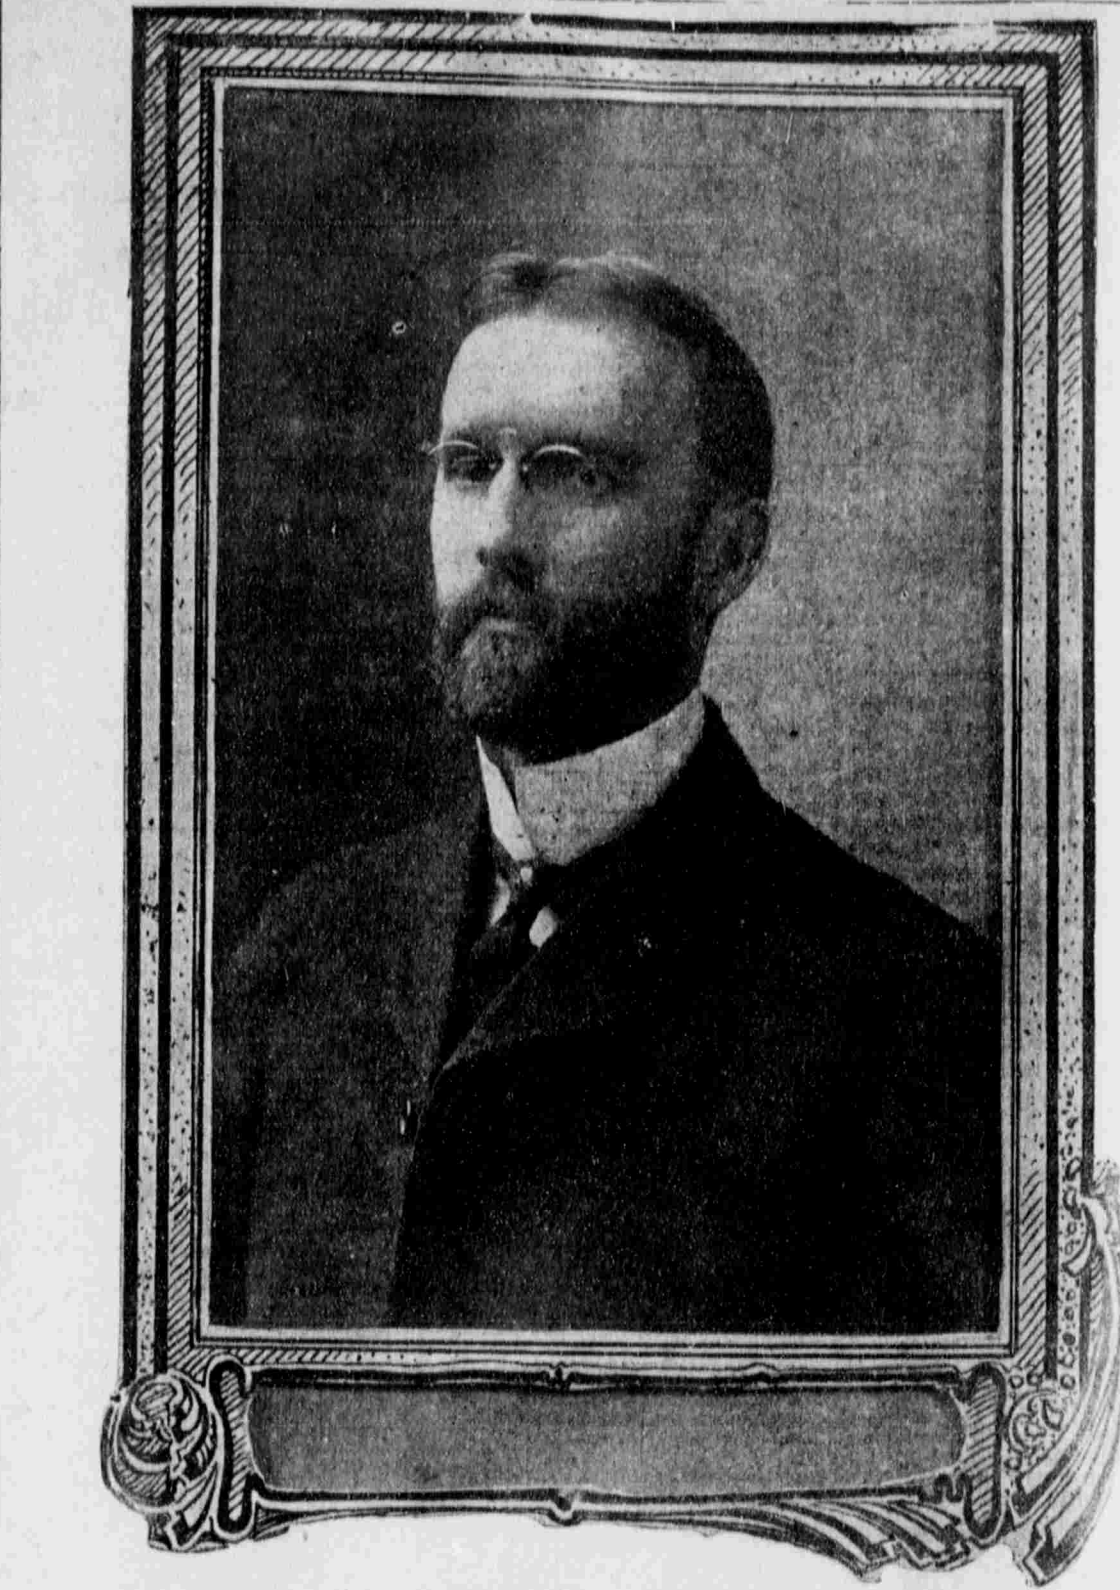

Your cough is an annoyance; your sore and weakened lungs menace your life.

Cure your cough and your lungs at the same time. When you take a dose of Dr. Acker's English Remedy you feel the glow of renewed health at your lungs almost at once. It clears away the sores and inflammation, sets the lungs moving strong and sure. This is the only right way to cure a cough.

"My object in writing is to give you my experience in regard to your Acker's English Remedy. About eighteen months ago I was afflicted with a terrible cough, from which I could not sleep more than an hour or so at a time, and it tormented me by day as well. Seeing the English Remedy I went to the drug store and secured a fifty-cent bottle. I took only three doses, which completely cured my cough. My colored cook and the colored boy we had got a bottle each for and it completely cured them. I had an Englishman friend, a few miles from my house whom I had seen a week or two before suffering with a terrible cough. I sent him a fifty-cent bottle and it cured him also.

"But the most remarkable thing occurred yesterday. Three weeks ago I took a very bad cold, so much so I thought I had the grippe. For days I suffered fearfully. I remembered what Dr. Acker's English Remedy did for me before, so I got a twenty-five-cent bottle and took only one teaspoonful. It completely cured me. It works like magic on me."—Wm. P. Davis, Atlanta, Ga.

EX-CONGRESSMAN GEORGE SUTHERLAND, Who Was Named Last Night by the Republican Caucus to Succeed Thomas Kearns in the United States Senate.

regret it. He was followed by Representative Harry S. Joseph of Salt Lake, who was sure he represented his constituents in seconding the nomination. Senator Willie Johnson of Piute declared he was unpugged, but was glad to give his support to Mr. Sutherland. He referred to the attitude of the mouth, which was supposed to be unfriendly to Mr. Sutherland because she south had opposed the nomination of the present governor. He felt free, however, to vote for Mr. Sutherland, as he believed he had borne the brunt of the campaign and should enjoy the reward.

PRATSE FROM PARK.

Senator Park of Salt Lake followed, stating that in a large measure the Republican victory in Utah last fall was due to him. Representative Kinney of this city said Mr. Sutherland had been an issue in the recent campaign, and had played a large role in the fight waged at that time.

Representative Peterson of Piute said he was convinced Sutherland was the man for the place, although he had come here unpugged.

Senator Hollingsworth of Weber said he believed his constituents were for Sutherland, and he would therefore second the nomination. Representative William McGee of Salt Lake spoke of the congressional record of Mr. Sutherland, when he was nominated to defeat Utah's Democratic king. He felt great pleasure in an opportunity to second the nomination.

KUCHLER IN LINE.

Representative Rudolph Kuchler of Weber county was heartily applauded when he arose to make his speech as it had been thought that he would be opposed to the nominee, on account of the fact that he had not signed the caucus call. He seconded the nomination on behalf of the representatives of Weber county.

Representatives Anderson of Morgan, Christensen of Sanpete, and Richards of Davis spoke briefly.

Senator George N. Lawrence then took the floor for a more lengthy speech. He said that he believed the election of a senator was only an incident in the career of a legislator. It had been stated to him before his nomination that a candidate would have to pledge himself before he would be nominated. While recognizing the importance of electing a senator, he declared, "if it was the thing of first importance in choosing legislators, then some mighty poor laws would be the result. If a machine were to be built up now it would probably be as unpopular as all other machines. He declared that he had never pledged in any way, but that he was not in sympathy with the campaign of vilification that had been waged or with what certain papers had said about Mr. Sutherland. "I don't believe there has been any influence of an ulterior sort in Mr. Sutherland's campaign," he concluded, "and it gives me great pleasure to second his nomination." Senator Lawrence is known to have an independent, individualistic character, and until the making of his speech had refused to let his attitude to Mr. Sutherland be known. The speech was received with great applause.

LOVE AND UNANIMITY.

There seemed to be no end of seconding speeches, and to help matters Senator Love moved that the records be made to show that every man there had seconded the nomination. Two dissenting votes were recorded to the motion of Senator Love, one being from Senator Lewis, who afterwards cast a vote for Mr. McCornick, and one from Representative Wotton, who had a speech to make, and did when the roll call gave him an opportunity.

ONE FOR MCCORNICK.

Roll call commenced and ended with a monotonous answer of the name of Sutherland. The one variation was when Senator Lewis voted, "W. S. McCornick." Before the formal announcement of the result, Senator Lewis arose to explain that he had cast his vote to redeem a pledge and that he now desired to have his vote recorded with the rest for Sutherland. The change was made and the result announced amid great cheering. A committee consisting of Senator Love, Speaker Hull, Senator Loomis, Representative Fishburn was appointed to bring Mr. Sutherland before the assembled legislators.

MR. SUTHERLAND'S SPEECH.

Ten minutes after 9 o'clock Mr. Sutherland appeared, his coming being a signal for prolonged applause. On his overcoat he wore a large rose. After being introduced by Chairman Austin, he said:

"Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the caucus—To be a member of the United States senate is the most exalted position in the gift of the people of this state. I have no words to express my deep appreciation of the honor you have conferred upon me. My heart is full of gratitude to you. The good book commands us to 'love our enemies,' yet in my heart, as in the hearts of all men, there is a commandment yet greater than that, a commandment to love your friends. In the two years' fight I made it in the open—there has been no subterfuge, no money spent improperly, no millionaires, no great corporation back of it. I say, and say with no egotism, there has been nothing back of it but the great common people of this state. My thanks go out to my loyal friends, Mormon and Gentile, for there has been no difference in the loyalty and devotion of the two classes. My thanks go out to you, and in that I include every member of this Republican caucus. I thank you again and I ask the honor and privilege of taking you each by the hand and thanking you in person."

Adjournment followed immediately upon the conclusion of Mr. Sutherland's speech. The doors were thrown open and many prominent Republicans thronged in to congratulate Mr. Sutherland. Among them were State Chairman Spry, E. H. Callister, N. P.

TALKS WITH THE LAW MAKERS; NEEDS OF THEIR CONSTITUENTS.

DESPISED COYOTE AS RABBIT KILLER.

Orvil L. Thompson of Scipio, Millard county, is serving his second term in the house, having been a member of the last state Legislature, which held out for 90 days. Mr. Thompson is a cattle and sheep man and a prominent Republican of central Utah. Millard county, he says, wants the state to establish an experiment farm in that locality and he and Senator Callister will doubtless work to this end during the session. Mr. Thompson says also that he favors a reduction of the state bounty on coyotes, as he believes the present bounty excessive, particularly as the coyote does valuable work in exterminating equally as great a pest, the jack rabbit. Millard county, says Mr. Thompson, winters more sheep than any other county in the state and has a most excellent winter range. Her facilities for irrigation, however, are not the best, and legislation looking to their improvement will be most welcome. The state well near Fillmore, by which it was hoped to increase the water supply, has not proved the success expected and now at a depth of 7,000 feet, an effort is being made to try for oil instead of water. The land board, however, has not yet consented to the change. An irrigation project that will do much good to the section of the county, is that now under way by the Deseret Irrigation company. This company is damming the Sevier river and has run a tunnel 200 feet through the mountain to convey the water to the greatest in the vicinity of Oued, Deseret, Hinkley and Abraham, where there are thousands of acres of good lands waiting for irrigation. The county does not suffer for lack of water particularly, but rather for lack of storage facilities so that the water may be used when it is most needed.

UINTAH PEOPLE WANT EVERYTHING.

Rep. Orin D. Allen of Vernal, Uintah county, when asked the needs of his county in the way of legislation, very promptly replied, "We need everything." Mr. Allen is here for the first time as a law-maker, and while he is inclined to be more or less non-committal, the chances are he will do good work as a committeeman and vote for every measure which will do the greatest good to the greatest number. He says Uintah county is sorely in need of roads and bridges, and also wants some help in irrigation. While there is plenty of water in the county, particularly on the Utah side, irrigation, there is no means of storing it till needed, and the result is a scarcity during the summer months. With the people of Uintah, as with those in other parts of the state, the great question is the conservation of the water supply, and to this end Mr. Allen will direct his efforts during the session. The gentleman is an old-time resident of the state, and having lived in Hixson and Grand counties before going to Uintah, is more or less conversant with requirements in different sections.

SHOULD RECLAIM THE ARID LANDS.

A gentleman well known as a citizen, but not so much so as a legislator, is Representative Walter C. Lyman of Bluff, San Juan county. Mr. Lyman is serving his first term, having been elected to the place occupied two years ago by Wayne Redd. A member of a pioneer family, he knows the needs of different sections of the state and will doubtless render valuable aid during the session. Mr. Lyman is one of those who is not in favor of unnecessarily burdening the statute books, but he feels that any enactment that will tend to reclaim the arid lands and make them inhabitable, should have the hearty support of all his colleagues. The gentleman resided in Salt Lake several years ago, but was later called to his present position in San Juan county, which position he now holds. He is a man of practical ideas, and will be found supporting all measures looking to the upbuilding of the state.

THE TALLEST MAN COMES FROM PAYSON.

Representative Grant Simons of Payson, Utah county, enjoys the distinction of being the tallest, if not the best looking man in the lower house. While he is not a stranger to politics, this is his first term as a legislator and the chances are he will make a record to be proud of. He ran for representative in 1895, but was defeated; but this time he landed the place with a handsome majority. The first day of his experience as a legislator he was presented with a fine omen, and this he regards as a good omen. Mr. Simons has no pet measures up his sleeve, but hopes to do much in the way of making more practical present enactments. The gentleman was for some time postmaster at Payson, and is a Republican to the backbone.

YOUNGEST MEMBER AND A DEMOCRAT.

George L. Stringham of Thurber, Wayne county is one of the few Democrats in the lower house. In addition to this, the gentleman enjoys the distinction of being, perhaps, the youngest member of the sixth session of the Legislature, being but, 23 years of age. Mr. Stringham is a representative Utah boy, having first seen the light of day at Holden, Millard county. He has lived in Wayne, however, a sufficient length of time to know the needs of the county, and proposes during this session to do what he can to get an appropriation sufficiently large to materially improve the roads and bridges of that section, which, he says, are in a deplorable state at the present time. Just now the people of Wayne have to travel a distance of 40 miles by stage to reach a railroad, whereas this could be cut in two were a road built into Emery, which is the most direct highway from Wayne. To do this it would cost perhaps $2,000, but the benefit to be derived would far outweigh the expense attached to the undertaking, and would give the farmers of Wayne an opportunity to market their produce. Mr. Stringham, while he considers himself a lightweight in the matter of making laws, this being his first experience, is one of the biggest men, physically, in the house, being fully six feet tall and weighing perhaps 130 pounds. He is paying close attention to the statutes and will doubtless give a good account of himself during the session.

"SIX" OUT OF BILL.

Word Appears to Have Been Eliminated from Arizona Statehood Measures.

At the Young Men's Democratic club rooms yesterday afternoon, the Woman's Democratic club held its annual election of officers. The following were chosen: President, Mrs. J. M. Cohen; vice president, Mrs. F. L. Ventress; secretary, Mrs. Anna Meier; corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. D. J. Roundy; treasurer, Mrs. Elizabeth J. Hayward. An executive committee, one member from each precinct, was selected, as follows: First, Mrs. S. A. Renner; Second, Mrs. Rudolph; Third, Mrs. J. D. Roundy; Fourth, Mrs. E. A. Wilson; Fifth, Mrs. S. B. Newman.

The secretary of the club had recently sent a letter to Senator Beveridge, chairman of the committee on territories, asking that the word "sex" be eliminated from the constitution of the proposed state of Arizona. The senator replied that in accordance with their wish, coupled with that of other ladies, the request had been complied with. A protest will be sent by the club against the proposed plan to unite the territories of New Mexico and Arizona into one state, as also against a similar joining of Oklahoma and Indian Territory.

(DO YOU REMEMBER?)

Mrs. Belya A. They were approximately as follows: The independence of Korea, under Japanese suzerainty; the cession of certain Chinese islands; the razing of the Taku forts; the deprivation of Port Arthur and Wei Hai Wei of their character as naval ports; and the dismantling and demolition of all forts in the way from Korea to China, and admission of Japan's rights to prescribe the number and type of China's men of war; the payment of a heavy indemnity, and if possible the negotiation of a Chinese-Japanese alliance.
