

KILLING AND ALMOST LYNCHING

Patrol Driver Jackson of Butte
Killed Harry Cole While Trying to Escape.

MAN'S BROTHERS LEAD A MOB.

Made an Ineffectual Attempt to Lynch
Detective McGarvey Under Impression It Was He Who Did Shooting.

Butte, Mont., May 10.—Patrol Driver Charles Jackson tonight shot and killed Harry Cole, while the latter was attempting to escape, and an incensed mob of 5,000, led by brothers of Cole, made an ineffectual attempt to lynch Detective Charles McGarvey, the crowd laboring under the impression that it was that officer who had done the shooting. Cole had been arrested by McGarvey on a forgery charge and was suspected of being one of the two bandits who, several days ago, held up the North Coast Limited on the Western Pacific, at Welch Spur, murdering Engineer Frank Clay and wounding Fireman Thomas Sullivan. Cole is a brother of George Cole, who is now serving a sentence in the Deer Lodge penitentiary for the robbery of the Burlington Flyer, near this city, two years ago. George Cole confessed to holding up the train, and was sent to prison for 14 years. His brother, Harry, has been under surveillance of the officers since the holdup of the North Coast Limited, and this evening was taken into custody by officers.

While he was being sweated in the office of the police, Cole, it is stated, defiantly said that he knew all about the holdup of the limited, and made a dash for the door, which he reached, and ran down an alley leading from the police station. An officer started for Cole, but tripped over the threshold of the door and measured his length on the floor. McGarvey followed and tripped over the prostrate form of the policeman, and he, too, went to the floor. Patrol driver Jackson, who at this point had entered the room, upon hearing the commotion, saw that Cole was about to make his escape, quickly drew his revolver and fired once, hitting the fleeing man in the back and killing him almost in his tracks. An immense crowd immediately gathered, and the impression gained ground that McGarvey had killed an innocent drunk. The cry went up, to hang McGarvey. Timothy Cole, another brother of the dead man, and a leader of the mob, took the leadership of the mob, and with more than 2,000 men at his back hastened to the county jail, where they thought McGarvey was hiding, and attempted to force their way through the line of officers with drawn guns. Inside the jail were more officers armed with Winchester rifles. The mob secured a long rope from a derrick used in the construction of a building near by, and the shout was made to down the officers.

At this point Deputy Sheriff Jack Wainwright joined the mob and told them that McGarvey had left the jail, and that they were welcome to search the building. This was done, and the detective being found. Mounting the steps in front of the courthouse, Timothy Cole made an impassioned exhortation to the crowd to avenge the death of his brother, whom he declared had been shot by McGarvey in cold blood. As the dead man had worked in the mines and many of the miners knew him personally, there were loud cries of approval, with shouts of "hang him to a pole," and "shoot him." Cole addressed the mob until he became so hoarse he could talk barely, and a whistler, and telling the mob to follow, made his way to the police station with the rapidly augmenting crowd following him, until it had reached the least 5,000 in number, the mob packing the streets for two blocks about the station.

Drawn guns of the officers prevented an arrest of the mob, and the crowd then made its way to the gun store of Carl Engel on West Park street, and despite the attempt of the police to guard the store, forced their way into the place and secured a number of shotguns, but for some reason, apparently, thus far have been unable to guard the ammunition stores. The mob leaders say they will have the life of the slayer of Cole, and if an attempt is made to raid the city and county jails blood will be spilled, judging from the temper of the officers.

Cole, it is stated, had also been suspected of robbing the trunk of his roommate of the crowd, which it is alleged he cashed, and the officers wanted him for this act.

The police restored quiet at about 11 o'clock tonight after they had succeeded in arresting Timothy Cole, the leader of the mob, and a youth named Flynn, who carried the rope; a man who gave his name as Sullivan and a cousin of Cole. These were held in the police station until the mob, lacking a leader, dispersed, when the four were permitted to go to their homes upon their promise to behave themselves.

Cole, the man killed by Jackson, has figured in police circles for some time and has been suspected of complicity in several crimes. At the time of the murder of Officer Fleischman, Cole was arrested on suspicion of being the murderer.

PIERCE WANTS HIS LIBERTY RESTORED

After Voluntarily Surrendering He Immediately Secures a Writ
Of Habeas Corpus.

SHERIFF WILL FIGHT CASE.

Does Not Intend to Kidnap Him or Put Him in Irons But Means That Texas Shall Have Him.

St. Louis, May 10.—Sheriff G. S. Matthews of Travis county, Texas, arrived from Austin, Tex., today, to take charge of H. Clay Pierce, chairman of the board of the Waters-Pierce Oil company, who surrendered to arrest Wednesday on a Texas indictment charging him with having committed perjury in an affidavit made in 1900 concerning the oil company.

Immediately after Pierce's arrest a writ of habeas corpus was secured from the circuit court, on the ground that Pierce was unlawfully being restrained of his liberty. Hearing on the process was set for tomorrow morning.

Sheriff Matthews said: "I will employ counsel to fight Pierce's application for habeas corpus. I don't intend to kidnap Mr. Pierce or take him back to Texas in irons, but I do intend to see that Texas gets what is coming to it in the way of legal representatives."

"It strikes me as funny that Pierce, after voluntarily surrendering, should go into court and claim he was being restrained of his liberty."

Mr. Pierce was released from custody Wednesday on $10,000 bond, pending the hearing tomorrow.

In a statement given out today by Mr. Pierce, the declaration is made that the affidavit was true throughout. The statement in part follows: "The affidavit which I made on May 21, 1900, at Austin, Tex., is unquestionably true. I made it after full consultation with my attorneys. The affidavit states that the Waters-Pierce Oil company, organized under the laws of the state of Missouri, on May 20, 1900, had not made or entered into any trust agreement, contract or confederation to fix the prices or limit the quantity of any articles of merchandise."

The affidavit does not contain a statement, nor did the law of Texas require of a foreign corporation any statement with respect to who were its shareholders or who were interested in it. It has been repeatedly and libelously said by many malicious or thoughtless persons and newspapers, that the affidavit contained the statement that the Standard Oil company of New Jersey was not interested in the Waters-Pierce Oil company, either as a stockholder or otherwise. The affidavit did not contain any such statement, and any assertion of that character is made in perversion of the contents of the affidavit and ungrounded malice toward me."

OLD SORES FED AND KEPT OPEN BY IMPURE BLOOD

A great many people have an idea that old sores exist merely because of a diseased condition of the flesh where the ulcer is located. They patiently apply salves, powders, plasters and other external applications, but in spite of all such treatment the place refuses to heal. When ever a sore or ulcer does not heal readily the blood is at fault; this vital fluid is filled with impurities and poisons which are constantly being discharged into the place, feeding it with noxious matter, which makes it impossible for the sore to heal. Old sores may be the result of an inherited blood taint, or the effects of a long spell of sickness, or again the circulation may be contaminated with the collections of refuse matter which the different members have failed to expel through the channels of nature. Whatever the cause the blood becomes steeped in poison and a cut, bruise, scratch or other wound often develops into a sore, fed and kept up by these impurities, causing it to eat deeper into the surrounding tissue, inflaming, festering and causing pain. External applications can only keep the sore clean; they cannot cure the trouble because they do not reach the blood. S. S. S. cures Old Sores by going to the very bottom of the trouble, driving out the impurities and poisons and purifying and building up the entire circulation. When S. S. S. has removed the cause the blood becomes rich and healthy, the sore begins to heal, new flesh is formed, the place scars over and is soon permanently healed.
