

Convention for This Judicial District Meets in Salt

Lake at 9 O'clock.

TWO DARK HORSES APPEAR.

They Are In the Form of Candidates For One Position on Bench and District Attorneyship.

That pollties which came out of obscurity for the earliest opening the state has known, is not destined to retire again until the counting of the November ballots, is the indication of developing situations.

Yesterday the Republicans breathed casy a moment after settling the question of who should east ballots at Chi-cago, and today they are busy for to-morrow's battle. This has to do with the nomina-

This has to do with the nomina-tion of four candidates for the district bench, and the convention will assem-ble with a voting strength of 149 dele-gates in the court rooms of Judge Ritchie at 9 o'clock a. m. Besides this convention two Demo-oratic conventions are due within the next few weeks as well as an "Ameri-can" party convention if that organiza-tion decides to put a judicial ticket in the field.

LEADIG CANDIDATES.

LEADIG CANDIDATES. The leading candidates for tomor-row's meeting are the four judges now on the bench. Morse, Ritchie, Lewis and Armstrong. The latter was busy fixing his fences in the state conven-tion yesterday afternoon, while an out-side condidate was also busy. This was Judge Whitaker of the civil di-vision of the city court, and while his friends declare he is opposing neither Lewis nor Armstrong, still it is against them that his strength is being exert-ed. So far all delegates appear to bo united on Morse and Ritchie, and no fight is expected on either. A feature of the convention is that flight is expected on either. A feature of the convention is that although there are only 149 votes, it will probably require 120 to elect, as each delegate will have four votes, and a majority is necessary to elect. In case of five candidates they could all break even at about 120 votes and prevent an election until some one can-didate's forces are broken.

DISTRICT ATTORNEYSHIP.

Job Lyon has made a hard fight for votes against Fred C. Loofbourow for the district attorneship and H. A. Smith is also coming forward for this position. Just what strength these candidates can pull against Mr. Loorbourow will bot develop until tomorrow, when the question of this office, and that of whether Judge Whitaker is to receive a position on the quartet of district judges will be the centers of interest in the day's work. day's work.

It is thought that two sessions will It is thought that two sessions will be necessary, one to perfect the organ-ization in the morning and another to do the voting in the afternoon. Stan-ley Price is chairman, holding this po-sition since the last judicial convention four years ago. He, however, will merely call the session to order, and the officers selected will take charge of the day's proceedings. Delegates to the convention come from Salt Lake, Sum-mit and Toogle counties. mit and Tooele counties.

forts will be made to bring the two lines of work into closer and more helpful relations. Method of teaching the Book of Mor-mon, Old and New Testament and Church History; of making revealed truth co-relate and corroborate scientific and his-torical truth, and of guardian work for the youngest children, besides public lec-tures and adresses by well known speak-ers are all provided for. Nor is the so-cial side neglected. There will be a re-ception and ball in the Odeon hall, and an excursion to Wandamere. The exer-cises of the program will be interspersed with choicest music furnished by Church schools, and altogether a protflable and enjoyable time is anticipated. Reduced fittes have been secured from all the railroads, and there will no doubt be a large attendance. A com-mittee on entertainment will aid visiting teachers in securing accommodations during the conference, and no pains will be spared in making the event happy and useful. Printed programs are being mailed to all workers in Church schools and Religion classes.

Having had years of experience in taking care of old people on festive occasions, the members of the central committee offer a few suggestions to local committees, in order to introduce uniformity in action and that general success may become a feature of all old folks' gatherings throughout the country.

country. Three score and ten is considered the age allotted to men generally, but only a small percentage#of humanity only a small percentage of numarity born into the world reach that age; hence, those few who do, and who live beyond, should become special objects of esteem and honor on the part of the younger generations. With this object in view the old folks' excursions were inaugurated in Salt Lake City 33 years ago and all recole over of age inaugurated in Sait Lake City 33 years ago and all people over 70 years of age were invited to participate in them without respect to creed or color. It was also agreed that all persons be-tween the ages of 70 and 80 should on festive occasions wear a red badge, all between 80 and 90 a blue badge, and all over 90 a white rosette. This rule we should like to see made universal throughout the land. But in local gath-erings 70 years need not necessarily be erings 70 years need not necessarily be made the age limit; all persons over 65,60 or even 50, might consistently be included in the invitations in smaller oldest people should be given the smaller oldest people should be given the seats of honor, at the heads of the tables, in front of the congregations in the generia assembly, or on the stand, and they should also be accommodated with easy chairs if such are on hand. In most gatherings it would be in good taste that the high-est civil officers of the town present should deliver a short address of wel-come; later on, interspersed with other numbers, ecclesiastical officers might make brief remarks; occasionally a few words from aged veterans might also be interesting, but as a rule these vet-erans are present to be seen and wait-ed upon and not to be heard in long speeches. #### PRIZES.

The distribution of special prizes on account of age or other merits has, in our experience, always been productive of good; but under no droumstances should the thoughts of charity or poverty be emphasized in the distribution of prizes. The word "poor" should not be mentioned on old folks days.

DECORATIONS.

DECORATIONS. 'In decorating assembly rooms the emblem of our country—the "Stars and Stripes"—should always be in evidence. Children could be trained to do special honor to the aged on festive days. We shall never forget the beautiful sight we once witnessed in a Utah county hamlet, where hundreds of little chil-dren (the girls all clad in white) were placed in lines along the street leading from the railway depot to the place of gathering, with a small United States flag in one hand and a flower (destined afterwards to be pinned on the breast of some veteran) in the other. ### CAPTAIN HOBSON

SOUNDS ANOTHER ALARM

San Francisco, May 8.—Capt. Rich-mond Pearson Hobson, who is now in this city, is in favor of a powerful fleet on the Pacific coast. In discussing the matter yesterday he said: "The Pacific coast demands the r-tention of the fleet now in this har-bor. It means the protection not only of the west but of the whole country. The United States can never feel safe out here on the Pacific ocean until she dominates the sea as well as the land dominates the sea as well as the land. And domination of the sea means a fleet of such proportions that the white race need have no fears of the aggres-sions of the yellow race. "The Pacific oast cannot be guard, ed with a few cruisers. It needs just bled in your bay, and I believed that the country is awakening to the realiza-tion that the protection west is as great a national duty as the protec-tion of the east."
