

He was examined by County Attorney Westervelt, and testified that he was acquainted with the two murdered men.

"On the night of the 6th," he said, "I heard a shot proceeding from Second South and Thirteenth East. I thought somebody was breaking a board. I thought I heard another and went over to the car. I stepped into the door of the car and saw Brighton leaning over. He had a wound in his side. I also saw Gleason. He was stretched out on the floor of the car apparently dead. I saw Mr. Beckstead coming along in a sleigh. I stopped him and then I telephoned for assistance. I would not have gone over to the car but for the fact that it had remained there so long."

"How far is your house from where the car was?"

"About 20 rods."

"Did Mr. Brighton make any statement to you?"

"No he did not. He appeared to be suffering great pain. I phoned for the police and a doctor."

"After Brighton was carried into Beckstead's house, did you hear him make any statement?"

"Nothing except he was cold."

"Did you notice the time of the shots?"

"Yes, the first was about 11:45. It was nearly 15 minutes before I went over to the car. I did not go until after the second shot. I saw the car lighted and went over. I saw Brighton sitting in the car. I told my wife that something was wrong. My wife went with me."

"Did you hear any statement from Thos. Brighton?"

"I heard his brother ask him something, but I did not hear his reply."

"Can you think of anything else?"

"I saw a hat outside of the car but I did not touch it. I called the attention of the officers to it."

DEAD MAN'S BROTHER.

Bishop Robert A. Brighton, brother of the murdered man, testified he was called to his brother's bedside at the Holy Cross hospital shortly after midnight.

He said he asked his brother for a description of the hood.

"The wounded man could only say that the robber wore a handkerchief over his face and he was tall."

"That's all I could get out of him," said the witness. My brother's son said Thos. Brighton told him that after the robbery Gleason he (Brighton) grappled with the highwayman and succeeded in getting his gun. Then the hold-up shot, and he believed he had another gun.

"I understand that the hold-up ran south."

"Can you think of anything else?"

"Well, I heard of some woman who rode on the car who said she saw two suspicious looking men on the car and that they whispered together."

The woman referred to is Mrs. Freese. MOTORMAN BUILT.

A. H. Burt, motorman on the Second South street line, testified that he went up to the scene of the shooting. He said a number of men went up on the special car.

"When we got there," said the witness, "I ran to car 73 and found Gleason lying dead on the floor. His cap was near his head and his pipe was on the floor. Gleason's body was covered with blood. Sgt. Edgington had the hat and a dark coat's revolver."

"I helped carry Brighton to the patrol wagon. I found a bullet in the car and gave it to Sgt. Read."

"Did you make an examination for bullet marks in the car?"

"Yes, I saw a bullet mark in the south door."

"Did you notice any other marks around there?"

"No, sir."

"Have you ever been held up?"

"No, I was never molested."

"You knew both men well?"

"Yes."

"Were any windows broken in the car?"

"No, sir."

THE MURDERER'S HAT.

The murderer's hat was exhibited and the witness identified it as the one he saw at the car.

WESTERVILT SWORN.

County Attorney Westervelt was then sworn and testified that yesterday he examined car No. 73. He described the location of the bullet mark, explained where the bullet was found on the car seat. Mr. Westervelt said he was unable to get a statement from Mr. Brighton.

CAPTAIN BURBIDGE TESTIFIES.

Captain Burbidge was sworn and identified the two men as those taken to him by Sgt. Edgington. The latter found them in the car. Captain Burbidge said that one of the bullets fitted the mark in the car door perfectly. He identified the gun found in the car. The weapon was practically worthless. It is a 25 caliber, while the bullets found were 41 caliber.

The captain said only one gun was found in connection with the case.

BECKSTEAD CORROBORATES.

Elmer Beckstead, the man who was steering the car on the night of the murder, and who was stopped by Mr. Hurd, corroborated the testimony of the latter.

"Did you notice anything Mr. Brighton said while in your house?"

"Yes," he said the hold-up was tall and wore a mask. He said the robber came into the car and began shooting, but he did not get any money. Mr. Brighton said the man who did the shooting, I saw Gleason on the floor of the car and Brighton was on the seat groaning."

NO EVIDENCE.

Mr. Westervelt stated that, so far, there was no evidence to present to the jury, as to the identity of the robber and murderer. "All the additional evidence," he explained, "is of the same nature you have listened to this morning."

Former Clark suggested that the jury adjourn until some future time, when more evidence would be forthcoming. Mr. Westervelt informed Clark that there would be no more evidence.

"We can hear all that we wish to hear," without summoning witnesses here," said Westervelt, and he quietly and politely walked out.

Clark did not like the procedure a little bit.

"We don't know any more now than we have already been informed by the newspapers."

After debating the question at some length, the jury adjourned until Monday, at 2 p. m.

UNIQUE THEATER BENEFIT.

There will be a theater benefit for the families of the victims on Wednesday next, when the manager of the house will turn over the entire proceeds of five performances—all that can be given during the afternoon and night—to the bereaved. Tickets will be on sale at the theater and by all of the employees of the street car company.

THE FUNERALS TOMORROW.

The funeral of Amasa Gleason will be held at the Third ward meetinghouse tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

The funeral services of Thomas B. Brighton will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Eleventh ward meetinghouse. The Scottish Missionary society, of which Mr. Brighton was an honored member, will attend the funeral in a body.

LYNCH TALK DIES OUT.

There is less talk than there was of lynching Shockey, the suspected murderer of Gleason and Brighton, and there is no indication now that anything of that kind will be attempted. Special precautions, however, have been taken at the state prison to prevent trouble there, and the keys to the prison interior are kept where no outsider would think of looking for them.

Take it a month at my risk. If it succeeds the cost to you is $5.50. If it fails the druggist will bill the cost to me. And I leave the decision to you.

Don't Wait Until You Are Worse

Taken in time, the suffering of this little one would have been prevented. Her mother writes me:

"Two years ago my little girl was sick continuously for six months. We tried many doctors, and they failed, yet it took only two bottles of your remedy to cure her, and she has remained cured. You can tell others of this cure if you so desire."

Mrs. C. H. Avery, Rockdale, N. Y.

"It is a pity she did not first write me, before the case was dangerous."

The wife of Omer Andrus, of Bayou Chicot, La., had been sick for 20 years. For 8 years could do practically no work. He writes:

"When she first started taking the Restorative she barely weighed 90 pounds; now she weighs 135, and is able easily to do all her household work."

Twenty "dark" years might have been "bright" ones.

J. G. Billingsley, of Thomasville, Ga., for three years has been crippled with disease. Now he is well. He writes:

"I spent $250.00 for other medicines, and the $3.00 I have spent with you have done me more good than all the rest."

Both money and suffering might have been saved.

And these are only three from over 65,000 similar cases. These letters—dozens of them—come every day to me.

How much sicker illness the Restorative has prevented. I have no means of knowing, for the slightly ill and the indurged deeply-seated chronic or two of their druggist, are cured, and I never hear from them.

But of 600,000 sick ones—seriously sick, mind you—who asked for my guarantee, 38 out of each 40 have paid. Paid because they got well.

If I can succeed in cases like these—fall but one time in 40, in diseases deeply-seated and chronic—Isn't it certain I can always cure the slightly ill?

Chief Lynch and other officers out to the state prison yesterday afternoon for the purpose of identifying (if possible, one of the two men now held for the murder and attempted robbery. The car operators were Conductor M. E. Andrus and Motorman William Beck.

Two years ago, a lady 69 years of age, today filed a damage suit in the district court against the Salt Lake & Ogden that plaintiffs negotiated a loan of $250 on some real estate in this county. After the note and mortgage had been executed Johnson gave his check on the Commercial National bank for the amount of the loan.

After the mortgage was recorded the check was presented for payment but the bank refused to honor it, so plaintiffs ask that the note and mortgage be canceled so as to remove the cloud from the title to their property.

GRETNA GREEN.

Cheyenne Continues to be the Place Where Coloradoans Wed.

Cheyenne still continues to be the popular Gretna Green for Colorado couples who desire to have the matrimonial knot tied with ceremony and but few questions asked. The business has attained such importance in Cheyenne that W. N. Dunham, a retired minister, makes it a profession and has an office near the court house. When couples secure a license he tenders his services, if they are strangers, and no trouble is experienced. He has married over 100 couples in the past six months, receiving a fee of $5 from each.

During the year 304 licenses have been issued in Cheyenne, of which number 184, or 59 per cent, were granted to parties from Colorado; 98 to Wyoming couples and 25 to people from other states. Of the Colorado brides 143 wrote "Mrs." before their names, only 29 per cent not having been previously married, due to the lax Wyoming laws and strict Colorado statutes on the remarriage of divorced people.—Rock Springs Miner.

Why The Restorative Succeeds.

You may oil and rub, adjust and repair a weak engine. It will never be stronger nor do its work better, without steam. More power—more steam is necessary.

And so with the vital organs. Doctor them as you will. That's mere repairing. Permanent cures never come save through treating the nerves that operate those organs.

And that my Restorative does.

After almost a lifetime of labor—of study at bedside and research in hospitals—I made this discovery. I found a way to treat, not the organs themselves, but the nerves—the inside nerves—that operate these organs and give them power and strength and health. That discovery has shown me the way to cure.

It makes my offer possible.

I know the remedy. I never can forget the study, all the research, the trials and tests that perfected it. I have watched its action year after year in cases difficult, discouraging. Time after time I have seen it bring back health to those poor ones whom hope had almost deserted. I know what it will do.

My only problem is to convince you.

And so I make my offer. And the bare fact that I make such an offer ought of itself to convince you that I know how to cure. Please read it again. It means exactly what I say. No catch—no misleading phrases in it. Simply this—You take the medicine and I will take the risk.

And you—not I—decide if you are to pay.

He will learn from my book a way to get well. Perhaps, as I say, the only way for him. His case may be serious—hopeless almost. Other physicians—other specialists may have failed. The matter is urgent, then.

MADE A FAILURE OF MARRIED LIFE.

Four Unhappy Wives Legally Separated From Their Liege Lords.

ONE HUSBAND IN STATE PRISON

Others Were Charged With Desertion Or Failure to Support—Those Who Were Liberated.

Four unhappy wives were released from the bonds of matrimony this morning by Judge Stewart in the civil division of the district court. Carrie Vandyske was divorced from Benjamin A. Vandyske on the grounds of desertion and failure to support. They were married in this city on Nov. 3, 1900, and the desertion occurred in October, 1902. Plaintiff's maiden name, Carrie Hickman, is restored to her and she was allowed $25 for attorney's fees and also costs of suit.

Crisie Rugg was divorced from John Rugg on the ground of failure to support. They were married in this county on July 19, 1900. Plaintiff was awarded $500 as permanent alimony, $50 for attorney's fees and her maiden name, Crisie Ekstedt, was restored to her.

Mary Masters was granted a divorce from John R. Masters on the ground that defendant has been convicted of a felony and is serving a term in the state prison for the same. Masters was convicted of forgery in April, 1903. The parties were married in this city on Nov. 12, 1902.

Failure to support is the ground upon which May Miller was granted a divorce from William Miller. They were married in this city on June 26, 1902.

Herbst Guardian Files Suit Against the Voss Estate.

Suit has been filed in the district court by Ida L. Herbst, Clara L. Herbst and John F. Herbst, by Martha Elbert, their guardian ad litem, against Christian Voss, Irma Voss and the estate of Eliza B. H. Voss, deceased, to restore and re-establish three deeds to certain parcels of land in the county which, it is alleged, were destroyed by Peter J. Sanders, in whose custody they were placed for safe keeping by the first named plaintiff. The property was decided by plaintiffs' father to their mother, in trust for them, and was by her deeded to Ida L. Herbst in November, 1902. In that same month it is alleged they were destroyed by Sanders. It is asked that the deeds be re-established and that plaintiffs' title to the property be quieted as against the claims of defendants.

The wife of petitioner was in the plot, and but for his watchfulness, he would have been caught, but he sized up the situation with the first sniff of chloroform which came through a door adjoining his bed, and opening into the next room, and he got up before being overcome. Three men and the faithless wife are alleged to have been in the conspiracy. The men cleared out of the hotel and disappeared on finding their attempt had been unsuccessful, the attempt including an elaborate system of signals by knocking on the wall of the two rooms, between the men and the wife who was with her husband. The latter is now in Salt Lake consulting with Judge Powers, his attorney. He accused his wife of being in the job, and she finally owned up to it, and to being informed as to what was going on, and has left in writing a statement that the men who tried to chloroform him in Denver were agents of the two Portland citizens.

DEATH OF A PIONEER.

Mrs. Charlotte De Grey Baddeley Succumbs to Kidney Trouble.

Mrs. Charlotte DeGrey Baddeley, widow of George Baddeley and a Pioneer resident of the Tenth ward, died this morning at the family residence, 345 Tenth East street, after a lingering illness, from kidney trouble. The deceased was born June 9, 1843, at Dudley, Worcestershire, England, and emigrated to America in 1856 with her mother and four sisters. She remained in Boston nine months and in 1857 crossed the plains in Capt. Jesse B. Martin's company, enduring all the hardships incident to such a journey. Mrs. Baddeley was a consistent Latter-day Saint all her days and resided in Salt Lake ever since her arrival in Utah, with the exception of two years spent with her husband in the Dixie mission. She leaves three sons, one daughter and 14 grandchildren. She was an aunt of State Treasurer John DeGrey Dixon.

The funeral will be held Tuesday at 2 p
