

THE SALT LAKE SHRIMP.

The brine shrimp is one of the forms of life that inhabit the waters of the Great Salt Lake. It is barely a sixth of an inch long, and to the naked eye affords little more than the gratification of a passing curiosity. By the aid of the microscope, however, it becomes to the student an object of deep interest, and the art of photography is successfully called in to display its construction to those who have not the privilege of gazing at it through the magnifying glass. By the aid of micro-photography Dr. J. E. Talmage has just produced a remarkably clear picture of the brine shrimp, many times magnified. Its appearance and construction, down to the delicate filaments which the strongest eye cannot discern unaided, are shown with wonderful distinctness. The picture is a gem of the photographic art for the illustration of the minute object displayed.

MORMONS IN MEXICO.

A letter from Colonia Juarez, the Mormon colony in Mexico, to A. J. Stewart Jr. of this city contains the following information:

Several head of horses were recently stolen by four Mexicans, Orson Brown, David Hawkins, Brigham Stool and David Stevens gave chase and captured the Mexicans with the stolen horses, and imprisoned them. During the night sixteen Mexicans liberated their countrymen, who claimed that they did not have the horses when they were arrested, and had not stolen any. The Mexican authorities then caused the arrest of the four named Mormons, but they do not seem to be disposed to punish either Mexicans or Mormons. Messrs. Pratt and Romney have gone to Ciudad Juarez to see that justice is done in the matter.

Eight small cheese factories are in operation, turning out 1000 pounds of cheese per day.

The hay crop is a large one, and the country generally is prosperous.

HEAVY WHEAT PURCHASES.

The record of the flour mills and dealers in grain and flour is that this fall has witnessed the heaviest purchases of wheat and flour ever known in one season in Utah. The News articles pointing out the danger of scarcity of breadstuffs have had the effect of drawing the attention of the people to the subject to such an extent that a vast number of families that heretofore have lived from hand to mouth as it were on the staff of life, now have several months' supply in their bins.

"It has been a splendid thing for Utah," a gentleman who is well acquainted with the situation stated in conversation today. "The people were awakened to realize the situation, and rustled to get in breadstuffs. In doing this they used money that would have gone, in many cases, in channels that were unprofitable. The purchase of needless luxuries and the indulgence in unnecessary pleasures have been checked, and the cash turned to good account in getting flour and wheat."

The price of wheat took another upward step today, and is now reported at sixty cents in on-load lots. A further rise of five to seven cents is anticipated within a short time, as the time when farmers were rushing in wheat to get cash to meet taxes is past, and there will be still less offered on the market.

LOGAN ACCIDENTS.

A twelve-year-old daughter of Mr. Albert Lang was thrown from a horse last Wednesday evening, between Logan and Providence, breaking her right leg just above the ankle joint, into which the fracture extends. Dr. Snow attended her.

On Thursday a young son of Mr. Hawkes, of the Second ward, while playing with some companions, had his hand suddenly seized by one of them, and given such a severe twist that one of the bones of his forearm was broken.

DEATH OF JOHN ROWLEY.

COLONIA PACHECO, Chihuahua, Mexico, Oct. 12, 1893.—It is with feelings of sadness I record the death of another faithful man, John Rowley, who departed this life quite suddenly on Saturday, the 7th inst., after an illness of five days. The Sunday previous he went as a home missionary to Cave valley and bore a faithful testimony. The cause of his death was inflammation of the lungs. In the spring he had a severe attack of pneumonia.

Brother Rowley was born July 14, 1840, at Suckley, Worcestershire, England. His parents were numbered with the six hundred who were baptized by President Woodruff in Herefordshire in 1840; emigrated to Utah in 1856 with his widowed mother and seven children in Captain Willey's bandwagon company; was frozen to death to all human appearance while crossing the plains and was brought to life again through the administration of the Elders and power of the Priesthood; settled at Parowan, Iron county, Utah, where after residing several years, he moved to Nephi, Juab county. In 1863 he crossed the plains to assist in bringing in the poor. In the spring of 1864 he commenced the manufacture of plaster of paris at Nephi and in October of the same year started on a mission to England, laboring in the Birmingham conference eight months when, owing to ill health, he was released to return home. He moved to Dinz, Mexico, in September, 1869, where he remained until the spring of 1892, when he removed to this place. At the time of his death he held the office of High Priest.

Impressive funeral services were held in the schoolhouse at 10 o'clock on Tuesday morning the 10th instant. Extracts were read by Bishop Jesse N. Smith, Jr., from a discourse by Apostle Orson Pratt delivered October 15, 1854, on "The increased powers and faculties of the mind in a future state," after which suitable remarks were made by the writer and Father Josiah Hardy. The remains were followed to their last resting place by numerous relatives and friends. Deceased was a man of sterling integrity and possessed of natural mechanical abilities, and will be greatly missed in our colony. He leaves a large family to mourn his loss.

DEATH OF WILLIAM HOWELL.

The many friends of William Howell of the Twenty-first ward, will be pained to learn of his demise, which occurred on Monday, Oct. 23rd, death resulting from consumption and other complications of a serious nature, arising from that dreadful disease.

The deceased was a native of Haverfordwest, Pembrokeshire, South Wales, and was in the 26th year of his age. He came to Utah about four years ago, and up to a few months ago was employed in the grocery department of S. P. Teasdel & Sons. He has a wife and two brothers in this city. His parents still reside in Wales. Recent communications from them were full of anxiety regarding their boy. It was their wish that he should return, but this undertaking would have been a hazardous one, as his condition from the first was such that had he attempted to carry out their desires, he would not have survived the journey.
