

SOCIETY

Thanksgiving week has been marked by an increased number of functions in contrast to the preceding weeks of the season, which have shown a veritable dearth in contrast to previous years. The two large receptions on Wednesday were the most elaborate, but there have been a number of smaller ones which were charming in their way and the weddings, while not numerous, have helped in the record.

The home of Mrs. Thomas Kearns was thrown open on Wednesday from 3 to 4 o'clock, and about 300 guests enjoyed the hospitality of the hostess during those hours. The rooms were beautifully decorated, the drawing room in white and green, the hall and library in yellow, the Moorish room in lavender, and the dining room in red, the latter being especially effective with its table spread with China lace over red satin, American Beauties and red chrysanthemums, silver flower-pots and candles. An orchestra on the balcony furnished delightful music, and the following friends of the hostess assisted in various functions: Assisting Mrs. Kearns in receiving her guests were Mrs. Hoyt Sherman, Mrs. Ezra Thompson, Mrs. Robert J. Glendinning, Mrs. David S. Murray and Miss Wilson. Mrs. Samuel Adams of Denver presided at the punch bowl and was assisted by Miss Elizabeth Cosgriff.

The reception given by Mrs. McCormick and Miss Keogh at the McCormick home was the second large affair of Wednesday, and was characterized by cheerful and in all details. Autumn flowers in various tints, with palms and ferns brightened the rooms, and a large number of guests were present to enjoy the function. An orchestra rendered choice musical selections, and refreshments were served, the two hostesses being assisted by the following: Mrs. W. McCaskill, Mrs. R. H. Channing, Mrs. R. Gould Smith, Mrs. Grant Hampton, Mrs. R. B. Harkness, Mrs. Arthur H. S. Bird, Miss Katherine Judge, Miss Dorothy Kinney, Miss Katherine Geddes and Miss Elsie Sherman.

An elaborate dinner was given on Thursday by Mr. and Mrs. William Channing, small tables being used and the progressive idea being carried out. The two rooms used were in red and yellow, respectively, and covers were laid for 16. The guests were: Mrs. J. D. Jones, Miss Marge Miller, Miss McCormick, Miss Ruth Kirkpatrick, Miss Geddes, Messrs. Nason, Curt Williams, Devoreaux, W. B. Devoreaux, Fordham and George Ames.

One of the pretty luncheons of the week was that given by Miss Elizabeth Cosgriff on Tuesday at the Kenyon. In honor of Mrs. George Rose. The table was decorated in American Beauty roses and covers were laid for nine. Present besides the hostess and guest of honor were Miss Gertrude McGrath, Miss Elsie Sherman, Mrs. J. B. Cosgriff, Miss Cosgriff, Mrs. William Bayly, Jr., Miss Lane and Mrs. Barnes of Fort Douglas.

On Tuesday night the Messrs Buckingham gave a delightful card party, the game being high five. The rooms were prettily decorated in red and white and these colors were carried out in the tables and in the refreshments.

Miss Katherine Geddes entertained the bridge club at her home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Moritz entertained at a dinner at the Alta club on Monday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Strauss of Baltimore.

Mrs. W. W. Rivers entertained at luncheon today in honor of Mrs. William Evans of Baltimore.

Society is taking great interest in the little drama to be given by local people at the Grand theater next Tuesday night, for the benefit of the Free kindergarten. The clever one-act play of a successful Denver playwright, entitled "The Porch of Dreams," will be given, and the characters will be sustained by Mrs. L. M. Bailey, Mrs. Vincent and J. D. Spencer. Besides this entertainment, will be given a musical program to include some of the notable talent of the city.

Mrs. William Nicol entertained the card club at her home this week.

A pretty affair of the week was the luncheon given by Mrs. J. D. Thompson.

Mrs. Dorsey Ash entertained the Plate club at dinner today at the Commercial club.

The Messrs Kirkpatrick entertained a few friends at dinner at the Knutsford on Thursday.

Waldemar Van Cott will entertain the U. of U. football team at a dinner at the Alta club, Dec. 2.

On Wednesday night Judge and Mrs. W. C. Hall gave an elaborate dinner in honor of Dr. and Mrs. William McNery. The table was prettily decorated with fruits and flowers, yellow and white being the chosen colors. Present besides the guests of honor were Senator and Mrs. Thomas Kearns, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cosgriff, Mrs. Alinsley and Judge Robert N. Taskin.

A recent notably interesting affair was the birthday dinner given by Mrs. Nellie Colton in celebration of the nineteenth birthday of her mother, Mrs. Sarah Curtis. The party numbered children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, and a delightful time was spent.

Mrs. A. C. Ewing will give a luncheon on Dec. 5 at the Kenyon.

Miss Jennie Lynn entertained the Sewing club this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Lamb entertained at a delightful dinner on Thanksgiving day, covers being laid for eight guests. These were present: Dr. and Mrs. W. A. McNery, Mrs. R. E. Bransford, Miss Macomber, Jay T. Harris, W. J. Leonard.

Mrs. Jack Keith gave a pretty luncheon at the University club yesterday in honor of Mrs. C. D. Clark and Mrs. Blythe of Evanston, Wyo.

Mrs. Heber Lee and Mrs. Ingalls entertained at luncheon yesterday in honor of Mrs. Evans of Baltimore.

Mrs. W. W. Armstrong has issued invitations for a card party to be given next Friday afternoon.

Next Tuesday a dancing party will be given at the University club for the younger members of society.

Following the football contest on Thursday, a party was given at the University in honor of the visiting team, arranged by members of the Chronicle staff. A delightful time was spent by all. The hall was appropriately decorated, and a large number enjoyed the evening. The chaperones were Mrs. Heber Lee, Mrs. W. W. Armstrong, Van Cott and Mrs. Charles G. Plummer.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ellerbe entertained informally on Thursday evening.

Miss Lillie Nordquist was pleasantly surprised by a number of her friends on Monday evening. Games were played, after which supper was served. Among those present were Misses Hazel Lewis, Annie Hiller, Lillie Nordquist, Myrtle Corless, Annie Jensen, Leonora Lewis, Elsie Blomquist, Lillian Nordquist, and Messrs. Charles Worthen, John McCurdy, John Worthen, Edmund Ludlow, Bert Hagish, Harry Hiller, Ralph Woods, Carl Jensen.

Among those who entertained at dinner on Thanksgiving were Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. William Bayley, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bamberger, Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Sherman, Mrs. J. S. Ferguson and others. All of the clubs had special dinners.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Andrews held an informal reception at their home on Thursday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John Reed of Denver, and many friends called to greet the popular couple, a delightful evening being spent.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Caine celebrated their wedding anniversary last night in an informal party at their home.

On Tuesday evening Mrs. John Sharp entertained informally in honor of Miss Susan of Denver. Sixty-three were played during the first part of the evening and later a very enjoyable informal musical program was carried out. Miss Cecelia Sharp, Mr. Frank Foster and others taking part. Mrs. E. Rich and Mr. Sharp offering were prize winners in the card contest. Those present were Mrs. G. E. Romney, Mr. and Mrs. John N. Sharp, Mr. and Mrs. E.
