The Father's Infatuation with the Spanish Maiden.

LIFE AMONG ORANGE GROVES.

Merry Interview Between Father and Son in a Prison Cell—Case Dismissed.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—The charge of grand larceny against Stenhouse was dropped today.

Stenhouse, who visited with a Spanish woman, was accused by his son of being guilty of the larceny.

In a very complete account of the trial of Lorenzo Stenhouse at San Francisco, the Register says that the Stenhouses came from Salt Lake City about six months ago.

At first well in their new home, but later they met a fair Spanish maiden, Virginia Escoba by name, who resides in Monterey.

Stenhouse, who visited with a Spanish woman, was accused by his son of being guilty of the larceny.

The couple then left San Francisco and went to Monterey, where they remained for some time, and then made a hasty return to the city.

After a time the delicate life among the orange groves began to tell upon them.
