RECEPTIONS AND AT HOMES

The week opened with the brilliant affair at the Fort given on Monday night by Capt. and Mrs. J. E. Woodward in honor of the new officers and their ladies. The event was in the nature of a reception and dance, and the amusement hall and officers' club was used for the occasion. The verandas and walks were bright with electric globes and lanterns, and bunting and flags were draped over the entrances. The hall also was decorated in the national and regimental colors, while Filipino and other oriental curios were used effectively in the decorations. In the club hall small tables were arranged for refreshments, and adorned with roses, and on the opposite side were card tables for the older guests. The receiving party stood in the amusement hall and were dancing was enjoyed, the musicians occupying an alcove formed with flags and bunting. Receiving with Capt. and Mrs. Woodward were Colonel and Mrs. Lockwood, Captain and Mrs. Sturgis, Captain and Mrs. Morrow, Captain and Mrs. Perry, Captain and Mrs. Wells, Lieutenant and Mrs. Point, Mrs. Mary Judge and Mr. and Mrs. William M. O'Brien. Assisting in entertaining were Mr. and Mrs. Benner X. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. David S. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Walker, Miss Stella Salisbury, Miss Anna McCormick, Miss Sherman, Miss Laura Sherman, Miss Addie Zane, Miss Leta McMillan, Miss Dorothy Kinney, Miss Emily Read, Lieutenant Berry and Lieutenant Greene. About 200 were present.

Another brilliant evening reception was given on Tuesday night by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dimwoodey in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Dimwoodey. The residence on First street was beautifully decorated, a special feature being the verandas which were picture-like with old mission lamps, and stately palms, while within the scene was bowerlike in its profuse and artistic adornment of flowers and vines. The hosts and guests of honor were assisted in receiving by Mrs. George E. Dalton and Mrs. James E. Jennings, while Mrs. Albert Walker presided at the punch bowl in the library, and in the dining room Mrs. Heber M. Wells and Mrs. Kenneth C. Kerr poured coffee, and Mrs. Joseph A. Jennings served tea, and Mrs. F. W. Jennings.

Mrs. Ezra Thompson was hostess at one of the largest receptions of the week. Her function was on Wednesday afternoon, and about 100 guests were present. The decorations were in exquisite arrangement, the hall being in white and green, the front parlor in red and pink, baskets of elegant being used with roses in striking effect, while the rear parlor was in pink roses mingled with sprays of green. The dining room was a dainty picture with its clusters of astringes and banks of candy-tuft, making a background for the table, which had for a centerpiece an oval mirror on which stood tiny vases of sweet peas, while between them were doves, which had the effect of floating on the crystal. The library was effectively done in yellow. An orchestra was stationed on the upper landing and gave a delightful program of music during the afternoon. Mrs. Thompson was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Perry S. Heath and Mrs. Rachel Miller. Mrs. H. R. Hayward and Mrs. Samuel Woodward assisted in the hall and Mrs. Ellsworth Daggett poured coffee in the dining room. Others assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Nelson Ranschoff and Mrs. Keogh. Miss Leta McMillan served punch, assisted by the Misses Norrine Thompson, Alleen McMillan and Majorie Jacobs. Little Gladys Barlow received the guests at the door.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Penrose will give a reception tonight at their home in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Penrose, whose marriage took place at the home of the bride in St. George, on June 14.

SOCIAL CHAT

A delightful afternoon affair of Thursday was the porch party given by Mrs. Hubbard Reed. Rugs covered the floor, a great flag draped one end, and vines screened the rest of the porch, while card tables stood both here and in the parlors, the guests enjoying a game of "43." The rooms were decorated with white roses and carnations, and the scores and tallies were scenes in foreign countries and Japanese fans respectively. The prizes were in accord with these, being souvenirs of Mrs. Reed's trip abroad. They were won by Mrs. Hoyt Sherman, Mrs. T. B. Beatty, and Mrs. T. G. Webster. Among those present were Mrs. W. S. McCormick, Miss Keogh, Mrs. Wilkes, Mrs. Edwin F. Holmes, Mrs. Robert Harkness, Mrs. George Y. Wallace, Mrs. Windsor V. Rice, Mrs. David Keith, Mrs. William A. Nelden, Mrs. Hoyt Sherman, Mrs. J. R. Povers and her guest, Mrs. Jordan, Mrs. Pfoutz, Mrs. Hanauer, Mrs. Holman, Mrs. T. G. Webster, Mrs. Woodward, Mrs. Sturgis, Mrs. Henry L. Miller, Mrs. Sol. Siegel, Mrs. Alexander C. Ewing, Mrs. T. B. Beatty, Mrs. Joseph M. Bidwell, Mrs. Russell C. Woodruff, Mrs. Robert J. Glendinning, Mrs. John E. Dooly, Mrs. John Dorn, Mrs. William H. Cunningham, Mrs. George W. Meyer, Miss Crawford, Miss Kimball, Miss Nason, Miss Cosgriff, Miss Elizabeth Cosgriff, Miss Hanauer, Miss Ida Hanauer, Miss Webster.

Mrs. J. J. Toronto entertained informally at her home at 34 A street Wednesday evening, in honor of her sister, Miss Lizzie Seemiller, who has been visiting her for some time past, and who soon leaves for her home in Richmond. The greater part of the evening was spent in social chat and games, and after partaking of a dainty repast, the guests were favored with musical numbers by the Misses Agnes and Ruth Daquett, Agnes Scappatura, Marie Davi and Aura Rogers.

Miss Alice Needham entertained at a pretty evening function last night in honor of Miss Ethel Harris of St. Louis, who is visiting here.

Last night was ladies' night at the University club, and the evening was spent in dancing, punch being served on the roof garden.

Anderson were hostesses at the Country club today.

Mrs. Amelia Polson Young entertained at a high tea on the evening of next Tuesday.

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Charles Billings entertained at a high tea in honor of Miss Edith Lowther and Miss May Billings, the affair being an exceedingly pretty one. The decorations were in the national colors and emblems. Bowls of red and white roses and blue pansies adorned the table, and tiny flags were at each plate, the place-cards also having flags for decorations. The rooms were bright with flags and bunting. A delightful afternoon was spent with sewing and conversation.

Miss Josephine Wells was hostess at a delightful afternoon affair yesterday in honor of Miss May Billings. The rooms were prettily decorated and a number of the young friends of the out in the colors chosen for the young lady's wedding. The time was delightfully spent, about 25 guests being present.

Mrs. Harold Russell and Mrs. Walter Lewis of Butte were guests of honor at a luncheon and card-party given by Mrs. Heber Lee, the double function being decidedly delightful. The table was decorated with bowls of roses, and single sprays strewn over the cloth, while the place cards were hand-painted summer girls. These were afterward used for the scores. The guests, besides Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Lewis, were Mrs. Frank W. Jennings, Mrs. O. K. Lewis, Mrs. Eccles, Mrs. M. R. Stewart, Mrs. Charles Brink, Mrs. J. H. Moyle, Mrs. George Savage, Mrs. J. O. Duke of Chicago, Mrs. William C. Bartling, Mrs. C. M. Bells, Mrs. Ingalls, Mrs. Pitt, Mrs. Frank Harding, Miss Dwyer and Miss Kate Dwyer.

Mrs. F. S. Bascom was hostess at a

The bridal idea was carried out in the details, the rooms being decorated in bride's roses, and each guest being given a bell-shaped card on which she wrote a line to the bride and groom. The prize in this contest was taken by Miss Eva Thomas, and a bunch of sweet peas awarded the guest of honor. Refreshments were served during the afternoon. Present besides Miss Billings were the Misses Jennie Lynn, Ella Mantor, Mary Sharp, Lora Schoppe, Daisy Raybould, Elma Young, Josephine Wells, Vivian Little, Allen Crismon, Katherine Moffatt, Celia McCready, Edith Kingsbury, Edith Lowther, Gertrude Mayer, Abbie Wells, Marjorie Ellerbeck, Eva Thomas, Anna Adams, Leda Rawlins, Lucile Romney, and Mrs. A. S. Bower, Mrs. O. A. Billings, Mrs. E. M. Waller, Mrs. Frederick Sinclair, Mrs. Ewing of Colorado and Mrs. Eldredge of Ogden.

Mr. and Mrs. Geoghegan entertained at a delightful evening affair on Wednesday night, the time being spent informally with cards and music. The rooms were prettily decorated and about 40 guests enjoyed the affair.

WEDDING BELLS

Wednesday was a day of weddings, and one of its most elaborate functions and indeed of the season's, was that of Miss Nellie Pinkerton, and Mr. Edward Moore, the ceremony being performed at the Central Christian church by the bride's father, Rev. T. W. Pinkerton, at 8:30 o'clock. The church was a picture in its elaborate and artistic decorations, a large arch framing the pulpit, its pillars covered with white and twined with smilax. The arch was a mass of pink and white roses and parvula blossoms, and hanging from the pulpit was a large bell of white roses, its rim bordered with colored electric globes. These, also, shaded in pink and white, outlined the big arch, and the rear of the pulpit was a bank of palms. Preceding the ceremony, Miss Agnes Berkhof sang two beautiful numbers, and during the service gave Schubert's "Serenade." As the bridal party entered, Miss Pearl Rothschild played the Lohengrin Bridal chorus, and at its close Mendelssohn's march. The bridal party was preceded by a little girl and boy carrying cushions, one pink and the other green, and next came the bride's maids and ushers down opposite aisles, the maid of honor coming down the center followed by the bride on the arm of Dr. J. C. Baldwin. The bride was gowned in an exquisite creation of white swiss elaborately trimmed with lace, a long veil of tulle and bouquet of bride's roses completing the costume. Her sister, Miss Crete Pinkerton, the maid of honor, wore white also, and the bridesmaids, Misses Carrie Skippington, Blanche Cassady and Gertrude Mayer, wore gowns of pale green mull over white tulle. The ushers were Messrs. J. E. Orblson, Max Meyer and Royden Beren. After the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Later Mr. and Mrs. Moore left for a trip to the coast, after which they will return here to reside.

Another elaborate wedding of Wednesday was that of Miss Belle Lawson and Allen McNitt, the ceremony being performed by Bishop O. F. Whitney at the home of the bride, at 8:30 o'clock. Prof. Claud Nielden played the Lohengrin "Chorus" at the approach of the bridal party, and the "Trauerlied" during the service and at the close the Mendelssohn march, his sister, Miss Pinkerton, accompanying him upon the piano. The bride was beautifully gowned in white silk with applique trimming. She wore a veil of tulle fastened with a pearl pin, the gift of the groom. Her bridesmaid, Miss Blanch Lawson, wore a gown of white organdie over silk and carried pink flowers. Little Marguerite and Hayden White were bearers of the ribbons, which formed an aisle for the bridal party, and Mr. A. C. Barnes, brother-in-law of the bride, gave her away. The party stood under a bell of white roses and vines, and the rest of the room was in white flowers, the dining room made a pretty picture in its white and pink decorations—ribbons in the two shades being combined with pink roses arranged in heart-design for a centerpiece, with a tall vase of the same rising from the heart. Relatives and friends of the bride couple assisted in receiving and entertaining. Mr. and Mrs. McNitt left on a late train for Ogden, and after Aug. 15 will be at home at 270 J street.

A pretty home wedding of Wednesday was that of Miss Margerite Stevens and Mr. Ralph Reiben, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stevens at 8 o'clock, with Rev. Elmer Goshen officiating. The rooms were bright with pink flowers, the prevailing shades being pink, white and green. Miss Claire Stevens was bridesmaid and Mr. Albert Petty best man. The bride's gown was of white mull and the bridesmaid's of blue. Mr. and Mrs. Reiben will be at home after July 15, at 1210 east Fifth South street.

Wednesday witnessed the nuptials of

COMING AND GOING

Miss Mary Birkinshaw and Mr. Hyrum Christensen, the ceremony being performed in the Temple during the day, and a supper and wedding reception taking place in the evening at the home of the bride's parents. The room was bright with June roses and greens, the colors being pink and green. The bride wore a dainty gown of cream voile over tulle and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Assisting in receiving were Miss Emma Birkinshaw, Miss Eliza Birkinshaw, Miss Rose Thorn, Miss Pearl Peterson and Mrs. L. E. Rogers. Mr. and Mrs. Christensen will be at home after July 1, at 578 east Fourth South street.

Miss Ella E. Rich and Mr. Arthur Bishop were among the bridal couples of Wednesday, the marriage being solemnized in the Temple during the day, and a delightful reception being held in the evening at the bride's home. The bride wore a dainty gown of cream voile over tulle and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Assisting in receiving were Miss Emma Birkinshaw, Miss Eliza Birkinshaw, Miss Rose Thorn, Miss Pearl Peterson and Mrs. L. E. Rogers. Mr. and Mrs. Christensen will be at home after July 1, at 578 east Fourth South street.

At St. Paul's chapel on Monday morning Miss Mary L. Manning of Massachusetts and Samuel C. Wing were united in marriage, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. G. C. Hunting and only the relatives and intimate friends being present. Miss Phil Painter was bridesmaid, and Mr. M. A. Brothers was best man. In the evening a wedding supper was given at the Wilson for the church party. Mr. and Mrs. Wing will be at home after July 1 at 967 west Second South street.

Miss Lucy Wright and Mr. Arthur E. Snow were married on Thursday in the Temple, by President Lund, and in the evening a large reception was held at the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. Georgia Thatcher. The lawn was bright with colored lanterns and the rooms inside decorated with a profusion of June flowers, the affair being a very pretty one. The bride wore a becoming gown of white crepe de chine over tulle, and carried roses. She is a sister of Dr. Elias Wright, and has been associated with the Keogh-Wright family as matron for some time. The groom is a son of Hyattus Snow of St. George, and both the young people have many friends who will wish them happiness. They will reside at 793 Fifth East street.
