HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 5.—The following bills were introduced:

By Hatcher, reclaiming alluvial lands of the Mississippi river, and improving its navigation.

By Bland, removing legal disabilities of women. It provides that when a woman has been admitted to practice in the superior court she shall be allowed to practice in the United States Supreme Court.

By Buckner, for the repeal of all bankrupt laws, the establishment of a national university for women in Washington, amending the constitution so as to restrict the application of the 15th amendment to citizens of the United States on March 30th, 1870, when said amendment was adopted, and their issue. The purpose of the amendment is understood to be to prevent the Chinese or their descendants from becoming voters.

By Willis of New York, to promote the education of the blind. The bill proposes an appropriation of $25,000, to be invested in United States bonds, as a perpetual fund, the interest on which is to be paid semi-annually to the trustees of the American printing house for Louisville.

The House passed, under suspension of the rules, Bland's bill for the resumption of silver. The vote was yeas 163; nays 34.

Ewing moved to suspend the rules and adopt the resolutions making the bill to repeal the third section of the resumption act a special order for to-morrow, and from day to day till Tuesday the 13th, at 3 o'clock, when the previous question shall be ordered on it and on any amendments then pending, the special order not to interfere with the appropriation bill, but to be extended if necessary so as to allow five days for the consideration of the bill. All amendments meanwhile are to be in order.

Adopted—yeas, 143; nays, 48.

On motion of Wood the rules were suspended, that the President be requested to communicate to the House the correspondence with the Spanish government and the orders and directions of the Treasury Department to collectors of customs regarding the recent imposition of a deflerential duty of fifty cents per ton on Spanish vessels entering American ports, with such information in reference thereto as he may deem necessary; also that the secretary of the treasury be requested to furnish the House at the earliest practicable moment copies of a contract made with the syndicate for negotiation of the 4 per cent. bonds, together with copies of all other papers relating thereto, and also with a statement as to the present position of such negotiation, and whether it remains in force as originally made, without modification or change.

Phillips introduced a bill to create a postal savings bank.

The Speaker announced that he would be absent to-morrow in Pennsylvania, and that Sayler would be Speaker of the House.

Adjourned, on motion of Calkins, in respect to the memory of Senator Morton.

EASTERN.

Quick Time.

NEW YORK, 5.—The Australian mail from Sydney, September 21st, via San Francisco and New York, arrived in London November 2nd, making the distance in forty-two days, against a run in fifty six days by the Peninsular and Oriental steamship line.

Demand for Trade Dollars.

WASHINGTON, 5.—The demand for trade dollars for export in excess of the available stock of that coin in the hands of the public, having arisen at San Francisco since the order suspending the receipts of deposits of silver at the mints for that coinage was issued, the Secretary of the Treasury has so far modified the order as to authorize the receipt of silver on and after to morrow, November 6th, on deposit at the San Francisco mint for returns in trade dollars.

Postal Savings Banks.

The bill introduced by Phillips, of Kansas, for postal savings banks, provides that at each office where the postmaster's salary is $1,000, on application, a savings bank shall be established. The deposits shall be received at as low an amount as 25 cents, the account not to exceed $200. It provides that when $25 is deposited it shall bear 3 per cent. interest when placed subject to ninety days' notice before call. It authorizes the issue of 3-65 bonds in denominations of $25, $50, $100, and $200, with coupons payable every three months, which on demand shall be payable on the amounts deposited when called. It provides with additional bonds for postoffices where such banks are established, and that the bonds may be increased from time to time, and leaves the execution of the act with the Postmaster General; the Secretary of the Treasury to issue bonds on notification of the Postmaster General that more than $50,000,000 is to deposited, that amount being held under the sixth auditor for payment of account demands.

Disasters to Lake Shipping.

CHICAGO, 5.—Several disasters to lake shipping are reported to-day. The gale began early this morning and drove into port a number of outgoing vessels. Others were blown ashore. Four are beached in this vicinity, one at Nankegan, and doubtless others are in trouble. No loss of life is yet reported.

The Late Senator Morton—Last Tribute of Respect—Imposing Ceremonies.

INDIANAPOLIS, 5.—Rain fell from daylight to noon. From noon to dark it grew colder, with considerable wind. The temperature had fallen twelve degrees up to sundown. From the opening of the court house doors this morning until 10.30 an uninterrupted throng moved through, viewing the honored remains of Senator Morton. At that hour the pall bearers took a last look, when the casket was taken to the hearse and thence to the residence, escorted by military. The first room at the left from the hall was gracefully draped with flags and mourning emblems. In front of the mirror, between the front windows of this apartment, stood a magnificent spray of white flowers. In the centre of the room, fronting the entrance, stood a floral pillow with a group of white and a secondary purple border, bearing upon the centre, in violets, the word "Rest." Immediately back of this, beneath the mantel, was a floral medallion, having inserted at its top a sheaf of full, ripe wheat. This was bordered with white roses, having opposite the sheaf and on the bottom of the circle as it lay, the letter "M" in blue flowers, the whole bordered with a wreath of smilax. In the second room on the right, standing on the piano, stood a floral harp bearing the motto, "Our friend," and the initials "O. P. M.," flanked on the right and left by two broken floral shafts, and in the rear by a portion of the decorations used at the Court House. In this room was also placed a floral pillow bearing the legend "Indiana's Pride," from Judge Martindale. In the third room stood an easy chair, more eloquent in its vacancy than all the floral tributes, draped with the stars and stripes and mourning colors. In this room was also located a shaft of laurel and ivy leaves, surmounted by a white dove, from whose beak suspended a wreath of smilax and ivy, and the motto, "A slight testimonial of gratitude we bear to one who was the unswerving advocate of woman suffrage, Mrs. Frances Miller and Phoebe Cozzens, St. Louis." In this room was also deposited a floral pillow composed principally of tube roses, in the centre of which appeared the motto, "The nation mourns." The casket was deposited in the fourth or east room against the mantel, on which rested a wreath of tube roses and carnations, with the motto "Rest" in purple immortelles, from the President and Mrs. Hayes, brought by Burchard Hayes. This was flanked on one side by a shield of white roses, bearing in the centre the initials "O. P. M." in purple immortelles, and on the other by an anchor, from the colored citizens of Philadelphia.

As soon as practicable the house was cleared and the family left for a brief hour with their dead. Upon opening the door the time was occupied, prior to the removal of the remains to the hearse, by committees from the Cabinet, Senate and House of Representatives, distinguished guests and letter carriers in taking a last look, after which the funeral cortege was formed according to the programme. The church decorations were elaborate and striking, more so than those at the house, but are better imagined than described.

At 12.25 the great organ sounded the opening notes of Beethoven's funeral march on the death of Hero. Then came the farewell from "Jeptha," by Handel; March Funebre Chopin Lachrymosa, from the requiem of Mozart; funeral march, Mendelsshon; "Elegy of Tears," Sohubert; funeral march to the memory of O. P. Morton, by Wm. H. Clark, and last an andante from the seventh symphony by Beethoven. The choir of 150 voices filled the space between the organ and pulpit, stretching around the turn into the gallery above. While the farewell from "Jeptha" was mailing out from the organ the letter carriers, gray uniformed and white gloved, came in at the side door, each bearing the floral tributes which had been sent to the Morton homestead. On two stands at the head and foot of the bier stood a broken pillar of flowers, the gift of Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Ingram Fletcher—the lyre and pillar from Mrs. Hayes er. Around the altar rail and on each side of the pulpit stood the floral anchor from President Hayes, and the anchor from the colored citizens of Philadelphia under the pulpit, the star from Mr. and Mrs. Robert Emmett, the pillow from Mrs. Martindale and one from Chauncey Filley, St. Louis.

At 1 o'clock the remains were brought into the church, preceded by the officiating clergymen and followed by the pall-bearers—Hon. E. B. Martindale, Hon. J. N. Tyner, Assistant Postmaster General, Dr. W. C. Thompson, ex-Governor Conrad Baker, General James A. Elkin, Assistant Postmaster General; Hon. John F. Kibbey, Hon. Henry Taylor, Hon A. J. Porter, followed by the family and relatives. Then came Senators Davis, Burnside, Bayard, MacDonald, Cameron, of Pennsylvania, and Booth of California; Representatives Banks, Cobb, Townsend, Burchard, Davidson and Hanna. Then followed the secretaries of war and navy, attorney general and Burchard Hayes, ex-Governor Hendricks, Governor Williams, Hon. Benj. Bristow, Gen. John M. Harlan, Governor Young, of Ohio, Governor Cullom, of Illinois, Colonel Ingersoll, Murat Halstead, Mayor Moore, Theo. Cook, Judge Cox, of Cincinnati, and many other distinguished visitors both from abroad and every section of this State.

At 1.10 the choir sung the anthem, "Cast thy burden upon the Lord, and he shall sustain thee."

At 1.20 Rev. Myron W. Ried read from the Scriptures, first the nineteenth Psalm, and closing with the twelfth chapter of Ecclesiastes.

At 1.25 prayer by Rev. Dr. Henry Day.

At 1.35 anthem, "My faith looks up to thee"

At 1.40 sermon by Rev. James Bradford Cleaver, from 2nd Samuel, 2nd chapter, part of the 7th verse, "Saul is dead."

At 2.25 anthem, "And am I only born to die."

At 2.30 eulogy by Rev. Dr. J. H. Bayliss, pastor of the church in which the ceremonies took place.

At 2.55 prayer was offered by the Rev. Prof. J. K. Hoshour.

At 3.02 anthem, "No room for mirth and trifling here."

After benediction by President Tuttle, of Wabash College, the casket was removed to the hearse, and the funeral procession moved, under command of Gen. Lew Wallace, the Odd Fellows having taken charge of the corpse by their pall-bearers.

First Division—Col. V. R. Ruckle commanding, composed of the military of this city, Muncie, Terre Haute, Crawfordsville and Logansport.

Second Division — Commanded by Gen. Pease, assisted by Thomas Underwood Marshall, composed of Odd Fellows, comprising the Grand Lodge of Indiana and the Lodge of this city and various parts of the State, including the Lodge and encampment from Centreville, of which Senator Morton was a member.

Third Division—Commanded by Maj. J. P. Wildman, clergy, hearse, family, U. S. Senators, members of Congress, Governors, U.S. Army officers, Federal Judges, State officers, county officers, mayor of Indianapolis and city officers.

Fourth Division — Under command of Albert Gate, Esq., citizens in carriages, citizens on foot.

It was 5 o'clock when the Odd Fellows ceremonies were begun, which were necessarily shortened by the lateness of the hour. The remains were deposited in the vault of the chapel at Crown Hill Cemetery.

An Abortionist to be Hanged.

COBURG, Ont., 5.—David Smith Castleton, an abortionist, has been sentenced to be hanged on the 19th of December, for the murder of Miss Wade. His alleged accomplices, Mallory and Wilton, were held for the next assizes.

MEXICO.

The Mexican Troubles.

CITY OF MEXICO, Oct. 30.—Manuel M. Zamaconi, special commissioner from Mexico, is en route to Washington. It is expected he will remain there as minister. Minister Foster gave an informal dinner to Zamaconi and Velasco. Vallarta, secretary of foreign affairs, and the ministers of Germany and Spain were present. Another regiment of infantry marched for the Rio Grande on the 30th.

Much excitement prevails at the numerous reports of fights on the Rio Grande between Mexicans and Americans. It is rumored that a body of Mexicans crossed to Eagle Pass, pulled down an American flag and ran up the Mexican, and that Matamoras pronounced against Diaz. The excitement increased upon the intelligence that the Mexicans had been assassinated in Texas.

Gen. Trevido pledges Nue Leon to Diaz' policy of extradition and the repression of raids. Mexican officials on the Rio Grande claim that they give up criminals in all cases required by the treaty and where the honor and peace of the country demand, but they reserve the right to refuse to deliver their own citizens on the demand of a foreign power, as the treaty does not require it. Congress is cutting down the tariffs of the Mexico and VeraCruz railway, and declares that government is empowered to abrogate concessions to and all contracts with the railway.
