SOMETHING NEW IN AUTOMOBILE VEILS.

Novelties in automobile veils appear in such rapid succession that it is quite difficult to keep track of these new ideas, much less purchase each and every one that makes its appearance. Quite the newest of these is one which is unusually becoming and decidedly practical. It is made in two pieces and in two weights of chiffon. It is a yard and a half long, and the heavier weight is made to cover the hat and the under the chin, while the lighter weight and that which is used as a face covering, draws snugly under the chin and ties at the back. Both veils are the same length and joined together a quarter of a yard each side of the center.

The following item will be of interest to many people, especially in view of the new movement just instituted at the public library for the blind: During the spring of 1908 a number of the blind met in Salt Lake City and effected the organization known as "The Western Association of the Blind." Its purpose is to help the blind on their journey through life and this praiseworthy effort will be accomplished by encouraging them to read and to do the various handicrafts for which they are fitted.

The board of directors earnestly solicit and invite all the blind in the inter-mountain region to become members of this association. They hope at no distant day to obtain a building for permanent headquarters and to encourage the establishment of shops where the adult blind may be taught some useful trades, thus enabling them to become, at least partially self-supporting.

However, the principal thing now is to learn the names of all blind persons in order to determine how many are in need of the benefits which this association may grant them in the future. The annual meeting of the association for which all the blind and their friends are cordially invited, will be held in the early part of October in Salt Lake City.

Anyone desiring to contribute funds to this cause may send them to the treasurer, Mrs. J. J. Snider, 576 First avenue, Salt Lake City, and anyone knowing the addresses of blind people will confer a favor by notifying the secretary of the association, Mr. A. M. Talmage, 345 east Fourth North, Provo, Utah. The board of directors are: S. W. Jenkinson, president; Mrs. Dr. J. J. Snyder, treasurer; A. M. Talmage, secretary; Ralph Clark, Marie Hanson, N. C. Hanks.

A BURGlar IN TOWN.

His name is "bad cough." He doesn't care for gold or silver, but he will steal your health away. If he appears in your chest him at once with Ballard's Horchound Syrup, which all the blind and their friends are cordially invited, will be held in the early part of October in Salt Lake City.

MENTAL CRUDITY.

Miss Agnes Reppier, the brilliant essayist at a dinner in Philadelphia repeated an overheard conversation as an example of mental crudity. "It was," she said, "a reading, I won't say where, that this conversation was overheard. A young man and a girl conducted it. I ran like this: "Good crowd here." "Yes—literary, too." "Oh, very. Are you fond of literature?" "Oh, very. I just date on it." "I suppose you like Shakespeare, eh?" "Yes, indeed. He may mean something." "Very much. I like Dryden, too." "So do I. Very much indeed." "Do you like Browning?" "Oh, very much. Do you like Goldsmith?" "I adore him. And Byron, do you like him?" "Oh, yes, naturally. Do you like Shelley?" "Very, very much. And Pope?" "He's fine. I'll tell you a good writer." "Who?" "Milton." "Afterward," said Miss Reppier, "the young man told his friends that the girl was wonderfully well-read, while she declared of him: 'Oh, he has read everything!'"

THE CLASSIC NOTE IN EVENING WRAPS.

The influence of the classic note in dress is now quite as prominent in evening gowns. In fact, the one may be said to blend most happily with the folds of the other and because satin is now so extensively employed for garments of this class, the effect is exceptionally pleasing. On such satin wraps the kangaroo sleeve is really one of the best of all the cut-in effects. A modest use of darned nets, passementeries, embroidered cretonne bands and oriental embroideries suffice to give a contrasting color note in sleeve and collar trimming.

Autumn Linen Sale

There's a drop in linens and cotton goods.

We welcome it.

It means lowered prices.

How long it will last no man can foretell. But we do know that there has been a check, an unsteadiness, a decline—at the mills, where prices are formulated according to the raw material market.

Some manufacturers were heavily stocked with raw material. These, observing the tendency, hastened to dispose of them. In some instances at probably cost—for a declining market suggests quick action.

Our buyer was there.

We have taken advantage of the decline and will give our customers the benefit of our savings.

The sale will therefore offer values no other similar sale has in years.

All new and beautiful stock.

Right at the beginning of the season, too.

Come in early, for we have many bargain surprises for you.
