LOCAL BRIEFS.

The funeral of the infant son of Nels Overgaard was held yesterday after-noon from the family residence, 222 West Third South street.

A private dispatch received from Elders Grant, Kelsch, Ensign and Taylor states that they sailed from Vancou-ver last night. All were reported in good health.

The funeral of the little son of Samuel E. Baxter, who died Sunday of diphtheria, washeld yesterday afternoon from the family residence, 537 South Ninth East street.

Frederick W. Benson, a mechanic of this city, yesterday filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy. His liabilities are $750.32, all unsecured, with assets of $160, on which exemption is claimed.

Bertie Hay, the thirteen-year-old son of Mr, and Mrs. James Hay, who fell from a wallnut tree on the University campus last Friday and broke his arm. is getting on very well. The arm was set by Dr. T. H. Hazel.

Fish and Game Warden Sharp has 1,000,000 native trout in his hatchery, to be distributed in the lakes and streams of the State. But he says the weather is too hot for them and he will not plant them until September.

The street fair executive committee is still at a loss as to how the enter prise will end financially. Messrs. Mullet, Smith and Graham are working night and day on the accounts, but as yet there is nothing definite. It is admitted that there will be some deficit. but how much no one knows. This, i is said, will have to be borne by the committee members.

There will be civil service examina-tions in this city as follows: August 31st for instrument maker with coast and geodetic survey, salary, $1,000; on August 20th and 23rd, for ship draftsman in the lighthouse service, treasury department, salary, $4 per day; September 3rd, discipilnarian, Indian service, at Grand Junction, salary, $720; for lithographic map engraver, geological survey, salary, $2.50 to $3 per day; for computer, geodetic survey, salary, $1,000.

The street committee of the council met yesterday afternoon as a board to equalize the paving assessments on West Second South and Third South streets. Daniel Eyer, a west Second South street property owner, protested Chairman Robertson replied that it was too late for the committee to make any changes now, and if he thought he could gain anything by commencing suit for an injunction to go ahead and try it. The board will be in session for three days in the office of the State board of equalization.

DUNFORD PASSED.

He is Now Numbered Among the Cadets at West Point.

An Associated Press dispatch from West Point, says: The following candidates, who reported last week, successfully passed the examinations and were today admitted to the Military academy as cadets;

Rupert A. Dunford, Utah; Halsey Dunwoody, at large; Charles K. Ly-man, Hawaii; Norman F. Ramsey, Kansas; George R. Rogers, California; Calvin P. Titus, at large. Forty-eight reported for examination. Thirty were uccessful, six failed, two were refected by the medical board and ten alternates passed, for whom no vacan-cles exist. The number which passed beats all records.

Titus is the young man who was the first to scale the wall at Pekin. Lyman of Hawaii is the first cadet appointed from the government's new possessions. The corps now numbers 464 cadets, within eighteen of the full number provided for.

TO OBSERVE LABOR DAY.

Greatest Demonstration of the Kind Ever Seen in Utah.

The representatives of the various trades held a meeting in Federation hall last evening, in which there was a strong and unanimous feeling for a big demonstration on Labor day.

There will be handsome floats to represent each organization and industry in the State. The railroad men have entered heartily into the idea and will give the movement their support. The executive committee, composed of a member from each organization in the city, will meet this evening in Federa-tion hall for the purpose of making further preparations for what they say will be the greatest labor demonstration ever seen in Utah.

OLD INDIAN FIGHTERS MEET Veterans Will Hold Reunion at Lagoon This Summer.

The Indian war veterans met in the sheriff's office last evening to consider the usual summer outing. Capt. A. M. Paul called the meeting to order, and after a brief discussion it was decided to hold the reunion at Lagoon. The arrangements and the date will be made by a committee composed of O. P. Arnold, Alma Pratt, H. C. Bates, George W. Carr and A. M. Paul. The committee will report at a meeting to be held in the city and county building next Saturday evening at $:30.

1844, we found, to our surprise, that the universal opinion seems to exist that it was a cowardly and unrighteous act, and they absolutely refuse to share the blame. them in regard to the tragedy of June

We again took the train Saturday evening, after a pleasant day's visit in Carthage and finally arrived at Montrose, Iowa just across the river from Nauvoo. Here it was where five days previous to the assassination of Joseph and Hyrum, John Taylor and Willard Richards had crossed over from Nauvoo to consider the advisability of seeking a place of refuge for the Saints in the western wilderness. And here it was where he uttered the remarkable prophecy concerning the Saints being driven to the Rocky Mountains and finally becoming a mighty people.

It was quite late when we arrived at Montrose. The ferry boats had stopped for the night and as a consequence had to cross the enormous river, a dis-tance of one mile and a half, in a small flat boat. The evening was most beau-tiful and what seemed to add more pleasure to the voyage was the cool breeze which swept down the river, while the glorious old moon shed forth her light down upon the water as though she were too anxious to dispell the darkness of night and mark out a clear path to sail in. On the other side, on a large bend of the river, was peacefully situated in a table land elevation, gradually ascending step by step from the river bank up the hill, the ancient city of the Saints-a most beautiful lo-cation for any city. Finally after thirty minutes tugging at the ears, we landed on the rocky shores of Nauvoo,

As the water was so nice and warm we could not resist the temptation and as a result we were soon paddling and swimming around in the river, On our way to the housi, a distance of one mile and a half from the river we met a number of people who seem ed eager to vonverse with us about the "Mormons," Of course we did not let on at first that we were "Mormons," they told us all they knew, and I think many things that they did not know. The proprietor, Mr. Wm. C. Reinbold, of the only hotel in Nauvoo, seems to be very friendly towards the Elders and indeed a very generous and good hearted man. On Sunday morning he drove us over the city in a double surry He is very well acquainted with the city and as a consequence it made our trip more pleasant and profitable. Among the many points of interest we visited were the residences of Joseph Smith, Brigham Young, John Taylor, Wilford Woodruff, Lorenzo Snow, Geo, Q. Cannon, Orson Pratt. Parley W Pratt, Daniel H. Wells, Sidney Rigdeon

Pratt, Daniel H. Wells, Sidney Rigdeon, Wm. Marks, Heber C. Kimball, Oliver Cowdery, Joseph Young. The oldest house in the city, which still stands today was built in 1837, by one Thos. C. White. The resi-dence of Joseph Smith was a very common structure, and was oc-cupied by him until the completion of the Monsion House, when Hyrum movthe Monsion House, when Hyrum mov ed into Joseph's residence and Joseph into the Monsion, and thus they remain-ed until the martyrdom. We also visited the old match factory, which is almost ready to tumble down: the Nauvor house; the old 70's hall, and a number of old store buildings and many other points of interest too numerous to men-tin here. A few little old shacks mark the place where the temple once stood, while the stone from the same have been put into a number of other buildings. Among the many, I make mention of the Nau-voo jall: the Methodist church of Nauvoo, as also one of the largest dwelling places in the city, are all built entirely of stone from the temple.

One characteristic of the old "Mor-mon" dwellings, I noticed with marked Interest, was that they were very large and durable. A number of them have three and four stories, capable of ac-comodating a multitude of people. Jos-eph Young's house has 18 or 19 rooms; a bit we not be has to or is tories and
