REVIEW OF THE UTAH COM-MISSIONERS' REPORT. - No. 3.

IN assuming to instruct the Secretary of the Interior as to the meaning and intent of the Edmunds Act, as though to construe and expound that singular are thus legging for this grip on the piece of special legislation, the Utah Commissioners say:

"The law was not directed at Indi vidual lascivious practices, but against the assault made by the Mormon (hurch upon the most cherished insti- | for place and pelf! tution of our civilization-the monogamic system.

That is as much as to say, it is not an aggressive but a defensive measure. It is a virtual acknowledgment that the monogamous civilization of fifty miltions of people in this land, to say nothing of the many more millions in other lands, is afraid of the plurality doctrine of the "Mormon" Church, and cannot successfully sustain itself except by resorting to force. A most numiliating confession. But is it true? Is the Edmunds law an attack or a defense? Mostassuredly it is the former-For it cannot be shown that the "Mormon" Church has made any assault upon "the monogamic system." The assents have all proceeded from the latter.
