CREAT STRIKE IS NEARING ITS END.

Coal Dealers Expect the Climax to Come Within a Week.

MANY RUMORS IN THE AIR.

One is for a Gigantle Strike in April Next, for a Further Increase of Wages.

New York, Oct. 16 .- Local coal dealers say that the great strike is fast nearing an end and that the miners will go back to work within a week. The heads of the big coal carrying roads say little to confirm such an opinion but one of them, after being pressed for his own views, intimated that there would be a settlement in the near future. Others laid the responsibility on President Mitchell, saying that he has not yet informed the officials of the results of the Scranton convention.

Many rumors have been in the air. One story was that a gigantic coal strike was planned for next April, in which both anthracite and bituminous coal miners would combine for still higher wages. The hinge upon which the story turned was the resolution that the wage schedule as demanded by the miners was only to obtain until text April, at which time the agree-ment between the several coal mine ment between the several coal mine operators and their employes will terminate. It is said that should the miners in both hard and soft coal mines unite in declaring a strike, the paralysis that would follow would put the miners in a place to dictate terms on their ratios. short notice.

President Maxwell of the Central Ralroad of New Jersey took a rather optimistic view of the situation. He

The action of the Scranton convention indicates progress toward a settle-ment, but I am not in a position to say when it will come. The miners appear to look on conditions with more con-servative views than was at first exted. I have had no formal notice the convention's propositions and ly know of them through the news-

Wholesale prices for coal have stiffened. This is due, it is said, to the fact that wholesale dealers feel that the strike will soon end and wish to get a still bigger margin while it is yet possible. Retail prices range from $5.00 to $5.75 for White Ash and $7.00 to $7.25 for Red Ash delivered to families. The price before the strike was $5. Shares of the anthracite carrying

The promoters of this philanthropic movement have met with much discouragement for as soon as they located the home a clamor immediately arose in the neighborhood that made it imperative for the cwner of the pron-erry to terminate the lease. In this manner the home has been driven about the city, but a body of ladies in this city, headed by Mrs. Weeler and Mrs. lummer, propose to purchase a home and will endeavor to raise most of the tunds by popular subscription and their faith in the charity of the citizens and the nobility of their enterprise is such pose quickly,
