A Dislocation. - Oh Sunday last, as stated in Monday's issue, Mr. P. O. Thomassen met with an accident, by which his left shoulder was injured. A absence of intellectual and moral orman named Holland, who claims to be a doctor, was called in, examined the niured part and after a little manipuonounced it all right. It was not all right, however, and the injured man was advised by his friends to consult a proper surgeon. Yesterday he accordingly called upon Dr. W. F. who at once discerned that there was a dislocation of the To-day, at the residence of Mr. momassen, he was put under the inhuence of chloroform and the shoulder placed in position by Dr. Anderson, assisted by Drs. "School for Scandal." - Mile. Rhea and company have arrived and will appear at the Theatre this evening, in Sheridan's brilliant comedy: "School for Scandal," In which the great Belgian actress personates 'Lady Teazle." She is finely supported by Mr. Arthur Elliot and a full corps of talented artists. Noone should miss seeing them.- George Goodale, in the Detroit Free Press, says:

the Detroit Free Press, says: Since Mile. Rhea's debut in this country she has recorded many suc-cesses as an actress, but none that have been more marked than that scored by the lady in her personation of Lady Teazle in "The School for Scandal." Her thorowsh knowledge of stage business, her expulsive judg-ment and grace in action and her fine taste in the matter of dress, together with her excellences socially, especial-ly fit har for the character of Lady Teazle, and everywhere she has re-celved the highest praise for her con-ception of the character. on of the character.
