

TRAGIC END OF A BURGLAR

Killed a Policeman Who Caught
Him Robbing a Store and Tried To Arrest Him

CROWD WAS SOON IN PURSUIT

Ran Into Swamp Where Mud and Slime Exhausted Him and Made Escape Impossible

Fired on Pursuers, Realized Capture
Was Impossible, Turned Revolver
On Himself and Died

Lyndhurst, N. J., Sept. 2.—George Cassidy, a policeman, was shot down and killed early today, while endeavoring to arrest two burglars who had been caught in the act of robbing.

Cassidy had arrested the men and started with his prisoners for the station house, when one of them drew a revolver from his pocket and pressing it against Cassidy's coat, pulled the trigger. Cassidy fell dead and the two

The burglar separated one of his men making for the Passaic river. When the crowd pressed too close, the burglar turned and fired a fusillade of shots, but no one was hit. The burglar then ran into the swamp, trying to find a place where he could swim to the river. The mud and slime dragged him down, and he became exhausted in his efforts to escape. Realizing that he would be captured, he used the last cartridge in his revolver to shoot himself. He was dead when his pursuers reached him.

JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 3.—Over 2,000 English delegates from 1522 across throughout the United States and representing a half of the globe, are making the city and fairgrounds of Jamestown today. They swooped down upon Norfolk today with their cheerful "Yea, yea," and from the city and exposition waiting appeared to receive them. Local and State large numbers of people are making efforts in the way of entertainment, with every prospect of making good their slogan, "There's nothing too good for the English."

The program for today was devoted entirely to the reception of the incoming Eagles. Speeches were made by a parade and ferriss wheel and escorts to the Eagles' home, where badges and credentials were distributed. The grand aerial held a preliminary business session in the armory. A public meeting will be held tomorrow when Gov. Gardner, Mayor Stale, municipal and exposition officials will be present to welcome. The grand parade will be held Thursday, which has been denominated Eagles' day at the Jamestown fair.

NEW DENATURED ALCOHOL LAW BECOMES EFFECTIVE

Washington, Sept. 2.—New laws regulating the manufacture of denatured alcohol, and authorizing the establishment of Federal bonded warehouses other than those at distilleries, went into effect today. It is hoped by government officials that the industry might be done justice by the new regulations. Up to this time the results under the denatured alcohol law have been disappointing.

The industry is now being operative Jan. 1 of this year, and during the first month 573,346 gallons of denatured alcohol were manufactured. During the industry month last November, only 284,828 gallons, and since then the

On the face of the statistics, the constantly lowering production is not encouraging to the believers in denatured alcohol, although they have not yet given up hope. It is the belief of the internal revenue officials that the use of alcohol will gradually become more general, and that the amended law will result in the establishment of small manufacturing plants all over the country.

Berlin, Sept. 2.—All Germany joined today in the great celebration of the thirty-seventh anniversary of the battle of Sedan, when Napoleon III and the French army surrendered to the Prussians. A grand review of the troops by the Kaiser took place in the morning, suggesting the annual maneuvers of the German army. Military representatives of all nations will witness the drill and practice, the delegation from the United States including Gen. W. H. Eadsley, Maj. C. W. Wilcox, Capt. B. E. L. Michle and Capt. George H. Shelton. The American officers represent the several arms of the service.

The recalled Kaiser maneuver will be the most important of the series, and will be notable for the use of the latest tactics in the war methods. The loyed in executing surprise attacks on infantry. They will carry machine guns with a view to ascertaining whether they can be satisfactorily substituted for cavalry. Radiograph telephones will also be largely experimented with, and armor-clad towers will be used. The use of the floating platform will be conspicuous during the maneuvers.

DOUBTS WELLMAN'S PLANS.

M. Francois, the French Accountant, Refuses to Accompany Expedition.

Tromsø, Sept. 2.—M. Francois, the French accountant, who accompanied Walter Wellman of the Wellman-Chicago Record-Herald Arctic expedition, in the construction of radio stations, in the neighborhood of Rensselaer, in the Bering harbor, and who was invited to take part in the expedition, but refused, has just expressed the anxiety of Mr. Wellman's plans.
