

BRYAN AFFLICTED WITH REAL BOILS

Plebian Tormentors Appear On His Neck at Opening of His Tour.

IS MET BY LABOR LEADERS

The Nebraskan Is Greeted Upon His Arrival in Chicago by Politicians
And Trade Unionists.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—On the eve of a speaking tour of three weeks beginning here today, William J. Bryan became the victim of boils. These plebian afflictions developed over night on the trip here from Lincoln, Neb., and when the candidate, bravely smiling, stepped from a Rock Island train at 8:40 o'clock this morning a handkerchief protected the back of his neck from contact with his collar.

Mr. Bryan was met at the station by Col. John I. Martin, sergeant at arms of the national committee, National Committeeman Miller of Oregon and a number of local labor leaders accompanied by a brass band. He was roundly cheered as he made his way to a carriage which took him to the Auditorium Annex. At the hotel Mr. Bryan had a brief opportunity to confer with the chiefs of the party before the Labor day parade began.

BEGINS TOUR TODAY.
The speaking tour began today with carry Mr. Bryan through the states of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, Rhode Island and New York.

Mr. Bryan was today the center of a Labor day celebration that outranked similar celebrations in Chicago for years. The first public appearance of the Democratic presidential candidate was on a reviewing stand on a balcony before the national Democratic headquarters at the Auditorium Annex, where the Labor day parade with approximately 20,000 union men and women in line, passed in review before him.

GREAT LABOR SPECTACLE.

The Labor day parade, under the direction of John Fitzpatrick, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, was the greatest event of the sort, numerically at least, since 1892. For the first time since that year the printers were in the line of march. Partly on account of their strength of numbers and partly in honor of the great of labor, who is a member of the printers' organization, they were given the place at the head of the column. Following them were the policemen and hobnobbers and other printing craftsmen. The Woman's Trade Union League followed in tally-ho coaches and all unions which have large numbers of members. The parade made up the rest of the division. Four divisions followed.

RUSSIAN DELEGATES LEAVE.

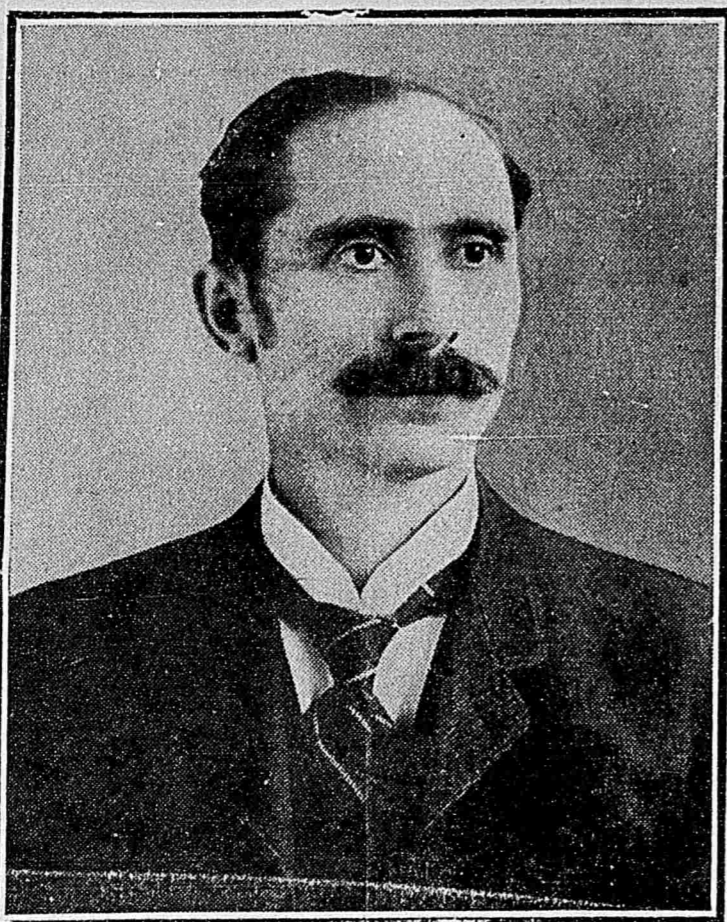

St. Petersburg, Sept. 7.—Twelve Russian medical delegates to the international congress on tuberculosis, which is to convene at Washington, Sept. 21, left today for the United States by way of Helsinki. The delegation is headed by Doctors Vladimir G. Vassiliev, of the Russian medical bureau, and Unterberger, chief surgeon of the guard corps, and includes two female doctors.

LOVERS OF TROTTING

WATCH BATTLE ROYAL

New York, Sept. 7.—New York followers of trotting went to Hartford by special train today to witness the twenty-third renewal of the $10,000 Charlie Oaks stakes at the grand circuit meeting, which is to open this afternoon.

With the unbeaten Hamburg Belle, 2:05 1/4, and Jack Leyburn, 2:04 1/4, the conqueror of Sweet Marie, 2:02, among the entries, the race promises to be a battle royal. Spanish Queen, 2:07 1/4, the mare that forced Hamburg Belle to trot in 2:05 1/4 at Poughkeepsie, is in the

JOSEPH LITTLE BRISTOW, SENATOR-ELECT.

Hon. Joseph Little Bristow, of Kansas, is the former purifier of the national Postoffice department, who has just defeated President Roosevelt's intimate friend, Senator Long for re-election to the upper house of Congress. Mr. Bristow was born in Wolfe Co., Ky., July 22, 1861, and married Miss Margaret A. Hendrix on November 11, 1879. He became a newspaper owner and publisher in 1886, and since then has always been deeply interested in this business. His fight against Senator Long was conducted by a number of newspapers, which were influenced strongly by Mr. Bristow. His home is in Salina, Kan.

big field, as are Sterling McKinney, the Huntsman, Abby Brooks, Margaret O. May Earl, Locust Jack, Astellian, Vandalia and a lot of other fast ones. Horsemen expect to see the winner trot the fastest mile on record for the race. Georgiana, a New York trotter, bred by the late Frank Ferguson, now holds the record, 2:07 1/2. She won the race in 1900.

NOW ATTENDS THE KING.

London, Sept. 7.—John Hubert Ward, brother of the Earl of Dudley, who in June married Miss Jean Reid, daughter of the American ambassador to the court of St. James, today resumed his duties as equerry-in-waiting to King Edward.

HORSE SHOW AT NEWPORT.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 7.—The thirtieth annual exhibition of the Newport Horse Show association opened today at the Newport casino, where the summer residents in large numbers assembled in their boxes to witness some of the most valuable horse flesh in America, compete for prizes.

The horse show is the closing event of the Newport season. The greatest competition will be in the four-in-hand class between Alfred G. Vanderbilt, William H. Moore and C. W. Watson.

BARON SACKVILLE.

Seven Oaks, England, Sept. 7.—The funeral of Baron Sackville, at one time minister to the United States, who died last Thursday, was solemnized today with a little ceremony. Besides the neighbors and tenants of the late baron, the principal attendants were a group of retired diplomats who had been his colleagues in the foreign service, and who came here on a special train from London.

LEAVES FOR WASHINGTON.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 7.—Commander Nebolsine, the Russian naval attaché at Washington, left here today for his post.

SHOOTING AT SEA GIRT.

Sea Girt, N. J., Sept. 7.—The Hale match with eight prizes, the company team match for teams of four men, the Thurston match and the revolver team match for teams of five, constituted today's program in the eighteenth annual tournament of the New Jersey Rifle association.

REGATTA ON THE POTOMAC.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The seventeenth regatta of the Middle States Regatta association was held here today on the Potomac river. It is one of the largest rowing events in eastern waters for many years, there being 74 oarsmen in competition in the 17 races. Bernard Vongaza of the Rudergesell-

COSMOPOLITAN OFFICIALS APPEAL TO WASHINGTON

Pittsburg, Sept. 7.—The directors of the Cosmopolitan National bank, which was closed by order of the comptroller of the currency Saturday will meet tomorrow and formulate a demand upon the government officials at Washington that the bank be re-opened and allowed to continue business. They will insist that the institution is solvent and that the act of the comptroller was not warranted. National Bank Examiner John E. Cunningham, whose examination of the bank books resulted in the comptroller's order that it be closed, denies that he was intoxicated when he made the examination or went to the bank Saturday morning and posted the notice that closed the institution, as alleged. Cunningham was accompanied to the bank Saturday morning by Judge F. F. Oldham, legal adviser to the comptroller of the currency, who came to Pittsburg to assist Cunningham in the examination of the Cosmopolitan.

Receiver Robert Lyon and three government accountants began work on the bank accounts today. The receiver says it will be several days before he will be able to make a report to the comptroller.

TRADE UNION CONGRESS OPENS IN NOTTINGHAM

Nottingham, Sept. 7.—The forty-third trade union congress was opened here today under the presidency of James Shackleton, member of parliament. The attendance at this year's congress constituted a record, the delegates numbering 518 and representing 1,776,000 members in affiliated societies. This is an increase of 75,000 over last year's congress. At Bath, notwithstanding the withdrawal from membership of the Amalgamated Society of Engineers and the Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, which, together numbered 106,000 in last year's representation, the congress will remain in session for a week.

SHALLENBERGER LEADS.

Returns From Primaries Show Him Ahead of Dahlman.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 7.—Practically complete returns from the state-wide primaries are now in and show that A. C. Shallenberger of Ames leads Mayor James C. Dahlman of Omaha by about 2,000 votes, with Berge, the Populist candidate, third in the race for the Democratic nomination.

Shallenberger tabulated returns from 78 counties, with almost complete returns from other counties shows the following vote: Shallenberger, 12,304; Dahlman, 10,291; Berge, 9,758.

Mayor Dahlman has given up the contest which he proposed making against Populist votes cast for Shallenberger, and says he will support the nominee.

THRILLING EXPERIENCE OF A FEMALE SURGEON

New York, Sept. 6.—Dr. Mary Crawford, New York's only female surgeon, for the second time in three weeks, had a desperate struggle yesterday with a mad man she was taking to the hospital. The maniac tried to choke her and probably would have succeeded had not a policeman and the driver of the ambulance assisted her. Her coat was torn and her face scratched, but she took the patient to the hospital.

"This ambulance work I find is becoming more strenuous every day," said Dr. Crawford in discussing her experiences. "But I am going to stick to it if I die. It was the worst case of insanity I have dealt with since I became an ambulance surgeon, and when he attacked me I thought for a moment that it was all over with me. He certainly had a death grip on my throat and if I had not pressed his optic nerves and stopped the blood circulating to his brain, I guess I would have been a fit subject for the undertaker."

DAVID D. STUBBS DEAD.

San Francisco, Sept. 7.—David D. Stubbs, general manager of the Occidental and Oriental Steamship company since its organization, brother of J. C. Stubbs, traffic manager of the Harriman lines, and Dr. J. E. Stubbs, president of Nevada State university, is dead at his home here after a short illness due to an attack of pneumonia. Mr. Stubbs came to California in 1869 from his birthplace in Ashland, O., and since 1877 has been prominently associated with traffic affairs in this state.
