

VAUDEVILLE ON COURT DOCKET

Neighborhood Rows, Battery Cases, and Miscellaneous Assortment of Turns.

CONSUMPTIVE'S VOCABULARY

Sick Tramp With An Abusive Tongue Gets 10 Days—Billiard Cue As a Slap Stick.

Neighborhood rows, battery cases, vagrancy cases and violators of the sidewalk ordinance kept Judge Diehl, Asst. City Atty. Rogers and court attaches decidedly busy this morning when the regular morning city docket was begun at 9 o'clock.

"For the love of God don't lock me up," wailed C. E. Jones when tried on the charge of vagrancy and using abusive language. Jones and a man named Joe Smith were arrested early yesterday morning by Officer Phillips on the charge of vagrancy. The men were near the north yards begging from residents there. When refused, Jones, who is a consumptive, abused those who refused to give him money. When arrested he called Officer Phillips vile names and kept up a torrent of abusive language until he was locked in jail. Smith was given a "float" but Jones was sentenced to 40 days in jail.

He pleaded for liberty but did not deny that he had used vile and abusive language. When sentence was pronounced upon him he said he would have to be carried out of jail in a box as he would not live to serve the sentence.

William Hart, another beggar, but a healthy one, admitted his guilt on the charge of vagrancy and was given 30 days. George McClellan, Frank Wilson and William O'Neil were given until 5 o'clock this evening to make themselves scarce.

WALKING WAS GOOD.

E. Hull, A. J. Jones and William Cook all admitted they rode bicycles on the sidewalks and they all had the same excuse. They claimed the roads were impassable and thought they should not be fined for riding on the sidewalk. Judge Diehl informed them that the condition of the roads did not give them a license to violate the law and he also informed them that walking was pretty good. Each was assessed the sum of $5.

LOOKS LIKE PERJURY.

A. H. Edmonston, a painter, arrested several days ago on the charge of battery upon a commercial street woman named Alice Davis, was convicted and fined $15. During the trial of the case a messenger boy named Jack Sharkey, and said by the police to be a frequenter of houses of ill fame, testified against Edmonston. It was alleged that the defendant struck the woman with a blunt instrument, inflicting a severe cut in her lip. Sharkey testified to certain features that he could not possibly have seen, and when Judge Diehl entered his decision this morning, he took occasion to say that Sharkey should be arrested for perjury or driven out of town. Edmonston declared that the woman stole some money from him and that in trying to recover it he gave her a shove and she fell against a chair.

MRS. BOONE'S GOOD AIM.

A neighborhood row in which Mrs. E. M. Boone and one Joseph Devey were the principals, was aired in court today. Devey alleged that Mrs. Boone threw a big club, the butt end of a billiard cue, at him and struck him on the head. The neighbors had had some slight altercation, and it was testified to that Devey called the woman vile names before the club was thrown. Mrs. Boone was found guilty, but no penalty was imposed. The club was introduced in evidence, and Devey tried to get possession of it. His efforts were forestalled by Mr. Rogers, who turned the club over to Mrs. Boone.

"I think I should have possession of it," declared Devey. "It was presented to me by the lady and I think I should have it." "Well, you can't have it," said Mr. Rogers, as he handed the stick to Mrs. Boone. The latter said: "Thank you, sir," and smilingly and triumphantly walked from the court room.

SUNDBERG ARRAIGNED.

Charged With Beating D. H. Gustavson With An Iron Pipe.

In Judge Diehl's court this morning Roy Sundberg was arraigned on the charge of assault with intent to commit murder upon D. H. Gustavson, on July 27, by striking the complainant over the head with an iron pipe. The two men had had a row and it is claimed that Gustavson had made slighting remarks about a female relative of the defendant. The men came to blows and it is alleged that Sundberg struck Gustavson on the head with an iron pipe, almost killing him. The accused pleaded not guilty and upon the recommendation of Assistant County Atty. Farnsworth, the bail was fixed in the nominal sum of $300. The case was set for preliminary hearing Aug. 28.

A. Barrett, the man who tried to pass a bogus check for $85 upon Mrs. Alice Walker who conducts the Colorado roominghouse, and who then borrowed $5 from the woman on the strength of the no account check, pleaded guilty to the charge of obtaining money by false pretenses and was sentenced to three months in the county jail.

BOND RAISED FOR BOOTH.

Justice of the Peace F. M. Bishop yesterday raised the bond of Alonzo Booth from $500 to $1,000, pending a hearing upon a charge of mayhem at leged to have been committed upon the person of his son Eddie, aged 13 years. Booth is very indignant because his children have been removed from the hotel called a home, to be cared for elsewhere. The girls are at the State street orphanage, and the boy at the Utah Detention home.

ZEGICH FACES TRIAL.

After evading arrest for four years, Marko Zegich is now in custody and will be charged with murder. A complaint was issued by the county attorney yesterday afternoon, accusing Zegich with killing William Farro at Murray, Aug. 12, 1904. On that day Farro was slain in a rooming house at a bakery run by himself and Zegich, after a quarrel between the two partners. Zegich was arrested at Garfield two weeks ago and has been identified by Andrew Papos, who swore to the complaint.

AUTO RIDE FOR ORPHANS

Salt Lake Automobile Club Gives Two Hundred Children An Enjoyable Trip.

Salt Lake's string of booster automobiles which for two weeks has been going hither and yon tooting it up for good roads, last night formed in line of parade at Twelfth South, took aboard 200 gaily bedecked, laughing children, and for over an hour gave them the time of their young lives looking at Salt Lake's sights. Three times around Liberty park swung the line of machines, once up South Temple to its head, and twice was the business district taken in.

The occasion was the annual outing for children given by the Salt Lake Automobile club. The tiny tykes started the evening with a cheer when the autos first came into view along the roadways, fronting the orphanages. They kept it up with a cheer whenever pedestrians raised their voices as they passed. And finally, back at the orphanages, after a feast on McDonald candy, and a trip that embraced everything of interest, they closed it with another hearty cheer for the club and the time they had had.

The procession formed at 7 o'clock in front of the Bell Telephone building, with C. R. Pearson, treasurer of the club, at its head. J. E. Jennings followed with a car containing press representatives, and then followed cars strung out for nearly a mile in length. At St. Ann's orphanage, President Hewlett took charge of getting the children into the machines, while at the State street institution, Asst. Secy. Macarson was in charge. The route, with the children aboard, was up Main street to South Temple, east to Tenth East, west to Main street, south to Second South, and east to Seventh East; west again to Main, and then to Liberty park, via Sixth South and Sixth East streets. The park was circled three times before the machines headed for the orphanages to take the happy children home again. Another automobile ride will be furnished them in 1909.

CARRIED QUEER COIN.

Detectives Have Exciting Chase After Two Supposed Counterfeiters.

Officer McCormack and Detective Burt had an exciting chase this morning after two supposed counterfeiters. They received word that two men had boarded a Murray car and had tried to pass a counterfeit 50 cent piece on the conductor. The officers immediately started in pursuit and when they overtook the street car learned that the two suspects had left the car and had gone down State street. The officers hastened down the street and found the two men on a wagon going in the direction of Murray. The men were taken into custody and upon being searched the officers found a bogus 50 cent piece and a counterfeit nickel. The men explained that they found the money and asked the conductor if it were any good. They said they had just arrived from Los Angeles and had just completed a walk of 100 miles and were looking for work.

Their statement was corroborated by the conductor and the two men were released. The police did not learn their names.

CAR ROUTE CHANGED.

Commencing Friday, July 31, and during track construction at North Temple, cars will run to North Salt Lake via west First South to Third West. Return from North Salt Lake via present route on North Temple.

FILCH SINKING FUND

Council In Fixing Tax Rate Juggles Levies to Help Streets and Contingent Budgets.

Yesterday's action of the city council in fixing the tax rate of the municipality for this year is a clear case of "robbing Peter to pay Paul." The rate of the contingent fund is raised 1 mill above what it was last year and streets and sidewalks fund increased one-third of a mill, and to make this possible the sum of $30,000, or two-thirds of a mill, was taken from the water funds, and the interest and bond sinking fund was decreased from 3-12 mills to 2-12 mills. Last year the levy for the payment of interest and to provide for the redemption of bonds fell short $18,000, and this year the amount of shortage will be at least double what it was last year.

From the reading of the clause relative to the bonds, it would appear that no provision is made for the payment of interest. Barring the heading, the clause reads as follows: For the payment of bonds series 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9, water bonds series "A" and "D," and sewer bonds, 5-7-12 mills on each dollar of assessed valuation of said property.

The trio is visiting the mining camps, being in Bingham today. Park City, Garfield and other camps will be visited, these visits to be followed by trips over nearly every inch of Rio Grande track in this state.

BOOTH GOES INSANE.

Man Charged With Mayhem on His Son Occupies Padded Cell.

Alonzo Booth, the man charged with mayhem upon his 13-year-old son by committing a brutal operation upon the boy about three weeks ago, is now locked in a padded cell at the county jail and is said to be almost hopelessly insane. Early this morning Jailer Joe Burbridge discovered that the man was acting in a peculiar manner. He was watched and soon showed signs of insanity. He began to yell and cry and declared that his children were starving to death and that some man was robbing him of his farm. Booth cried incessantly and could not be quieted. As a matter of safety he was finally locked in the padded cell, where he can do himself no harm. It is understood that he will be arraigned in the district court on Monday morning next and that a plea of insanity will be entered in his behalf.

TRAMPS INVADE CAFE.

The Orpheum press agent was the instigator last night of a novel stunt wherein "the seven hoboes," the headliner, strolled through the streets in their stage costumes and adjourned to a Main street Bohemian cafe, much to the scandalization of the guests, waiters and proprietor. About the time the menu was being discussed somebody had called up police headquarters and the appearance of two officers who entered in a hurry upon being apprised that some tramps were making free in the cafe added to the hilarity of the occasion. Sergeant Johnson drifted in a few minutes later when explanations were in order. Eventually all concerned indulged in musical stunts and dialogue in a fashion that brought the late supper parties converging to the center of disturbance.

GEMS ARE ON WAY BACK

Capt. Burbridge Receives Word That Diamonds Stolen From Cullen Will Arrive Here Tonight.

Former Captain of Police J. B. Burbridge, received a wire last night that the gems stolen from Mrs. Frank J. Quareau at the Cullen hotel several days ago by a bellboy named Bert Pennell, had been recovered at Toledo, Ohio, and were mailed back in a registered package Tuesday evening. The gems are due to arrive here this evening and will be sent immediately to Mr. and Mrs. Quareau at San Francisco.

The articles stolen consist of a diamond ring valued at $200, a pearl and diamond pin and a ruby pin valued at $250. The property was stolen by young Pennell and was shipped to a man at Toledo. The case was placed in the hands of the Inter-Mountain Detective Agency, conducted by Capt. Burbridge and former Officer Jim Taylor. They worked on the case for some time before suspecting young Pennell. Capt. Burbridge arrested the latter Tuesday afternoon and landed him in the city jail on the charge of vagrancy for safe keeping. The detectives kept to work on the case until finally young Pennell broke down and confessed that he stole the jewelry and had shipped it to a fence at Toledo. The detectives wired to Toledo and succeeded, through the authorities there in locating the stolen valuables. The man who had them was willing to give them up and they were mailed back to the detective agency Tuesday and will arrive this evening. The name of the man who received the property is being withheld from publication for reasons the detectives do not care to state.

Young Pennell is still in the city jail but clamored loudly this morning for release. It has not been decided as yet whether or not he will be charged with grand larceny or be allowed to go on a lesser charge.

Yesterday Ben Heywood, proprietor of the Cullen, saw the young man at the city jail and gave him some fatherly advice. If Pennell is prosecuted the complaint will in all probability be filed by Mr. Heywood.
