Competition for Prizes Will be Keen in All Departments-Many Cash Prmlums Offered.

That the coming state fair will be the biggest thing of its kind in the history of such events in this region is the unqualified opinion of President J. G. McDonald. The exhibition will throw open its gates on Oct. 5, and will run a week, and will run perhaps longer, if in the judgment of the directors conditions warrant a continuance

Lester D. Freed, supervisor of de-partment A A, fast horses, is busy topartment A A, fast horses, is busy to-day checking up the horse race entries. This afternoon there was every indica-tion that this year's races would be the best ever, as entries had been received from three states aside from Utah. The only thing feared by President McDonald is that the weather may not be providing. Along all times thus be propitious. Along all lines, this early, interest is more manifest than over before. Keen competition will be witnessed by exhibitors from all parts of th state in agriculture, fruit cul-ture, stock raising, manufacturing, etc. In discussing the coming fair, Mr. McDonald said this morning:

FRUIT RAISING.

"When it is remembered that last "When it is remembered that last year Utah captured many prizes at the National Irrigation congress held in Sacramento, it can readily be sur-mised that the fruit exhibit this year will be out of the ordinary. Further-more reports from all over the state indicate that the fruit crop this year is more than bountiful, it is immense. The successful friut bearing sections of this state extend from St. George to the south to Boxelder and Cache counties on the north with new fruit regions being heard from all the time. Green river distirct is going to make a Green river distirct is going to make a bid this year for some of the premiums offered. Weber county fair this year is bringing out the fruit growers and they are coming along with second re-lays from Salt Lake in a fashion that will gladden the hearts of the man-agement and make the Salt Lake and Utah county fruitgrowers sit up and take notice

AGRICULTURAL DISPLAY.

"The agricultural exhibits this year will be no less interesting than those of the horticultural departments. Good of the horticultural departments. Good crops have been raised in all parts of the state, and dry farms especially, will place before the public eye some amazing sights in the way of cereals. In this connection the Agricultural col-lege of Logan will come out strong with a display showing what can be with a display showing what can be accomplished in Utah without the ail of irrigation. The showing of farm implements and vehicles of various kinds will be among the strong fea-tures of the agricultural section.

Fair association, having been admitted Sept. 30, 1863. President Winder's special premium covers the Jersy class of cattle. In fact all along, the line valuable prizes have been offered in, such numbers to induce the raisers to compete for honors.

There will also be organ recitals, and

There will also be organ recitals, and during the entire convention season, it will be a case of open house at the Elks' handsome clubhouse. Exalted Ruler Davis and leading Elks propose to have a sort of re-union right here in Sait Lake. Printed matter explaining the beauty and ré-sources of the state will be scattered with a lavish hand. There will be a parade, in all probability, and every-body will get out and boost for the city and state. Mr. Davis proposes to make this feature one that will result in almost unlimited good in the way of advertising and all citizens who are anxious for the welfare of tha city are asked to join in the move-ment. The merchants, those who have been spoken to on the subject, are enthusiastic over the scheme.
