

FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

Girl wanted to do general house-work. See advt.

Mr. and Mrs. Dye, returned home yesterday from their trip to California.

There was a large ring around the moon last night, generally considered a precursor of a storm.

Street Supervisor Livingston is having a water ditch dug and the footpath graded on the east side of the street leading north from the Eagle Gate.

The Home Dramatic Club's performances will be the only entertainment of a local organization during Conference. They are always successful, giving close attention to necessary preparation.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

NOTICE.

The General Conference of the Young People's Mutual Improvement Association will convene in the Assembly Hall, this city, at 10 a. m. on Monday, April 9th, and will continue through the day.

All the members of the various Associations, and particularly the officers, are invited to attend, and the latter should come prepared to make their reports.

JOS. F. SMITH,
W. WOODRUFF,
Superintendents.
Salt Lake City, March 21, 1883.

Coming Home.—Bishop John Sharp has started for home and expects to reach this city on Tuesday night. He has almost entirely recovered from the effects of the operation he had recently undergone.

Match.—With pleasure we record the marriage of our young friends John L. Hefzler and Martha A. Hadfield, which took place in this city yesterday. Brother Hefzler has started in the dental business, in which he is proficient, in Ogden City. The bride was formerly employed in the News office, where she was generally esteemed for her many good qualities. We wish the young couple all the happiness that falls to the lot of wedded mortals.

A Soldier's Fortune.—A "Soldier's Fortune," which was produced by Mr. Lindsay last evening for the first time at the Theatre is a stirring play, full of life, good situations and interesting dialogue. It was played very well for a first presentation. With more rehearsals the company which appeared last evening could repeat it so as to make it very attractive. There was a fair house and the piece was pronounced a very taking drama.

Sacred to the Memory.—To-day we saw on the premises of Messrs. Watson Brothers, a handsome monument in the course of construction to the order of President George Q. Cannon, to be placed at the grave of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Cannon. It is eight feet high and of proportionate width, and is of local granite, similar to that of which the Temple is built. On each of the four sides, a pane of Tennessee marble will be set in, on which to cut the family inscriptions. The color of the marble makes a pleasing contrast with that of the granite.

Coking Qualities.—The coking qualities of the Bituminous coal from the Castle Valley mines, recently described by the News, have been tested at the City Gas Works. The result is that it is deemed fully equal to the Pleasant Valley coal. The coke in turn is to be soon put to a practical test at the Germania smelter, when the value of the article will be fully determined. The gas producing qualities of the shale have not yet been tried, but probably will be within a few days. Specimens of the coke can be seen at this office.

Water.—Careful enquiry shows that the amount of the snow deposits in the mountains is but limited, the snow fall having been light, as mentioned by us previously. The additional quantities added by the late snow storms, since the advent of this year, did not largely increase the reserves upon which our irrigation water supplies are dependent; consequently the water supply is likely to be scarce, and unless we are blessed with copious seasons, the outlook for grain crops is not very promising. The benefits accruing to this city from the Salt Lake and Jordan Canal, stand a fair prospect of being fully appreciated.

A Genuine Surprise.—People are apt to be surprised at many sudden situations to be met with, but the astonishment exhibited by a small boy on the street the other day was particularly striking. He was standing in the bosom of a tree when a horse reared almost directly over him, the shaft of the vehicle passing over his head. The driver pulled up and stopped the horse. The small boy on account of his head being turned in the opposite direction, did not realize the position until he found himself close up to the wheel of the vehicle, when his face assumed an indescribable expression and the agility with which he reached the sidewalk was such as might have excited the envy of a professional foot-runner.

Resolutions and Obituaries.—We have received a copy of resolutions of respect passed by the Ephraim Choir, to the memory of Sister Mary W. Dordus, but we have not space to publish them. While the feeling that prompts such exhibitions of sympathy and respect is one of the noblest of which the human heart is susceptible, it can scarcely be expected that a public newspaper can devote its space, except in unusual instances, to such matters, which, in the great majority of cases, are of local more than general interest. Lengthy obituary notices are open to the same remark, except in notable cases. We have alluded to this subject before, and yet the elaborate statements flow in until, were we to give place to them in our columns, they would monopolize most of the space at our command.

Mr. Robinson's Next.—The lecture to be delivered at the Theatre next Tuesday evening by Mr. Phil. Robinson will differ from that of last Tuesday in most of its salient features, as only a few of the more striking of the former narrative will be retained. Among the incidents to be repeated are the manner in which the Prince Imperial met his death, and the terrific charge of the Highland brigade at Tel-el-Kebir, the relation of which held the audience in breathless attention, culminating in a sudden outburst of applause at the conclusion. We understand the gentleman purposes introducing some remarks upon the chief causes which led to the wars of which he was, in his capacity of journalist, correspondent, and a personal spectator, and also to comment upon the individual characteristics of eminent men with whom he has a personal acquaintance, and with whom the reading public are only familiar through literary channels.

As Mr. Robinson's first audience were, as a whole, intensely gratified with his lecture, doubtless they will attend the second, and we hope for the presence of enough others to completely fill the house. Turn out and hear him.

An Early Reminiscence.—Brother Joseph L. Heywood sends the following:

"While reflecting upon the history of the Church as published in the Juvenile Instructor of late, some incidents that came under my observation have recurred to my mind. Immediately after the retreat of our enemies on the 12th day of September, 1845, I met President Daniel H. Wells, who remarked, 'the victory is ours, but the Lord has done it.'

The Hon. John Wood, then Mayor of Quincy, Illinois, kept the time of the engagement (one hour and forty minutes) and seemed to be much affected by the circumstance of Elder William Anderson and his son being slain. On his return to Quincy he was met by the populace, who solicited a speech. Addressing himself to Mr. Bartlett, editor of the Quincy Whig he said: 'Bartlett, I used to be skeptical regarding future rewards and punishments, but I have come to the conclusion that this life is not long enough for such accounts as you are to receive the punishment due them.' This testimony to Captain Joseph Artus (an old bachelor) he said: 'If you will urge this thing on, I thank God that you have no children to call you father.'

Their New Premises.—Messrs. Watson Brothers, have finished their fine new business building on the corner of South and West Temple Streets, opposite the Valley House. It is a substantial brick structure, two stories high, and has a frontage of 38 feet 6 inches facing north and 45 feet facing west. They carry a splendid stock of mantels—plate, iron and marble—of the newest and handsomest styles. They also display a wide variety of grates, and have an extensive stock of plaster centre-pieces, brackets and other ornamental work. The yard adjoining the building is not yet fully arranged, but will be at an early day. In the front will be placed the monumental work, while the stone-cutting department will be arranged along the east side of the lot. All kinds of building materials will be kept—marble, sandstone, brick, etc.

Change of Labor.—President John Henry Smith, in the Millennial Star of March 5th, announces the release of Bishop O. F. Whitney, from the position of assistant editor, a post he had ably occupied since March, 1882. The object of the change is to enable him to resume his labors in the ministry, with a view also to relieve him from the necessarily close confinement of office duties, that his health may recuperate. President Smith speaks in terms of high commendation of his labors in the past, and states that Brother Whitney will, for the present take charge of the London Conference, and subsequently be at liberty to travel throughout the British Islands, as a servant of God, going wherever the Spirit may direct.

A Pleasant Party.—We are informed of a pleasant affair that occurred at the First Ward School House yesterday. A party was got up in honor of the birthday anniversary of Sister M. G. Chase, the President of the Relief Society, she having completed her 70th year. Two tables were set, each of which sixty persons sat down to an excellent supper. Subsequently Bishop Warburton, Brother A. M. Musser and some of the sisters delivered addresses, and an original poem composed by Sister Wheeler was read. Music and other recreations were engaged in. Sister Chase is a woman devoted to doing good and much respected. Among the manifestations of regard were several presents.

A Tight Squeeze.—On the way home from California Mr. Robert Dye had a narrow escape from being crushed to death. A large pile of heavy baggage was piled near the edge of the platform at one of the stations, and as Mr. Dye was about to mount the train he was crushed between a moving car and the heap. The incident caused considerable shouting and alarm among those who were eye-witnesses, but the train was promptly stopped and the gentleman rescued without further damage than a badly bruised breast. He is able to be about, but by no means free from the effects of the squeeze.

Just Right.—We learn the Unity Club have determined to give the Conference visitors a treat in the shape of their admirable tableaux entertainment varied with other attractions and with many new features that cannot fail to draw and please a very large audience. Look out for the Unity Club's greatest effort.

Closing Performances.—The Matinee at the Opera House on Saturday will present great attractions for the little folks, and the play in the evening is said to be a fine one. It will close the performances of the Stock Company for the present season. [See advertisement.]

An Ogden Liquor Case.—At Ogden, yesterday morning, Robert Burns, proprietor of the bar room of the Broom hotel, was tried before Alderman Tanner, for selling liquor outside of the hours prescribed by city ordinance. His counsel, Mr. E. W. Darke, of this city, entered a demurrer to the complaint, on the ground that the city had no jurisdiction. The demurrer was overruled and the defendant fined $99 and costs. Notice was given of an appeal to the District Court.

SPECIAL BUSINESS NOTICES.

J. M. LEVLER has just completed a new grist mill in the First Ward of this city, where he intends doing first-class work of a custom and merchant mill. Having had thirty years' experience in mills both here and in the States, he feels confident of giving, as heretofore, perfect satisfaction. The machinery is from the Richmond Co. of Ind., purchased through George A. Love, and was made expressly for Mr. Levler. The millwright work was done by H. G. Clark, of Salt Lake City, and is an ornamental as well as a great benefit to the city. Mr. Levler is now prepared to buy grain at the highest cash prices. d3t

FURF BLOOD.
Many families pride themselves on their noble ancestry; but here, in this democratic country, we do not care so much about our pedigree as our health; or, at least, that ought to be the principal object of solicitude. We cannot have good health without pure, rich blood. When the blood is out of order, disease manifests itself in the skin and flesh, and in fact, in all parts of the body. To be restored to health, take Scott's Sarsaparilla or Blood and Liver Syrup. Physicians speak in the highest terms of this medicine.

Dr. Everett, Cooper Plains, Stouven, Co., N. Y., mentions two cases of Scrofula and Erysipelas in which Scott's Sarsaparilla or Blood and Liver Syrup effected a cure, and says, "I think it one of the best purifiers of the day." It has met with perfect success in every case where I have used it. d5d s & v.
