MOUNT PLEASANT.

Cliff Draper is Captured in the Mountains-Two Floods.

Special Correspondence.

Mt. Pleasant, Sanpete Co., Aug. 2 .-Cliff Draper, who is wanted for criminally assaulting a little girl on Thursday evening, was captured in the mountains east of here about half past o'clock last night. He had traveled all of Thursday night and had reached the top of the mountains, but during the day was afraid to move. Men were in the hills all day, and in the afternoon an organized posse was sent up, as it was surmised that Draper would move as soon as it was dark, and thus ex-pose himself to capture.

Drap was arraigned this morning before Justice Matson, who set the pre-liminary hearing at 3 o'clock next Thursday afternoon, and fixed the ball at $1,000. This the prisoner was unable to procure and he was taken to the county jall today by Sheriff Jensen.

Draper denies point blank the comnorthwest of the city and an hour later a great roaring was heard in Cottonwood canyon, which is in the same direction. It was easy to sur-mise that the noise was being made by rushing waters as the rolling of rocks could plainly be heard. About six o'clock the muddy black, stream came mission of the crime. He says that after he left the Staker home on the night in question the little girl followed him down the street to the lumber yard, coaxing him for 10 cents. He finally gave it to her and she went home. He fled into the mountains because he said he was afraid of the wrath of the girl's father, should he The girl is not injured, buil meet him. there is little doubt but that the at-tempt was made in the manner hereto. fore described, but not successfully.
