

SICKLY SENTIMENTALISM.

THE Denver Tribune indulges in some healthy strictures upon the modern habit of making so much foolish fuss and pretentious parade over murderers, amounting almost to glorification of them. The Tribune says—

We are told that several funeral sermons were preached over the remains of Car-Hoos Foster, by some of the most eminent divines of N. Y. City. We are not of those who believe the good old times of the past were the best, nor who denounce everything new as innovations; but we believe many of the usages and customs of former days might be retained without any disadvantage to the morals of the present age. In former days the suicide was buried at the cross roads, and the criminal, who died under sentence of the law, as Foster did, was interred in Potter's field. Now the suicide is canonized, and the murderer almost deified. We do not desire any return to the heathenish customs of cross-roads and Potter's field. We would give the unfortunate suicide, and the executed murderer a decent, and private burial; but no costly sarcophagus; no gorgeous funeral cortege; no hypocritical sermon nor fulsome eulogies from priest or paid orator. Let the grave hide the unfortunate criminals, and the memory of their deeds be buried with them.

ADDRESS

To the Saints in Zion who have Relatives and Friends scattered throughout the Welsh Mission:

BRETHREN AND SISTERS—It is now thirty-one years since the gospel, through the favor of God, was introduced into Wales. From that time to this, we have found hope in the promises of our Heavenly Father. We were promised a remission of our sins in the covenants we made when baptized, and we realize that of a truth God has called us from darkness into light, in which we have been gathered to the promised land where he, from time to time, has exhibited his power in our deliverance from oppression and destruction that our enemies would have brought upon us.

Here we have flourished, and been encouraged in seeing ourselves and families made comfortable in the possession of happy homes, where the ordinances are administered for our salvation, and the redemption of our dead. Those who do not forget their covenants, and have been gathered here, though they die, they "die in the Lord, that they may rest, and their works do follow them." Many, very many, who were the means of bringing us to possess these inestimable blessings have thus passed away, hopeful that the good work would continue while they sleep or until the last scattered, honest son and daughter of our Great Parent would be gathered, and privileged to pass through those ordinances which will qualify them to meet their Creator and receive an inheritance with those who prove worthy.

In the promises thus made and the deliverance wrought out for us, shall we shut our eyes to the condition of our suffering kindred of English and Welsh extraction scattered throughout Wales? Day after day appeals come from our friends now in Europe, to aid them to come to this land of liberty. In return they promise us their services in assisting to redeem Zion and strengthen our influence with God. Shall we prove deaf to their appeals, after the deliverance wrought out for us through the self-sacrificing spirit of those who were strangers to us, and who crossed the ocean, leaving their homes and kindred so dear to them, that they might tell us of God's proffered bounty for our redemption? Shall we slumber insensible to the cries of our kindred and friends for aid while we are enjoying so many blessings, and are in the occupancy of a land reminding us of God's mercies to us, as it yields its increase for our sustenance under the blessings of Him who answers our petitions when we approach him? If we do how can we again approach him with confidence? The spectacle at our late Conference must prove a trying remembrance to us, if we remain inactive. There and then we witnessed the feelings of men who are not familiar with the condition of our suffering brethren as we are, yet they, although strangers to the thousands already redeemed by their former efforts, are still willing to set us a noble example in heading the list with one thousand dollars each. What should we not be willing to do under these circumstances? We, who know the true condition of our countrymen, and the hopelessness of their efforts to obtain deliverance, unaided by us who have now the means to release them.

The condition of our countrymen cannot be better understood than we understand it, when we reflect upon how we ourselves and our ancestry labored for a livelihood in our mother country, and especially during the latter years of our experience in that land, when week after week we contributed, out of what little we had to purchase scant supplies for our families, to sustain the Elders in carrying on the mission. The brethren and sisters now dwelling in Wales, whether English or Welsh, are, and have been for dreary years, doing the same, hoping that a day would dawn upon them, when God would send them deliverance.

The late "strikes" and the incessant trouble between the employer and the employed may well prompt them to ask our aid. How dark must be their hopes now, if we do not respond to their calls!

In thus addressing you, our brethren and sisters, we do not do so to urge measures of relief that we, individually, are not willing to inaugurate; but simply ask your aid in unison with our humble efforts in performing this duty, which we feel, by the deliverance wrought out for us, under obligation to continue until the prayers of our suffering countrymen are realized.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY, APRIL 15.

"ODORLESS MATCHES."—Those who are averse to the strong sulphurous odor emitted from the generality of matches can avoid it by purchasing D. M. Richardson's round parlor matches, which are nearly without odor. They are for sale at Z. C. M. I.

ABATING.—Bishop W. S. Seely writes from Mount Pleasant, Sanpete Co., that the smallpox is abating there. There have been thirty cases in all, two of which terminated fatally, and all of the other patients have recovered, with the exception of two, who are still sick.

INFORMATION WANTED.—Mary Ann Hodgetts wants to know the whereabouts of Joseph and Hannah Hodgetts, formerly of Dudley, Worcestershire (England we suppose). When last heard from, about ten years ago, Joseph was in Utah county, and Hannah was in Payson, and married to a man named Ralph Smith. Address—Patrick Hanlon, Manson, Calhoun Co., Iowa.

SANPETE.—H. W. Sanderson, of Fairview, Sanpete county, writing April 11, says there has only been one fatal case of smallpox in that place, although five families have been afflicted, in all of which the patients are doing well. Neither meetings nor schools are held, but stringent measures are in force to check the spread of the disease. Farm work is going on briskly.

FATAL CASE.—We regret to learn that the wife of Mr. James Bourne, aged about 22 years, died, of small-pox, last evening. It will be remembered that the baby of the deceased lady, aged about 4 months, died a short time since, of the same disease. Another of the children is still very sick. Mrs. Bourne was the daughter of Bishop John Rowberry, of Tooele. We sympathize with Mr. Bourne in his affliction and bereavement.

THAT COMPANY.—The company to open at the Salt Lake Theatre, Monday evening, April 21st, is said to present a list of names of some of the most talented members of the profession. J. H. Larkin, Carrie Armstrong, Ed. Montague, Eugenia Ganetta, Cogill & Cooper, Mdlle. Josephine, the dancer; Richard Brown, Lewis Parker and Wm. Wood. Their performance consists of acrobatic, Ethiopian and Dutch character acts and songs, songs, dances, farces, vaudevilles, &c. An entertainment that will be likely to be successful in drawing good houses.

DEPLORABLE ACCIDENT.—A correspondent, writing from Provo, April 11th, says:

"Nathaniel Woodbury, of Massachusetts, aged 35, staying here at the Lion House, in trying the strength of Giant Powder on fish, in Provo River, on Thursday evening, held the combustible longer than was necessary. The consequence of this was that he was nearly blown into the river from the bridge on which he was standing. He lost the greater part of his right hand and received severe burns on the abdomen and thigh. So great was the explosive force that a piece of one of Mr. Woodbury's fingers was found embedded in the woodwork of the bridge. Amputation at the wrist will be necessary."

CARELESS DRIVING.—At ten o'clock this morning Mr. William Jackson, of American Fork, was sitting in his wagon, near the Valley House, talking to a gentleman who was standing on the street, when one of Maloy's omnibusses drove up, ran against the wagon and upset it, throwing Mr. Jackson out. Brother Woodruff and some young men who were in the vicinity rushed up, seized the horses and kept them from running away. Mr. Jackson's right hand and arm were severely injured, being badly "staved," and the reach of his wagon was broken. We understand Mr. Jackson purposes demanding damages.

KEEP THE CHICKENS UP.—At this time of the year, when seed is being put into the ground and gardens and orchards are being planted, it is the duty of all owning chickens which will encroach on their neighbors' lots if allowed to run around loose, to pen the fowls up. It is exceedingly annoying to have seeds pecked and scratched up and plants destroyed by the carelessness of other people, and those who are thus regardless of the rights of their neighbors as to allow their fowls to make these encroachments can not be said to be strictly honest.

The same may be said with regard to allowing cows to run loose on the streets and thus risking their breaking down fences or getting through an open gateway into gardens and orchards.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—We are informed that a four-year old child lay down on the track of the Utah Southern Railroad, in the Sixth Ward, yesterday afternoon, and went to sleep, and was in that position when the southern-bound 2-30 p.m. train went down. Fortunately a woman who resides in the locality saw the child lying upon the track, and also observing the approaching train took in the situation at a glance. She rushed up to the little one and snatched it from the line and got off barely in time to save both from being crushed to death, as the train rushed past just as she got free from the track.

Our informant could not give the name of the lady who saved the child, and stated that he understood Mr. Buttle was the father of the little one.

This circumstance should operate as a caution to people to look after the children and keep them off the track.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Yesterday, near the depot, four gentlemen got into a buggy hired from the livery stable. The team was high strung, the buggy rather too light for so many persons; and the former starting quickly, the latter careened and tipped its load to terra firma. Mr. James Allen, a well known clerk in this city, had his right arm broken and wrist dislocated; the rest escaped without material injury. Dr. P. L. Anderson was called on, and quickly put the damaged limb into a comfortable position as possible, and Mr. Allen was able to be out to-day. After the "spill," the frightened team dashed away toward home, and crossing the Utah Central side-track, one of the iron axes of the buggy snapped in two. The team was stopped by Messrs. Nicholas and Jenkins, on Fifth Street, with the buggy badly demoralized. The riders guaranteed payment of damages, and the livery men are satisfied.—Ogden Junction, April 14.

WELSH MEETING.—An adjourned meeting of Welsh citizens was held in the 14th Ward last night, for the purpose of further deliberating upon the measures necessary to adopt to extend aid and deliverance to their poor co-religionists in Wales. To the Secretary, L. W. Richards, Esq., we are indebted for the following items in relation to the business transacted there:

An address to the Welsh citizens in this Territory, appealing to them for subscriptions in aid of the movement, was adopted, and its publication was resolved upon. Committees were appointed to solicit subscriptions for the same purpose in each ward in this city. It was also resolved that all correspondence on this subject, and all remittances of money to aid the project should be forwarded to the Secretary, L. W. Richards, Esq., Salt Lake City.

The meeting then adjourned sine die.

DESCRIPTION OF WM. C. MORRIS' DESIGN FOR DIPLOMA.

The All-seeing eye, with inscription, "Holiness to the Lord;" beneath which is the American Eagle, with olive branches and arrows, shield and the "Stars and Stripes," surrounded with ornamental work supporting, pendant to which is the beehive, the emblem of industry, clasped by cupids, as the rising generation forming the true shield. In the background and behind the word "Deseret" is a perspective view of the Temple, representing architecture. On the right side of the hive is a figure, representing Justice, and on the left the Goddess of Liberty. The words "Deseret Agricultural and Manufacturing Society" in beautiful letters, following which is a pleasing centre piece enclosing the word "Diploma," and supporting vases of fruit, flowers and figures, the representatives of art and music, pendant from which is a laurel wreath with cupids and the words "awarded to" on the ribbon. Below a blank is left for the name, etc., after which come the words, "exhibited at the Annual Fair, held at Salt Lake City." The lower central group represents agriculture and manufacture, under which is the date of the charter. Surrounding the whole, in groups, are beautiful artistic representations of the past and present, including the telegraph, mining interests, improved machinery, factories, stock, fruits, cereals, vegetables, etc.

ST. HELENA, Cal.—Sam Slaughter, while driving a team, got off to open a gate which he wished to drive through, and while doing so the team took fright and ran over him, the wheel striking him in the back; he died within a few minutes. He leaves a wife and two small children.

WEAVERVILLE, Cal. 13.—A fire broke out in the Empire Hotel at this place, at half past five this p.m. In fifteen minutes seventeen frame buildings were in flames and were soon burned to the ground. The court house and other brick buildings stood the test nobly, but little damage being done to them. Loss not less than $10,000; insurance, $2,000.

NEW ORLEANS, 15.—A steamboat which arrived this a.m., brings information from Grant parish of a regular war in progress between the whites and blacks at Colfax. About one hundred negroes were killed and many wounded in a battle on Sunday.

SAN FRANCISCO, 15.—"Headquarters Camp South Tule Lake, April 14.

"Lt. Sherwood, 24th Infantry, died at 1 o'clock to-day, of wounds received on the 11th, while receiving a flag of truce from the Indians. Seventy-two Warm Spring Indians under Donald McKay, arrived at Camp east of the Modoc position last night. The army will close on the Indians' position to-morrow and endeavor to cut off all escape. No effort will be spared to make the punishment of the Indians severe. If possible, no Indian shall boast that he or his ancestors murdered Gen. Canby.

"Signed,
"ALVIN C. GILLEM."
John Samuel, who shot and killed E. A. Marchant, has been held to answer before the grand jury. His two daughters visited him in the prison to-day.

CHICO, Cal., 15.—The epizootic made its appearance here to day in the livery stables. All horses are affected, but in a very mild form.

LOS ANGELES, 15.—Borate discoveries are reported in every direction. Two borax districts have been formed in San Bernardino Co., at Camp Cady and the fish ponds.

PORTLAND, Or., 15.—Bridget Gallagher stabbed a woman named Duffy this evening. The latter is not expected to live. Bridget has been arrested.

Thomas Lynch was instantly killed at Oak Point by being caught in the machinery of a saw mill.

Quite an excitement has been raised at Walla Walla by a discovery in the mines near there. A mile and a half of claims has been staked off. Prospecting is going on vigorously. Twenty-six pounds of the metal have been brought in.

YREKA, Cal., 15.—The regular courier arrived from headquarters at 5 o'clock this p. m., having left there at 10 a. m. yesterday. Up to that time there had been no fighting, except a slight skirmish on Col. Mason's picket line on the 12th, resulting in one dead Indian and the capture of ten ponies. The Warm Spring scouts arrived on the 13th and would be armed yesterday, and beyond a doubt the troops moved into the Lava bed last night or to-day. Yesterday morning, while the signal officers were engaged between Gen. Gillem's headquarters and Col. Mason's camp, a Modoc got upon a ridge near Jack's Cave with a white rag on a pole and imitated the movements of the signal officers waving it to and fro. Lieut. W. L. Sherwood died at one o'clock yesterday morning, from wounds received while officer of the day receiving a flag of truce. Mr. Meacham's condition is hopeful. Mr. Dyer, the commissioner who was unhurt, telegraphs to Washington for instructions, saying it is useless to try longer for peace with these Indians. There is no doubt but the Modocs expected to get Gillem and Col. Mason. Gen. Gillem expected to have been present at the Council, but on the morning of the massacre was too indisposed to leave his tent. It is now stated that both Generals Canby and Gillem and the commissioners talked about Riddle's warnings and came to the conclusion it was only a ruse of Riddle's to delay negotiations and they had not the most confidence in Riddle's veracity, but on this occasion it seems he was right in his suppositions.

The epizootic is fast coming this way; about half the horses in the upper end of Shasta valley are down now, though in a mild form. Weather delightful.
