LOCAL BRIEFS.

The splendid new school building at Murray will be opened next Monday.

The State board of education will meet in the office of Superintendent Park, in the city and county building, tomorrow morning.

Mrs. George Morlow has received word that Henry Sumner would arrive in this city tomorrow with the remains of his son Herbert, who died in San Francisco a few days ago.

C. W. Midgley's place of business on East First Street was broken into last night, presumably by some boys, and a small amount of copper wire stolen. A motor was also taken and broken. The matter was reported to the police.

In his report to the administration, Gen. Wheaton commends the Thirtieth United States Infantry, for gallantry. Col. Bisbee is in command of this regiment. Captain Styer, who married Miss Bessie Wilkes of this city, is also an officer in this regiment.

Captain Charles Penrose of the Eleventh Infantry, who was with his regiment at Ponce, Puerto Rico, and who was later detailed at Milwaukee on recruiting duty, has been ordered to Fort Douglas, and will arrive here in a few days. Captain Penrose is the son of General Penrose, retired, of this city.

In place of the regular meeting of the Microscopical Society for February, Dr. H. N. McCoy of the University, will lecture on "Color Photography." The lecture will be given on Friday evening, February 9th, at the Laboratory building, at No. 225 W. First North street. An invitation is extended to the public. Doors open at 7:30; lecture at 8 p. m. Admission free.

The following correction is made by the Milwaukee Star, in an obituary copied by the "News" from that paper: "In our last issue we published an account of the death of Evan Morgan, wherein it was stated he died at Gloucester. We are later informed that he died at Breckin, Cheshire, where he presided over the Breckin branch for over forty years."

There will be many regrets expressed over the serious illness of Bishop George Romney of the Twentieth ward. The immediate cause of his present trouble is diagnosed as dyspepsia, though it is greatly aggravated by other complications. While his condition is not such as to excite alarm it is sufficiently serious to require the most careful attention which he is receiving.

Major Henry B. McCoy, of the Forty-fourth United States Infantry, who was colonel of the First Colorado volunteers, and as such was entertained in this city while en route home with his regiment, and who was later appointed to the Forty-fourth Infantry, has been made Governor of Cuba Island, in the Philippine groups. There are 569 inhabitants on Cebu.

Two Utah soldiers have left their native State for the glittering sands of Cape Nome. They have gone to Seattle and will continue their journey as soon as spring opens up. The fortune hunters are Charles R. Hoscock, formerly of troop L, Fourth United States Cavalry, and Ralph Vonty, of company G, One Hundred and Sixtieth Indiana Infantry. These young men made good records while in the army.

The Engineering Record of January 27th has an interesting article by W. P. Hardesty, C. E., on the "Mormon Tabernacle of Salt Lake City." It is illustrated with cuts of the great structure in various stages of construction. The article concludes: "This Tabernacle is a notable building in many ways, great in size, peculiar for simplicity of design and construction, noteworthy for having been built on the frontier at a time when the facilities were of the most limited kind, and of unusual interest to tourists in account of being so intimately associated with the religious beliefs of the Mormon people."

The land contest case of E. W. Tripp vs E. C. Bagley has been decided by the State land commissioners in favor of Tripp. The contestant set up non-occupancy of school section 36, township 10 south, range 17 west, at Willow Spring, Utah county. The contestant was awarded 120 acres of the section of 480 acres and gave Bagley the option of purchasing the rest at private sale at a value to be appraised, should he desire to do so.

The Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company is putting in an addition in connection with the Salt Lake switch-board which will accommodate 100 wires. This improvement will cost $2,000. The new toll-board for the Salt Lake Exchange was shipped from Chicago a week or so ago. This board is equipped with all of the latest improvements, is of four operators capacity that cost about $5,000. The company is now connecting several big buildings by cables, thereby permitting all the wires to enter at the same point. The first cable connection was made yesterday with the McCormick block.

DEATH OF CHARLES PETTEE

Latest Victim of the De Lamar Mill Dust Clouds.

Over Fifty Lives Sacrificed to This Evil-Talk of Legislation Has Been Renewed.

The deadly De Lamar mill dust has claimed another victim, Charles J. Pettee, having died at the camp last Saturday. He was the last of a shift of nine men to succumb, and the number of deaths now marked up against this mill is over half a hundred.

Mr. Pettee's case was an exceptional one. While working in the mill, it is said, he protected himself from the dust as far as possible, but it availed nothing, and in December last he came to Salt Lake for medical treatment. His condition steadily grew worse, however, and he returned home to die. Mr. Pettee was the editor of the De Lamar Lodge, and formerly published the Western Knight in Ogden.

This death has renewed the talk of legislation on the mill dust, of which the De Lamar mill is perhaps the worst example in the world. Last year, when the first public exposure of the facts was made, and public indignation ran high, the De Lamar company made no showing in the direction of improving the conditions at this mill, but it is said that the conditions are still such that it is almost certain death for a man to work there any length of time.

BOY'S LEG IS BROKEN.

Charlie Egenberger Meets With Painful Accident While Playing.

Charles Egenberger, the 10-year-old son of J. V. Egenberger, the baker, at 212 South State street, met with a painful accident yesterday afternoon, in which his leg was broken.

He was playing with a little neighbor girl, around a pile of grain sacks in Barry & Shannon's feed store, next to the bakery. The little girl placed a board against the sacks and proceeded to climb up on it, while Charlie was immediately under the board. The sacks had been piled in very careless manner, and when the girl's weight was placed against them, they began to sway; the boy saw it and endeavored to get out of the way, but it was too late. The sacks fell upon him, and when they were removed he was discovered that his leg was broken. Drs. Witcher and Kjos were called in, and they bore him to his home, and attended to his injured leg. He is doing as well as possible under the circumstances.

AMUSEMENTS.

The longevity of "Faust" is one of the wonderful things in dramatic annals. It would be hard to say how many times the play has been seen in Salt Lake, but last night, when it came again at the Grand, the house was crowded with an appreciative, pulsating, and it must be added, a very noisy audience. Every one knows the old story so well that it is needless to describe it. The present company is sent out as the personal enterprise of Mr. Lewis Morrison himself, the gentleman who was the original Mephisto in Salt Lake, who has been seen here many times in that part and who is now touring in "Frederick the Great." The old play, however, still has so much life in it that he has not released his hold on it and repeats his part, the dividends it yields him, surpass those that he is earning from his own production. The play last night went with the familiar electric and pyrotechnic effects, and the employment of fire-works in the broken scenes was strikingly beautiful. Mr. McCullough, who took the part of the Infernal One, had a hearty call before the curtain. He fashions the character much on the up to date Mephisto as portrayed by Lewis Morrison and John Griffith. Outside of his part there was nothing notable done in the way of acting, the main feature being the Marguerite of Miss True. The galleries were especially noticeable last night, though the down state people warmly applauded the Brecken scene. The same bill goes tonight, tomorrow afternoon and evening.

There has been a heavy advance sale of the new edition of Frederick the Great. Ward's engagement. The opening in the play of the "Lion's Mouth" tonight will see a handsome audience, though doubtless the greatest turnout will be tomorrow night, when 150 Elks will be present to their fellow members, Mr. Ward.

CITY SETS APART THE BURIAL PLOT

Gives Twenty-Eight Lots for Interment of Utah's Heroes.

NATIONAL GUARD IS CALLED

Special Order Issued by Adjutant General Burton - G. A. R. to be Invited.

Twenty-eight burial lots were set apart by the city council, at a special meeting held last night, as a special plot of ground in which shall be interred the remains of Utah's war heroes. The council committee and the mayor will meet with the governor on Saturday afternoon and together they will select the piece of ground to be presented by the city. It is the intention to bury all the Utah soldiers who lost their lives during the late war in this spot, provided the relatives consent, and at some convenient time to erect a monument there which will be creditable to the city and an honor to Utah's dead heroes.

In the military funeral to be held on Tuesday the National Guard will act as escort. It is likely also that the G. A. R. will turn out its grizzled veterans to mingle with the lads in paying a last token of honor to the dead volunteers. Battery men are to act as pall bearers and a squad of them will fire the burial salute.

Adjutant Gen. Burton has issued special order No. 4, as follows:
The remains of a number of the Utah volunteers who perished in the Philippines having recently arrived from Manila, the interment will take place on Tuesday, February 13th, in Salt Lake City. It is a fitting tribute to their valor that the final obsequies be attended with military honors, and the committee having the matter in charge has requested the National Guard to participate in the ceremonies. It is therefore ordered that the organizations of the National Guard stationed in Salt Lake and Davis counties act as escort on the occasion.

The commanding officer of each of these organizations will report immediately to Brig. Gen. John C. Cannon as to the number of men who will be present, and will assemble his command at the State armory on Tuesday, February 13th, at 12 o'clock noon. Fatigue uniform with caps, leggings and white gloves will be worn. Col. M. L. Ritchie, First Infantry, will command the escort. By order of the commander-in-chief, CHAS. S. BURTON, Adjutant-General, N. G. U.

F. McLaughlin, Mammoth. Wm. Robinson, Park City. Jos. Morgan, Park City. Leo Gledhill, Gunnison. Stanley Statten, Springville. Levi Southern, Mercur. Parley Holdaway, Mammoth. Hans Jensen, Hyde Park. NARROW ESCAPE.

Trager, a German, Nearly Loses His Life While Diving.

A stolid native of Germany by the name of Trager, who was familiar with only one thing in America—water—became so careless with that element yesterday that it came near causing his death. He was in the large pool at the Sanitarium, and there being a few others there, he thought he would for once make a show of his aquatic accomplishments.

Trager had been cutting up his antics in the water for some time, and being somewhat in his cups, he was fevered with a desire to display some feat of aquatic prowess. He began to show signs of life, and was soon showing the admiration of the on-lookers. He had dived several times from the platform of the slide, some twelve feet from the water. Mr. Gleason and C. S. B. were watching him, and had been watching these grand stand plays, until they grew weary and drew away. The next time he ascended the stairs he was not content with jumping from the platform, but stood up on the railings. He was holding on to the railings, and was watching his movements. Splash was heard, and then the water grew still. Over a minute elapsed and the man never appeared. Some one remarked that he was under the water a long time. The two drummers, however, thought he was attempting to foul them and paid no attention to it. But their fears began to arise, despite their belief that he was holding on in it all, and Mr. Gleason dove to find the man. He made three attempts before he was successful, and when at last he found him, he was lying on the bottom of the tank face up, his arms outstretched. He was carried out of the pool in an unseemly condition, and taken to one of the small dressing rooms. The attendants began working on him, and the water flowed from his mouth in a great stream. An ugly wound was on his left shoulder, showing that he had struck something with terrific force, and had been knocked unconscious.

THE MCUNE HOME.

Architect Dallas Goes to New York to Gather Models.

It is likely that the opening of spring will witness the commencement work on the palatial new residence, which Mrs. A. W. McCune will build on her lot at the head of East Temple street, near the old Baskin homestead, and almost opposite the McCormick residence. Mr. McCune is now in New York and Architect Dallas, who has been engaged to make the drawings of the new building, has just left for that place, where, in company with Mr. McCune, he will visit some of the latest New York mansions with a view to obtaining the latest ideas in up to date residence structures.

ELECTION OF DELEGATES.

Chairman Ben T. Lloyd Thinks a County Convention Unnecessary.

Would Have Delegates Elected Directly at District Primaries—The Plan is Popular.

The members of both the Democratic and Republican county committees are now considering plans for selecting delegates from this county to the State conventions, at which candidates for Congress are to be elected. The general opinion seems to be that a county convention is not necessary, and that the delegates should be selected at voting district primaries directly, or at five precinct conventions for Salt Lake City. The same plan to be followed by the chairman Ben T. Lloyd thinks that the delegates should be chosen directly at the district primaries, thus avoiding the complicated and cumbersome work that would be necessary to hold a regular county convention. Mr. Lloyd will call the Democratic county committee together on Feb. 12, to dispose of the matter.

Noble, Walter Warrum, Jr., Salt Lake City; F. J. McLaughlin, Park City, Summit county; S. R. Thurman, Provo, Utah county; M. F. Murray, Ephraim, Sanpete county; C. S. Varian, chairman, Salt Lake City. This committee will meet at the office of J. H. Moyle on Monday evening next.

COL. EDEN'S LECTURE.

Meeting of the Letter-Carriers Last Evening—Large Attendance.

The members of the Letter Carriers' association met in the Federal court room in the Dooly block last evening to hear an address by Col. William G. Edens of Washington, D. C., assistant superintendent of the free delivery system of the postoffice department.

The entire force was in attendance, so also was Postmaster Thomas, who is an honorary member of the union. The meeting was presided over by E. P. Scoville, superintendent of the union. Mr. Edens said he was glad to meet so many men, who represent so perfect a system as the postal department, and complimented them upon having such a capable chief as Gov. Thomas.

The carriers' department, said he, is growing more rapidly than it ever has, and the $185,000 which were appropriated last year for extensions had already been recommended for the year beginning the 1st of next July. It is the intention of the department to give the carriers of the United States the best possible service rather than to give an inferior service to larger territories. The speaker expressed himself as being in favor of the eight-hour law with the modification recommended by the department, it being a forty-eight-hour-a-week system, in order to enable the carriers to meet the tides of heavy and light days in the mails which are sure to come.

He informed the members that the postmasters' congress was going to build a monument to the memory of Eben Brewer, the man who died in the service while perfecting a mail service to an army of invaders in Cuba, and the congress had asked for voluntary donations for this purpose.

Postmaster Thomas responded to Mr. Edens, and stated that he courted a close inspection of the office, that in all the offices of the United States, he did not think there were any better or more efficient employees than in his. He closed by offering a resolution, which was unanimously adopted, to the effect that the office would do its part towards the Eben Brewer monument.

At the close of the meeting a season of handshaking ensued and Mr. Edens met Mr. S. R. Skidmore, the carrier who was so seriously injured last April, and who was with the carriers last night for the first time since he was hurt. Mr. Weiler stated that Mr. Skidmore had been a faithful uncomplaining worker for eleven years.

Mr. Edens is accompanied by his wife, and they will depart for the East next Tuesday.

PREPARING FOR CONVENTION

Christian Endeavor Committees Appointed for Spring Meeting.

The meeting of the representatives of the various Christian Endeavor societies of this city, at the Y. M. C. A. rooms last night was well attended. The object was to prepare for the annual convention of the State Christian Endeavor union to be held in this city about the first of May next. The meeting was opened by President Tolles, and was resolved into a permanent committee, consisting of Mr. Tolles, chairman, and Miss Carrie Davis as secretary. The following State convention committees were appointed: Finance—F. E. Davey, Miss Angie Rickford, W. M. Scott, Miss Palmer, Mrs. A. J. Gorman, Miss Eva Watrous, Miss M. Clayton, W. L. Cowburn. Union Meeting—Prof. G. B. Sweeney, Josiah Thomas, Miss Anna Moore, Miss Silvia Woodmansee, G. B. Maier, Mrs. L. B. Edwards. Entertainment—Miss Carrie Davis, Miss Ole Reed, Miss Edna Davis, Rev. Mr. Bigelow, Mrs. C. D. Savary, Miss Kittie Kidder, Miss Margaret Caulfield, Miss Martha Wismar. Reception—H. W. Bloch, Miss Bessie Williamson, Miss Ethel Ott, Norman McDonald, Miss Della Wake, Dr. Elizabeth Barnes, Ed Treman. Decoration—Miss Alice Paul, Miss L. McCormey, Mrs. Bertha Jones, Miss Mina McArthur, Mr. Lockerby, Emil Wismar.

The council will meet again on the evening of the 16th, in the basement of the First Presbyterian church, to appoint sub-committees for a further division of the work. The city societies are going to meet all the expenses of the convention, the money received through the State organizations will be allotted to State work. The convention will probably meet in the First Presbyterian church.

If the reader of this should chance to know of any one who is subject to attacks of biliousness, he can do him no greater favor than to tell him of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It always gives prompt relief.

C. W. SAMS FOR PRESIDENT

Of the League of American Wheelmen—Proposed to Racing.

He is Acceptable to the Leaders in the New York Division Who Originally Selected Him.

New York, Feb. 9.—The Herald says: Conway W. Sams, of Baltimore, will almost certainly be next president of the League of American Wheelmen. He has declared himself unalterably opposed to the retention of racing interests by the league, and in so doing has placed himself at the head of the forces that would have the league elected to make George R. Bidwell, of New York, the chief officer of the organization. Mr. Sams is now acceptable to the leaders in the New York State division, by whom he was originally selected to head the anti-racing ticket. His declaration then resulted in the choice of George R. Bidwell and the latter's subsequent withdrawal has for the second time opened the time for the Baltimorean. It is possible Mr. Sams will be nominated by acclamation.

RESIGNS AS TRUSTEE.

Apostle Merrill No Longer Connected with the Agricultural College.

Apostle Marriner W. Merrill has tendered to Gov. Wells his resignation as trustee of the Agricultural college, at Logan, the reason for this action being the same as in the cases of President Tanner and Secretary Wilson. The resignation, it is understood, will be accepted, but the Governor has not yet fixed upon a successor to Apostle Merrill.

BACK FROM THE EAST.

Judge Barch and Hon. O. J. Salisbury are Home Again.

Chief Justice Barch has returned home from an extended Eastern trip, having spent some time in Pennsylvania, where he visited relatives, and at Washington, D. C. He reports that the East is enjoying an era of great prosperity. The next national campaign is beginning to claim active attention, and he believes that President McKinley will be re-nominated by acclamation, there being practically no opposition to him in his party. The Quay case also attracts considerable attention, and the judge believes that the Pennsylvania Senator, who was appointed by the governor, the legislature having failed to elect, will be seated, notwithstanding the majority report against such action. Hon. O. J. Salisbury returned with Judge Barch from Washington. Mr. Salisbury's visit related entirely to personal business, and he paid no attention to political matters.
