

SECOND EDITION.

DESERET EVENING NEWS.

LOCAL BREVIETIES.

Some three hundred persons were gathered yesterday from Western states to witness the trial of George Clegg, alias Brown, who, it is said, was captured in Judge Zane's court yesterday after a charge of assault with intent to kill was made against him. He is charged with having committed a robbery and sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.

One of the most ridiculous and laughable trials of the day was the audience's response to the charge of assault with intent to kill made against Clegg. The court adjourned until noon, and the trial was suspended.

Many other Pacific officials are attending Moran's "Dictionary of Chinese." It contains a vast amount of valuable information, gleaned from the best authorities, and it is worth the price paid for it.

Probate Court.

The following orders were made by Judge Hatch today:

Estate of Elizabeth Brown, deceased, order made fixing June 10 to hear final account and petition for distribution.

Estate of Hannah Atwater, deceased, order made fixing June 10 to hear final account and petition for distribution.

Open Air Concert.

Held's Band will give an open-air concert tomorrow evening on Main street. The programs are as follows:

1. "Home, Sweet Home"; 2. "The Girl I Left Behind Me"; 3. "Home Sweet Home"; 4. "Sweethearts"; 5. "Home Sweet Home"; 6. "Home Sweet Home"; 7. "Home Sweet Home"; 8. "Home Sweet Home".

G. W. Clark, Manager.

Alarm of Fire.

About three o'clock this afternoon one of the men working on the Temple tower observed smoke issuing from the roof of the Constitution building, on Main street, and gave the alarm. The firemen, prompted by the alarm, and Major Stanton and several of his men mounting to the top of the building they discovered a number of old and aged boards, and a wad of paper, which, after being doused with water, was poured upon the burning mass and the possibility of further damage was averted. It is supposed that sparks from the wire company were the cause of the trouble.

THE COURT RECORD.

This has been an unproductive day for the newspapers.

The trial of J. J. Cushman on a charge of grand larceny, which began in Judge Zane's court yesterday, was resumed this morning. It is alleged that the accused stole a trunk belonging to Deputy Marshal Kelly, of Provo. Prosecutor occupied a room over the Utah Inn, and Hardware Company's office on Commercial street, where the defendant also had his office. In the course of former trials Kelly would often appear in a mining expedition, and during his absence the trunk was taken from the building. It was traced back to the possession of the defendant, but there appears to be some question as to who is the owner of the trunk. The defendant, while waiting for a lawyer in his way, went to the witness stand and told a smooth sort of story, and the prosecution did not call him to give his statement on any material point.

The taking of testimony for the defense was proceeding when the court adjourned at noon.

ON HIS WAY.

George Clegg, who was convicted in Judge Zane's court recently on a charge of grand larceny, the day before, the day after, was passing sentence, and was on Thursday night captured in Denver, is expected to arrive in this city on Monday morning, and to stay away the second time quite surely.

MILITIA.

The trial of J. J. Cushman on a charge of grand larceny, which began in Judge Zane's court yesterday, was resumed this morning. The defendant, who had his office in the Hardware Company's office on Commercial street, where the defendant also had his office. In the course of former trials Kelly would often appear in a mining expedition, and during his absence the trunk was taken from the building. It was traced back to the possession of the defendant, but there appears to be some question as to who is the owner of the trunk. The defendant, while waiting for a lawyer in his way, went to the witness stand and told a smooth sort of story, and the prosecution did not call him to give his statement on any material point.

The taking of testimony for the defense was proceeding when the court adjourned at noon.

ON HIS WAY.

George Clegg, who was convicted in Judge Zane's court recently on a charge of grand larceny, the day before, the day after, was passing sentence, and was on Thursday night captured in Denver, is expected to arrive in this city on Monday morning, and to stay away the second time quite surely.

MILITIA.

The grand jury will in all probability indict their lame member, W. A. Dill, they will then give account of their stewardship.

NOTARIAL ACTS.

No civil suit has been filed in the Third District Court, but the county court has been holding up to the third week.

THE BLUE JAY.

There were no new developments in the hearing of the Blue Jay mining case this morning, and when the court adjourned at noon, the defendant's witnesses had still testified.

ABOUT A HOME.

A home was expected to come before Commissioner Greenman this afternoon, in which J. P. DeWolfe is the plaintiff and N. Eager and H. H. Parsons the defendants. The point at issue is about a broad of warranty on the sale of a house.

WAIVERS OF PROSECUTION.

The case of Steele & Co., v. A. T. Pollock, in which the defendant has been drawn as a witness, was argued before Commissioner Greenman this morning. O. C. Owsley for the defendant, D. N. Strain for the defendant and U. W. Young for the plaintiff. Amos Young and Strain in their argument, contended that the plaintiff had no right to call on the defendant, as he resides in another state. The commissioners have taken the matter under advisement. It is thought that this will be made a test case.

LETTER FROM PROVO.

Normal Day at the Brigham Young Academy.

(Continued from the previous page.)

There is not an institution in our territory that has made greater advancements, during the last fifteen years, than the Brigham Young Academy. Our friends are need but think such exercises as were held today fully appreciate the rapid march of progress that has taken place and the achievements which have been made.

The literary room, where the exercises were held, was handsomely decorated with the academy colors, "white and blue," interspersed with choice flowers and evergreens. Portraits of the founder of the institution, Dr. Masee, and members of his board of directors hung on the wall. On the curtain were seated the officers of the day. Above them in elegant lettering, artistically arranged, was the motto, "Our Temple of Learning, we Love This."

Invitation was offered by Abbie Hinckley, chaplain.

After a brief opening selection by H. M. Warner and company, was neatly executed. He came a short speaking speech by President Hinckley, followed by a recitation by Mrs. Hinckley.

There followed an interesting and moving narration of the incidents of the winter class of '91. But the hit of the day was the recitation by the student, H. C. Hinckley, a young man from Fillmore. A short time ago he received the first prize in an oratorical contest, and today he added a new laurel to his garland, his subject, "The Temple."

"Description of the Temple," an excellent essay, was read by Miss Elizabeth Hinckley.

There followed a series of short and sweet poems, sweet thoughts and voices that make many happy things.

Misses Howard and Provo's favorite, "Mabel," rendered "That Old Thing," was read with much pleasure.

Then came "The Valley of the Sun" and "The Valley of Peace" chanted by Misses "Lillian" and "Mabel."

G. W. Clark, Manager.

Alarms of Fire.

About three o'clock this afternoon one of the men working on the Temple tower observed smoke issuing from the roof of the Constitution building, on Main street, and gave the alarm. The firemen, prompted by the alarm, and Major Stanton and several of his men mounting to the top of the building they discovered a number of old and aged boards, and a wad of paper, which, after being doused with water, was poured upon the burning mass and the possibility of further damage was averted. It is supposed that sparks from the wire company were the cause of the trouble.

THE COURT RECORD.

This has been an unproductive day for the newspapers.

The trial of J. J. Cushman on a charge of grand larceny, which began in Judge Zane's court yesterday, was resumed this morning. The defendant, who had his office in the Hardware Company's office on Commercial street, where the defendant also had his office. In the course of former trials Kelly would often appear in a mining expedition, and during his absence the trunk was taken from the building. It was traced back to the possession of the defendant, but there appears to be some question as to who is the owner of the trunk. The defendant, while waiting for a lawyer in his way, went to the witness stand and told a smooth sort of story, and the prosecution did not call him to give his statement on any material point.

The trial of J. J. Cushman on a charge of grand larceny, which began in Judge Zane's court yesterday, was resumed this morning. The defendant, who had his office in the Hardware Company's office on Commercial street, where the defendant also had his office. In the course of former trials Kelly would often appear in a mining expedition, and during his absence the trunk was taken from the building. It was traced back to the possession of the defendant, but there appears to be some question as to who is the owner of the trunk. The defendant, while waiting for a lawyer in his way, went to the witness stand and told a smooth sort of story, and the prosecution did not call him to give his statement on any material point.

The trial of J. J. Cushman on a charge of grand larceny, which began in Judge Zane's court yesterday, was resumed this morning. The defendant, who had his office in the Hardware Company's office on Commercial street, where the defendant also had his office. In the course of former trials Kelly would often appear in a mining expedition, and during his absence the trunk was taken from the building. It was traced back to the possession of the defendant, but there appears to be some question as to who is the owner of the trunk. The defendant, while waiting for a lawyer in his way, went to the witness stand and told a smooth sort of story, and the prosecution did not call him to give his statement on any material point.

The trial of J. J. Cushman on a charge of grand larceny, which began in Judge Zane's court yesterday, was resumed this morning. The defendant, who had his office in the Hardware Company's office on Commercial street, where the defendant also had his office. In the course of former trials Kelly would often appear in a mining expedition, and during his absence the trunk was taken from the building. It was traced back to the possession of the defendant, but there appears to be some question as to who is the owner of the trunk. The defendant, while waiting for a lawyer in his way, went to the witness stand and told a smooth sort of story, and the prosecution did not call him to give his statement on any material point.

The trial of J. J. Cushman on a charge of grand larceny, which began in Judge Zane's court yesterday, was resumed this morning. The defendant, who had his office in the Hardware Company's office on Commercial street, where the defendant also had his office. In the course of former trials Kelly would often appear in a mining expedition, and during his absence the trunk was taken from the building. It was traced back to the possession of the defendant, but there appears to be some question as to who is the owner of the trunk. The defendant, while waiting for a lawyer in his way, went to the witness stand and told a smooth sort of story, and the prosecution did not call him to give his statement on any material point.

The trial of J. J. Cushman on a charge of grand larceny, which began in Judge Zane's court yesterday, was resumed this morning. The defendant, who had his office in the Hardware Company's office on Commercial street, where the defendant also had his office. In the course of former trials Kelly would often appear in a mining expedition, and during his absence the trunk was taken from the building. It was traced back to the possession of the defendant, but there appears to be some question as to who is the owner of the trunk. The defendant, while waiting for a lawyer in his way, went to the witness stand and told a smooth sort of story, and the prosecution did not call him to give his statement on any material point.

The trial of J. J. Cushman on a charge of grand larceny, which began in Judge Zane's court yesterday, was resumed this morning. The defendant, who had his office in the Hardware Company's office on Commercial street, where the defendant also had his office. In the course of former trials Kelly would often appear in a mining expedition, and during his absence the trunk was taken from the building. It was traced back to the possession of the defendant, but there appears to be some question as to who is the owner of the trunk. The defendant, while waiting for a lawyer in his way, went to the witness stand and told a smooth sort of story, and the prosecution did not call him to give his statement on any material point.

The trial of J. J. Cushman on a charge of grand larceny, which began in Judge Zane's court yesterday, was resumed this morning. The defendant, who had his office in the Hardware Company's office on Commercial street, where the defendant also had his office. In the course of former trials Kelly would often appear in a mining expedition, and during his absence the trunk was taken from the building. It was traced back to the possession of the defendant, but there appears to be some question as to who is the owner of the trunk. The defendant, while waiting for a lawyer in his way, went to the witness stand and told a smooth sort of story, and the prosecution did not call him to give his statement on any material point.

The trial of J. J. Cushman on a charge of grand larceny, which began in Judge Zane's court yesterday, was resumed this morning. The defendant, who had his office in the Hardware Company's office on Commercial street, where the defendant also had his office. In the course of former trials Kelly would often appear in a mining expedition, and during his absence the trunk was taken from the building. It was traced back to the possession of the defendant, but there appears to be some question as to who is the owner of the trunk. The defendant, while waiting for a lawyer in his way, went to the witness stand and told a smooth sort of story, and the prosecution did not call him to give his statement on any material point.

The trial of J. J. Cushman on a charge of grand larceny, which began in Judge Zane's court yesterday, was resumed this morning. The defendant, who had his office in the Hardware Company's office on Commercial street, where the defendant also had his office. In the course of former trials Kelly would often appear in a mining expedition, and during his absence the trunk was taken from the building. It was traced back to the possession of the defendant, but there appears to be some question as to who is the owner of the trunk. The defendant, while waiting for a lawyer in his way, went to the witness stand and told a smooth sort of story, and the prosecution did not call him to give his statement on any material point.

The trial of J. J. Cushman on a charge of grand larceny, which began in Judge Zane's court yesterday, was resumed this morning. The defendant, who had his office in the Hardware Company's office on Commercial street, where the defendant also had his office. In the course of former trials Kelly would often appear in a mining expedition, and during his absence the trunk was taken from the building. It was traced back to the possession of the defendant, but there appears to be some question as to who is the owner of the trunk. The defendant, while waiting for a lawyer in his way, went to the witness stand and told a smooth sort of story, and the prosecution did not call him to give his statement on any material point.

The trial of J. J. Cushman on a charge of grand larceny, which began in Judge Zane's court yesterday, was resumed this morning. The defendant, who had his office in the Hardware Company's office on Commercial street, where the defendant also had his office. In the course of former trials Kelly would often appear in a mining expedition, and during his absence the trunk was taken from the building. It was traced back to the possession of the defendant, but there appears to be some question as to who is the owner of the trunk. The defendant, while waiting for a lawyer in his way, went to the witness stand and told a smooth sort of story, and the prosecution did not call him to give his statement on any material point.

The trial of J. J. Cushman on a charge of grand larceny, which began in Judge Zane's court yesterday, was resumed this morning. The defendant, who had his office in the Hardware Company's office on Commercial street, where the defendant also had his office. In the course of former trials Kelly would often appear in a mining expedition, and during his absence the trunk was taken from the building. It was traced back to the possession of the defendant, but there appears to be some question as to who is the owner of the trunk. The defendant, while waiting for a lawyer in his way, went to the witness stand and told a smooth sort of story, and the prosecution did not call him to give his statement on any material point.

The trial of J. J. Cushman on a charge of grand larceny, which began in Judge Zane's court yesterday, was resumed this morning. The defendant, who had his office in the Hardware Company's office on Commercial street, where the defendant also had his office. In the course of former trials Kelly would often appear in a mining expedition, and during his absence the trunk was taken from the building. It was traced back to the possession of the defendant, but there appears to be some question as to who is the owner of the trunk. The defendant, while waiting for a lawyer in his way, went to the witness stand and told a smooth sort of story, and the prosecution did not call him to give his statement on any material point.

TO-DAY'S TELEGRAMS.

The Trial of Deacon for the Killing of Apostle Commanded at Salt Lake.

FURTHER PARTICULARS ABOUT THE FLOOD.

Cold Weather in Minnesota—Tornado and Scalped by Indians.

By Telegrams to the News.

DEACON'S TRIAL.

Opening of the Case in the Presence of a Fashionable Crowd.

St. Louis, May 19.—The trial of Edward Deacon for the killing of Apostle Commanded at Salt Lake.

Deacon was accused with killing Apostle Commanded at Salt Lake.

The weather was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.

The temperature was warm and the crowd at the courtroom was large.