LOCAL BRIEFS.

Ex-Deputy County Attorney Ray Van Cott has formed a law partnership with Attorney E. McGurrin. County Clerk James today made Frederick Hilton, 25, and Dollie Guio, 22, both of Salt Lake happy by granting of the visiting stockmen the affair to be in charge of the Ladies' Literary club; and on the 19th the University of Utah will have charge of the collection in a public exhibition which will prob-ably attract a large number of visi-tors. Commencing on Monday, Janu-ary 21st, the collection will be in the hands of the grade schools the dates for each being still undecided. The model school room to provide which the Ladles' Literary club arranged the exhibit, will belong to that school which sells the largest number of tickets in their respective exhibitions.

A copy of the articles of incorporation certificate of incorporation, financial statement, and certificate of deposit of the Palatine Insurance company, lim-ited, of London, was received today by Secretary of State Hammond. The company was incorporated under the laws of England, August 22, 1900. The amount of the capital stock is given as $500,000, paid up in cash. The object of the company is to carry on a fire, accident, guarantee, and general insurance business. The company will appoint a resident of Utah to represent it in this State.

PHIL MARGETTS RETURNS. Back From Paris, Idaho, Where He

Attended His Brother's Funeral. Phil Margetts has returned from Paris, Idaho, to which place he went on Friday last to attend the funeral of his brother Henry, which was held on Sunday.

Mr. Margetts says the services which took place in the Paris meeting house were very largely attended with relatives and friends of deceased. The speakers were Presidents Budge and Hart and Elders Sutton and Neibur. Each one spoke of his more than thirty years acquaintance with the deceased and of the many good quali-ties that he possessed. He was one of the discoverers of the Humming Bird copper mine in Paris canyon and was superintending the work on that property for the present owners when stricken down with the grip which led to his death. He was of that class of men who are needed in a new country develop latent resources and help ters. This he tried hard to accomplish, but like many another prospec-tor in the great West the opportunity came too late for him. THE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

The second biennial report of the board of trustees of the State Industrial school ending December 31st, 1960, was filed today with Governor Wells. The report shows the following persons committed from the different counties of the State: Boxelder, 3 boys; Cache, 5 boys; Carbon, 1 boy; Davis, 2 boys and 2 girls; Emery, 3 boys; Garfield, 2 boys; Iron, 1 boy; Juab 2 boys; Millard, 1 boy; Plute, 1 boy; Rich, 1 boy; Sanpete, 10 boys;

Two Reservoirs With an Aggregate Capacity of Nearly 200,000 Acre Feet, and a Canal Sixteen Miles Long.

A project has been set on foot in Millard county that contemplates the reclaiming of thousands of acres of land and involves the expenditure of $103,000. It is one of the big enterprises of Utah, and the men who are backing It are not accustomed to abandoning their undertakings before they are carried to successful completion. Charles Wilcken, president of the Deseret and Salt Lake Agricultural and Manufacturing Canal company; Jacob Hawley, president of the Deseret Irrigation company, and Christopher Overson are the head and front of the movement. The proposition is to project a canal from a point on the Sevier river in Leamington canyon, at a place called Rocky Ford, sixteen miles along the side of the mountains, where two reservoirs have been constructed. One reservoir has a capacity of 47,475 acre feet, the other reservoir, which is seven miles long and two miles wide, has a capacity of 140,775 acre feet, making an aggregate capacity of 188,250 acre feet. This means that nearly 200,-000 acres of arid land in Millard county is going to be made as tillable as any other portion of the county. The maps and all necessary papers were filed in the United States land of-fice in this city today by the companies through Attorney Grey. This is a mera formal process necessary to obtain the right of way for the canal and to locate. the site of the reservoirs, which are about 11/2 miles apart. All the preliminary work has been done, and it is pro-posed to begin building the canal early in the spring. When begun the work will be pushed without cessation until the ditch is completed, which will be in about two years. The method by which the canal is to be constructed is equitable and simple in the extreme. Both irrigation comstock, and they now offer shares in that stock to those who are interested in the project, allowing them the privilege of paying for their stock by labor. At east 90 per cent labor and ten per cent cash. The cash asked is merely nominal, only enough being demanded to pay for the actual expenses entailed in the construction of the canal. In this manner one can acquire a title to all the water that he will need to carry on his farming. It is not a money making scheme, but rather an unselfish co-operative effort to bring to the inhabitants of Millard county, with a minimum expense, a common benefit.

E. A. Harris, formerly of Sterling, Colo., has never missed a cattlemen's convention to date. A few days ago it convention to date. A new days ago in was rumored that Harris' genial smile would not grace Sait Lake next week. All conflicting reports to the contrary, however, have been set at rest by the receipt of a letter by Secretary Martin which reads, "I am coming. Like a sore thumb I am always on hand." The letter went on to state that Mrs. Harris would accompany him.

The wonderful popularity of Bronson Howard's "Shenandonh" was again attested last night at the theater. Though the big war play has been done here so many times in the past, it never played to so many people as last evening. Every inch of space above and below was occupied, and the biggest conference night never made a more jammed showing. This result, of course, was largely due to the advance guard of stockmen and to a special excursion which came up from Provo and Lehi for the event. The play has been re-viewed so many times that extended mention of its merits is unnecessary. It may be said briefly that it is now a big spectacle first, and a play second. The actors have been lost sight of in the desire to bring out the horses, cannons and gunpowder, and every change made in the cast has weakened it. The General Haverill of Alfred Moore was laughable in the emotional Mr. Rolleston, in the part of simply parts.

parts. Mr. Rolleston, in the part of Colonel West, rendered notable to Salt Lakers, by Henry Miller, and Frank Carlyle, was altogether unequal to its requirements. Mr. Heisey, as Buck-thorn, and Mr. Turner, as Barkett, did the best acting among the men. Miss Lynch, as Mrs. Haverill, and Miss Wright as the young wife, were not equal to the demands of their parts, but Miss Dale and Miss Bachelder as Gastrade and Jennie, did good work. Gertrade and Jennie, did good work. The hig episode of the play, the battle of Cedar Creek, introducing Sheridan's famous ride, and the retreat which he turned into a victory, was immensely done, and the audience almost went frantic with enthusiasm. This act is alone worth the price of admission, and without doubt a second big turnout will assured for the final performance tonight.

. . . The Grand could not help feeling the immense opposition at the theater and there was quite a drop in the attend-ance at "A Gilded Fool." Still the house was nearly two-thirds full and the play went with the same marks of favor as before, . . .

Monday night * * * Mr. Power, manager of Mrs. Fiske, was in the audience at the Grand list evening. He states that Mrs. Fiske's appearance in Denver Monday night at a theater where 10, 20 and 30 cent prices had been the rule prior to her conformance dow the higherst audience performance, drew the biggest audience performance, drew this season. Her prices are $2.00, regardless of the house In which she appears, and that will be the schedule for Sait Lake. There will of course, be many cheaper seats. The sale is now going on, the first choice having been reserved for the season patrons of the Grand.
