

FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

May Day.

No. 5 of Morgan Jensen is out. Regular meeting of the City Council to-night.

A black and white pig has been lost. See advertisement.

The schools of the city generally suspended to-day, and the children have been enjoying themselves May walking in the canyons.

Yesterday Miss Carrie Almond, of Salt Lake, in company with J. E. Fisher, Esq., of St. Louis, left for that city on a visit to relatives.

"What is the worst thing about riches?" asked the Sunday school superintendent. And the new boy in the bad class under the gallery, who only came in last Sunday, stood up and said: "Their scarcity."

Mr. A. L. Williams has removed his coal office to Barratt Bros' building, 127 Main Street. For particulars regarding the varieties of "black diamonds" he deals in, read his advertisement in another column.

"See here, George," said a fond mamma to her little son, as they walked on the beach, "what a lot of nice little round stones." "Yes," grumbled George, as he cast a searching glance round, and not a blessed thing to throw 'em at!"

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

More Burglarizing.—The show case belonging to the establishment of Mrs. Wilkinson, on the Kimball Block, First South Street, was broken into last night. The thief carried away four hair switches, valued at from three to ten dollars each, and a blonde wig worth twelve dollars.

Disappointed by Damp.—The fore part of the day the adjacent canyons were alive with juvenile pleasure seekers from the schools. As it turned out wet and disagreeable in the afternoon, the disappointed young folks flocked home wet, drugged and dull.

Committed.—John Stockford, the abandoned young scoundrel charged with assault and attempted rape on the person of Selma S. Sauberg, was taken before Justice Spiers, this morning. He waived examination and was held to answer to the grand jury in the sum of $500. In default of finding the required securities he was committed to jail.

Seventies' General Meeting.—The Seventies will please take notice that their regular meeting will be held at the Council House, to-morrow (Wednesday) the 2d inst., at 7.30 o'clock.

ROBT. CAMPBELL, Clerk of First Council of Seventies. Salt Lake City, May 1st, 1883.

Stolen Property Found.—Yesterday we noted the fact that Tollidge & Co. had been robbed of a quantity of brushes, paints, etc., by some party who broke into their shop. The property was found by some little boys last evening, hidden in a clump of sage brush, on the west side of the mouth of City Creek, where it had doubtless been hidden by the thief.

An Unfortunate Dog.—Yesterday a man named Cox, from Union, was in the establishment of D. M. Osborne & Co., on East Temple Street making some purchases of agricultural machinery. He was accompanied by a large dog, which wandered to the upper part of the building and got lost. In scrambling about to get out, it got upon a skylight over an office. The glass gave way under the poor beast, and he fell through, striking upon a table in the room beneath and breaking his back.

Morgan Jensen.—No. 5 of the current volume of that monthly is just out with the following contents: Disturbances in a meeting in Copenhagen; The Police in Sweden persecute the members; Borden organized in Christians, Norway; Visit of Apostle Franklin D. Richards; The Fifth Emigrant Company from Scandinavia; A Special Council in Copenhagen; The Star (Editorial); Missionaries sent from Utah to Scandinavia continued; The Fifty-third Annual Conference; Items of News, etc.

Re-commencing.—In our columns to-day will be found the advertisement of William Asper & Co., carpenters and builders. They are prepared to furnish plans and estimates, and keep on hand a variety of building materials.

Brother Asper is an efficient, experienced and practical workman. Having just returned from a mission to the Southern States, he is again starting business, and those who entertain the firm of which he is the senior member, with contracts or jobs, will find them reliable.

Stolen Clothing.—There is any amount of petty stealing in progress at present. This morning a man from the Walker House called at the City Hall and informed the officers that he had had an overcoat and walking coat and vest stolen from him. In passing the premises of a tailor in a small way of business, on commercial St., he saw the identical overcoat hanging up in the place. He suspected that the other garments were somewhere in the same shop and solicited the aid of an officer to get possession of the lot.

A Disreputable Affair.—Last night there was a row in the vicinity of McKinnin's stable. According to the statement of one of the parties some men were enticing some young girl, evidently with immoral intentions, when a couple of citizens interfered and condemned the conduct of the others in unmeasured terms. The censured parties retaliated by assaulting the two citizens and knocking them down. If the allegations in reference to the alleged impropriety are true, it is they who should have been knocked down and kicked into the gutter.

THE GREEN RIVER MURDER.

THE ALLEGED PERPETRATORS IN JAIL AT PROVO.

Sheriff John Turner, of Provo, and Deputy Sheriff Thomas Fowler, of Lehi, reached Provo on Sunday from Green River with a couple of exceedingly hard men in their custody, one being William Gibson, charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill, and the other, Thomas Meadows, indicted for murder. A party named Col. F. Thompson had also been arrested for complicity in the same crime charged against Meadows.

The victim of the murder was named Hicks, who was killed at Green River several weeks ago. Nothing was done in the case until recently, when a friend of the murdered man arrived at Provo and made complaint before U. S. Commissioner Smoot, Jr., against the parties who did the killing. Warrants of arrest were placed in the hands of Sheriff Turner, and that able officer, accompanied by his efficient deputy from Lehi, set out for Green River. On reaching that place they discovered that Col. F. Thompson, one of the parties they were after, had just departed for Salt Lake. Sheriff Turner immediately telegraphed to Provo for an officer to meet the train at that point. This was accordingly attended to and Thompson was arrested and placed in jail.

Meadows, the man accused with Thompson, was found at Green River, and the officers also, at the same time fell in with Gibson, charged with another offense. Having ascertained their stopping place, Sheriff Turner and Deputy Fowler called on them quite early in the morning, giving the couple of desperadoes a sort of surprise party. They were in bed when the officers reached them. The blankets were turned down and a demand made for surrender at the muzzle of a six-shooter. The prisoners had no alternative, so they were handcuffed. The Denver and Rio Grande R. R. Company, who extended numerous courtesies to the officers, placed a car at their disposal for use as a temporary jail until the arrival of the next train. Thompson and Meadows are to have a hearing this week as soon as the witnesses can be got together.

A FATAL FIGHT.

ONE OF THE COMBATANTS REMOVES A OUT AND DIES.

The following special was received by Deseret Telegraph, from Beaver, this morning:

"At about 11 o'clock last night a soldier by the name of Henry Stearns, and Robt. Keys, Sen., both being drunk, after having an altercation, began fighting. It resulted in the latter cutting the former in the arm near the shoulder, severing the axillary artery and making a gash about six inches in length, from which, in about three-fourths of an hour, he bled to death. Keys was arrested and is now in custody in the county jail awaiting a hearing, when more facts may be ascertained."

A Smooth and Oily Thief.—A week or two since a tramp painter named George Bennett, claiming to hail from California, was given work by Mr. W. C. Morris. He represented that he was out of funds, to meet present needs, and otherwise treated with consideration and kindness. He was an affable and obliging to his employer, that the latter thought he was a pretty good fellow, but it is astonishing what an amount of rascality is sometimes hidden beneath an exceedingly smooth exterior. Mr. Morris' foreman, Mr. W. R. Jones, did not look upon Bennett with quite so much favor, and between the two but little if any affection was lost. The foreman discovered that Bennett was stealing gold leaf from the shop, having actually carried away thirty-six dollars worth of that article. The property was found at an establishment where Bennett had sold it.

Messrs. Morris and Jones agreed last evening that the latter should go after a policeman, but while he was absent on that errand, Bennett, who was at the shop, was so pleasant and nice that Mr. Morris' well known kindly nature revolted at the idea of his being suddenly confronted by an officer without warning, so he told him what was what. Bennett started off to see the man who said he bought the leaf from him, and Mr. Morris started to go with him, but Bennett turned a corner and appeared to think somebody wanted him at the lumber yards in the vicinity of the U. S. depot. Mr. Morris pursued him, but the fugitive was soon lost to view. He was subsequently caught by the police and lodged in jail.

"A Tempest in a Tea Pot."—A few days ago a scruffy little fellow who does chores around the Federal Court house, named Hurd, called at John Connelly's place of business. While he entered another stood on the outside. Mr. C. inquired what his business was, the answer being that he wished to see Annie Gallifant.

"What is your business with the lady?"

"I will state that when I see her."

"You got out of here. I don't want any sneak thieves around my establishment. If you don't go I will throw you out."

As Hurd walked upon the order of his going and did not go at once, Mr. Connelly bundled him out.

For thus ejecting an intruder who refused to make known his errand, Mr. Connelly was arrested. He appeared before United States Commissioner McKay, at 1 o'clock to-day, and, having taken excellent legal advice, he waived examination, to the evident disgust of parties who, we are informed, intended to make immediate capital out of the incident, which appeared to have been put up for a purpose. The accused was held to answer to the grand jury in two hundred dollars bonds.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

BADLY INJURED BY A GUN-FIRE.

A terrible accident occurred on Saturday to a man named Oswald, a mason, who lives about a quarter of a mile north from White Bridge, which spans the Jordan River, on the western border of the city. It appears that he was hunting in the vicinity of his home, and while in the act of firing his gun the piece exploded, inflicting frightful injuries upon his face. A person who saw the unfortunate man this morning, gives the state that his right eye is entirely gone and the other very badly hurt; so much so that at present he is blind. A large piece of bone has also been carried away from the forehead above the right eye.

Oswald is about thirty-seven years old, and came to this Territory from Germany about a year and a half ago.

A Repulsive Quartette.—The case in which an Italian got his ear bitten off and his head pounded by some fellow countrymen was before Justice Spiers to-day. Three parties besides the mutilated man were interested. The difficulty arose from the loss of a pocket knife, which the man that was hurt claimed. It came out in the testimony that at the commencement of the fight the fellow who got his head damaged seized a package of three razors and a pair of scissors, with which to carry on his side of the conflict. He was disarmed, and then seized the hand of one of the others between his teeth. The fellow whose hand was in danger of being cannibalized seized his assailant by the side of the appendage, and tore off a large bit.

The case was not finished by three o'clock. The parties to the affair are about as repulsive a quartette as one would be likely to see in the course of a couple of months, even in the proceedings of a police court.

New Boot and Shoe Firm.—The new firm of Spencer & Kimball are actively engaged getting ready to open business in the boot and shoe line, at the Big Boot store, the premises lately occupied by Mr. James Payne. Besides the original stock, they open with a large amount of new wares, and will present an establishment fully up to the times, prepared to supply the public with what they want in the line of leather goods. Both members of the firm are young men, born and reared in Utah, and Mr. J. D. Spencer is well conversant with the business in which, in conjunction with his partner, he now leads out for himself. We wish the firm success, and believe they will attain it.

Departure of Missionaries.—Elder Wm. Thomas Stewart, John Clarence Stewart, both of Kanab, and Charles Heyborne, of Cedar, also Isaac Fox, of Coalville, left this city by the 3.40 p. m. train for their fields of labor as missionaries. The three first go to New Zealand and the two last to the Sandwich Islands. Elder Brim is accompanied by his wife and two children. Elder W. T. Stewart had charge of the party.

SPECIAL BUSINESS NOTICES.

LOST FIG.

A small black and white pig is lost; was seen in the 7th Ward this morning. The finder will oblige by sending word to John Smith, 11th Ward.

REMOVED.

A. L. Williams has removed his Coal Office to Barratt Brothers' building, No. 127 Main Street, where he is desirous of seeing his numerous customers and all others that are anxious to secure the best fuel for the least money. It is useless to say anything in regard to the Pleasant Valley Coal, as its reputation is well established all through the Territory.

The celebrated Colorado Anthracite, which has been recently brought to this market is fast gaining ground and will soon take the lead. This coal compares well with the celebrated Anthracite of Pennsylvania, and is the most economical fuel in the market. It recommends itself from the fact that it makes no soot or dirt and there being no smoke from it, and housewives will not have to worry about cleaning stove-pipes and taking out large quantities of soot. When people once get used to using this coal they will want no other.

The Colorado Blacksmith Coal is now in great demand by all blacksmiths, who pronounce it the finest article of that kind ever imported into this Territory.

Do not forget the change of office, and let your orders roll in. dt
