DESERTT EVENING NEWS: WEDNESDAY, APRIL 29, 1903.

Despite the discouraging reports emanating from, ertain districts, there are those within the limits of Salt Lake who propose keeping the schools open whether some of the parents do er not. To this end they are lending their best efforts and the success being met with is highly gratifying, indeed. Committees are at work in all parts of the city and all sorts of schemes are being devised looking to the accomplishment of the grand result. Even in districts of the grand result. Even in districts where the outlook was anything but bright new hope has sprung up and the predection is now made that not one school in the city will be required to close for lack of funds. The Commercial club is discuss-ing the raising of a general fund to be predict to schools within the poore applied to schools within the poorer districts, and it is thought that in this way all deficits will be met.

WILL PRINT A PAPER.

The students of the Bryant High school are hard at work on a proposi school are hard at work on a proposi-tion of their own to raise funds. They have concluded to publish a paper to be called "The East Side Push," the name being indicative of the energy put forth to bring about the desired result. There will be one issue of 3,000 copies and it will contain all the departments usually found in a big daily. All the matter will be prepared by the stu-dents, and the paper will be published the latter part of next week.

RUMMAGE SALE PROPOSED. At a special meeting of the P. E. O. society, held yesterday afternoon,it was decided to hold a rummage sale for the purpose of raising school funds. The sale will be held at 131 East Temple atreet, in the store of Spencer Clawsch, Saturday, May 2. Those in charge of the sale are anxious to have all who will donate anything in the form of clothing and household goods. These can be sent to the store Friday, May 1. for if they cannot be delivered they will be called for if the donors will tele-prone either 1627-X or 1310-K.

OUTLOOK AT THE LINCOLN. The Lincoln school committee held a meeting last night and reported having collected $417, out of the necessary $677. Inasmuch as only part of the district had been canvassed it was decided to try again, the ladies present signifying their willingness to assist further in the hope that the entire amount could be secured. Those present were Mesdames A. G. and Mary E. Giauque, Pardoe, Burton, Long and Woodburn and Messrs, Q. B. Nichois and Alex Buchanan, Jr. Another meeting will be held on Thursday night, at which time it is expected that the special committee will report its labors.

ELDER KIMBALL'S ADDRESS.

Hon. J. G. Kimball then addressed the sembled students. In reminiscent and numorous vein, the speaker referred to he days when he had courted granddaughter of Patriarch Smith, and expressed his satisfaction at the thought that not all of us are talkers. If we had been, there would have been no anals constructed, no railroads built no libraries founded. John S. was a worker; for 94 years he has worked steadily, without interruption till this day, and he is still working. He is a man of iron will, so keen in argu-ment that the speaker admitted his own willingness to quit in any ar gument with the Patriarch. Elde Elder mith was born in Worcestershire, Eng-dburn, Mrs. John Cowan and E. L. Carpenter, has issued a circular letter setting forth the condi tion there and asking patrons to sub-scribe liberally. The letter says:

"In response to a request for contri-butions to the fund of $2 for each child in attendance, 44 per cent of the parents have contributed, and thus the fund on hand has been obtained. It is hoped and believed the balance needed can be secured from the remaining 56 per cent, who, it appears, did not fully under-stand that the fund raised was to be used for the Wasatch school exclusive ly, or did not receive any notice of the vement. To such this appeal is particularly made. It is much to be regretted that the emergency exists, but it does exist, and we must deal with it. Not only our pride but the good of our children is involved, and we confidentially appeal to the residents of the district on these grounds. "Let it be understood that if we sue-ceed the school will be open to all the children, regardless of whether their parents subscribe or not. It is recognized that many parents may not feel able to subscribe, and to these no ap-peal is made. It is only to those who are able and willing that we address ourselves.

The committee hopes to have an early and hearly response, and if this is forthcoming, it agrees to see that any deficiency is made up and that any sur-plus is returned pro rata to subscribers. Mr. J. O. Cross, principal, is the treas-urer of the fund, and as we must know speedily the result of the movement you are urgently urged to promptly make payment of your subscription to him on or before Thursday, April 39, 1903

There will be a mass meeting at the Lowell schoolhouse this evening at 7:30, at which time the committee appointed will report its inbors. The sum of $1.660 is required for this school, $850 of which has already been subscribed. The committees are working hard and It is hored that success will crown their efforts in order that the school may be kept open. The Lowell is one of the largest schools in the city, hence the amount necessary to keep it open is perhaps greater than that needed in any other district land, March 10, 1809. He was married to Jane Waddley in 1838. In the year 1840, through the preaching of Prest Wilford Woodruff, he and his wife were baptized. In one year he came with his family to Nauvoo, became familiar with the Prophet and was a member of the Nauvoo legion. Brother John S. Smith cannot be considered an educated man, as we now speak of the higher education, yet there are no young men that have had the manual training that this good man has experienced. He has had to his hands to a thousand and one things and work them out. Like the Saviour, his Master, he has arned obedience through the things which he has suffered. He has an inlomitable will and cannot be tossed to and fro by every wind of doctrine, but knows the Shepherd's voice and a stranger he will not follow. Whenever the servants of the Lord speak he submits like a willing child.

If enterprises need assistance or tem-ples are to be dedicated, he is among he first to subscribe when approached by his brethren. This good man before you has with essed the fulfiliment of Proverbs, third hapter, 9-10 verses: "Honor the Lord with thy substance and with the first ruits of all their increase. So shall thy barns be filled with plen-

y, and thy presses shall burst out with Although he has never been a mission-ary to the world, he has remained at e and raised the wherewith to support them. His face is wrinkled and his hair is snowy white, but this change has been brought about in God's sunlight, among living things, and whether he has gray hair or feeble knees, with good sight he has always regarded them with gratitude

I will relate an incident to demonstrate his will power: At the time Prest. Wilford Woodruff announced in conference assembled that men hold-ng positions of honor in the Church, were to keep the Word of Wisdom, he said: "Perhaps some of you aged men think it will kill you. It so, go off and die." Brother Smith from that date has never violated the lecree of the Phopret.
