Lawsuit rumors and the fact that the mine is a little lean is the cause of Mammoth's decline this week. On Monday the stock was held at $2.18 with $2.10 bid. It has since weakened to $2.02, the lowest price at which the stock was traded in today. Grand Central is practically unchanged in spite of the posting of a dividend of $25,000. The stock stands at $5.35 today. Ontraio, for some reason, closes the week with $6 bid, a slight improve-ment over the price offered during the past few weeks. Hen Butler of Bingham is stronger this week owing to the fact that some ore has been exposed in a drift from the tunnel. Eagle and Blue Bell is not quite so strong today, while Rocco Homestake which opened at 65 on Monday has since advanced to Monday has since moved up to 9. Three mining companies distributed monthly dividends. The Sliver King of Park City handed out the sum of $75,-000, making a total of $825,000 paid by before Christmas, and regarding the size of the extra there is some speculation. Some claim the company will round out the year with the payment of an even $1,000,000. It involves the Wheeler claim located in 1889 and the Evening Star claim, which is owned by the Rabbit's Foot Mining company, and which over-Foot Mining company, and which overlaps the former. In making its application for patent on the Evening Starciaim the Rabbit's Foot company iscluded the point of discovery on the Wheeler claim. The sixty-day publication was printed without any protest being made by the owners of the Wheeler claim. Later on the Silver City company leased the Wheeler claim to Mark Lowry and others who wanted the company to file a protest against the Rabbit's Foot application for patent. When this was not done against the Rabbit's Foot application for patent. When this was not done Lowry contended that with the discovery point of the Wheeler taken in by the Evening Star, the rest of the Wheeler claim became open to the publice. Consequently, he and others relocated that part of the Wheeler claim not overlapped by the Evening Star and named it the Little Clarissa. UTAH CON. REPORT. The Boston Statist Gives it Quite a

Flattering Notice.

Refering to the report of the Utah Consolidated, Issued about a month ago, the Boston Statist says: The Utah Consolidated report is very explicit in detail, and gives stockholders all the laformation possible at this time as to what they may expect in the way of dividends after the new smelter is in

A striking feature of the report is that showing the phenominally high precious metal values. Over 15 per cent of the total income from the sale of product was received for gold and silver. The great United Verde mine, widely celebrated for its high percentages of pre-cious metals, derives only a fraction over nine per cent from such source.
The Utah report, however, does not make the precious metal values as high ns some friends of the property have estimated. The 73,321 tons of ore treat-er returned approximately $2.12 per ton in gold and silver, and 88% pourds, or about 4% per cent copper. The latter is better than most previous estimates. With copper selling at 17 cents the value contained in the average ton of ore would be about $15. If the Utah company can handle an average of 400 tons of $15-ore daily with its new smelter, and turn over forty per cent of the proceeds to profit, it will earn annually $1,800,000, or $6 per share

The Yankee Consolidated management paid last evening through Mr. E. W. Genter the sum of $3,000 in settlement of the May Day claims for ore extracted and sold from the May Day ground. This ends the dispute between the companies and it is presumed that the Yankee Consolidated will now start from a certain point in the tunnel within its own lines and drive to the point where it is expected that a part of the vein will be encountered on its dip as it passes into the Humbur claim. The May Day company secures in addition to the money about a car of ore already extracted. It was stated today that the Yankee Consolidated was as-sisted in the payment of this sum by said that it was not true. BUSINESS NOTES.

Brokers generally felt that there yould be an active movement in stocks would be an active movement in stocks immediately after the election, but the reverse seems to have been the case. The re-election of President McKinley had been so generally discounted by dealers, that stocks have made but little movement for the last several days. The sugar stocks, as usual, have shown the main activity, Utah Sugar having pushed up to the highest point yet known and Ogden keeping close along side. Both factories expect to stop running about December 1st. The Lehi factory has turned out 7,000,000 lbs. up to date. The Deseret National Bank has paid its regular quarterly dividend of 3 per cent, and Cunnington company have disbursed their quarterly payment of 2 per cent, and those stocks are now quoted ex-dividend. County Ticket Held Up With the Other-Result of the Vote Was a Surprise to Some.

There has been some question as to the returns from Spanish Fork, Utah county, because of the claim that certain candidates made special gains or incurred unusual losses from their party ticket. 'The "News" therefore gives the vote in detail. It shows that there was no great variation. The highest majority on the State tiket was 84 for W. H. King, and the lowest, J. W. N. Whitecotton, 61. The Democrats were successful throughout in that precinct, the one having the smallest majority being W. O. Creer, for the Legislature,

UTAH ART LEAGUE. Exhibition Opens at Logan on Monday November 12.

The Utah Art League opens its annual art exhibition in Logan on Monday, the indications promising a most successful affair. Great enthusiasm is manifest in the event in the northern metropolis, and with this general interest and the splendid examples of art that will be exhibited the occasion will outside art circles make an excellent exhibit, but others whose works are known to the local sight-seers will display some of the best specimens of their work. Mr. George Taggart, who has become recently well known through his ngtable portrafture of well known citi zens, has sent some of his best work to the exhibition, and Miss Mary Teasdel whose talent has received marked recognition abroad, will give the Logan public an opportunity to view some of the work which has helped to give Utah a creditable fame in the higher art in-stintutions of Paris. Other of our home artists contribute a notable collection of pictures and it is claimed that the ceramic lace work, and other lines of the finer arts will be exceptionally well represented.

The awards for prizes will be made late in the afternoon on Monday and in the evening the exhibition will open with a public reception, a speech by President H. L. A. Culmer and other interesting features being booked for the program. Salt Lake will await with interest the outcome of the second public exhibition of the Utah Art League.
