

TALK OF THE TOWN.

We are informed that the Lord Mayor of London was in the congregation at the Tabernacle to day.

Regular monthly meeting of the Seventies of the 21st Ward, on Monday night, at half past 7, at the meeting house.

We learn that Bishop Abraham Marchant, of Peck, Summit County, died at that place on the 6th, after an illness of one week.

The members of the 28th Quorum of Seventies are requested to meet in the Council House, to-morrow, Sunday, at 12:30 o'clock prompt.

We were pleased to receive a call to day from Bishop Daines, of Hyde Park, Cache Co. That place is in a gratifying condition of prosperity.

As a gubernatorial proclamation for the purpose of the 1891 election, it is seen that the legislature do not appear at the show, this evening, in that condition.

The exhibit of live stock in the Fair has been by far the finest ever seen in Utah. Great progress has been made in that department within the last few years.

The Millennial Star of Sep. 19th, states that a Conference will be held at Orson's Assembly Rooms, Commercial Road, London, to-morrow, Oct. 9th, President Carlington purposed being present.

It has been suggested, as a means of escape from late frosts, that sufficient number of bicycles be kept in readiness, at the gate leading to the wagon department, that the committee may be able to retreat in good order.

There will be a general conjoint meeting of the officers and members of the Young Men's and Young Ladies' Mutual Improvement Associations, in the Salt Lake Assembly Hall, at 7 o'clock this evening. Friends of the movement are cordially invited.

The Stockton papers mention a singular fact in connection with the recent boring of one of the artesian wells that supply that city with water. At a depth of 1,200 feet below the surface, the augers struck into a redwood log. How it came to be imbedded there, no one can tell.

Some excitement, amounting almost to consternation, was caused among the owners of elevators and water motors in the central part of town to-day, by the turning off of the water supply. The reason for it was the severing of a cap from a pipe leading from the main near this office.

Oyden Herold's yesterday, while hauling hay on the farm, a boy, son of W. R. R. Stowell, fell from the load between the horses' feet; the latter became frightened and ran away. The wheel of the wagon passed over the neck and body of the boy. No bones, however, were broken, but the boy is badly bruised.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Z. M. S. Zion's Musical Society will meet in the Council House on Monday evening next, at 7 o'clock.

A Special Prize.—The Studebaker Central Branch House, Salt Lake City, Mr. James B. Glass manager, has nominated as the recipients of his special prize of $25, the maker and owner of the cedar bookcase, made of native wood, $15, and of the inlaid woodwork, $10. The award is made with the sole object of encouraging local industry in these directions. Besides the bookcase, justly merit this generous recognition.

Lost Baggage.—Elizabeth Clayton, who came in with the September company of emigrants, lost a portion of her baggage consisting of a box addressed to Provo. Louisa Walker also lost an oil-cloth case, containing bedding and other articles. It was addressed to Payson. Any person knowing anything of the whereabouts of this property, will confer a favor by communicating with James Finlayson, of Payson, Utah.

To Keep Warm.—B. M. Carlisle, of Mill Creek, showed us some of his yearling calves, as sound and solid as Irishmen when they were placed from the fire. He attributes their preservation to his manner of keeping them. They were placed in kettles without water in each cage, so as to maintain a continuous draft all winter. No straw nor leaves must be mixed with the fruit. In the summer time the apples are placed in dry sand.

The Corps.—To-night the lovers of a real good domestic drama, will have the opportunity of seeing one. Of such is the "Willow Copie." It is a piece that appeals to the sympathies of the heart and awakens the deepest emotions. The more pathetic passages are relieved by more thrilling elements, which flash in upon the scene like gleams of sunshine on a cloudy day. It will be appreciated by the Dramatic Combination.

Token of Respect.—William Patten, who was accidentally killed while working on the Temple lot Monday, was held in universal esteem by his fellow workmen. Bro. Thomas Jones, the organist of the Tabernacle, interested us, this morning, that they so cherished his memory that they intended, at as early a day as practicable, to erect a granite monument over his grave. The rock will be of the same class as that of which the building is constructed.

From Tennessee.—Last evening we were called to receive a call from Elder Hyrum Belknap, who has just returned from a mission to the Southern States, on which he left Utah June 17th, 1889. He informed the whole of that time in Tennessee, over which conference he presided during the last summer. He attended 223 meetings, was several times threatened with violence at the hands of opposititionists, but never suffered any. He baptised 23 persons, and is very grateful for the experience he has gained. He was succeeded, in his position as President of the Tennessee Conference, by Elder B. H. Roberts, of Centerville. Elder Belknap is a young man, son of the Bishop of Hooper, Weber County.

Missionary Experience.

This morning we received a visit from Elder C. H. Bliss, of this city, who is just in from a mission to the Southern States. He left here for his field of labor on the 1st of July, 1879, and operated in the ministry in Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi.

Brother Bliss, for a young man, being not yet twenty-one years old, has had a somewhat rough missionary experience, having suffered somewhat from the abuse of mobocracy. The first ordeal of that nature he had to pass through occurred on the 4th of January, 1880, when he and Elder Van Natta were decoyed into an out of the way place, that they might fall into the hands of a mob in ambush. Brother Bliss had been shown the matter in a dream previously, in which it was manifested how the brethren could escape. By taking the course indicated the persecutors were baffled. The Elders had, however, to remain a large portion of the night in the woods, and walk forty miles after the rising of the moon.

In February, 1880, in Columbus, Mississippi, mobocracy placed a volatile substance in the meeting house, when Elder Bliss was preaching, that raised such a horrid odor, that the congregation had to disperse. At the same place a Dr. Richards had croton oil put in some water that was placed for Brother Bliss to drink. He unconsciously partook of it, but it did not affect him. The light was put out and he was followed to the hotel where he put up, by a large crowd. Since that time two of the mobocrats, Sharp and Hatch, quarrelled and shot each other dead, and another committed suicide by poisoning. Rev. Pickins, who was in sympathy with the persecutors, got it to some difficulty about a woman, whose husband shot and killed him.

At Buttacatchie River, Monroe Co., Miss., Elders Bliss and McLenahan were mobbed at the instigation of two men who had signified their intention of being baptized, but became bitterly opposed. One of them had been refused baptism, on the ground of his being an unfit subject for that ordinance. The door was closed against the ministrations of the brethren in that place, and they went to another locality and succeeded in opening up a good field. Elder Bliss baptized some, and assisted at the baptism of quite a number of others. One year of his mission was spent without a companion. He traveled over 5,000 miles on foot, and never lacked friends, food or clothing. He was released on the 4th of July, and spent the intervening time between that date and his return in obtaining an account of his genealogy, in Indiana and Illinois, in which he was quite successful.

New Editions.

We have just published 2,000 copies each of the Book of Mormon and Voice of Warning, and 5,000 Hymn Books; all of which, with the exception of 500 copies of the Book of Mormon printed with wide margins, are uniform with the last editions of these works. We have also printed ten thousand each of the tracts, "Daily True Gospel" and "Means of Escape," which will be supplied at our usual prices. —Mill Star, Sep. 19.

Police Court.

Last night a young man named Hunter knocked down two men in the saloon of Order & Patterson. He was fined $10 for the assault, to-day. One of the parties knocked down was charged with an attempt to use a pistol, but was discharged. He had the weapon in his hand, but did not, according to the evidence, attempt to do damage with it.

Primary Band.

The 18th Ward Primary Band will play this evening at the Fair. The smallest band drummer, Samuel C. Barrell, seven years of age, will receive a handsome silver medal at the hands of Mr. L. Trumbo. The two smallest snare drummers, eight years old, will receive a silver medal each. Jacob Held's is presented by Mr. Thos. W. Jennings, and Ernest Young's by a friend.

A Disastrous Fall.

The Ogden Herald tells of a serious accident in that town on Thursday evening, C. F. Deason, 21 years old, a carpenter, fell from a scaffold in the new building of Boyle & Co., a height of 28 feet. His right arm was broken above the wrist, his forehead was terribly bruised, his right eye badly injured, a number of his front teeth were broken out, and his body was otherwise badly shaken.

Benefit Concert.

The concert in the Fifteenth Ward Hall last evening was well attended but the large house was not as full as was anticipated and as the beneficiary deserved. Bro. Henry Giles is a fine musician, a worthy young man and does much public work in a good public spirit. The instrumental part of the entertainment, under Prof. Thomas, was superb. The vocal part was excellent, and altogether gave general satisfaction. A pleasant evening was spent, the concert was high-toned and contained nothing incompatible with the house in which it was given. We suggest that the benefit be repeated at a time when there are not so many other attractions to draw away the people.

Theatre.

The powerful dramatic play the Banker's Daughter was admirably presented at the Theatre last evening, by the Home Dramatic Club. This is a genuine treat for conference visitors, who have too often heretofore been served with old plays that were comparatively destitute of merit or novelty. It is not too much to say that it was admirably placed upon the boards, exceedingly well performed, and a prominent actor apparently striving to excel in the impersonation of the part assigned him. In a performance so creditable to the Club, it would be injudicious to particularize. The scenery, the dresses, the acting and the management, all deserve praise for the really powerful representation of this most marvellous play. The vast audience that filled the auditorium were moved to tears, and the thrilling situations were certainly improved to the utmost, if we may judge from the vigorous applause that occasionally shook the house.

Random Fair Notes.

The first chair made in Utah, the product of Levi Jackson's skill, calls forth many comments. It has the appearance of having been made with a Jack knife. It contrasts grimly with the splendid furniture exhibited by E. Dinwoody, which is in the advanced style of modern mechanism. White & Hopwood's brush display receives a good deal of attention. The articles are highly creditable.

Bear Lake leather is said to be the best ever produced in Utah. Mr. W. H. Rowe speaks very highly of it.

The ladies' department is so filled with beautiful articles, nearly all attractive, both in the region of ornamentation and utility, that to select and discriminate would be a perplexing process. The assortment of articles is really brilliant.

The insect collection of a lad named Sargent, 15 years old, in the insect department, is very attractive. The arrangement of the different species indicates considerable skill for one so young as he.

A lad named Jonathan Evans has shown a good deal of mechanical ability in the making of a model anvil, and different kinds of tools.
