WEATHER ITEM.

The highest point reached by the thermometer to-day was 86.
NANETTE, C. C. A. Christensen writes that the beautiful new meeting house at Brigham is now opened, the roof having just been completed. A great deal of work, however, is yet needed in the interior of the building before it can be said to be finished.

In a letter from Spring City, Mr. George through says: "General good health prevails; our crops, as a general thing, will be good, although there has been some lack of water, owing to the weather being unusually dry."

THE TWENTY-FOURTH IN THE SETTLEMENTS.—The anniversary of the entry of the Pioneers into the Valley was celebrated at Bonanza by the firing of cannon, music, singing, speeches, a dance for the children and a grand ball in the evening for the larger people.

Spring City.—A procession marched through the principal streets; a mass meeting at which there was the usual amount of speech making, singing, music, etc. Mori celebrated in fine style, the proceedings terminating in the evening with a display of fireworks and a grand ball.

OBITUARIES.—A large number of the relatives and friends of the family of Mr. Wm. Jennings assembled at his residence this morning to manifest their sympathy, and to participate in the funeral ceremonies of his infant son, whose death was recorded in yesterday's issue.

Appropriate remarks were made on the melancholy occasion by Elders Geo. Q. Cannon and John Sharp.

SNAIL-POX IN THE COTTONWOODS.—Dr. F. D. Benedict, who was recently appointed by the County Court of Salt Lake as quarantine physician for the County, returned yesterday from an official visit to the Cottonwoods. His reports that there are but two cases of snail-pox, one in Little Cottonwood and the other at Silver Fork. Big Cottonwood, as before reported. The doctor says that both are mild cases, the person afflicted with the malady at Silver Fork having been recently vaccinated, and caused it to assume a milder form, and the other individual was vaccinated when a child, and he has the disease so slight that he is not confined to bed.

Dr. Benedict says the excitement in the Cottonwoods with regard to snail-pox is much greater than there is any need for. The people there are generally being vaccinated, which he thinks a very wise proceeding, and one that it would be well for all to carry out who have not already undergone the operation.

Is It So?—There is a rumor in the city, and we have reason to believe it is authentic, that one of our lady residents, for some reason or other, has gifted a silver service worth $200; that the tickets were two dollars each, the thrower of the highest number with dice being the winner.

Rumor also says that Chief Justice McKean threw the highest number, and of course won the service. We wonder if this is true. We can easily believe that the lady in question adopted this means of procuring the full value of her property, and under the circumstances, she in all probability being entirely ignorant of the law of the city in relation to such transactions, her conduct can easily be excused. But a city ordinance expressly forbids all such transactions, classing them under the head of gambling. The ordinance to which we refer reads as follows:

"If any person keep a house, shop, or any other place resorted to for the purpose of gambling, or permit or suffer any person in any house, shop, or other place under his control or care, to play or gamble, dice, cards, or roulette, or other game for money or other things, such offender for each offense shall be liable to be fined not more than one hundred dollars, or imprisoned not exceeding six months, or both at the discretion of the court. In a prosecution under this section any person who has the charge of, or attendance on any such house, shop or place, may be deemed the keeper thereof, and any person renting out a house or place for the purpose of gambling, shall be liable to the penalties prescribed in this section."

"If any person play at any game of dice, cards or other games, of chance usually resorted to for gambling, for the purpose of gain, he shall be liable to be punished by fine, not exceeding one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or by both fine and imprisonment."

Now it is not to be supposed for one moment that the chief administrator and expounder of the law in Utah Territory could be ignorant of the existence of this ordinance, and we would ask the question, is it true that he has been guilty of violating it by shaking the dice box and becoming possessor of this valuable service? Galatry would regard this as an abundance of excuses for the lady who projected the raffia, but nothing save it be his well known leniency and tenderness to himself when his pecuniary interests are at stake, would excuse or justify the course of the Judge. If the rumor be true, the Chief Justice has placed himself in a very anomalous position, for he is manifestly liable to a prosecution for a violation of a city ordinance!

VISIT TO THE UTAH SOUTHERN.—A party of gentlemen and ladies started from the depot of the Utah Central Railroad at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon for the end of the track on the Utah Southern. There were in the party President B. Young, Vice-President of the U. S. R. R., Col. John Sharp, Vice-President of the Directors, Superintendent of the Utah Central Railroad, Agents, D. O. Calkins, Home, Geo. A. Smith, H. H. Wells, John Taylor, Secretary Geo. Swan, Gen. Clawson and Col. John W. Young. The company proceeded by rail to Little Cottonwood, over which stream bridge-builders were busily engaged in completing the trestle-work bridge, crossing long, across a piece of road, and this bridge was nearly completed; it was expected that trains would cross over it to-day, or to-morrow.

The work at this point is very farthest. There is a deep cut in the north bank, and a very heavy fill from the bank extending into the creek bottom to the commencement of the trestle-work. From the Little Cottonwood to Dry Creek the road is six miles long. This piece of road will be laid, it is expected, at the rate of a mile a day. At Dry Creek, which will be crossed above Bro. Milo Andrus' place, there is a heavy job of trestle-work to be built before the train can continue South; but a strong force will be put to work upon it, and it will soon be completed. After leaving the city and entering upon the Five Acres Lots, the Utah Southern runs on the road corresponding with West Temple Street in the city for upwards of six miles. This is a beautiful stretch of road, and has needed so little grading that many places the ties are laid on the natural sward. The entire road, so far as the ties and the rails are laid, is excellently built; probably not another road of the same length could be laid in the United States, so soon after being laid, in so good a condition for traffic. Men are constantly at work leveling up, straightening and ballasting the line, and when it shall be opened for freight and passengers the smoothness with which running will be done upon it will be satisfactory to travelers and be a means of saving time and money. At 1 o'clock the Utah Southern company remaining in Little Cottonwood, the President examining the work and making suggestions respecting the construction and any of the bridge; by that time the men working on the bridge had finished their day's work, and all returned to the city, the visitors much gratified with the trip, and indulging in the hope that at no distant day the cars will be running through the valleys to St. George.

CORONER'S INQUEST.—The following is the verdict of the Coroner's jury, at an inquest held on the case of the dead body of a man found dead on the State Road on the 25th:

We, the jury, having been duly empaneled and sworn by H. S. Beale, Coroner of Salt Lake County, to inquire into the cause of the death of a man found on the 25th inst., near the point of the mountain south, in Salt Lake County, name to the jury unknown, on examination of the body, as no mark of violence was discovered, and from the testimony before us, we, to the best of our knowledge, say the deceased came to his death from natural causes several days previous to being found.

JOHN CUTLER.
JAMES B. SMOLEY.
Salt Lake City, July 27, 1871.

The man was supposed to have been Jack Shelby, from American Fork, but the body was in such a condition as to be scarcely recognizable.

AN OUTRAGE.—There was a murderous outrage perpetrated upon a negro, about four o'clock this morning at the Revere House. At the above mentioned hour a woman entered his room before he got out of bed, and dashed vitriol or nitric acid in his face and attempted to pour it down his throat. The poor fellow was terribly burnt and disfigured. A few hours subsequently, Mrs. Knapp, who keeps a boarding house, on the west side of the City Hall block, was arrested on a charge of having committed the outrage, and was brought to the examination, before Judge Clinton this forenoon. Several witnesses were examined, whose testimony appeared conclusive as to her guilt, although she strenuously protested her innocence.

It appears that Mrs. Knapp is a former resident of some part of Wyoming Territory, where she kept a boarding house and had the negro in her employment; that he left her employment to come to this city, and that while he was there, she disfigured him in the manner above stated, and he left and engaged to work at the Revere House. She swore vengeance on him for leaving her, and it is believed she committed the outrage upon the poor fellow in execution of her threat.

The case was adjourned till to-morrow, $500 bonds being required, in the meantime, from the prisoner. Being unable to obtain bonds she remains under confinement in the city jail.

NEW REPORT.—The introduction of Soda Water and Sarsaparilla, by Day & Co., has done more in the way of Temperance Reform than all the other means that have been delivered in the country. The natural condition of man is thirsty, and it has long been an established fact that water will not quench thirst. If every one would sign the Pledge and drink nothing but this Sarsaparilla, much degradation, misery, shame and crime would be prevented in the world. If any one doubts the truth of our remarks let them try the first place they come to and step into it. It will vouch for itself. on 1709 1/2
