

WARM WELCOME GIVEN SECY. TAFT

Heartiest One Ever Extended by People of Shanghai to Foreign Statesman.

RECEPTION IS SIGNIFICANT.

Cordial Relations Emphasized—At Banquet Made a Speech Speaking As a Private Citizen.

Shanghai, Oct. 8.—Secretary of War William H. Taft and the members of his party arrived here today on the steamer Minnesota, which is conveying him from Japan to Manila. The Chinese and the foreign residents of Shanghai united in giving the distinguished visitor the heartiest welcome that ever has been extended to a foreign statesman.

This afternoon Mr. Taft dedicated the building of the Young Men's Christian Association. He made a brief address, in which he said that the work of the association among the Chinese was a great step in the interests of civilization, and he was followed by several Chinese officials, who spoke in approving terms of the undertaking. At 4 o'clock this afternoon the secretary was given an elaborate reception by the Chinese residents. The function was out of doors in a national garden. The decorations were most picturesque, and colored banners and a number of Chinese girls in flowing robes made the garden look like a fairyland. The promoters of the reception were prominent Chinese merchants, representing 45 of the guilds formerly in the boycott movement against American manufacturers. The change of sentiment today was marked. A number of prominent Chinese officials were present.

Speeches of welcome were made in English by local Chinese business men officials and the representatives of the clergy.

RELATIONS ARE CORDIAL.

The Chinese emphasized the cordial relations existing today between China and the United States, saying the friendship of America had been evidenced by sending relief to the famine-stricken, the support of schools and hospitals, and the waiver by the United States of her part of the Boxer indemnity. In reply Secy. Taft thanked the Chinese, for their reception, which he said gratified him as an evidence of their friendship toward the American people and government. At the conclusion of his address the secretary was presented with a handsome silver punch bowl.

This reception marked an epoch in the matter of the status of women in China, for today Chinese women of aristocratic families were present at the reception, and even presided at the table where refreshments were served. This is the first time such a thing has happened in China.

A SIGNIFICANT WELCOME.

The Chinese welcome to the American visitor was most significant, and the merchants and high officials present contrasted it with Mr. Taft's former visit to Shanghai and the days of the American boycott. The American residents gave a banquet in their honor this evening. At this entertainment the foreign consuls and a number of prominent foreign business men were present. It was in every respect the largest and most representative banquet ever given in Shanghai. In reply to an address of welcome Secy. Taft made a speech, which was listened to with deep interest. He referred to his remarks last evening, that he spoke as an American citizen, not as a representative of the government. He renewed his assurances that the United States had no intention of selling the Philippine Islands, saying that the country is in honor bound to retain them, or give the Philippines their independence. He praised the island and their inhabitants, and then turned his attention to the open door in China. He declared that America's trade was now second in China, and that certain branches of this trade were sufficiently important to make it incumbent upon the American government to listen to the protest of every legitimate business man against diminution of our injury to this business, or political preference for any competitor.

LOSS OF TRADE QUESTION.

"We do not complain," the secretary continued, "of loss of trade that results from the employment of greater enterprise, ingenuity or attention to the demands of the Chinese government or the greater business acumen shown by our competitors. We would have the right to protest at being excluded from the trade of China by reason of our insistence upon the policy of the open door."

The acquiescence in this policy of all the nations interested has been so emphatic that it is hardly worth while to speculate upon the probable action of the United States in case the interests of American merchants were placed in jeopardy. So far the United States would go to the protection of its Chinese trade I cannot say. It is clear, however, that our merchants are being roused to the importance of the Chinese export trade, and they would view with deep concern any and all political obstacles to its maintenance and expansion. This feeling is likely to find expression in the action of the American government.

LACK OF BUSINESSSENSE.

American manufacturers today do not take the trouble to pack their goods properly or send them out in the size desired by the Chinese, but this self-heeled packing of the goods is discrediting heavily, and our merchants are becoming aroused to the importance of this trade which has grown without government encouragement and which has a sure future. There is no reason to complain of this governmental indifference. The United

LAND FRAUD CASES.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 8.—Attorneys for the government in the land fraud cases announced today that the two trials now under way before Hon. J. H. Scheidt and W. R. Johnson, and stated that the indictments against these two would be dropped. An intimation was given that the same course would be taken with C. E. Carter and C. E. Carrington.

The trial of Carrington was then interrupted by the government to examine affidavits of the passenger and carmen against the defendant stockholders of the Wisconsin Coal Mining company within three years of the finding of the indictment charging them with conspiracy to defraud the government out of valuable coal lands. This testimony is necessary to meet the requirements of the claims of indictment.

MO. PACIFIC TRACKS UNSAFE.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 8.—Railway Commissioner Williams, after a inspection of the Missouri Pacific tracks in Nebraska, has pronounced the roadbed unsafe. He urges that passenger trains be restricted to a speed of 21 miles an hour and freight trains 26, and heavy freight trains to 15 miles.

EVOLUTION OF STANDARD OIL CO.

Kellogg Places on Record its Processes and Stages it Passed Through.

AN ILLEGAL CORPORATION.

Government Attorney Thinks He Can Establish That as a Fact—Detail Statement of Profits for Years.

New York, Oct. 8.—From statements culled from ledgers and books found in the offices of the Standard Oil company, Frank B. Kellogg, counsel for the United States government succeeded in placing on today's record of federal proceedings against the oil combine the processes and stages through which the combine passed in its changes from the Standard Oil trust to the present Standard Oil company of New Jersey. Out of this mass of legal documents, the government's evidence in the administrative reform, the development of the resources of China, and the improvement of the welfare of the people.

"To do this will add to China's strength and position as a self-respecting government and aid her in preparing to resist possible foreign aggression. The Chinese should be given an adequate reception by the Chinese residents. The function was out of doors in a national garden. The decorations were most picturesque, and colored banners and a number of Chinese girls in flowing robes made the garden look like a fairyland. The promoters of the reception were prominent Chinese merchants, representing 45 of the guilds formerly in the boycott movement against American manufacturers. The change of sentiment today was marked. A number of prominent Chinese officials were present.

EFFECTS OF GOLD STANDARD.

Continuing, the secretary said that the gold standard for China would respond to the strength of the empire and the influence of China for the Chinese need not frighten any man.

He said the Chinese should devote their energies to the development of the country's resources, the elevation of the people, the enlargement of the trade and administrative reform, and that the changes would increase America's trade.

Radical and sudden reforms, he desired, to be avoided, saying these movements gradually.

Every improvement aimed at has the deep sympathy of America. There is no jealousy to fear on account of China's development from the United States, but this progress must be directed always along the lines of peaceful growth, the maintenance of law and order, and the proper observance of the eight principles.

"China has no territory we desire."

Mr. Taft went on: "and she can have no prosperity that we will begrudge, nor will we resent any degree of political power or independence as an empire that is justly exercised."

IMPROVED RELATIONS.

It is pleasant to note the improvement in our relations with China that have resulted from the efforts made by President Roosevelt. The harshness in the administration of our immigration laws has been mitigated without impairing their efficiency, and the boycott, which resulted in more or less ill feeling and injured China as much as it did us, is now a thing of the past.

We are evidence of our desire to do full justice to China by the return of our share of the Boxer indemnity.

In that case we did only what should have been done, but this nice sense of international obligation is not so universal that our act may not properly increase the friendly feelings between China and the United States."

OUR CONSULAR SERVICE.

The secretary then referred to the American consul general, and the merchants and high officials present contrasted it with the recent reforms and spoke of the work done by J. Linn Rodgers, the former consul-general, and Charles Denby, the present consul-general.

He praised the work of the United States court here and the action taken by L. R. Willey, judge of the court, in having secured the disbarment of certain undesirable members of the Shanghai bar. He declared that Judge Willey had made the flag stand for law and order and decency, and that the court dispensed exact justice in all important cases arising between Americans and Chinese.

In conclusion Secy. Taft said it was incumbent upon the United States to expend a larger sum to house the court and the American consulate in a more dignified manner, thus giving evidence of its appreciation of the importance of its business and political relations with the Chinese empire.

There is no doubt that the secretary's visit to Shanghai will increase the cordial relations between China and the United States and add to the prestige of America in the Orient.

ARRESTED AS ACCOMPLICE TO BROWN MURDER.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 8.—A long distance telephone message to the Standard Oil Company of Granite, Or., stated that Frank Tucker was arrested there today on suspicion of being an accomplice to the murder of K. Brown at Baker City. Tucker made a statement while under the influence of liquor and this caused his being taken into custody.

He stated that he was at the sight of the explosion; that he knew the names of the men who exploded the bomb, though he refuses to say who they are. He said the bomb was made of nitro-salicylic and white pine sawdust and that it was set off by a wire. Tucker says he was within 40 yards of the bomb when it was set off. He says that the other two men are on their way to Cheyenne, Wyo. Tucker claims to have worked in mines in Butte and Colorado and says he is a member of the Western Federation of Miners and says he has a brother who lives in Sico, Or. To this brother he sent a telephone message tonight saying he is in serious trouble.

Tucker declared that after the explosion he ran toward the scene. He came to Austin the next day where he worked for four days and then walked to Granite, arriving yesterday. Tucker is about 30 years old, fair complexion and stands about a foot 7 inches. He was dressed in rough clothes and wore shoes that are not moccasins. Sheriff Rand of Baker county has instructed the local officers to bring the man to Sumpter and turn him over to the county authorities.
