REIGN OF ANARCHY.

Bloodshed, Arson and Destruction of Property.

THE SANGUINARY WORK OF A MOB.

Several Hundred Foreigners Spread Terror and Ruin in the Mansfield Coal Region.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 27.—A wave of anarchy, to whose train followed bloodshed, death and destruction of property, passed over the Mansfield coal region today. It began at dawn and at dusk it was estimated that $500,000 worth of property had been destroyed.

Maddened by fancied grievances and spurred on by the counsel of several hundred foreigners, Hungarians, Slavs and Italians, swept over the country surrounding Mansfield and through the valleys of Pease and Painter's Run, attacked the mine owners, others and the few scattered deputy sheriffs, wrecked cars and destroyed railroad property.

Until noon the mob met hardly any resistance. It reached the mines of Snelling Brothers, near Federal, on the Pittsburg, Chartiers & Youghiogeny Railroad. Here the miners met a determined resistance and were checked. With repeating and Winchester rifles, Thomas F. Williams and Harry Snelling stood their ground and opened fire upon the mob. They fired their volleys in quick succession, fatally wounding one and injuring half a dozen others.

At this moment a train bearing Sheriff Richards and forty deputies pulled into Snelling, and the officers started in pursuit of the rioters. Bring to they ran. The chase was a long and hot one, but finally sixteen were overtaken and captured. They were marched to the Mansfield jail at the point of revolvers. As a matter of precaution the prisoners were brought to this city and are now safely lodged in the county jail. They will be held for trial and arson.

FEARS OF ANOTHER OUTBREAK.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 28.—Fears are entertained of another outbreak tomorrow in the Mansfield coal region, and the militia are preparing to meet it. It is reported the foreigners are preparing to attack the works at Dodgeville, Stockdale and Bentleyville. They are under the leadership of Frank Sedalsky. Sedalsky died today from his wounds. A hundred armed deputies are now on guard in the region, and the number will be doubled tomorrow. On River Hill alone at least a hundred families of Hungarians, Slavs and Italians, whose children attend the Italian street school, under the direction of Professor Lucchesi, of Madison, Wis., are entered as anti-Catholic priest.

Alleged Bank Frauds.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 27.—The grand jury here has been investigating a deliberate scheme to defraud the bank at Commerce out of $60,000. Indictments have been returned against C. H. Bemis and one of his sons, both of the lumber firm of J. H. Bemis & Co., Jefferson, Tex. The fraud, which was caught loose in several of the commercial centers of the United States, was brought to light by the Kansas City ramifications. Its extent, so far as traced, is between $150,000 and $200,000, with all claims not yet ascertained.

WHAT J. H. BEMIS SAYS.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 28.—J. H. Bemis, indicted at Kansas City in connection with the alleged swindle of banks by means of time drafts, says there is a misapprehension in the Associated Press, in which he says the statements sent from Kansas City last night are largely false and misleading. Bemis says in fact a settlement was made, whereby the bank received full payment of the indebtedness claimed against him, in which he was liable, and the bank agreed to deliver all claims. After receiving the consideration the bank officials refused to carry out the agreement. Bemis says at the time the paper was discounted there was no reason to doubt the solvency of the makers and no misrepresentations were made by him or others.

Finances of the Railroads.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—A preliminary report on the railways of the United States for the year ending June 30, 1893, is published by the interstate commerce commission. It includes reports of 679 companies and the operation of 141,403 miles of road. The gross earnings were $1,085,000,000; operating expenses, $755,000,000; net earnings, $330,000,000, about 31 per cent on the outstanding; increase in gross earnings per mile over the previous year, $200; increase in operating expenses, $158, resulting in a decrease in net earnings of $.60 per mile. The increase in net earnings over 1892 was $3,774,000; increase in dividends, $7,800,000.

A Disastrous Fire.

BATH, Me., Jan. 28.—One of the most disastrous fires in the history of the city broke out today in the Sagadahoc House stables. A large part of the business portion of the city was gutted, about twenty buildings being destroyed. The fire spread so rapidly that the department was unable to cope with it. Calls for assistance sent to Portland and Lewiston brought steamers, and two hand engines were brought from Brunswick. The fire is communicated to the hotel from the stables, and the house was quickly ablaze. The adjoining buildings were soon in flames, and before controlled, $100,000 worth of property was destroyed.

A Reported Assignment.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 28.—As ex-Governor Campbell's paper has gone to press repeatedly here and at his old home in Hamilton, as well as in Columbus and in the East, the report of his assignment creates no surprise in this city. It is impossible to confirm the report here or at Hamilton. It is well known that Senator Brice and John H. McLean of the Cincinnati Enquirer are among Campbell's creditors, and that he has had political as well as other differences with both.

TOLEDO, Jan. 28.—A commercial special from Columbus says: Ex-Governor Campbell's friends have stated that he will be an active candidate for governor in 1895, with a view of securing the Presidential nomination in 1896. It is claimed by these friends that the machinery of the administration is behind the movement and the fact that Campbell has dictated all Federal appointments in Ohio is quoted in support of this claim.

The Skating Record Broken.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 27.—John S. Johnson, champion ice skater of America, broke the world's mile record of 3:22 by skating a mile here in 3:19 3-5 with a flying start.

Asking for Interest Money.

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 27.—Receiver Trumbull of the Gulf Road today filed a lengthy petition in the United States court, asking Judge Hallett to order the receivers of the Union Pacific to pay over the 5 per cent interest to Denver Gulf, as the bonds issued by all thirteen roads of the Gulf division. The total amount will be $31,321,000.

Valuable Ore.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., Jan. 27.—John Herman, who sold a third interest in the Four Mile mine to H. R. Devereux a few days ago, for $20,000, has found on the Dead Shot claim, an extension of the Mary Nevin vein, on which assays 3,985 ounces of gold and 1,920 ounces of silver to the ton, making it worth $18,000 per ton.

Zelia Nicolson.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—The Press this morning says: Mrs. Zelia Nicolson, who commenced a suit against George J. Gould for $40,000, arrived in town on La Bourgogne. Her affairs in Europe will wear with the same secrecy as her departure.

E. P. WAGER.

Judge Dundy Orders a Reduction of About Ten Per Cent.

OMAHA, Jan. 28.—Union Pacific labor circles were stirred to their utmost depths today when an order of Judge Dundy, reducing wages on the system, was made public. All the employes of every department are affected by the cut, which amounts in most to 10 per cent. Judge Dundy not only sustained the men from striking, but cut their pay and ordered them to work on at the reduced pay. By the proposed schedule of wages paid the engineers, firemen, hostlers and wipers will be reduced $3.100 cents per mile and in Nebraska no trainmen the cut is $3 to to $15 per month, the conductors suffering the least and the trainmen most.

A FOREIGN NEWS BUDGET.

Turbulent Scene in the French Chamber of Deputies.

Leo XIII Greeted by Thousands—Prospects of Peace in Brazil. Trouble in Nicaragua.

PARIS, 27.—There was a turbulent scene in the chamber today, and the sitting was finally suspended by the president. Clovis Hugues interpellated the government on the recent arrests of anarchists, and reproached the government with the persecution as a pretext for suppressing the socialists.

Raynal, minister of the interior, replied that the government only applied the laws passed by the deputies. It was difficult to distinguish between socialists and anarchists.

Then followed a scene that has rarely if ever been equalled in the chamber. Men cursed and swore at each other, and struck their fists beneath each other's noses. Several branches of the peace secured, and nine parliamentary deputy went so far as to challenge a fellow member to decide their differences by recourse to le savate.

M. Thivrien, the socialist "Workman's Deputy," who has already made himself notorious by wearing a blouse in the chamber, became so excited that he threw his cap in the air and shouted "Vive la Commune," and a number of communards exclamations, which entitles him to censure and expulsion from the chamber.

President Dupuy thereupon invited the excited deputy to withdraw his expressions. M. Thivrien refused to do so, in the most violent language, and finally repeated the objectionable words several times, and in addition making an offensive gesture towards the president. This caused the president to firmly request the deputy to leave the chamber.

Then followed another scene of extreme disorder, all the socialists rising in their seats, gesticulating violently and uttering all kinds of insulting remarks. The socialists then formed a circle around M. Thivrien, who hurled defiance at the president, positively refusing to obey the order to leave the chamber.

M. Dupuy then had nothing left for to suspend the sitting, and he so ordered, and also issued orders that the chamber be cleared for the asbarti. But M. Thivrien, with thirty socialistic friends, continued his defiant attitude towards the president and positively refused to obey the askari, who asked them to vacate their seats and leave the chamber.

The president then instructed one of the officers on duty in the chamber to call the colonel in command of the guard stationed at the Palais Bourbon. Accordingly the guard entered the chamber at the head of the lieutenant of sharpers and invited M. Thivrien to obey the orders of the president to leave the chamber, but M. Thivrien still declined to vacate his seat, which caused the colonel to remark that if he persisted in his refusal he would order him removed by force. The officer then called upon a file of soldiers to surround M. Thivrien, and he was upon the point of having him removed by force when the excited deputy rose and slowly moved towards the door, crying "Vive la Commune."

M. Thivrien is excluded for the chamber for a fortnight, and, in addition, will be deprived of half of his salary.

The Pope Given a Reception.

ROME, Jan. 28.—The Pope gave a reception today in St. Peter's to the clergy and Catholic laity of the city. After making brief remarks in the morning, the pope listened to an address by the senior parish priest of Rome. The pope spoke a few words, after which a papal allocution was read.

Twelve thousand people were present and greeted the pope with prolonged cheering. Leo XIII. looked well, except that he was a little paler than usual. He did not appear fatigued, although the ceremonies lasted two hours and a half.

Negotiations for Peace.

BUENOS AYRES, Jan. 27.—[Copyrighted by the Associated Press.]—It is reported that at the close of an interview between Da Gama and Admiral Benham, the latter gave assurance that he would ask from Washington the necessary authority to act as mediator. Benham communicated Da Gama's request to Peixoto, who expressed a willingness to produce the effects Wardle peace.

Nicaragua in Trouble.

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—A dispatch from Washington: A dispatch received from secretary Herbert today from the United States minister to Nicaragua reports serious trouble in that country, and as a result the confidence between President and Herbert, the Rear Admiral Stanton was ordered by cable to proceed immediately to the United States steamer Kearsarge from Port-au-Prince, Haiti, to Greytown, Nicaragua. It is intended that the Kearsarge may exchange the Nicaragua canal, but no confirmation of this can be obtained.

Petitioning an Appeal for Money.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—John Redmond, commenting on Edward Blake's appeal to America in behalf of the victims of eviction, said it was open to criticism, when Blake's party could, if harmonious, get £50,000 out of the Parnell funds without legal obstacles being taken.

THE MURRAY OPERA HOUSE.

The Initial Performance On Saturday Night a Success in Every Way.

Messrs. Cahoon and Haynes must have felt proud of the attendance at the opening of their new Opera House at Murray, on Saturday evening, where about six hundred persons assembled to witness the initial performance given there. The hall is designed for dancing as well as theatrical performances, and the stage is admirably adapted for the latter purpose. The scenery is entirely new and the light for the entire place is furnished by electricity. The body of the hall is finished in white, the mouldings being of Eastlake pattern with stained wainscows, and is illuminated by four elegant chandeliers and ten three-light wall bracket globes. The main body of the hall is level, while on the south side is a slightly raised platform, where the reserved seats are. Two windows are of stained glass. The acoustic properties of the hall are admirable, but those sitting in the rear are placed at slight disadvantage in seeing the stage. The drop curtain was painted by Mr. Lafayette, and represents a scene in Arizona.

The glorious presented on Saturday evening was the sterling and inspiring drama, The Chimney Corner, and the very amusing afterpiece Mistaken Identity, which in the hands of such old timers as Paul Margetts, J. L. Evans and Harry Hussey in the leading roles, supported by Messrs. E. H. Parry, Jas. St. Bolton, John James, —— Smith, and Misses Elsie Shaw, Ruth Jones and Lydia Snow-Carter, gave unbounded satisfaction to the large audience, a considerable proportion of whom went down from Salt Lake City.

The new "Mayghel Schneider Burry," a German dialect piece given by Mr. L. H. Parry as an ole, was splendidly received.

The people of Murray and vicinity are to be congratulated on the completion and opening of this new piece of amusement, which is another to the credit of the buildings turned down about a year ago.

MISS MARTHA HUNT, 245 N. 5th West St.

The above portrait is that of Miss Martha Hunt. Miss Hunt is thirteen years of age and has suffered from catarrh since she was 3 months old. Her condition before treatment is better given in her own words. She says:

"As early as I can remember I have had catarrh. My nose would scab up first on one side then the other, causing pains in the head, a continual hawking and spitting, caused by the mucus dropping from the head into the throat; this kept me from sleeping at night.

"Hearing and ringing noises in the ears, in fact my head seemed always full, as though it were going to burst.

"My sense were disturbed by horrible dreams, and it was impossible for me to get more than four hours sleep, then in the morning, upon arising, I seemed tired and worn out.

"I lost my appetite, and what I ate set seemed to distress me, lying heavily on my stomach.

"This was my condition when beginning treatment with Drs. Sharer & Sharer, and ever since the first treatment I began to improve.

"I can now state that after a thorough examination and systematic treatment, such as is only given by Drs. Sharer & Sharer, I am almost entirely cured.

"I have no more headaches, no roaring noises in the ears, no more hawking and spitting. I hear well, and my appetite is perfect, in fact I am very I am well, and I heartily recommend the treatment given by Drs. Sharer & Sharer."
