Surfeit of Amusement Characterizes The Holiday Season.

pecial Correspondence. Franklin, Onelda Co., Ida., Jan. 5 .-On New Year's eve the young folks of Franklin had a masquerade ball, which was a success, socially and financially. We have had lots of dancing during the holidays, more than was probably good for many. On Saturday night we had a little change in our amusements, the Weston Diamatic company very creditably presented at the Opera house, a good play entitled "Lost and Won." The players are above the average for amateurs, all are young men and women with but the exception, born and raised in Weston. As we have had a surfeit of amusement lately they did not receive the support they merited.

FOLLOWED THE WRONG COFFIN.

A strange incident occured recently at a Paris funeral. A service was being held at three fu-nerals together at the Belleville church. After the service one of the funerals supposed to be that of a local publican, accompanied by some 50 mourners, pro-ceeded to Poutin cemetery, where it was discovered that a mistake had been made. The mourners had followed the wrong coffin.

which was found to be that of the publican. The mourners following the sec-ond coffin were those belonging to the first funeral. The position was hastily explained by the men of the funeral administration, and the mourners changed places at the respective graves.-Paris Correspond-ence London Express.

San Diego, Jan. 7 .- When the Tingloy-Times trial opened this morning Judge Torrence said to the plaintiff's attorneys that too much time was be-ing consumed by the immaterial por-tions of the rebuttal testimony and in order to save time suggested that it b curtailed. Mr. Kellogg of Mrs. Tingley's counsel, enumerated a number of points upon which the plaintiff desired to introduce rebuttal testimony and Mrs. Louise E. Kramer, who has charge of the kitchen and commissary depart-ment at Point Loma, was called. Mrs. Kramer testified that the children were
