THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

The withdrawal of the long administered bill which has been before the Legislature, will perhaps settle, for the present, the dispute over the election of school boards and city school superintendents at general elections. But it will not dispose of the question by any means. While the present disposition is unsatisfactory to most influences in control of school affairs and to a majority of parents and expressed to keep one particular class of persons out of participation in school management and teaching, there will be trouble and the only way to settle it will be in the manner proposed by the Legislature.

We repeat, the difficulty complained of did not commence with "Mormon" trustees or "Mormon" teachers. It began with vice and bad school schedules. Those interested in success, but appeared in public, to effect their purposes of exclusion. The means adopted to accomplish this are well known, and it is beyond dispute that they included the aid of school teachers. Both by money and votes, and some of the latter illegally, at least in nominating conventions. Thus the introduction of politics and sectarian influences in the schools themselves.

There should be no occasion to sound this warning. This, but just now there is a desire on the part of many in some of our assemblies to men who have the right to speak, and more influence need be given to their cause, so that the young and more inexperienced need be on their guard. The school board will be made to bear the brunt of the fight.

Sacred information is to be obtained of reliable men to enable places of meeting. For those who are desirous of moving off to new localities. There is no need of relying on the avowed dispositions furnished by people interested in dispersing or robbing real estate at its maximum value.

THE CHINESE CRISIS.

M. L. Bowditch's suggestion of a new country of the integrity of the Chinese empire to be opened up, there will be no time to lose. The deterioration is going on, and after a while only fragments will remain.

Agileous says he paid Chinese 250 to complete his tour over Manchuria, under the pretense of having some ports and treat British interests. Admitted. But the result of the tour, to the great disappointment and discouragement of the Chinese telegraph.

The Argentine wheat crop, reported to have been injured by heavy rains, is found to be all right, as that a becomes empty of breakasts, will come from that quarter of the globe this year.

Britain is succumbing to a revolution and France has just about succeeded in supressing one. That they may go to attack the whirling program in South American republics, perhaps to launch an invasion within a couple of weeks.

This patriotic effort will soon lose its historical fascination. Another traveler, H. Smith, a Frenchman, has passed through the country after numerous hairbreadth escapes. Now that the half-must is assured, the breach may be easily widened by adventurous travelers, till the journey is reasonably safe.

From all this it appears that the crisis with China is no longer a question of the future. According to the latest advice it is expected that within two weeks will be definitely known, whether Great Britain is as intent further as the inhabitants of the Chinese empire and the West do not know. The object is to be recovered, if a reversal or to be decided, as seems most likely at the present time, the dissolution of the Mongolian empire will proceed. The sudden withdrawal of Germany from the Philippines, and the deterioration of friendship for the United States may give an easy explanation in the Chinese situation.

The naked fact seems to be that the Chinese government does not want to let the nation become a colony of foreign institutions of learning, which he founded and which compare favorably with other establishments of the kind in any part of the country.

The sectarian and political opposition, as we have said, comes from anti-"Mormon" sources, and will have to be suppressed before this question can be settled. And the opposition to elect our school boards and city superintendents at the general elections was never a true one, but one not preventing others disputing which have caused our school elections, scandals.

The election of county and State superintendents of schools has worked so evil; it has not introduced purity into the schools; it has not induced them with any sectarian influences. It has worked well in every instance. It has not excluded the consideration of fitness, but it has impeded with points of sectarianism.

It is reasonable to suppose, that the election of city superintendents, will also be without one of the sectarian consequences, ushered in by those who would be anxious persons of a group from participating in the regulation of public affairs. That point has never been met in the rule that has been made in opposition to a very simple rule.

GENERAL OTIS.

Coch. Chas. A. Woodruff, contractor for the New York Independent, an interesting sketch of the career of the soldier now at the head of the military forces in the Philippines.

General Hugh Stephen Otis assumed as a soldier, and is now entering the reputation of being a thoughtful and strict administrator.

The one man in the army who knows his vigilance and his ability to prevent every emergency, sitting Hull, he was a master of Indian strategy, hence superior to the forces under him.

According to the recent Otis' record the service of his country in Asia as captain of the Tech New York infantry.

He became a lieutenant colonel the following year, and became a major 1861. Then he became the regular army and became a colonel of the Twenty-eighth Infantry in 1868, 2004 brigadier general in 1872. He was often decorated for gallant conduct, once distinguished by a勇敢的。 At the battle of Chapar House in the Virginia campaign.

General Otis' fight with Rutherford B. Hayes resulted in the capture of the Indians from Glendale creek, Montana, where Otis was stationed, in Tongue river. Otis was in command of an company of the Twenty-second Infantry.

When Captain H. G. Moore, an engineer, second, who became 12 of the regiment, returned to Glendale, Montana, from which he had just set sail with the intention of escorting a train of mule-train wagons and remonstrating to the Indians that had been harassing Indians and to Indian tribes, and to Indians, who had been trying to interfere with their property for worthless wages.

The writer states that during a trip

DESERET EVENING NEWS: WEDNESDAY, MARCH 8, 1889.

in California he had to stop over at San Pedro, and while there saw several Indians who informed him they expected to receive thousands of acres of land in Utah in trade for land in California. He soon found one of them of their demands that almost made his heart sick. It was a poor woman who related her experience. She had lived in the mountains of the Colorado River, and her husband had owned 100 acres, well cultivated and stocked and free from encroachments. Then a band of soldiers came along killing them of the Indians, opportunities of the western state. At length they were induced to sell that home and travel in the protective measure. They had been sold that a small mortgage attached to the house, but this was particularly heavy and was not paid. The Indians had no home, and were compelled to pay the interest on that "mortgaged" debt, and finally the property was taken from them to satisfy the creditor. She was living in a room with a son, mother, and some small children, scattered out of their comfortable home in Kansas. And the word of it, it was not the only victim. There were others with a similar story and experience of the like in California itself, but for this it would be hard to say who makes friends very slowly but he sees them passing away. It is believed that the Indians will soon learn that the words of General Otis are to be taken ague, for he does not much much, but what he says he means.
