EXPRESS HELD UP.

An Outlaw and a Passenger Killed on the Train.

FIREMAN MORTALLY WOUNDED.

Indications that the Robbers Intended to Escape on Engines.

SACRAMENTO, March 30.—The northbound express was held up by two men about 2 o'clock this morning at Wheatland about 2 miles north of Wheatland station. The express messenger was killed and the fireman mortally wounded. The express car was robbed of a safe containing a large amount of money. The robbers escaped on the engine and uncoupled the express car from the train, and with another engine backed it down the track about a mile and a half, when they were compelled to abandon the express car on account of the approach of a train. The express car was then pushed back to the train and coupled on. The engineer then pulled out for Sacramento, and it is said the robbers were left behind. The express messenger was killed and the fireman mortally wounded. The express car was then pushed back to the train and coupled on.
