

CONFERENCE OF SALT LAKE STAKE

Morning Session Devoted To
"Flower and Pioneer Festival."

DECORATIONS WERE PROFUSE

Elder Whitney of Quorum of Twelve
Discourses Aply Upon Familiar
Hymn—Evening Session.

The quarterly conference of the Salt Lake stake was held yesterday, there being, as usual, three sessions. The first of these occurred at 10 o'clock in the tabernacle, and was under the direction of the stake superintendency of Sunday schools, the exercises being designated as "Flower and Pioneer Festival." For the occasion, the gallery had been decorated by the stake Sunday school board with white bunting, trimmed with festoons of asparagus sprays and artificial sunflowers. Green vines twined around the columns under the gallery, and in front of the organ was a painting of Brigham Young, in whose memory the program had, in part, been prepared. Above the picture, the Stars and Stripes, the folds of the flag fluttering in a breeze produced by electric fans.

On the stand were jars of sage lilies and other wild flowers gathered from the hillsides. The main floor of the building, except the part under the gallery, was filled with Sunday school officers and children. On seats near the stand sat descendants of President Brigham Young. The general public occupied the galleries. The choir seats were used by the schools from the Fifth and Sixteenth wards. A beautiful sight was that presented by the young women and girls of the Fourteenth ward, who wore garlands of flowers entwined in their hair.

On the general authorities of the Church, there were seated on the stand President John R. Winder and Elder Orson F. Whitney, of the quorum of apostles. Before the exercises began, little girls passed about, pinning roses on the coats of those on the stand.

MORNING PROGRAM.

The following program was rendered: Singing, by the combined Sunday schools, under the leadership of Samuel D. Winter. "For the strength of the hills we bless Thee." Prayer was offered by Elder Orson F. Whitney. Singing, "The world is full of beauty, when the heart is full of love."

A greeting from the stake board was extended by Elder Osborne J. P. Wilder. He spoke of the great debt of gratitude which the stake owes to Brigham Young and the pioneers for their courage and devotion in founding and building up this commonwealth.

A solo, "Roses," was rendered by Miss Gladys Williams, assisted by the Sixteenth ward choir.

The remainder of the program was as follows:

- Brigham Young on "Our Flag," Twenty-eighth ward Sunday school.
- Organ solo, "Love at Home," John J. McClellan.
- Twenty-third Psalm, combined schools, under the leadership of Elder Alfred C. Rees.
- "Chant, 'The Lord's Prayer,' Nineteenth ward Sunday school.
- Reminiscences of incidents in the life of Brigham Young, by his daughter, Susan Young Gates.
- Pioneer Ode, Fifteenth ward Sunday school.
- Brigham Young on "Amusements," Fourteenth ward Sunday school.
- Song, "Bethlehem," Twenty-ninth ward Sunday school.
- Brigham Young on "The Mormon Creed," Twenty-second ward Sunday school.
- Solo, "A Mormon Boy," by Horace S. Ensign, the schools joining in the chorus.

PRESIDENT WINDER.

President John R. Winder told of the energy and fixed purpose evinced by Brigham Young in the early days of the settlement, when, in the desert, through an almost incessant working, the great leader always scrupulously observed the Sabbath, setting it apart for devotion to God.

Elder Stephen Richards, of the general Sunday school board, commended the schools on their excellent work and for the artistic decorations in the building.

Singing, "The Joy and the Song." The benediction was pronounced by Elder George R. Emery.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Elder O. F. Whitney Discourses on Familiar Hymn.

The favorite congregational hymn, "We Thank Thee O God for a Prophet," formed the text for an interesting discourse by Elder Orson F. Whitney, of the council of apostles, yesterday afternoon. The occasion was the second session of the Salt Lake stake conference, all the gathering was a large one. The speaker showed how similar, in some respects, were the missions of the Prophet Moses and of the Prophet Joseph Smith. He spoke of the conditions that obtained when each came forth to proclaim the message entrusted to him of heaven.

ELDER O. F. WHITNEY.

Elder Whitney read the first verse of the hymn and then said: "What is the import of his sentiments expressed in the off-sung words? What did the meaning of prophet in the last dispensation mean? The world had had prophets before, and the gospel had been preached among men. Never before, however, had the words come forth from the lips of God that the message of salvation was delivered to earth for the last time. The proclamation meant more for mankind than the mission of Moses, although there is a great similarity between that event and the calling of the Prophet Joseph and the latter might well be designated as the last of the prophets. The law was thenceforth from Sinai were much the same as existed when the last dispensation was ushered in. In the days of the great lawgiver there were three great centers of religious thought in the then known world. The first was in the land of Canaan, the second in Egypt and the third in India. In Canaan the sun and moon—Baal and Ashtoreth—were worshipped by all the inhabitants, except, perhaps, the children of Israel, who believed in the invisible God, but who were themselves often entangled in various forms of idolatry. In Egypt, like Canaan, the lower animals were the objects of adoration. The heavenly bodies were also worshipped in India, but there the seasons and human passions were added to the deities before whom men bowed in India as well as in Egypt and Canaan. A hymn was taken for the time being, no religious condition of such a religious condition of the world when the first of the 10 great commandments, written by the finger of God Himself, went forth: "Thou shalt have no other gods before me." Men were required to worship the God of heaven and earth, and to walk by faith rather than by sight, all except the comparatively few to whom the Lord revealed Himself. It is destined that all shall, through obedience, have a perfect knowledge of their Creator, but as yet it is given to the many to see only "as in a glass, darkly." Moses found the world worshipping not the Creator, but that which His hand had created. The description given of God by the writer of the book of Genesis was so plain that a wayfaring man, though a fool, could not mistake its meaning. But the world had departed from the doctrine of the personality of God, in the days of Moses, just as they had at the beginning of the nineteenth century when the true nature and attributes of Deity were again revealed to men. The declaration of the way prophet was that two personages, each in the form of man, appeared to him in heavenly vision; that the one, pointing to the other, said "This is my beloved Son." It was not a new truth, but an old truth revealed anew. The world was all of the devil," exclaimed those who heard the boy's wonderful story. "My eyes beheld to the contrary," said the youth. "God is a spirit, everywhere, where there is a heart to receive Him. 'God is a man, for I saw Him and talked with Him,' rejoined the youthful seer. 'I knew that I had seen God, and I could not deny it,' afterwards said the man who suffered untold persecution for the sake of his convictions and sealed his testimony with his blood.

The statements made of the Latter-day Saints that their doctrines are unscientific, unphilosophical and unscriptural are not borne out by the facts. The teachings of Mormonism are based entirely upon the Scriptures, and its philosophy is in strict accord with the philosophy of Plato. The doctrine of the eternal duration of matter, properly claimed by Joseph Smith, is not unscientific, but the so-called Christian teachings on the same subject are open to that criticism. There is nothing illogical, unscientific or unphilosophical in a belief that teaches that man is a child of God, made in His image, and destined to become like Him, neither in the doctrine that there is a Mother in heaven.

EVENING SESSION.

General Authorities Sustained and Interesting Reports Given.

The third and last session of the quarterly conference of the Salt Lake stake was held in the assembly hall at 7 o'clock in the evening. Counselors George R. Emery and Edward T. Ashton having charge of the services.

The musical exercises consisted of a cantata, entitled "The Beloved Son," which was rendered during the evening by the Sixteenth ward choir, under the direction of Samuel Spry, the soloists being Samuel D. Winter, John Winder, Joseph Winder, Emil Edmonds, Alice Webley and Bessie E. Newman.

Prayer was offered by Elder William J. Newell.

The sacrament was administered under the direction of the bishops of the Twenty-second and Twenty-fourth wards.

Counselor Emery mentioned the changes which had occurred in the stake since the former conference, and told of the work being done to build up the people spiritually.

The efficiency of the Sunday school work was particularly commended, and was shown by the praise-worthy display at the morning meeting of the conference.

AUTHORITIES SUSTAINED.

The list of the names of the general and stake authorities was presented, and the votes of the people followed these efforts. A course of instruction for young mothers was being presented in the meetings, drawing how to teach religion in the home.

Elder Joseph F. Smith Jr., told how the high council was keeping in close touch with the quorums of priesthood, and how the faith of the men and boys of the stake.

Elder Edward T. Ashton and John R. Winder expressed their thanks to those who had aided in making this conference successful.

The benediction was pronounced by Elder William Asper.

WENT TO TEA

And it Would Her Bobbin.

Tea drinking frequently affects people as badly as coffee. A lady in Palestine said that she was compelled to abandon the use of coffee a good many years ago, because it threatened to ruin her health and that she went over to tea drinking, but finally she had dyspepsia so bad that she had lost twenty-five pounds and no food seemed to agree with her. She further says: "At this time I was induced to take up the famous food drink, Postum, and was so much pleased with the results that I have never been without it since. I commenced to improve at once, regaining my twenty-five pounds of flesh and went some beyond my usual weight. I know Postum to be good, pure, and healthful, and there never was an article, and never will be I believe, that does so surely take the place of coffee, as Postum Food Coffee. The beauty of it all is that it is satisfying and wonderfully nourishing. I feel as if I could not sing its praises too loud." Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Tonight the wedding of Miss Gertrude Reilly and William C. Seely will take place at the bride's home, the ceremony to be performed by Rev. C. E. Perkins, in the presence of the near relatives and friends, and a large reception to follow. The sister of the bride, Miss Myrtle Reilly, will be bridesmaid, and Mr. John Seely, a brother of the groom, best man.

Yesterday a quiet marriage took place at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Byron Cummings, when Prof. Arnoldson of the university and Miss Louise Parkison of Chicago, were united, the ceremony being performed by Rev. C. E. Perkins. The rooms were beautifully decorated and a few intimate friends were present. Mr. and Mrs. Arnoldson will be at home with Prof. and Mrs. Cummings for some time.

On Saturday night a pretty home wedding took place when Miss Laura Stevens and Maurice E. Jones were married. Dean Brewster officiating, and a reception following. The rooms were beautifully decorated, and the entire affair delightful.

The marriage of Miss Rose O'Brien and Neil O. Trout took place Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock, at Westluster chapel. Rev. Herbert Hayes performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Trout left on the evening train for a trip to the coast. They will make their home in Salt Lake.

Miss Valentine Murphy was guest of honor at a delightful afternoon affair today, given by Miss Virginia Bush and Miss Bee Wilkins.

Mrs. Hubbard Reed entertains at a large bridge party this afternoon.

Mr. W. D. Hodgson gives a lake party tonight in honor of Miss Daly and Mr. Roberts, the guests being chiefly members of their bridal party.

This afternoon Miss Daly was guest of honor at a luncheon at the Alta Club given by Miss Dunn and Miss Calvin.

Mrs. Mary Ryan leaves today to visit with members of her family in Nevada and California.

Mrs. W. L. Brown and Miss Sarah Lytle have gone to Los Angeles for the summer.

Mrs. W. W. Armstrong gave the last in her series of teas this afternoon, the rooms being effectively decorated and a large number present.

DAM THREATENED.

Big Reservoir in Sevier River Near Oasis Overloaded With Water.

On Thursday last, it looked for a time as though the big reservoir in the Sevier river near Oasis could break, so great was the pressure of water occasioned by the rising river. A large force of men and teams set to work strengthening the dam, and the efforts thus put forth, combined with the cessation of rain and a subsequent cold spell saved the property. A break at this time would have been a serious loss from the standpoint of a lack of water for irrigation, and also because of the immense damage that would have been done to settlers residing below the reservoir site. The dam giving away is now past.

Only a little cold in the head may be the beginning of an obstinate case of Nasal Catarrh. Drive out the invader with Ely's Cream Balm applied straight to the inflamed stuffed up air-passages. Price 50c. If you prefer to use an atomizer, ask for Liquid Cream Balm. It has all the good qualities of the remedy in solid form and will rid you of catarrh or hay fever. No need to breathe a dreadful habit. No necessity to dry out the secretion. Price 75c, with spraying tube. All druggists, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

First Camp of Sons of Veterans Named For E. P. Connor.

The first Camp of the Sons of Veterans, including 22 members, was mustered in Saturday evening, at G. A. R. hall, and will be known as the P. E. Connor camp. Those mustered in were Henry Kinsman, H. E. Dewey, R. S. Nickerson, Albert R. Sleator, W. M. Sleator, A. N. Dickey, W. J. Morton, J. F. Croker, Elmer M. Qualtrough, M. M. Kalgha, R. S. Sleator, S. W. Patterson, M. O. Trout, Thomas R. Sleator, William Passler, H. D. Chase, H. E. Corser, P. E. Connor, N. H. Glenn, J. M. Kennedy, F. W. Hall, W. H. Graham, C. E. Stains, H. E. Sleator.

The officers elected are: Henry H. Kinsman, captain of the camp; H. E. Dewey, first lieutenant and senior vice commander; R. S. Sleator, second lieutenant; W. J. Morton, chaplain; H. D. Chase, first sergeant; A. N. Dickey, adjutant; and J. M. Kennedy, quartermaster. Officers will be chosen at the meeting next Friday.

The public installation of officers will be Saturday, June 29.

WEEK AT RESORTS WILL BE LIVELY

Sun Finally Consents to Shed Liv-ening Rays Over Rain-Damped Earth.

SUMMER WILL BE SHORT ONE.

However, Bookings Are Numerous and Season Will Be Active While
It Lasts.

The week promises to be a very lively one, as regards the various resorts. The inclement weather has kept people indoors fully a month later than usual, and old and young are filled with a desire to get out into the open. At last the skies are cleared, the atmosphere is beginning to warm up a little and from now on the thronged day and evening. Wandamere, Saltair, Lagoon and the Salt Palace have bookings for the entire week, and all are expected to be crowded. The weather man had best be careful what kind of climatic conditions he puts forth during the next few weeks. The public is heartily weary of the doings of old Salt so far, the summer, and the changes of the moon have brought no change of the situation, except, perhaps, to make things worse from day to day. Something better is expected for the remainder of the summer, which will be necessarily short, and full advantage will be taken of the opportunity for pure air, rest and recreation offered at the resorts.

Boats at Wandamere—Thursday.

Just 29, will be Scotland's day at Wandamere, and the "Saltair" will flock thither in large numbers. A program of bagpipe music, songs, etc., will be rendered; there will be a match game of quoits, a number of boat races and team mate and Sandy Wilson and another, and other contests will take place as follows:

Pioneer Stake at Wandamere—Wednesday.

Wednesday, June 19, will be Pioneer stake day at Wandamere. The usual games and sports will be entered into with zest, and prizes will be awarded to winners. There will be a game of base-ball between members of the Mutual Improvement association and the Sunday school, and the bishops and high councilors will engage in a boat race and ladies will enter a bowling contest. Supper will be partaken of at 7 o'clock.

Sunday Schools at Saltair—The Ensign and Salt Lake stake Sunday schools will go to Saltair on Wednesday, June 19, and the program arranged for the occasion is an elaborate one, and includes a number of contests, who participate in the day.

A prize of $15 will be given to the school following the contest in pleasure for all scholars present at the resort; $25 will be given to the school having the greatest percentage of pupils in attendance, and $25 will be given to the school selling the largest number of tickets. There will be 18 schools in the contest.

Odd Fellows at Saltair—The Odd Fellows will take an outing to Saltair tomorrow, and excursion will be made to the resort. A gala day for all who attend is predicted by those in charge of the affair. A home for aged members of the order as well as for the young, is being organized by the society, and the proceeds of tomorrow will be devoted to a fund being raised to that end. A literary program, as well as games and sports will be features of the day's entertainment.

Iron Moulders at Lagoon—The Iron Moulders, with their families, and friends, will be out in force at Lagoon Saturday, and all present had an enjoyable time. The list of prizes offered, with the names of winners, is here-with presented:

EIGHT ARE DENIED.

Board of Pardons Completes Work of Busy Session.

In addition to releasing the two men on pardon as mentioned in the "News" on Saturday, the state board of pardons also pardoned A. Gerke, who was serving six months in the county jail for petit larceny, and commuted the sentence of Charles Chapman, so that it will expire on July 1, 1907. Chapman was sentenced to three years on Jan. 15, 1906, for chicken stealing.

The application of eight prisoners for clemency were denied. Those who were turned down by the board are as follows: Walter E. Burdell, serving five years for robbery; John Hooser, serving five years for burglary; John Wood, 10 years for burglary; Albert Miller, five years for criminal conduct; Charles Lloyd, 10 years for burglary; J. R. Myers, three years for burglary; Isaac Taylor, six months for petit larceny; W. O. Gentry, 18 years for robbery.

HANSEN MEMORIAL DAY.

Ward Sunday School Reverses Memory Of Departed Worker.

Beautifully touching and impressive were the memorial services held in honor of the late John E. Hansen yesterday morning in the Twentieth ward Sunday school. The hall was handsomely decorated the hall with potted plants and cut flowers, and often during the services the beautiful songs rendered and the tender and touching words spoken caused many an eye to become bedimmed with tears.

The opening prayer was offered by Samuel W. Jenkinson, and the speakers were: Supt. Geo. H. Wallace, Mrs. G. Alfred Alder, Supt. John H. Burrows and Bishop George Romney. The brethren spoke of the zeal and enthusiasm of the deceased in his work as a teacher, and the noble character of his life and his untiring efforts in behalf of the Parents' class work of the Ensign stake. The speaker also spoke of his worth and integrity as a man and admonished those present to so live that they might be worthy of association with their beloved brother in the hereafter.

Sister Alder spoke of Brother Hansen as a Sunday school worker, but said she knew him best as a neighbor and testified that each day of the week he was kind and loving, ever thoughtful in doing those little things which tend to promote friendship and weld affection between neighbors.

Solos were rendered by Mrs. Mary Romney Ross and John James, and a duet by Mary Barlow and Gertrude Romney. The benediction was pronounced by Asst. Supt. O. D. Romney.

HONOR DEPARTED ONES

Memorial Services Held by Orders of Conductors and Macabees.

Memorial services were held yesterday afternoon, in Castle Hall of the K. of P. over the departed members of the Order of Railway Conductors, with 250 people present. Rev. E. L. Goshen made the address, who spoke on the life and duties of a railway conductor. The graves in the local cemeteries were decorated after the hall services were over. The Knights of the Macabees performed a similar service in honor of the dead of their order, with an interesting hall program prefacing the cemetery exercises.

OMAHA BOOSTERS RETURNING HOME

Spent Thirty Three Hours Seeing Wonderful Commercial Opportunities of Salt Lake.

GOV. CUTLER ENTERTAINS.

Nebraska's Chief Executive Is Made
His Personal Guest at Commercial Club Dinner.

That Salt Lake is the business and economic center of a vast stretch of western territory, and that the insured growth of this territory makes it impossible for Salt Lake to do anything but grow with it, is the unanimous opinion of Omaha's visitors who last night departed for the east.

The Omaha people came on Saturday, remained 22 hours, and had everything in the city handed over to them without even having to ask for it. They looked over the town from the "Seeing" cars, watched the waves at play under Saltair pavilion, listened to a beautiful organ recital at the tabernacle, and mingled with hundreds of Salt Lake business men, who found them full of the brand of unity in working for Omaha which will make any town move to the front.

The Salt Lake festivities began Saturday at 2:30 p. m., when C. S. Burton, vice president of the Commercial club, was honored on a table to make him a speech of welcome. He outlined to the visitors the day's program, told them the city was at their disposal, and was heartily cheered. A musical selection from the Commercial club band, the "Around Her Neck She Wore a Yellow Ribbon," brought forth a hearty laugh from the Omaha people, who responded with "The Girls of All Nations."

At 3:30 o'clock the "seeing trip" began, and at 5:30 the tabernacle was visited, where an organ recital by J. J. McMillan was heard. In the evening a Commercial club smoker was the scene of much convivial speech making and "get acquainted" handshaking. Sunday a trip to Saltair consumed the afternoon, and at 11 o'clock last night the special left for Omaha, carrying away as happy a band of visitors as ever invaded Salt Lake. Three
