SESSION OF THE OGDEN CITY COUNCIL

Barnhartt Petition to be Heard Friday Night—Opposition Expected.

(Special Correspondence.)

OGDEN, Nov. 11.—At last night's session of the city council bills for damages and street paving were considered, and the council decided to hold another special meeting Friday at 8 p. m. to consider the request of Simon Barnhartt that he be allowed to operate the trains of the Salt Lake & Ogden railroad by steam in Lincoln avenue until he can complete the electrification of the road. At this time the property owners along the road will be invited to present their views, and it is expected that the city of Ogden will be asked to prevent the entrance of the Barnhartt line to be continued.

The claim of C. W. Wilson for $500 on account of injuries received when he drove into an open sewer trench, was filed with the recommendation of the law committee that it be not allowed. A claim of $700 entered by D. D. Grutten, who was injured when he drove over a guy wire in the street, went the same way.

The sidewalks committee recommended that the bid of the O'Neil Construction company of $5,750 for sidewalks in district No. 102 be accepted, and the contract was authorized. The bid of $2,249 of the Wheelwright Construction company for curbing and guttering in district No. 101 was referred to the sidewalks committee. This company was allowed $25 for sidewalk intersections.

The second partial estimate of P. J. Egan for paving in district No. 100, amounting to $14,000, was referred to the paving committee. The council passed the ordinance creating paving district No. 105 and district No. 106.

SUIT TO RECOVER MONEY.

OGDEN, Nov. 11.—A great deal of interest is being taken in the civil action which will be heard in the United States court this week when the government will seek to collect from Charles G. Price and the Pingree National bank, $2,400, which the former received through the mail last winter, wrapped in a newspaper and delivered to him at the Five Points post-office, where he resides. It will be remembered that Price called for his mail and was handed the newspaper which he carelessly opened, finding $2,400 in currency, in bills ranging from $1 to $50. He thought the postmaster was playing a joke on him, but the postmaster was discomfited at the discovery. Getting on a car, Price came in to the Pingree National bank where he was informed that the currency was real money and he had it deposited to his name. The next afternoon a tall stranger appeared at the Ogden postoffice and asked for mail addressed to "Charles Price." The employee at the office had been notified to look out for anyone of that name who made inquiries for mail. In the excitement which followed, the stranger made his escape and has not been located since. Under the East Side bank of Portland, Oregon, put in a claim for the money, declaring that the bills tallied with those stolen from that institution. The United States government demanded that the money be turned over to the government officers, but on the advice of his attorney, Price refused to do so, and a civil action was started by the government to recover it.

HIGH SCHOOL REPORT CAID.

OGDEN, Nov. 11.—Principal Cross of the high school has just had a new report card for the pupils printed which he thinks will aid very materially in high school work. The object of the card is to keep in touch with the student's work and to advise the parents of the progress being made by their children. Mr. Cross states that the attendance has much to do with the progress of students and by showing every month the actual number of days present, the pupils and their parents will more thoroughly realize the necessity for continual attendance.

WANTED FOR EMBEZZLEMENT.

OGDEN, Nov. 11.—The case against Myron C. Fitzpatrick was dismissed on motion of County Atty. David J. Jones. The defendant was charged with being a fugitive from justice, it being stated in the complaint that Fitzpatrick on Oct. 20 of this year, fled from the jurisdiction of the district court of Lincoln county, Nevada, he being charged in that court with the crime of embezzlement. As soon as he was released, Sheriff O. N. Smith of Lincoln county, Nevada, advised with extradition papers from the governor of Utah, placed him under arrest.

CONFESSIONS TO ROBBERY.

OGDEN, Nov. 11.—Yesterday afternoon, W. M. Lindsey, suspected of robbery, was arrested here and later he confessed to the robbery of the U. S. 11th street store yesterday morning when the plate glass front was broken and a shotgun and a rifle were taken. The guns were found later in a local town shop. Lindsey is said to have stated in his confession that he used a glass cutter on the front of the store, but the window does not bear this statement out, as it has the appearance of being smashed in by missiles.

POSTOFFICE MOVES ON SUNDAY NEXT

New Handsome Federal Building at Last Ready for Occupancy.

OGDEN, Nov. 11.—As the electric lights have been installed and the last finishing touches given the new federal building, Postmaster Shurtliff announced that the postoffice will remove from its old quarters on Sunday. On Monday morning, Nov. 15, the postoffice will be open to the public in the handsome building in Ogden. All the people of Ogden City rejoice with the postoffice employees in the great move. The Ogden federal building is a structure to be proud of. It is a handsome and durable building of the most recent architectural designing, both outside and inside. The new building on the interior is beautiful, and will be quite a revelation to the people of Ogden when they see it next Monday morning. The floors are of tile. The entire structure is in most modern style. The postmaster is going to show all the local newspaper men through the new federal building on Friday afternoon.

The removal of the postoffice on Sunday was planned because that day would least interfere with the big business of that institution, and that day affords more time to the employees for moving purposes than any other day.

Dalton, fire was kindled in one of the rooms, where all the clothing and some of the bedding were hung for fumigation. The alarm was given as soon as it was discovered, and in a few minutes a bucket brigade was at work and extinguished the fire before it reached any of the other rooms. Everything in the room was burned up, and the walls and woodwork greatly damaged. The fire was started from the kitchen stove, through the flue; the stove in this room having just been removed and the flue not yet plugged. The stove pipe hole was left open for the short time.

SENATOR SMOOT ON BIG WATERWAY PROJECT

Not Committed to Government Undertaking Stipendous Job to Make Mississippi Navigable.

(Special Correspondence.)

PROVO, Nov. 11.—Senator Smoot returned from his trip to the south with President Taft yesterday. The senator enjoyed the trip down the Mississippi and his brief visit among the people in the southland, and spoke in most appreciative terms of their generous hospitality. A banquet was given in his honor at New Orleans by members of the sugar growers association and further entertainments were prepared which lack of time did not permit him to accept.

One of the questions of national importance considered by the president's party, as has been stated by the press reports was the improvement of the Mississippi as a navigable stream. This project Senator Smoot considers as vital and involving questions of feasibility that it requires a great amount of study and investigation.

He said: "The cost of that undertaking has been estimated at $100,000,000. The question as to whether the improvement once made would be permanent."

"It is not going to do with its project, and quite another to consider the matter with the material to work with in sight. When I looked over that vast water course with its sandy bottom and its rapids and shoals, something of the enormity of the undertaking, I questioned more seriously than I had ever done before its feasibility, and I have some reason to believe that the vastness of the project who returned feeling much as I did about it."

"The people of the Mississippi valley, as one reason for urging the undertaking, use the argument that it would prevent the railroad from charging exorbitant freight rates. I believe that a four-track road could be built on each side of the river for the cost of the proposed improvement, and with a handsome balance left over."

On the question of local politics, the senator did not care to express any views owing to his absence for some time, but said on the question of prohibition:

"In regard to prohibition and legislation on the subject, I can only say that my attitude has not changed. I believe in the same. I have always held that a majority of the people want prohibition. I say they should have it if it is possible to have the real thing."

Senator Smoot will remain in Utah looking after his large business interests for two weeks, returning to Washington for the opening of Congress Dec. 2.

The contract was awarded to Miller & Halladay.

REUNION OF WRATHALL FAMILY AT GRANTSVILLE

(Special Correspondence.)

GRANTSVILLE, Nov. 9.—A reunion of the historic Wrathall family was held at the beautiful residence of James L. Wrathall on Center street last Monday evening, to do honor to the late James Wrathall, it being his eighty-second birthday anniversary. There were present Gov. and Mrs. Spry and family, The Misses Ethel and Cora Wrathall of Salt Lake. Only the immediate members of the family were present, consisting of nine sons and daughters and their families, which included a host of grandchildren. The company sat down to a sumptuous repast at 7 p. m., after which the evening was spent in songs, speeches, etc. Gov. Spry and James L. Wrathall addressed the members of the family, complimenting them on their success in life and enquiring the worthy example of their father. Miss Lita Spry sang the national song, "The Flag Without a Star," in a most feeling manner, the governor responding with his favorite song, "The Children's Friend."

NON-PARTISAN BOARD IN HUNTINGTON

(Special Correspondence.)

HUNTINGTON, Utah, Nov. 8.—The municipal election went off in Huntington yesterday very quietly, there being only a non-partisan ticket in the field. The following officers were elected: D. C. Woodward for president; U. W. Grant, W. A. Gaymon, J. P. Johnson and E. L. Geary for town trustees.

BONANZA SEED CROP.

HUNTINGTON, Nov. 8.—The crops are all up, but threshing is quite slow on account of so much lucern seed being threshed. It is estimated there will be 12 to 15 cars of seed shipped from Huntington. Many farmers have cleared from $75 to $100 an acre from this crop alone. One man at Cleveland cleared $2,000 from 25 acres of land. With new seed means opening up and the railroad getting near it is little wonder the people feel that they are favored.

LAND RECLAMATION PROJECT.

HUNTINGTON, Nov. 8.—George A. Snow, J. A. Melville, Prof. Maad, Prof. Jones and Engineer Trimble were here a few days ago, looking over the Black-Horn proposition, wherein some of the parties contemplate the reclamation of some 30,000 acres of good land, about 10 miles to the east of Huntington. There has also been a special government land agent down to enquire as to the prospects of getting water for so large a tract of land, and it seems to be the opinion of those he conversed with that there was water enough if properly incounded, that is in P. B. Runny and the high waters of May and June.

The officers of the Huntington Canal and Reservoir association have received a request from the secretary of state for a license tax of $50 on its water corporation. This is a canal and irrigation corporation engaged exclusively in furnishing water to or for lands owned by the members thereof. Farmers here think it very unjust to charge them a license on the water they use to fertilize their crops. This is the first time it has ever been attempted in the state, and it is not considered just. There is not a drop of this water held for speculation.

PRESIDENT SMITH AND PARTY VISIT MANTI

Lucia Tuttle and Mrs. Sarah E. Sperry, were all given an honorable release and a hearty vote of thanks. Miss Anna Ware, who has for many years acted as secretary, was retained by the new officers elected, who are Mrs. Charlotte A. E. Parry, president; Mrs. Lucia Tuttle, first counselor, and Mrs. Isma A. Reid, second counselor.
