

Advent of Cold Weather Starts Yegg Men Towards Sunny California.

WARNING TO HOUSEHOLDERS.

Police Give Some Good Advice to Citizens Regarding Entertaining Tramps and Carrying Valuables.

With the advent of cold weather, the police naturally expect that there will be more work for them. So far this extra work has not made its appearance. Few reports have been received by the police department lately of robberies, burglaries or other lately of robberies, burglarles or other acts' of lawlessness which are always looked for with the coming whiter. That the cold weather has started earlier than usual is looked upon by the police as a probable cause for this, but they expect that the migra-tion of the genus hobo to California's sunny climes will begin soon. The greater number of crooks passing through this city on their regular journey to California are western yeggs, coming from the north and from Colorado. Those from points further east generally, but not al-ways, seek the south in a more direct route, Texas, Llouslana and Mississippi getting a little more than their share of the floating bad men. But the police say that the fact that these unwelcome visitors have not appeared on the scene yet to a marked degree is no reason for re-laxing vigilance. Instead, the police warn householders to keep their doors locked, to draw their blinds when the lamps are lighted and to take every precaution to keep temptation out of the way of the would be rob-bers. The police say too much care cannot be taken with tramps. To feed them in the house is to give them an opportunity to "size up" the pre-mises for future operations, they say. NO SYMPATHY FOR DEDECTARS acts of lawlessness which are always mises for future operations, they say, NO SYMPATHY FOR BEGGARS. For beggars, Lieut. John Hemple of the police department has little sym-pathy, except in the case of cripples and those broken down in health. Lieut. Hempel declares that there is more work waiting for laborers than can be taken care of—providing a man is not lurdened with a false estimation as to what work is in keeping with his par-ticular station in life. Yesterday in pedice court there were two healthy beggars who were pleading for a pedice court there were two healthy beggars who were pleading for a chance to leave town. They will have all the chunce they want in two months, but for that length of time they will tarry with the city jaller performing all manner of work, wheth-er to their liking or not. This is strict-ly within the ethical provisions of the police department and beggars can-not hope to be given a floater from not hope to be given a floater from one town to another to be given an opportunity to make their living in this way. If a man is too lazy to work, he will be given a good chance to get over it while he is a city prisoner.

ESTIMATE OF REED SMOOT.

Mark Sullivan of Collier's Weekly Pays Tribute to Utah Senator.

Mark Sullivan, editorial writer fo Collier's Weekly who arrived in Salt Lake yesterday and is registered at the Knutsford, stated this morning that the national weekly does not look upon Senator Reed Smoot as an undesirable legislator nor is he numbered in any way with the clique which the Collier interests consider in the light of a batricade to progressive measures in the nation's legislative department. Mr. Sullivan said that he considered Smoot a sincere and honest man who stands a sincere and honest man who stands for progress in the broader sense. Mr. Sullivan believes that the Inde-pendent vote throughout the United States at the coming election is a new factor to be reckoned with in national politics and will lead to many surprises at the coming election. The develop-ment of the independent vote says he, is due in a large measure to the ever increasing distance of the partisan lines of the Civil war and to the new politi-cal spirit inaugurated into the body of the polity by Roosevelt.

This deduction as to the outcome of the presidential campaign is based upon the probability that Taft will carry New York.

EX-CONVICTS IN TROUBLE.

'Shorty" Clark and His Brother Are Charged With Grand Larceny.

"Shorty" Clark and his brother, Alpert Clark, are in trouble again. J. H. Clark, known as "shorty," has been out of the state prison just two years after serving a sentence of four years for grand larceny. C. Graham, sent up at the same time for complicity in the same offense, was released in January of 1907. Graham was at liberty for some time on parole, but was returned o serve out his term for breaking it, having all his "copper" deducted. Fault is Found With Winter Quarters Mine for Permitting Too Much Smoke-Other Properties.

The report of Coal Mine Inspector J. E. Pettit for the quarter ending Sept. 30, 1908, has been submitted to' Gov. Cutler. The report is quite exhaustive, Cutler. The report is quite exhaustive, and covers the visits of inspection of the coal mines of the state by Inspec-tor Petit. The mines of Clear Creek are reported to be in good condition generally some fault being found with the system of ventilation in vogue. The mines at Sunnyside are also reported as being up to the average. Inspector Petiti, however, criticizes the Winter Quarters mine for permitting smoke to accumulate in the passages, and ad-vises the mine authorities to improve their system of ventilation. Thomas Aubrey, a resident of Salt Lake since 1868, died at his home, 41 Ninth East street, yesterday from par-alysis. It is about 10 years since he was stricken with the first attack and since that time he has been consider-ably of a sufferer. Mr. Aubrey was born Mindo that time he has been consider-tilly Of-suffers. Mr. Aubrey was born at West Cromwitch, Staffordshire, Eng., Nov, 25, 1827, and became a member of the Church Feb. 21, 1849, being baptized by Elder William W. Allen. He was appointed president of the Bristol Road branch Dec. 4, 1854, to which was sub-sequently added the Newhall street branch. From these two the Oxford street branch was afterwards formed, and Mr. Aubrey became its president Oct. 23, 1869. He labored in the Birm-ingham branch until 1868, when he emi-grated to Utah. Here Mr. Aubrey was equally as ac-tive religiously. He was a teacher in the Fourteenth, Eleventh and Thirteenth wards, respectively, performed a mission to his native land from April, 1884, to 1886 and upon his return was chosen as counselor to Bishop Atwood of the Thirteenth ward. For many years Mr. Aubrey was in the mercantile business, conducting stores on First and Second South streets. He retired from business about by rears ago, after being stricken with paralysis. There are to be 10 men in the orchestra, two first and one second violins, viola, cello, and stringed bass, trumpet in B flat, flute, clarinet, trombone, plano, and drums, the conductor alternating be-tween straight conducting and ulano as the circumstances of the case may made up the personnel of his orchestra in the course of the next 10 days; he feels confident it will be equal to any similar orchestra in town. Work on the theater building is be-ing pushed with all speed, with Man-ager Grant waiting to hear from Mr. Court, the circuit manager, as to the bookings of attractions. The auditor-ium will seat 1,750 to 1,800 people, with encies can be accommodated. The gen-eral arrangement provides for a good view from all nexts of the house, and Republican state convention would be forced to allow their names to be used on another ticket, from which they were anxious to resign. And at 10 o'clock this morning there were gathered in the supreme court rooms many politicians anxious to hear the result. But there was none yet ready to announce, and the matter was view from all parts of the house, and the stage is roomy and convenient, and will be well equipped.

the result. But there was none yct ready to announce, and the matter was passed over, possibly to come up this afternoon, tomorrow morning or after-noon, or at a still later date. The only authority that could be secured on the case was a hazard from the supreme court clerk as to when the matter would be taken up. Arguments in the case were heard yesterday before the court, and it was taken under advisement. It reached the court in the form of mandamus proceedings. Henry Cohen, Thomas Sevy, and Lafayette Holbrook, Repub-lican electors, had filed with the secre-tary of state their resignations from the Taft-Liberal ticket. The secretary-of-state accepted the resignations, whereupon a writ of mandamus was sought, citing the secretary to show cause why he should not allow the names to remain on the Taft-Liberal ticket, Arguments on the resurn of the writ after demurrer had been entered by the state, resulted in the presenta-tion of the case for the state by Sena-tor Sutherland and H. C. Edwards, and for the Taft-Liberal sympathizers by E. B. Critchlow maintained that these candidates, being the candidates of one faction could not are fuse to receive the The University of Utah football team returned from Denver at 11 o'clock last night. They were expected 10 hours earlier and the student body had pre-pared a reception for their crestfallen brothers which could not be given on account of the late arrival. All mem-bars of the team are in good condition bers of the team are in good condition and are feeling fine considering that they are returning from defeat. Both Colorado teams says Coach Maddock, have good reason to feel proud of winning from a team far their superior. Colorado College, says he, played the better buil and the Utah he, played the better ball and the Utah team played better ball against them. The Denver punter had a streak of good luck while it was an off day for "Dad." The Utah team was in punt-ing distance of the Colorado goal more often than the reverse and Maddock's boys never had time taken out once in different the two remove

Mr. Critchlow maintained that these candidates, being the candidates of one faction, could not refuse to receive the votes of another faction, since anyone appealing for votes must necessarily accept all that are offered. An an-archistic ticket, even, he maintained in answer to a question from Judge Frick, could nominate any candidate on any other ticket, and he would be powerless to prevent it, since he could have no way of determining what his constitu-ents wished. No matter how many nominations a candidate got, he argued, his only alternative was to accept them all or none. Senator Sutherland argued for a sim-ple ballot, declaring that all decisions were in line with this thought, and that the privilege extended a candidate of resigning from a ticket up to 12 days before an election was intended to prevent the use of their names on tick-ets whose purposes were alien to the spirit in which they would serve.
