

FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

The temperature is lowering ready for a storm.

Apostle Carrington, late President of the European Mission, has arrived home.

"Help me Cassius or I sink," and encouragement will undoubtedly "sue."

Many farmers are taking advantage of this splendid weather to plough and cultivate their lands.

Fort Steele had an incendiary fire on Wednesday night, a saw mill, engine house and bath house were destroyed.

Anything in creation for an office, give me an office, or I will be a "noble" eighteen.

The roads leading into this city are in fine condition. A granger from Cottonwood said the other day they were "as smooth as a board."

The Sunday School authorities of the Fifteenth Ward are preparing to cause the children to rejoice in the reception of holiday awards.

The warm sunny days are causing the rose and lilac trees to push their buds; some have actually opened out now. Leaves, yet it cannot be said the "winter is nigh."

Geo. Dunford, the East Temple street merchant, called to see us today, being the 90th anniversary of his birthday. We wish him many happy and prosperous returns of the day.

The young man who was robbed the other night of $14.75 by tramps, says that instead of carrying silver change around in future he purposes having a little lead on hand, ready to give over to the cops.

Still there is no howl of the soreheads about the man whose head was crushed and broken by the night watchman at Park City. They are waiting till a Salt Lake officer gives a bellicose ruffian a gentle tap to keep him quiet.

We, the People of the United States of America, in Utah Territory assembled, to the number of eighteen, do hereby assert that unless Congress comes to our relief, "Disengagement will undoubtedly ensue." "Liberal" imputation.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

High Council.—The members of the High Council are requested to meet in the Council House at 6 o'clock this evening.

W. W. TAYLOR, Clerk.

The Matinee.—To-morrow afternoon's matinee by Leavitt's All-Star Specialty Company, gives an opportunity to ladies and children, and all others desiring it, to witness a most excellent entertainment.

More Plays.—The Dramatic Company has received several new manuscript plays from the east, which will be produced shortly. The next on the list is "A Soldier's Fortune," which will be presented on Christmas night.

Coppers Captured.—Shortly after midnight this morning, officers A. Smith and Wm. Salmon caught a couple of "coppers," enticing an intoxicated man to a gambling den, having already mulcted him of the sum of $5. They were arrested.

Married.—Yesterday, December 14th, Mr. Leo Crow and Miss Lizette Jenkins, both of this city, were united in marriage. The groom is the son of our respected townsman, Stephen Henry Crow, and is a promising young man, while the bride is an estimable young lady. They have our best wishes.

Good Exhibit.—If you want to know where to get your Christmas groceries, just run your eye over the new advertisement of George W. Davis. As a grocery merchant Mr. Davis is hard to beat. As a window dresser he has few superiors, which can be demonstrated by a visit to his store, where the exhibit in the show windows is unquestionably artistic and beautiful. Go and look at it and be satisfied.

A Squally Squabble.—This morning there was a terrible row at a house on the southeast corner of the Ninth Ward school house block. A negro, a white man and a white woman were mixed up in the melee. The white man had evidently been trying to make a red man out of the white one, as he had a terrible head with copious streams of blood flowing over it. Their screams, screams and yells were fearful. So says our informant.

The Rubber Boot Sneaks.—When you see a man going about so far as to be keeping with the weather as to be perusing in a pair of rubber boots, keep an eye on your overcoat and other loose property lying around. The rubbers are no nobles, you know; they are just the thing for the sneaking pilferer who slips up unawares and carries off useful things. There are several pairs of rubber boots around town with feet in them. We don't mean any honest man with rubber boots.

Welcome Home.—Apostle Albert Carrington arrived home on Wednesday night. He left this city for Great Britain to preside over the European Mission of the Church, October 12th, 1880, and has consequently been absent a little over two years and two months. During the presidency of the Church in Europe, the work has greatly prospered, as exhibited through the columns of the News from the continent. Many have been added to the church, and the emigration has been larger than for quite a number of years. We bid Brother Carrington welcome home.

AN UNFORTUNATE JOURNEY.

AN ESTIMABLE GENTLEMAN IS SUBJECTED TO MUCH SUFFERING THROUGH SURGICAL INCOMPETENCY OF CERTAIN DOCTORS.

This morning we received a call from Brother Robert T. Taton, late of Glasgow, Scotland, well known to almost every Elder who has visited that country for many years past, having occupied the position for some time of clerk and treasurer of the Glasgow Conference. He is an estimable gentleman, and it is greatly to be regretted that he met with an accident on the Nevada, the vessel on which he crossed the Atlantic last summer. The mishap occurred on the 27th of June. He slipped and fell upon the deck during a storm and his thigh bone was broken close to the hip joint. The surgeon on board did not ascertain the nature of the injury. He was taken to the hospital at the Garden and examined, and yet the nature of the hurt was not discovered; thence he was taken to Ward Island Hospital, where he remained until the 24th of August. Even there, although he passed under examination again, the cause of the severe suffering the unfortunate patient underwent was not found out.

After Brother Taton so far recovered as to be able to get about by the aid of crutches he proceeded to Norfolk, Virginia, to fill an engagement with Mr. E. R. Andrews, contractor and timber preserver of that place. His condition was such, however, as to render him physically unable to attend to the duties of the position. By request of Mr. Andrews, Brother Taton entered the St. Vincent Hospital, at Norfolk. Dr. Smith, the government surgeon of that institution, made a thorough examination of the case and discovered the real character of the injury, being intercapital fracture of the left femur, or thigh bone. This diagnosis was confirmed by Dr. Gibney, of New York, who happened to be at Norfolk, on vacation at the time.

During all the previous futile examinations Brother Taton had suffered great pain from the handling of the limb by the surgeons, as the partially welded break was broken afresh by their twistings, the movement of the part where the bone was separated being taken by the surgeons for the motions of the joint, to which it was in such close proximity. Dr. Smith said there would be considerable risk in breaking the limb again and resetting it, and advised the patient not to have that operation done. Dr. Smith gave Brother Taton a certificate, stating the nature of his discovery, and he returned to Ward Island, but instead of being placed in the hospital, as he ought to have been, he was put into what is called the Refuge, designed for the care of convalescents. This action appeared to be prompted by chagrin at the exhibition through Dr. Smith of the comparative incompetency of the surgeons of the hospital.

The Refuge is described by Brother Taton as one of the most horribly conducted institutions imaginable. The food is poor and prepared in the most slovenly manner that could be conceived. No attention is paid to cleanliness, or common decency in any of the arrangements, everything being filthy in the extreme. The matter was laid before Guion & Co., the steamship company on whose vessel Brother Taton met with the accident which, to all appearances, has crippled him for life, and they made him some compensation. He left New York on Oct. 20th, and arrived here on the 4th of last month.

The business to which Brother Taton has been accustomed is the preservation of wood by the creosoting process, extensively resorted to in Great Britain for the preservation of railroad ties and other timbers. He is also familiar with the manufacture of naphtha, creosote, pitch, varnish, and other products of coal tar, concerning which we may have something to say at another time.

Among the accomplishments of Brother Taton is his familiarity with accounts, having occupied the position of secretary for ten years to the company by whom he was employed in Glasgow, and from whose auditing committee he holds yearly certificates for competency and accuracy. He would like to get a situation as bookkeeper, sedentary employment being more in keeping with his present condition than any other.

A Runaway Caught.—Last night about six o'clock, Mr. Sudbury's spanking span of stallions took French leave from their home at the Empire mill, and with a two-seated buggy trotted hastily down the canyon past Pres. Young's cemetery, and finally up Lehigh's hill, and was just in the nick of time headed off by Mr. Thompson, who succeeded in cornering them at Mr. Robt. Anderson's fence, to which he tied them up until help arrived. A minute later and team and buggy would have landed in the deep and narrow ravine crossing their track, with what result can better be readily imagined.

Wrecked on the Road.—Night before last a lively outfit, in which were Mr. J. R. Nichols and another gentleman, accidentally collided with a wagon on the State Road. The vehicle was not only overturned but badly wrecked. Mr. Nichols and companion were unconsciously dumped out, but not much hurt. They were brought in by a gentleman who happened to be passing in a conveyance at the time, and who also took the dilapidated outfit in tow, delivering it to Mr. McKimmins, its proprietor.

Conductor Peck's Body Found.—On November 10th, as noted at the time in the News, a U. P. Conductor named Peck, was caught in a storm while hunting; after separating from his companion, and perishing on the plains. An ineffectual search was made for his body, but it was not found till a few days since, when it was discovered in a ravine. The remains were so torn by coyotes that they were scarcely recognizable.

Closed on Sunday.—We are requested to announce that on account of the repairs being done by Miley & Son, in the interior of the Tenth Ward school house, no Sunday school nor meetings will be held in that building next Sabbath.

Harper.—The old reliable "Harper's New Monthly Magazine," for January, '83 was laid on our table by Mr. Joseph Hyrum Perry. This number is full of rich things, as usual, from the title page to the end of the last page. It is a conspicuously excellent in its pictorial illustrations. Don't fail to see it.

Just Right.—We learn from a resident of the 15th Ward that Sister S. M. Kimball is making preparations for the gathering of all the orphans in that part of the city on Christmas Day. The object is to gladden their hearts in a manner at which Sister Kimball is an adept. The spirit of genuine philanthropy prompts a movement of that kind.

Head off the Horse Thieves.—The horses of a number of different people have been stolen in this city lately, and the stables of other people have been visited by thieves who have been folled in their nefarious attempts at robbery. Moral.—Lock the stable door before the horse is stolen. It may save you considerable trouble and a good deal of loss.

The Sneaks.—The sneak thieves are now in the clothing business; therefore take extra care where you hang your overcoats. Several have been taken from the hallways of private boarding houses and offices during the past few evenings. One was missed within five minutes, proving that the thief was watching and took it immediately it was left by its owner, decamping without being heard, although the scamp had to descend a flight of stairs with it.

For Cache.—The following brethren left for Cache Valley, by the 3:40 p.m. train: Presidents John Taylor and Joseph F. Smith, Apostles W. Woodruff, Brigham Young, F. M. Lyman and George Teasdale, and Elders George Reynolds, John Irvine and Don Carlos Young. The party will be joined on the way by Apostles F. D. Richards and Lorenzo Snow. The brethren will attend Quarterly Conference of the Cache Stake, and hold other meetings at several of the settlements in the valley.

The Question in Idaho.—A dispatch from Boise City, Idaho, by way of San Francisco, says: The Idaho Legislature has assembled here. The Council stands six Republicans, three Mormons, two anti-Mormon Democrats and one Democratic Mormon. They have elected Col. E. A. Wall, anti-Mormon Democrat, president. The House stands twelve Republicans, seven Mormons and five Democratic Mormons. They have voted three days without electing a permanent speaker. The Mormon and anti-Mormon issue is about as bitter here as in Utah.

The "All Stars."—Salt Lake and friends delight in fun and frolic if it is ever so superficial, much more than in a solid play containing good lessons as well as rational entertainment. This is illustrated in the difference between the house last night and on the evening when the "Ticket of Leave Man" was so well performed. The Theatre last night was packed. The audience was delighted. The performance was varied and full of vivacity. Everything went off with a snap and vim which were quite taking, and there were no long tedious waits between the acts, which detract so much from an entertainment. Leavitt's "All Stars" troupe is appropriately named and the amusing mélange of singing, dancing, tumbling, acrobatics, tricks, jokes, ventriloquism and farce, kept us the interest and laughter of all beholders from beginning to end. To-night there will be a change of programme but the same performers will be the addition of Miss Flora Moore who was too unwell to appear last evening. There will, doubtless be another big house.

The dispatches state that the mayor of Decatur broke a negro's neck with stone. He must be an old war horse.
