

SERVICES AT THE TABERNACLE.

Eloquent Discourse Delivered Sunday Afternoon by Elder William H. King.

TRIBUTE TO THE HEBREW RACE.

What "Mormonism" Stands and Comends for—Forceful Plea for Religious Unity.

The Tabernacle services yesterday afternoon were presided over by President Angus M. Cannon and the speaker was Elder William H. King, who delivered a forcible address on the philosophy and genius of "Mormonism."

The choir sang the hymn:

Lord, Thou wilt hear me when I pray,
I am forever Thine.

Prayer was offered by Elder James Smith.

The choir further sang:

Hark, listen to the trumpeters,
They sound for volunteers.

Elder William H. King was the speaker. He prefaced his remarks by calling attention to the fact that he had been unexpectedly called upon to address the meeting.

This was a rare opportunity which he felt to shrink from, for he realized that to expound the Gospel of Jesus Christ intelligently, it was necessary to be in possession of the Holy Spirit, which Spirit he sincerely trusted would prompt his utterances.

The speaker then took up the characteristics of the Church, and said there was a marked difference between this Church and those with which it was surrounded. "Mormonism," said he, is essentially Christianism. It is founded upon the vicarious redemption of Jesus Christ. It is a monotheism in one respect, yet at the same time it teaches the pure principles of the Gospel of Christ. A great many of our friends think they see in "Mormonism" something very peculiar, something different from what the Savior taught, but in this they are very much mistaken, for the religion he taught is a true faith in the living God. In His day there were many faiths, but on the one hand and on the other. These He sought to set right and in His mission among men was signally successful, for He left to the children of men a legacy beyond price.

Elder King spoke of the great good accomplished by the Hebrew race and said that humanity owed to it very much for the supreme faith now existing in the principle of monotheism, if nothing else, and as much as we may owe to the Jew in religious belief, much credit is due them for their perception of faith in God, Christ came, said the speaker, to lay the axe at the root of the tree, to hold in His hand the great balances of justice and truth. After His day and the establishment of His splendid and glorious Church, which was the Church of Christ, was banished into the wilderness and the people were thrown into a most abominable condition of idolatry.

The speaker referred further to the apostasy and said that the Latter-day Saints had no quarrel with the Catholic Church or with the other religious organizations by which it is surrounded. We recognize the fact, said he, that the Christian organization has been the standard bearer of a better and truer civilization. The Latter-day Saints look with admiration upon that splendid organization, the Catholic Church. They look with pride upon its long line of noble ancestors, yet it would be hypocritical on their part to overlook the many serious wrongs committed under the cloak of religion. True religion doesn't go forth with the Bible in one hand and a sword in the other. It is founded upon the integrity of individuals. True religion doesn't require that we shall sacrifice our intelligence and blind our faculties in order to yield allegiance to priests or leaders. God is a God of intelligence. To Him it is the case that in the name of religion attempts are made to stifle liberty. Here the speaker referred to Holland's brilliant struggle for religious emancipation and paid high tribute to William of Orange.

Elder King pleaded for greater religious unity in the world. Said he, there is too much selfishness and disunion in Christendom. There is not enough liberty among men. Just now the war of Russia and Japan is being waged, and we might forgive Russia for her atrocities in China. War is

HON. J. F. STRYON.

Cured of Deep-Seated Cough and a Dangerous Condition by Vinol.

Hundreds of people right here in Salt Lake City are coughing, sneezing, shivering, and trying all sorts of cough mixtures, old-fashioned cod liver oil, and emulsioms which only irritate the stomach and fail to cure the condition. Why waste time and remain miserable when we can guarantee our delicious cod liver oil preparation, Vinol. It contains every one of the medicinal elements of cod liver oil without a drop of oil to nauseate and upset the stomach and retard its work, and no sickening drugs. Vinol will cure that hard, hacking cough, throat or bronchial trouble, and if it fails we pay back your money.

The Hon. J. F. Stryon of Atlanta, Ga., writes: "I suffered with a deep-seated cough which nothing seemed to help. My head was all stopped up, and my throat sore and irritated. My lungs ached all the time, and I had tried so many remedies without benefit that my stomach was all out of order, and I dreaded taking food. I was recommended cod liver oil, but to my surprise, I found that the cod liver oil was disguised entirely. It is delicious, and soon cured my cough, restored my appetite, and I feel like a new man. Vinol is a wonderful cod liver oil preparation, and troubles quicker than any I have ever heard of. I have recommended it to a great many people, and always with the best results."

We wish every person in Salt Lake City suffering from a hard, hacking cough, throat or bronchial troubles, would try Vinol on our offer to return money if it fails. Druehl & Frankenberg and Smith Drug Co.

"Nothing More to Pay"

That's what he said and further, he (Mr. Ebe Walter, of Clarksville, Del.), said this:

The feature that I particularly like about my policy is that the longer I live the more I get.

(From Wilmington (Del.) News, Nov. 21, 1902.)

The fact is that a fifteen-year distribution policy, issued by The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is a very interesting document. A yearly dividend, increasing each year after the policy is paid up and a sum paid the estate.

In writing for information about a policy of this kind, state what you would like to receive in cash at the end of limited payment period.

wrong. It is opposed to Christianity. It can only be justified in defense of the home and in defense of one's country. The day will come, ventured the speaker, when the names of Alexander the Great, Napoleon, Julius Caesar and the great military and naval heroes will be forgotten and the names of those who have done so much for the betterment of our civilization in their manipulation of the arts and sciences, will be perched high on the altar of historic fame. The Latter-day Saints recognize in the world are due to a lack of faith, a lack of brotherly love. What brings unity? Faith and knowledge. Unity, fellowship and love are the product of truth. We want war to cease. We want one faith. We want to recognize and acknowledge one God and not a multitude. It is all very well to honor the starry emblem of this grand republic, but I shall hail the day when all shall pay homage to one flag, one God, one code of laws, with one grand aim and object in view—the salvation of the children of men. That is what I understand "Mormonism" to be striving for, said the speaker. Why should God not speak and send an ensign to the people today, as He did anciently? If it is important to send John the Baptist to preach and declare repentance before the coming of Christ in the flesh, is it not just as necessary that He send another before the coming of that great and terrible day spoken of in holy writ? I fear, continued the speaker, that too many look upon the second coming of Christ as a sort of mythological utterance. Some say He will come only in spirit, making His presence felt in this manner, but such, I take it, is an assumption not justified from the reading of the holy book. We look for a literal Christ, a Christ born in a manger, rather than a mythical one. We also look for a literal Christianity.

Concluding Elder King referred to the opposition brought to bear upon the "Mormon" people and declared that such to him was inexplicable in view of the fact that they were a people who stood out for a broader, a greater and higher civilization.

The choir sang the anthem, "In Our Redeemer's Name," and the benediction was pronounced by Patriarch John Smith.

SPECIAL RECITAL.

At the close of the service there was a special song and organ recital in honor of Queen Esther and other representatives of the Jewish church, on which occasion the following program was rendered:

"Hosanna"..... Stephens Tabernacle Choir.

Selection from "Mannhouse"..... Wagner J. J. McClellan.

"The Morning Breaks"..... Stephens Noell and Wood Pratt.

Old melody, organ..... J. J. McClellan.

"Hallelujah" chorus..... Handel Tabernacle Choir.

YOUNG MAN IS KILLED.

Sad and Fatal Accident to Joseph D. Calder While Coasting.

A very sad and fatal accident occurred Saturday afternoon, about 3 o'clock on the east Seventh South street hill, resulting in the almost immediate death of Joseph D. Calder, aged 17, son of David G. Calder. Young Calder and Clyde Wiscomb were sliding down the steep hill on their scooters, with the former lying down in front and steering. Suddenly, the scooter struck a hidden rock, sending it violently to one side and straight into a telephone pole. Calder's head struck the pole fair and square, crushing in the front and top of the skull. As he rolled off the sled, he exclaimed, "Send for D. O." His older brother, and then became unconscious.

The Wiscomb boy saw something dreadful had happened, and rushed off for Dr. Milliron. The doctor responded, and took the injured boy at once to his home, 945 south Seventh East street, but he died on the way. Mr. Calder was immediately sent for, and with the mother was almost prostrated with grief, for Joseph was their particular pride, and they had had great expectations about him.

An examination showed that the scalp had not been torn or even bruised, the blow being fair and square on the head, and it is doubtful if the poor boy suffered any pain. He was in the graduating class of the Hamilton school, and stood well with the teachers and his fellow pupils. The funeral will be held from the family residence tomorrow, at 2 p. m., under the auspices of the bishopric of the Thirty-first ward.

STATE PRISON REPORT.

It is Being Prepared by Clerk Stowe And Will Soon be Submitted.

The annual report of state prison routine for 1902 is being prepared by Clerk John Stowe and will be presented to the governor at an early date.

It will show that the daily average of prisoners was 159 and a fraction; that 131 were received, and 107 discharged; 16 were pardoned, one died, one committed suicide, one was executed, one was killed and one was transferred to the insane asylum. There were 16 cases of grand larceny, 14 of burglary, 13 of robbery—23 different crimes being represented in the whole list. The prisoners came from the courts of 26 counties. Weber county having 50, the largest number, to Salt Lake 24. Eleven finest taste himself, commanding fabulous wealth, he was assisted by an artistic American wife in transforming his country estate into the beau ideal of a wealthy man's domain. No expense was spared and no trouble. The markets of Europe were ransacked to provide luxuries, curiosities and novelties, sometimes bought at enormous expense. He employed one expert to buy him pictures and another was engaged in designing schemes of decoration.

Not alone in the great country mansion, which was in itself a series of gabled palaces built in the quaint Elizabethan style, with many outlying buildings, was group of white horses to contribute evidence. He was passionately fond of flowers, and his hothouses were full of the choicest exotics. At one time the gardening staff alone numbered more than 50 persons. For horses he had no great attachment, but his automobiles were among the best in the country.

Wright himself often declared that his country mansion was built as much for his friends as himself. He was a lavish host and entertained parties comprising members of the noblest families in the land. In the summer the favorite resort was a palace beneath the lake, it was approached by an avenue of choice palms and giant ferns leading to steps. The palace beneath the lake was built of Portland stone and marble and was delightfully cool even on the most sultry days. It consisted of a series of exquisite apartments, including smoking, dining and billiard rooms, a large electric and the ventilation perfect. Wright was very fond of skinning over the lake in his motor launch, navigated by himself or his wife, amid the water lilies and around leafy islands, himself conceived the idea of the palace below the water.

He told a friend that the plan cost him "more thinking and anxiety" than any of his biggest financial schemes. The opening was celebrated by a great feast and a large company of friends in the days when friends were numerous. "My home," he used to say, "is for the many, but the palace beneath the lake is reserved for the few."

Perfect Confidence.

When there used to be a feeling of uneasiness and worry in the household when a child showed symptoms of croup, there is now perfect confidence. This is owing to the uniform success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the treatment of that disease. Mrs. M. I. Bafor of Boonville, Md., in speaking of her experience in the use of that remedy says: "I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success. My child (darling) is subject to severe attacks of croup and it always gives him prompt relief." For sale by all druggists.

ACCIDENT WAS FATAL.

Albert W. Field Succumbs to Injuries Sustained in Daly-Judge Mine.

Albert W. Field died at St. Mark's hospital yesterday from injuries sustained in an accident at the Daly-Judge mine on Jan. 19. Mr. Field was struck by a runaway car and besides internal injuries that he could not survive, one leg was fractured and his back was badly bruised. He was brought to this city immediately and his friends had high hopes of his recovery, believing that the internal injury was not necessarily fatal.

Mr. Field was 26 years of age and a native of Rockton. He was the son of Virgel and Martha E. Field. The funeral services will be held at Provo Tuesday.

BAD MAN WITH A KNIFE.

Dangerous Italian Does a Lot of Cutting Down at Murray.

An ill-tempered Italian, with a knife, almost succeeded in cutting short the career of Oron Smith last night at Murray. The Italian, Mark Polipich, stabbed him five times in the head and back, but fortunately for both, the knife did not cut deep enough to cause more than severe wounds.

At the gate of the yards surrounding the American Smelting company's works, where both men were employed, the several hundred employees have a stand in line to receive their checks as they pass out of the gate. It requires some time and there is invariably jostling and pushing, but usually good-natured. At 11 o'clock last night, while the shift was coming out, suddenly bumped against Polipich and it was then that he attacked Smith.

The assailant was locked up at Murray and will answer to the charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Smith will recover.

STOP SMOKING, BOYS!

Commendable Step Taken by Wilson Hotel Management.

There is a warning posted up in the Wilson hotel, notifying employees that cigarette smoking is not permissible during working hours under any circumstances. A fine of one dollar will be imposed for infraction of this rule, and further violations will result in dismissal from the hotel service. Proprietor W. J. Wilson, in commenting on this order, remarks that cigarette smoking is a vicious habit, and he does not propose to have his employees indulge in it, at least when he has control over them, which is during working hours. He said one of the bell boys almost burned up his bed recently while thus smoking, and moreover, the smoke of a cigarette is offensive to a good many hotel guests. Mr. W. J. Wilson said that other hotel keepers in the country and the editor of the Hotel World were of the same mind as he, and agreed that cigarette smoking ought to be stopped among hotel employees.

In Chicago and New York, cigarette smoking has been cut off in the large cafes, as it has become a nuisance and drives desirable customers away.

The stately homes of England are in most cases far more ancient and historic than was Wright's dwelling place, in beautiful Surrey, but there are few furnished and decorated on so superb a scale, says the New York Herald. A man of re-
