The Samana Bay Affair—Big Law Suit-Celebrated Trotter Sold. New YORK, 13.—Dr. S. G. Howe, resident commissioner of the Sam-ana Bay company, has sent the di-rectors here a detailed statement of the proceedings of the New Do-minion government against the company. He says the govern-ment made the non-payment of the rent a pretext for ejecting the company, but the real cause was the idetermination of the British and European powers, acting through their commercial and peli-tical agents, to prevent the preva-lence of American influence and institutions over Domingo and the surrounding Islands. Initiatory steps were taken yes-terday, in a sult in the supreme court in this city, in which M. M. Simpson is plaintiff, and the Union Pacific Co., J. Gould, Sidney Dil-ion, and others are defendants, as stock holders, to make payment of the subscriptions to stock to meet the claims of the creditors. The plantiff asks an injunction to re-strain the transfer, by responsi-ble parties, of the record to persons not able to respond for part of the stock only.. Ten mil-lions are involved in this suit." THE CURRENCY BILLS.

THE West has not enough money and wishes for more greenbacks. The East has plenty and does not de-sire any more, at least of the greenback order. Hence the West favors the currency or inflation bills, and the East opposes them. President Grant, by vetoing the Senate currency or inflation bill, which passed both houses of Congress, makes capital in the East, but loses it correspondingly in the vigorous and growing West. This confliction of interests in financial matters may become a sore business yet. The East and the West have also one other point of disagreement—the question of free trade or protection. The manufacturing East contends for stiff protection, or a high tariff on imported articles. The grain and cattle raising but comparatively manufactureless West contenda for free trade. This also may become a sore business yet between the two sections

That upon all circulating notes hereafter issued, whenever the same shall come into the trea-sury in payment or deposit for recausing their absence from their own private business almost a whole year. With few exceptions, the various businesses of the members of the jury required their personal care and attention. One was robbed of most of his property by his employees during that time. The business of another was ruined by the manufacture of inferior goods during his absence. A third was obliged to sell out at a great sacrifice because his business resacrifice because his business re-quired the eye of the master to carry it on successfully. The principal reason for denying the request of the jury appears to have been that granting it would establish a precedent for a serious drain on the Treasury. The leading English papers sever-ety criticized the action of their lordships, urging that the jury law never contemplated such sacrifice on the part of subjects or citizens canstituting a jury. Two hundred daysat two guineas
