

TAFT DOES NOT UNDERRATE BRYAN

Ohio Republicans Are Meeting Large, Strong Party, Headed By Experienced Candidate.

ORGANIZATION IS NECESSARY

Issues Must be Clearly Explained to The People—Every Vote Must Be Brought Out.

Cincinnati, July 27.—Two important events politically resulted from the meetings and conferences in the final notification day preparations today. William H. Taft addressed a joint meeting of the Ohio state central and executive committees, identifying himself closely with the state campaign and making it plain that whatever had been done by Arthur I. Vorys and other state leaders had been recognized and approved by him. Just what is to be the status of Senator Foraker at the opening of the campaign at Youngstown Sept. 3, is to be decided by a committee of the executive committee appointed today. The duty of this committee is to decide a speaker's program, with particular instructions to report on the advisability of inviting the senior Ohio senator to make an address.

FORAKER MATTER.
It was stated that the committee would consider the Foraker matter in three aspects: Whether to invite the speaker to speak unconditionally, to invite him on condition that he indicate in advance the position he is to take, or not to invite him. No prediction could be obtained as to which of these courses will be pursued or as to the probable report the committee will make.

The state central committee settled the three county contests in favor of what is termed the "Simon-pure Taft men." Under the state law each county committee is certified an election judge to the secretary of state. When there is doubt as to the validity of the certifying committee the state official is required to refer the matter to the state central committee. The Melges county contest was decided in favor of E. Brown and against the Lindsey committee, that in Gallia county was in favor of the Switzer and against the Eagle committee, and the Vinton county contest was given to the Coultrap instead of the Vallenwelder committee. The joint session of the state central committee and executive committee, held in the rooms of the Hotel Vinton, was largely attended. In calling the meeting to order, Chairman V. F. Brown referred to the resolutions of the committee on its organization, declaring that the Republicans of the state were in favor of Taft for president, and said that the present meeting was a fruition of that action. Chairman Williams of the executive committee followed with an exhortation to the meeting to work hard for the campaign. Gov. Harris followed with emphasis on the value of thorough organization for political effectiveness, and Arthur I. Vorys spoke for some minutes on the subject of the state campaign. V. F. Brown then referred to the resolutions of the committee on its organization, declaring that the Republicans of the state were in favor of Taft for president, and said that the present meeting was a fruition of that action. Chairman Williams of the executive committee followed with an exhortation to the meeting to work hard for the campaign. Gov. Harris followed with emphasis on the value of thorough organization for political effectiveness, and Arthur I. Vorys spoke for some minutes on the subject of the state campaign.

JUDGE TAFT'S SPEECH.

"My friends, before I get through with you tomorrow you will understand the importance that I attach to the information which has been hinted at today and of which I shall receive full account tomorrow. I have been very friendly to a friendly talk and to identify myself as far as possible with the Ohio campaign. Republicans of this country have been in the habit of electing their Ohio candidates, and I should be very much disappointed if there was to be any exception to that rule, but we should be very unwise to lose a controversy like this through over-confidence. We must know those of us who face the facts, that we are meeting a large, strong party, headed by an able, forceful and experienced candidate, and we should be exceedingly imprudent if we belittle the forces behind him and the resources of an able leader. Therefore it is our duty as Republicans to see to it that the Republic has behind it all the force of discipline, all the force of organization, all the force of belief and interest in our cause. Organization is such as is absolutely necessary. It is necessary that we should bring out the vote.

"It is necessary that the issues should be clearly explained to the voters. The most important thing to bring about this result in Ohio of the Republican cause I am now addressing.
"We follow and hope to continue an administration under which there is no one that has done more for the country, and than which there is no one that ought to call out more enthusiastic support. We have a state ticket, every candidate on which has a high character and has experience sufficient to insure the proper and competent discharge of his duties. We have a candidate for governor whom we are proud to have and whom it is a pleasure to follow.
"I am not going back of the convention, because all that is wiped off the slate. We are standing now together, shoulder to shoulder, to meet our common enemy and overcome him as we have in the past. It is a great comfort to me to know that in the strenuous times that are to follow from now on I shall have the close and personal and most useful assistance and aid of our friend, whom you know and I know as 'Jake' Vorys. He has a faculty for telling you things you might not do that makes him one of the most valuable advisers I know. And he has an energy for doing things that makes a lazy man like me admire him intensely.
"Now, gentlemen, as I say, I did not come here to make a political speech. I only came here to assure you that I hoped in this campaign in Ohio to pull my weight in the boat and to assist in the carrying to victory of that banner which Republicans in Ohio have always carried on a presidential campaign. Our friend, the enemy, is looking, as so frequently happens, to Ohio as a doubtful battleground. If that will withdraw his energies from other parts of the United States we ought to welcome that. I appreciate the opportunity of meeting you and I wish you to understand that every one of you is a man whom I feel to be in a common enterprise with me. If any one of you thinks there is anything to be done, I hope I will address me directly because I shall be glad to hear of any assistance that I can render you in the common cause you can certainly count upon me to give. I thank you.

EVERY MINUTE OCCUPIED.
Candidate Taft had every minute of a long day fully occupied. He arose early, breakfasted at the Fairview hotel, then walked down Fourth street to the Hotel Vinton where he had an appointment to review the program for notification day. This program he found satisfactory. Sitting for photographs he occupied the attention of the candidate. "As I have sat for pictures in nearly every city in the country," he explained, "I can hardly refuse a request in my own city."

DEWEY'S GUNNER DEAD.

New York, July 27.—Shocked to death in a manly way was the fate today of James O'Connell, who is said to have been Admiral Dewey's chief gunner on the Olympia when the flagship opened the fight in Manila bay.
O'Connell was making repairs to the channel rail under the trolley tracks on Sixth avenue when he came in contact with a live wire. His body was badly scorched by electricity. He recently retired from the navy.

If the City owes the National Bank of the Republic nearly half a million dollars, which no one denies, then, will the proceeds from the bonds go? Ask Mr. Knox. He wants his money, and knowing the City Council as he must, who can blame him?

REPAIRING HAUSER DAM.

Helena, July 27.—Actual work of repairing Hauser Lake dam, which burst in April last was begun today. The cost of repairs will amount to approximately $200,000.
The same interests are also at work on a third dam across the Missouri river which with Hauser Lake and Canyon Ferry will give Montana the largest initial electric power in the world except Niagara.

HONDURAN REVOLUTION.

Dr. Alberto Membré Declares That Is By No Means Ended.

Mexico City, July 28.—Dr. Alberto Membré, member of the cabinet of President Manuel Bonilla, while the latter was president of Honduras, declares that the revolution in that country is not at an end, as reported. He declares that Bonilla had nothing to do with the uprising, which is a popular one, and will continue until the Davila government is overthrown. In his opinion intervention will only be a check to the movement. He declares that reports that President Caceres is involved in the insurrection have no foundation.

TOURIST'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Winnipeg, Man., July 27.—Baron von Rosenau, a tourist in the Canadian Rockies, and leading aristocrat of Germany, had a miraculous escape from death Saturday near Banaff. While climbing Mount Rundell, he stepped on some rotten timber, where the summit of the mountain was covered with snow and his weight caused the bank to give way and he was carried down with it, 40 feet. Fortunately there was a small cliff under at some length. Appearances were not good, but he was frequently punctuated by his remarks which were listened to by an attentive and appreciative audience. In part he spoke as follows:

DUMMY ENTRYMEN.

Butte, Mont., July 27.—W. W. Wells, president of the Somers Lumber company, a Great Northern railway company, and a leading lumberman of the state land commission is conducting an investigation into alleged irregularities in connection with the sale of timber lands, admitting that his company had used dummy entrymen to secure timber lands. Mr. Wells stated that he had paid the state more for the timber lands than they were worth, and they were willing to return the lands to the state and get their money back.
Atty.-Gen. Albert J. Galen, Secy. of State A. N. Loder and Supt. of Public Instruction W. E. Harmon were present today. They denied that any members of the state land board they had accepted any "bottle money" or held any "star chamber proceedings" in the disposal of state timber lands.

A vote for bonds is an "American" campaign contribution.

ROMANTIC MARRIAGE IN CRIPPLE CREEK JAIL

Cripple Creek, Colo., July 28.—A marriage at the county jail occurred under unusual circumstances Saturday night when Prof. Hans Albert, a musician formerly of Omaha, and Miss Grace Haddell, of Ottumwa, Iowa, daughter of the United States marshal at that place, were declared man and wife by Rev. Inman, a Methodist minister of Goldfield, Colo. Albert's arrest was caused Saturday by the girl's father, who prevented the marriage, the charge being insanity. Last night Miss Haddell and the minister visited the jail and asked to see her lover. The request was refused and the jailer thinking the incident was a joke, went upstairs. During his absence a box was placed outside Albert's cell window. Miss Haddell mounted, and, clasping her lover's hand through the window, was married in his wife.

Look out for a second bond issue next year. The American crew figures that the income and expenses of the City for 1908 show an estimated shortage of over $400,000. What is the end to be?

IT CAN'T BE BEAT.

The best of all teachers is experience. C. M. Harden, of Silver City, North Carolina, says: "I find Electric Bitters does all that's claimed for it. For stomach, liver and kidney troubles it can't be beat. I have tried it and find it a most excellent medicine." Mr. Harden is right; it's the best of all medicines also for weakness, lame back and all down conditions. Best too for chills and malaria. Sold under guarantee at Z. C. M. I. drug store. 50¢

BRYAN SPEAKS AT A FLAG RAISING

Was Upon Ground Donated for Purpose by His First Political Opponent.

HAVE ALWAYS BEEN FRIENDS

Urged Hearers to Preserve Idea of Distinction Between State and Federal Powers.

Omaha, Neb., July 27.—William J. Bryan was tonight admitted to the mysteries of the Knights of Ak-sar-ben, an order composed of the business men of Omaha and the state of Nebraska. A large number of Lincoln business men came to Omaha to witness and participate in the initiation. Mr. Bryan's welcome on his return to Nebraska from his trip to Chicago to meet the Democratic leaders was strictly non-partisan, but none the less cordial. Arriving here at 1 o'clock this afternoon, he was met by a committee from the governing board of the Knights of Ak-sar-ben and escorted to the Omaha club, where luncheon was served. At 2 o'clock he was the speaker at a flag-raising by the John A. Creighton Democratic Marching club. At 6 o'clock he was a guest of the Ak-sar-ben directors at dinner at the Omaha club.

Here Mr. Bryan spoke briefly. He was followed by Congressman G. M. Hitchcock, publisher of the Omaha Bee, World-Herald, Mayor James C. Dahlman and Victor Roosevelt, Republican national committeeman from Nebraska and president of the Omaha Bee.

The name of the organization of which he was the guest is the word Nebraska spelled backward, and Mr. Bryan said it appealed specially to him, for his highest ambition was to be a matter of comment. He thanked his hosts especially for their invitation to join their order, as it would put him in touch with the representatives of the business interests of the state. He said that he had heretofore found it difficult to get within speaking distance of the business men of the country.

Mr. Roosevelt, who made the remarks, declared that the two greatest sources of advertising for Nebraska in recent years had been the distinguished guest of the day and the organization which was entertaining him. He was struck by the fact that the expense of Mr. Bryan's relating in a facetious manner the story of his recent meeting in Chicago with Chairman Hitchcock of the Republican national committee.

Other guests at the dinner were the newspaper representatives who accompanied Mr. Bryan on his trip, and who will remain with him during the campaign.
After the dinner the party was taken in automobiles to the castle, where Mr. Bryan, with several hundred other candidates, was to be initiated into the order of knighthood according to the rites of King Ak-sar-ben.

Very entertaining are the many features of the initiation, including the "battleship" trip around the world, for the candidates. By gracious permission of his majesty, Mr. Bryan chose as his substitute for active participation in the trip, Charles A. Cottrell, of the Washington office of the Associated Press, and when the initiation was complete the latter expressed the opinion that "he got all that was coming to him" in his district.

After the ceremonies were through, Mr. Bryan made a brief speech, addressing his hearers as his friends and neighbors and omitting political reference.

Mr. Bryan and party will return to Lincoln tomorrow morning.

A FLAG-RAISING.

At 4 o'clock Mr. Bryan and party were taken to Twenty-fourth and Leavenworth streets, where the Democratic leader was the principal speaker at a Democratic flag-raising. The flag was raised on a lot owned by W. J. Connell, who was the Republican candidate defeated by Mr. Bryan the first time the latter ever ran for Congress. Mr. Connell was defeated by a large vote, and a year later Omaha was placed in another congressional district.

A large gathering greeted Mr. Bryan, and he spoke at some length. Applause was frequent and his remarks were frequently punctuated by an attentive and appreciative audience. In part he spoke as follows:

MR. BRYAN'S ADDRESS.

"Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen: This is the first flag-raising that I have participated in during this campaign, and I think that it is a very pleasant indication of the era of good feeling that has so far frequently been referred to, that this flag-raising is upon ground donated for the purpose by my first political opponent. I met Mr. Connell and I were opposing candidates for Congress 18 years ago. It was the first office that I ever ran for—in earnest. I have since then run for it, but I have never been elected. I want to explain the word 'earnest.' But in Illinois I was a candidate one time for trustee of schools. I went on to fill up the ticket, with the understanding that I should not be elected. (Laughter.)

"It was a very strong Republican ward, and I did not have hard work to prevent my election. (Laughter.) But a little after noon a Republican friend had had a falling out with the candidate on the other side, who was a candidate for re-election, came to me and said he had already secured for me 60 Republican votes. The Republican majority in the ward was about 120, and when he told me he had secured for me 60 Republican votes, I said to him:

"Why, if 60 Republicans vote for me, that will change the majority and I will be elected. I am not running to be elected. I am running because nobody else would run, and I want you to stop working for me, for I would not have the office for anything." He said: "You don't appreciate what I have done for you."
"I said: 'I appreciate the spirit which prompted you, but I do not want the office.' Well, he said, 'you don't appreciate what I have done, and I am going to work out and work against me all afternoon, and in the evening the majority was just about 120; and the conclusion was that he either got 60 Democrats to vote against me in the afternoon. (Laughter.)

OPPONENTS BUT FRIENDS.

"That was the only office that I had ever run for, and, as I say, I did not run for it in earnest. But I ran for Congress in earnest, and Mr. Connell was my opponent. We had 11 joint debates, and I have looked back upon that canvass with a great deal of pleasure, because Mr. Connell and I began our friendship, and we ended it as friends, and we have been friends ever since. (Applause.)
"I am glad to be here for another season. Omaha has always been very kind to me when I have been a candidate for office. In my first campaign, that of 1890, Omaha and Douglas counties were in my congressional district, and I received the courtesy of more than 60 county, and when since then I have been a candidate, and have had this territory in the territory in which I ran, your people

I AM A MOTHER

How many American women in lonely homes to-day long for this blessing to come into their lives, and to be able to utter these words, but because of some organic derangement this happiness is denied them.

Every woman interested in this subject should know that preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by the use of

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Mrs. Maggie Gilmer, of West Union, S. C., writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I was greatly run-down in health from a weakness peculiar to my sex, when Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me. It not only restored me to perfect health, but to my delight I am a mother."

Mrs. Josephine Hall, of Bardonia, Ky., writes: "I was a very great sufferer from female troubles, and my physician failed to help me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound not only restored me to perfect health, but I am now a proud mother."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

ple have been very generous in their support. It is pleasant, therefore, to come again among you. There are other reasons why I am gratified to be present on this occasion. You have a club that bears the name of a man who, for many years, was my personal friend, and I congratulate you for having taken the name of John A. Creighton for your club. (Great applause.) I have not been as sharp in criticism of those who left us in 1896 as some have been, but I have been as warm in my feeling of gratitude to those who did not leave us as any one could be, and especially have I been grateful to those men of large means who, like Mr. Connell, were not frightened by the arguments made against me during my candidacy in 1896. (Applause.)

Mr. Creighton was a rich man; he was a pioneer in the west; he had that business sense that enabled him to turn into gold all that he touched; he was fortunate in his investments; he was far-seeing in his plans, and wealth multiplied rapidly under his administration of business affairs; and yet, with all his wealth, his life was simple and his heart was ever in sympathy with the common people whom he loved. (Applause.)
TRIBUTE TO THE FLAG.
"Just a word more, and I shall not keep you standing in the sun, and I shall not trespass further upon my own strength. We stood uncovered while that flag was raised. That is the most beautiful flag that kisses the breezes today. If you have ever had a chance to compare that flag with other flags, you will agree with me that no flag that floats is so pleasing to the eye. (Applause.) Not only does it gratify the artistic sense, not only is it beautiful in its combinations and arrangements of colors, but it possesses a significance that adds to its charms. The white indicates the purity of the nation's purpose, the red the blood that has been sacrificed in the nation's defense and that will be shed again if the principles for which the flag stands are ever assailed, the stars represent the states, and the last Fourth of July an additional star was added to the sky of blue—46 now—it represents an indissoluble Union of inseparable states, and in that flag there is presented the idea of government—that idea of government which combines national sovereignty with the preservation of the local self-government of the states, and that government that has been present since the original idea of self-government was enunciated; that idea of separate communities, independent in their local affairs, and united in matters of national importance; that idea is the safety of our republic. There is no area of territory too large for a republic like that. Preserve that idea, the state taking care of its domestic affairs, and the Union representing the states acting together, and you can spread the idea indefinitely, but without these two ideas both preserved a great republic is impossible. (Applause.) Our flag, therefore, is not only beautiful, but it contains a thought that will never die." (Applause.)

THE REMEDY THAT DOES.

"Dr. King's New Discovery is the remedy that does the healing others promise but fail to perform," says Mrs. E. R. Pierson, of Auburn Centre, Pa. YOUNG MAN GIVES HIS LIFE TO SAVE GIRL

Chicago, July 28.—A despatch to the Record-Herald from Valparaiso says: A. S. Rescor, aged 22, of Bandana, Ky., a Valparaiso university law student, gave up his life last night for Miss May Bradbury, a student. They were walking on the Pennsylvania railroad track. A west bound train came along and held their attention so that they did not notice the east bound limited, which was coming from the opposite direction, until it was upon them. Rescor was able to assist his companion from the track. In doing so he was struck by the locomotive and thrown 30 feet. He died as he was being carried to the hospital. The shock rendered Miss Bradbury unconscious and up to a late hour she had not regained consciousness.

AMERICAN RY. IN JAPAN.

Tokio, July 28.—A feeling of less apprehension seems to be growing in Japan with regard to the ultimate action of the five American railway companies, which threaten to reduce their fares on goods carried eastward from the Pacific coast. If the originally proposed schedule be adopted a crushing blow miscellaneous manufactures which now occupy a highly important place in her export trade. A combined protest having been made by the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, the Mitsui company, the Toyo kisen kaisha and the morimura guild, it is thought that the directors of the five railroads will consider the decision.
