GRAND CONCERT FOR THANKSGIVING.

Miss Arvilla Clark and Mr. Oscar Kirkham, Assisted by Other Artists and Choir.

ANSWER IN ELECTION CONTEST.

Wedding Bells—Probate Business Before Judge Rolapp—Death of Miss Ruth Putnam.

Thanksgiving night a grand concert will be given in the Ogden tabernacle by Miss Arvilla Clark, mezzo contralto; Mr. Oscar Kirkham, tenor; Prof. Geo. E. Skelton, violinist; Prof. McClellan, pianist; and the tabernacle choir of 200 voices under Prof. Joseph Ballantyne's direction.

Miss Arvilla Clark enjoys the distinction of being the first Utah artist who has actually sung in grand opera. During her stay in Berlin Miss Clark sang the difficult role of "Aida" in Verdi's master opera of like name, appearing with several of Berlin's leading artists. That the young lady made a great hit is evident, since that several of our critics, Otto Fleischer, of the Musical Courier, said of her work: "Miss Clark has a beautiful, well trained voice, with a wonderful amount of dramatic expression." Her performance of the most celebrated German artist and singer, in writing a letter of congratulation to Miss Clark's achievements in the part of "Aida," said: "You are ready for a grand opera career. Your acting ability is most excellent, and you have it in your grasp to become famous in this work." Upon being told that Miss Clark had been a member of the Salt Lake Opera company, an organization that gives comic opera, the great man stated his surprise that Miss Clark had done this class of work, he believing her to be too dramatic for comic opera. After her appearance in "Aida," Miss Clark was offered a position at the Grand opera in Frankfurt-on-the-Main, which she accepted on account of the length of the contract, which was three years, and the salary was not sufficient to warrant her staying that period of time.

Mr. Oscar Kirkham, a tenor of the dramatic in his art, will sing six solos and a duet with Miss Clark. Mr. Kirkham is the possessor of a beautiful tenor voice of exquisite sweetness. In a telephone message yesterday to Mr. Ballantyne, Mr. John J. McClellan said that Mr. Kirkham had the best tenor voice in the state, and that he could not be commended too highly for his musical intelligence in his song interpretation. Possessing a mellow voice of unusual sweetness, he will certainly be accorded front rank as a tenor.

Prof. George E. Skelton will be the violinist, instead of Master Peterson. Skelton is a finished artist of high order, as the people of Ogden well know from the artistic work done at the irrigation congress.

Prof. John J. McClellan will be the pianist and accompanist. The tabernacle choir of 200 voices, under Mr. Ballantyne's direction, will sing two choruses, which will be memorized under his instruction.

Without doubt this will be the greatest musical event of the season.

ANSWER IN ELECTION CONTEST.

W. Rollo Emmett, through his attorney, Judge W. L. Maginnis, has filed an answer in the district court to the petition of William Driver contesting the election of Mr. Emmett to the Ogden city council from the Fifth ward. The answer denies that in the Twenty-second district, in the recent municipal election, any votes were irregularly counted for him that should have been counted for Driver, but alleges that in the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth districts four votes were counted for Mr. Driver that should have been counted for him. The answer also alleges that the ballots of any district be counted that the ballots in all the districts in that ward be recounted, and that Mr. Emmett be declared the duly elected councilman. The hearing on the petition and answer is set for Dec. 4, at 10 a. m., when the ballot boxes will be brought before him and the ballots recounted.

NO SUNDAY TRAIN SERVICE.

Wasatch Railroad Schedule Anything but Satisfactory.

Special Correspondence.

Heber City, Wasatch Co., Nov. 23.—The railroad officials having in charge the Heber train have taken on a religious turn, it would seem, and the new train schedule effective yesterday, says we can have no Sunday train for us. The new schedule will not be received with great favor, especially by our students attending the B. Y. university at Provo. A number of them have been in the habit of coming home Saturday morning and returning to school on the Sunday afternoon train. The new arrangement will necessitate their remaining in the Garden City during the school season. The officials expressed, however, that what is one man's loss is another's gain. Hereafter the train crew, headed by genial Conductor Starr, for whom all have the

Mr. Ward thinks that beet culture will become one of the prime factors in the prosperity and future growth of that region of country. It furnishes employment for all—children, Indians and all that will work. He also thinks the large holdings will be divided into small farms and more beets and less grain and alfalfa will be grown.

LIGHT PLANT.

The much talked of municipal light plant is complete, and the wires so far stretched that a number of the streets and the principal business houses in town are lighted by the city plant. Convey and Lars A. Kelsch were present on Sunday and Elder John Henry Smith on Monday, and gave timely instructions and counsel. President Kelly reported the stake as being in excellent condition. Mr. John Anderson is preparing to move his knitting plant to Brigham City, and if he can make suitable arrangements with the mayor and council, will run his machinery by electricity. This will add another industry to those already starting in our town.

lished by the city council, and that the means for this purpose be raised by the issue of 20-year bonds redeemable at any time after five years. The following day the mayor called a special session of the city council to act upon the matter. At said meeting the council decided to put in a headhouse having a capacity of 48,000 gallons, and lay three water mains from the headhouse to the northern boundary of the city. The estimated cost of $6,000, and that bond issued for that amount. A special election was called for Saturday, Dec. 26, 1903, for the vote of the taxpayers.

SNOWFLAKE, ARIZ.

PROSPEROUS SEASON.

Stake Conferences—Outbreak of Diphtheria—Fine Reservoir Proposition.

Special Correspondence.

Snowflake, Navajo Co., Arizona, Nov. 23.—This part of the country has had a fairly prosperous year, having had more moisture than for several seasons past. The drought for several years previous has caused many of the people and consumed the capital. The reservoirs already in use have demonstrated their worth and a movement has been put on foot by President Jesse N. Smith, during the late stake conference, to put in a large reservoir at Lone Pine on the Showlow, when completed will assure water sufficient to irrigate every acre of available land in this region, and will make it possible to double the population, or at least prevent the necessity of the young men leaving to find fresh places to make homes. This question is up against the people of this region, either to improve their facilities or see the youth and manhood of the community emigrate.

DIPHTHERIA OUTBREAK.

The people of this region have had a long siege of diphtheria. A great many were afflicted and a number succumbed to its ravages. The last one to succumb to the disease was Melvin Kartchner, aged 17 years, who died on Sunday, Nov. 15. She was an estimable young woman, a faithful member of the Sabbath school. Her death cast a gloom over the whole community. Strict quarantine is being maintained on all cases, with thorough disinfecting they hope this will be the last case. There is one case reported today, but it is a light one and is under strict quarantine. Bishop Savage and family are under quarantine at Woodruff, but they are reported as all having passed the danger point.

STAKE CONFERENCES.

The Primary conference of Snowflake stake was held Friday, Nov. 14. There were 100 present, and an account of the dread of diphtheria.

The stake conference convened at 10 a. m. Saturday, President Jesse N. Smith presiding. There was a fairly good attendance of the Priesthood, either stayed away on account of the disease that had been prevalent in the stake. A good spirit was manifest through the meetings and valuable instructions were imparted. The only visitor from a distance was Elder Richard G. Lambert, who is in our midst in the interests of the Deseret News.

On Sunday evening a conjoint meeting of the Mutuals was held and an exceptionally interesting program was rendered. The favorite hymn, "O My Father," was sung by the choir. This was quite a novelty for so small a community.

The sheep and cattle interests have prospered the past season, and now over 100,000 sheep are grazing through this region toward the Salt River country for the winter range.

Special Correspondence.

Colonia Dublan, Chihuahua, Mex., Nov. 12.—Susan Winslow Farr, wife of Bishop Wilfred Farr, departed this life Nov. 6, 1903, after a painful illness of one week. Deceased was born in Dublin city, Ireland, and came to this country with her husband, who was a pioneer settler of Mexico, and passed through many hardships incident to planting colonies in this southern republic. The esteem in which she was held was shown by the cordial condition of the meetinghouse to which the funeral services were held, it being the largest ever held in this country. Elder Miles P. Romney delivered a fitting discourse.

What made her death more sad was the fact that she died away from home, in the hospital at El Paso, Texas, where she was taken by the cordial condition of the meetinghouse to which the funeral services were held, it being the largest ever held in this country. Elder Miles P. Romney delivered a fitting discourse.
